

Tartaria

Lemuria

David Ewing Jr

Tartaria

Lemuria

David Ewing Jr

Introduction

Did Lemuria exist?

Did advanced civilisations exist in the past?

Where is the proof?

Many people around the world believe that an ancient civilisation existed in the past and was known as Lemuria. Many people believe that Lemuria and Atlantis and Tartaria were advanced civilisations. If these civilisations were advanced, there must be evidence around the world to show this.

This book will show the evidence that advanced civilisations did exist in the past

Historians and their friends have wasted time showing crazy theories about advanced civilisations in the past.

Many researchers believe that this was done deliberately to waste time and to make sure that the world does not find the truth

David Ewing Jr has travelled to over 2500 cities and places worldwide and has done much historical research over 20 years and has great knowledge of world history

Tartaria - Lemuria

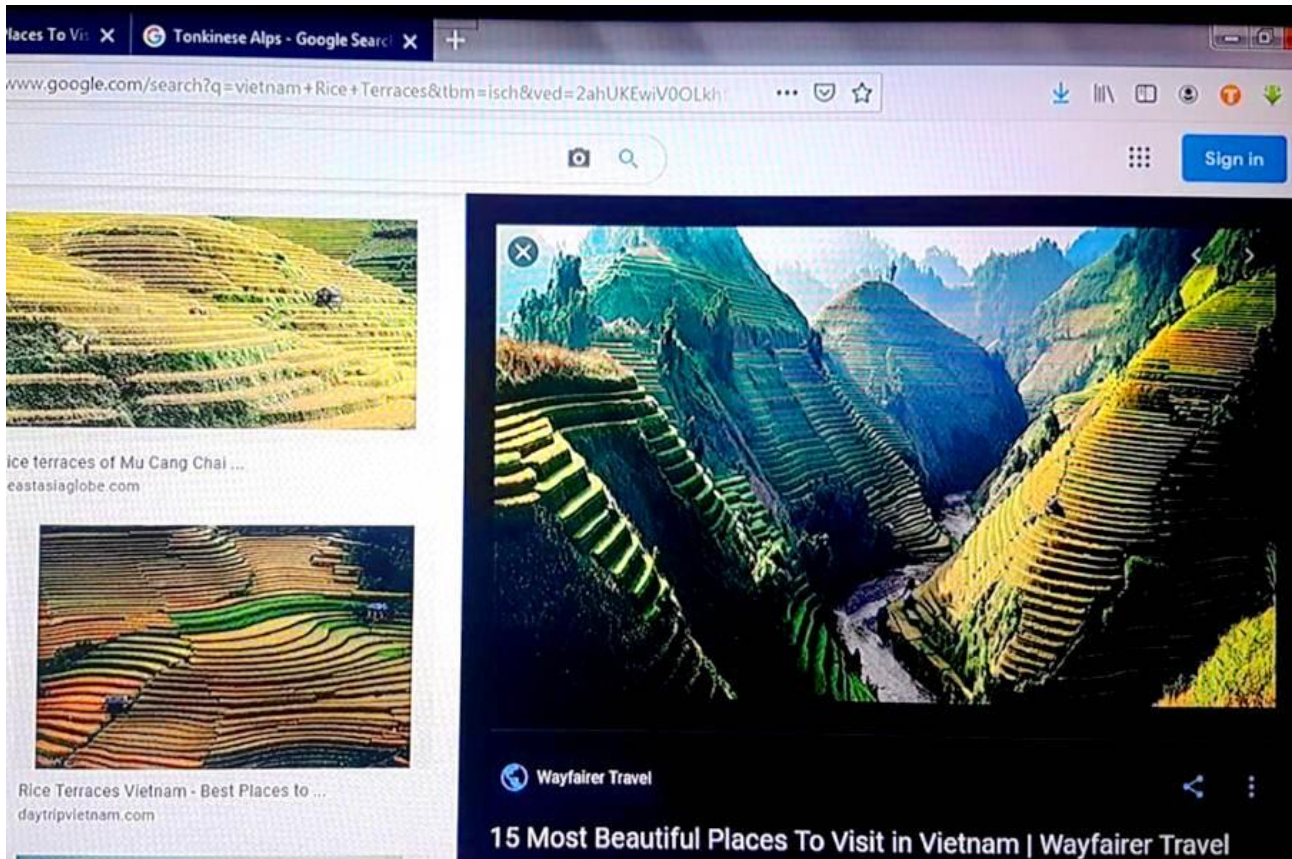

Photo above, rice terraces in Vietnam

There are many terraces around the world. Historians say that they are hundreds of years old, and also say that some of them are thousands of years old. Historians generally say that people long ago built these places without machinery

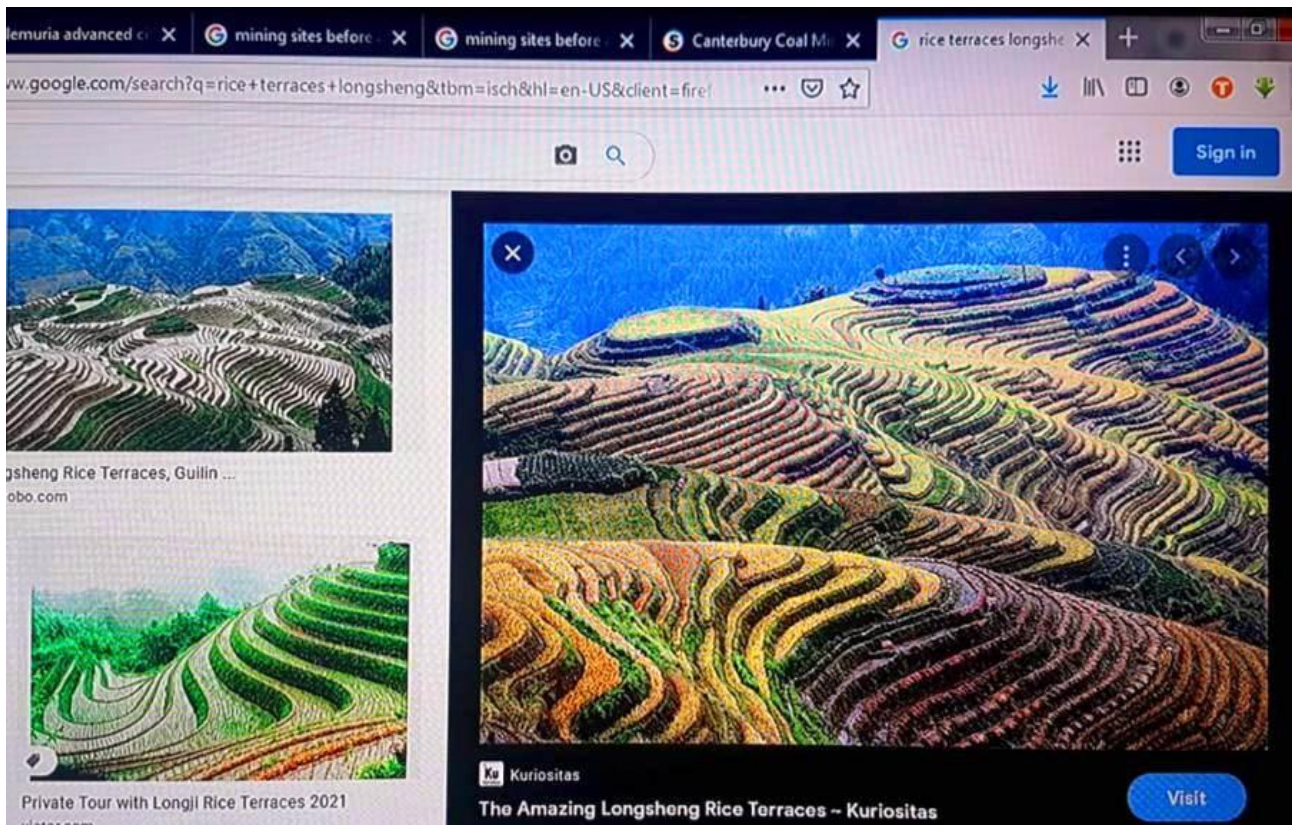

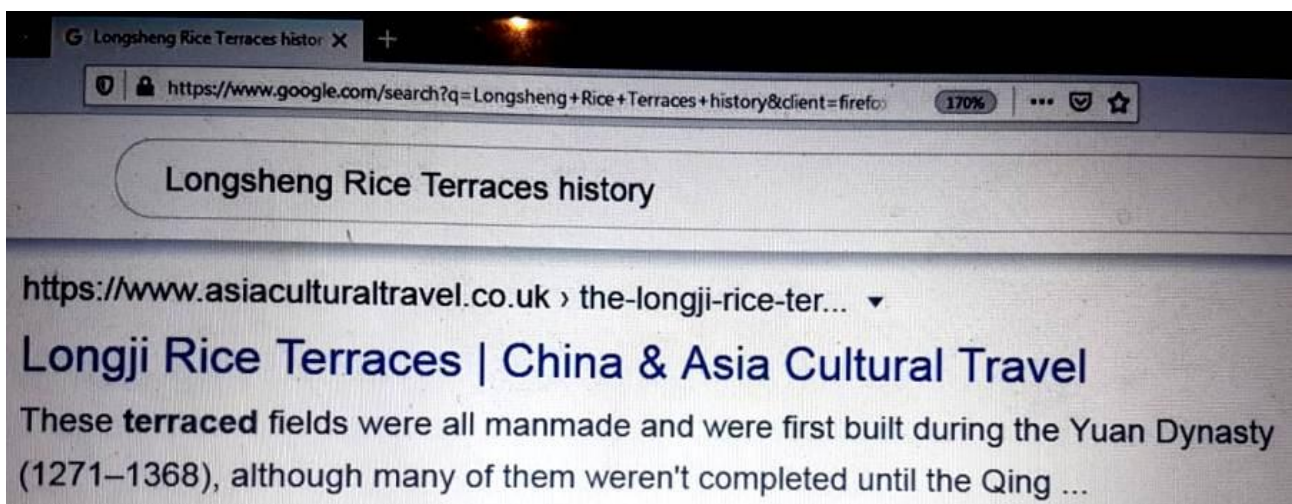

Photo above, Longsheng - Longji rice terraces in China

Historians say that the Longsheng rice terraces are hundreds of years old and built for the purpose of farming. Many of these rice terraces are very big and cut deep into the hills and mountains

Is this story true? Or - are historians telling lies?

Are historians liars?

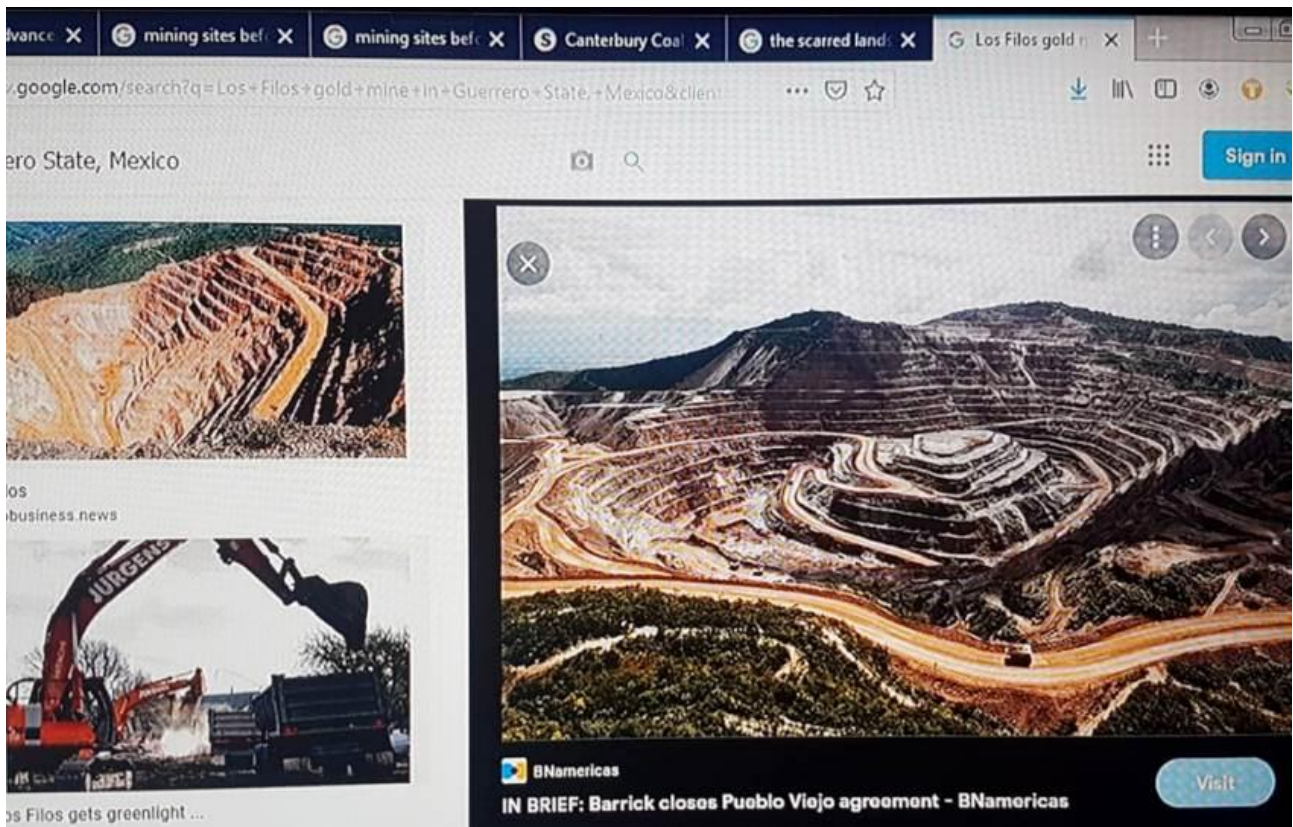

Photo above - Los Filos Gold Mine - Guerrero - Mexico

Researchers noticed that the farming terraces looked exactly the same like modern mining sites. Why did they look like modern mining sites? Researchers started an investigation

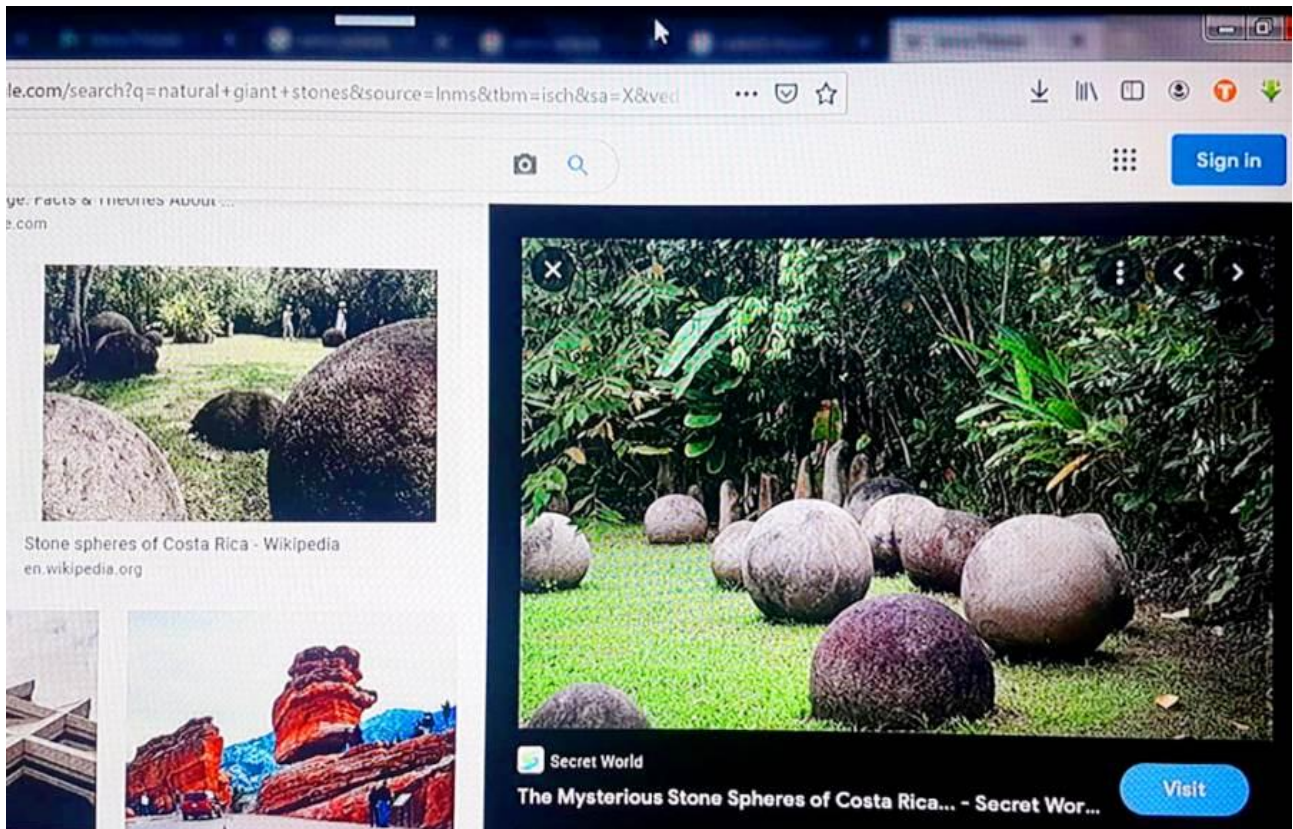

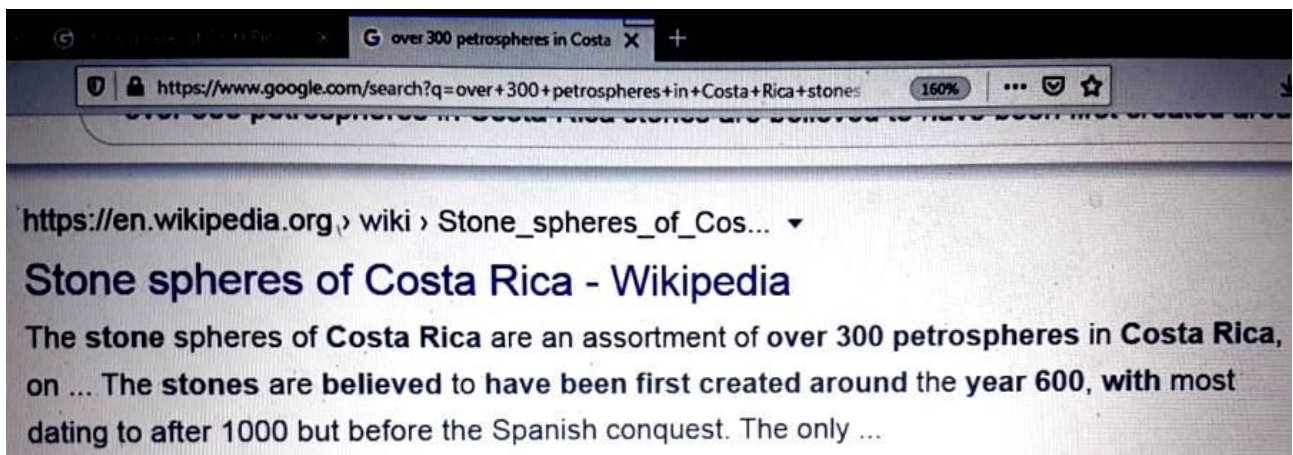

Photo above - balls seen in Costa Rica

There are hundreds of these balls in Costa Rica, South America and around the world. Historians say that these balls may be a thousand years old. Historians have given theories and opinions regarding what these balls are. No proper explanation has been given to the world

Photo above - Valley of the Moon, San Juan, Argentina

Historians say that these balls may be thousands of years old. They say that they are not sure how they were formed. They do not know? Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

Photo above - Moeraki Boulders, New Zealand

Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

Photo above - Jurassic Pearls, Krasnoyarsk, Siberia, Russia

The Jurassic Pearls of Krasnoyarsk were found inside a coal mine. Why were they found at a mining site? Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

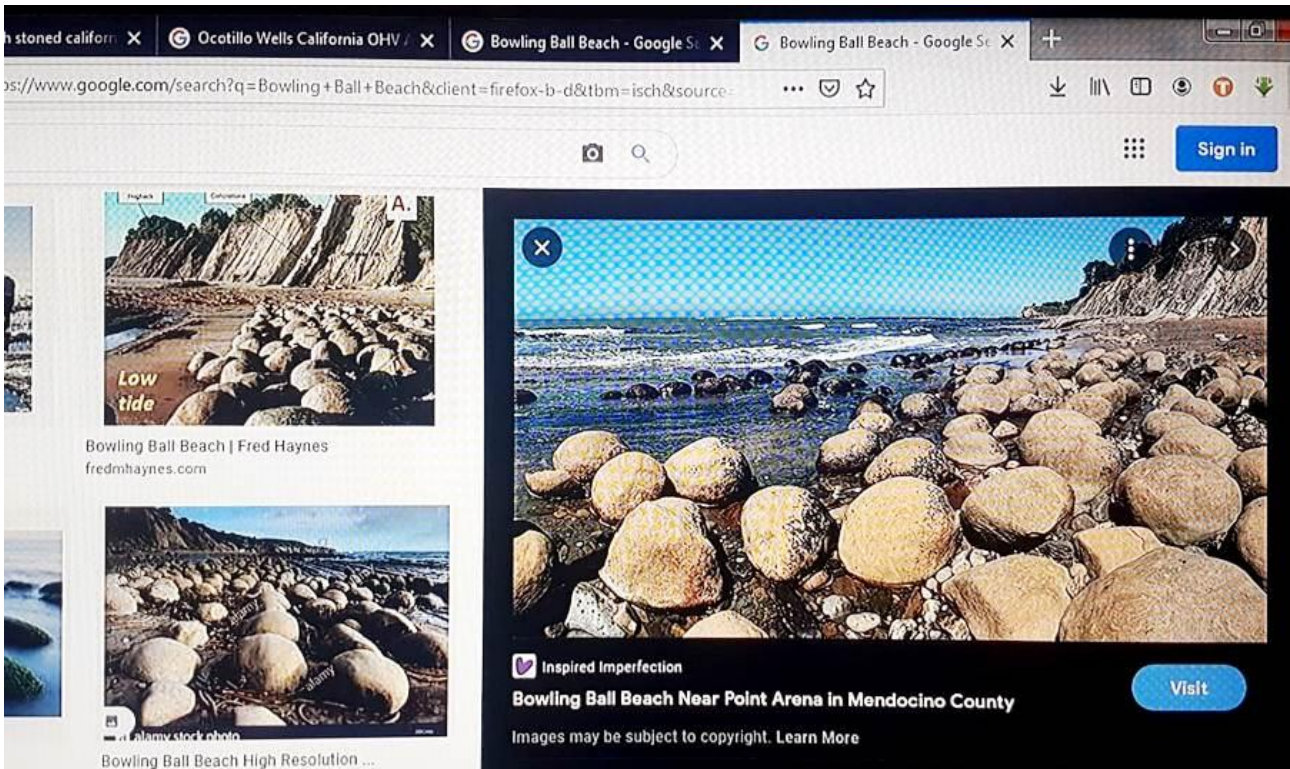

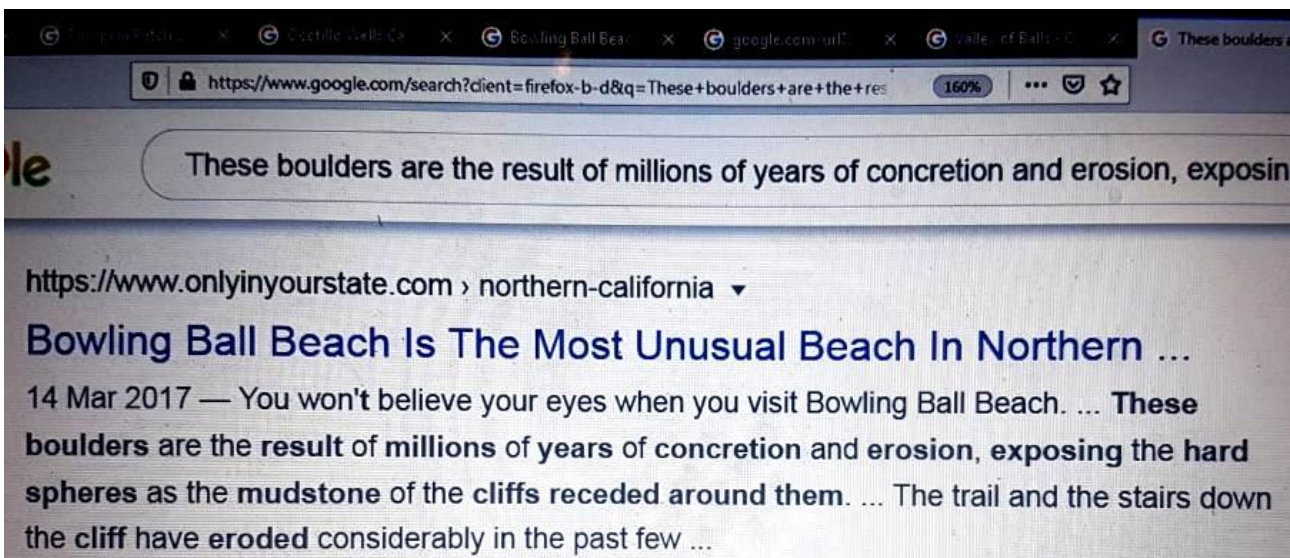

Photo above - Bowling Ball Beach, California

Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

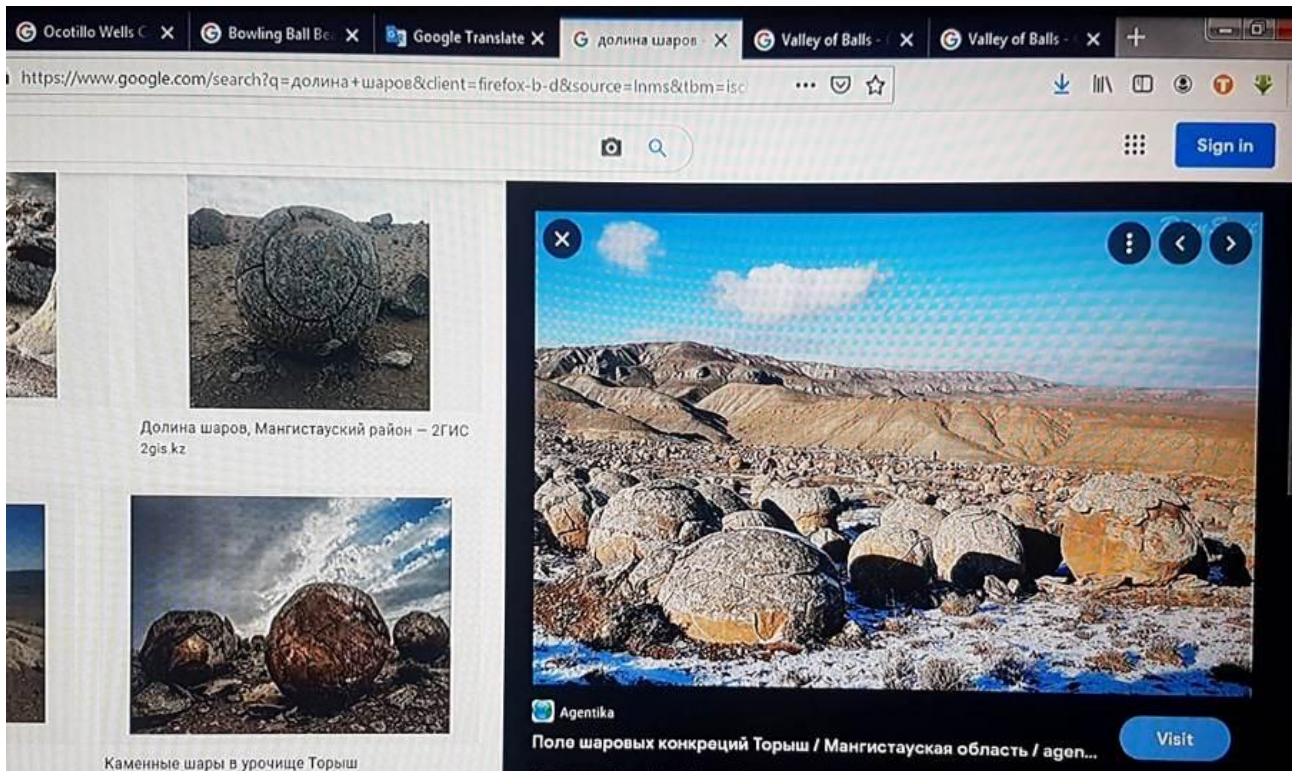

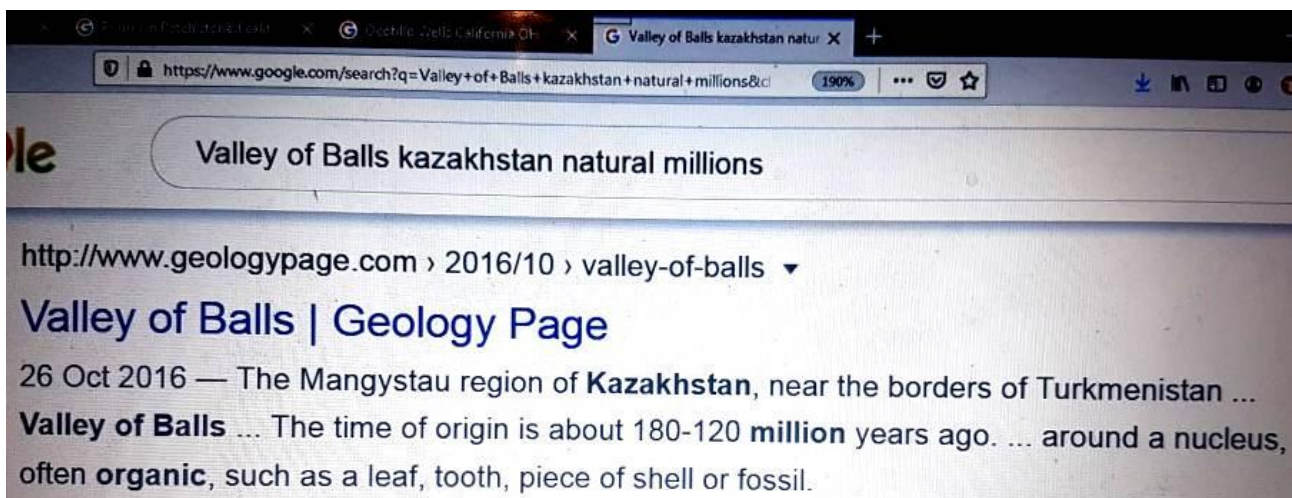

Photo above - Valley of Balls, Kazakhstan

Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

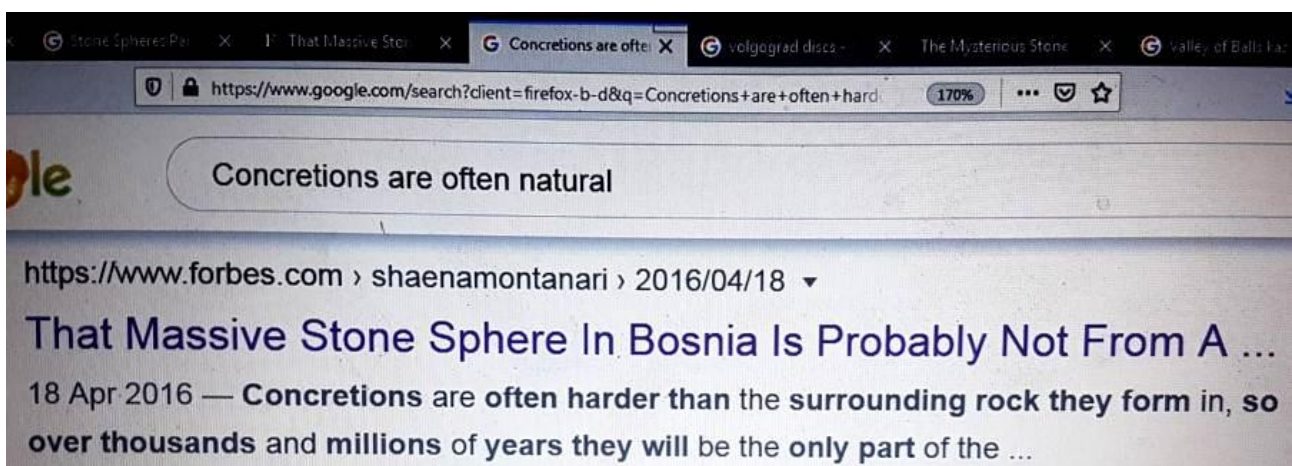

Photo above - Zavidovici balls, Bosnia

Some of the Zavidovici balls are half buried and are harder than the rock that surrounds them. Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations.

Is this story true? Or - are historians telling lies?

Are historians liars?

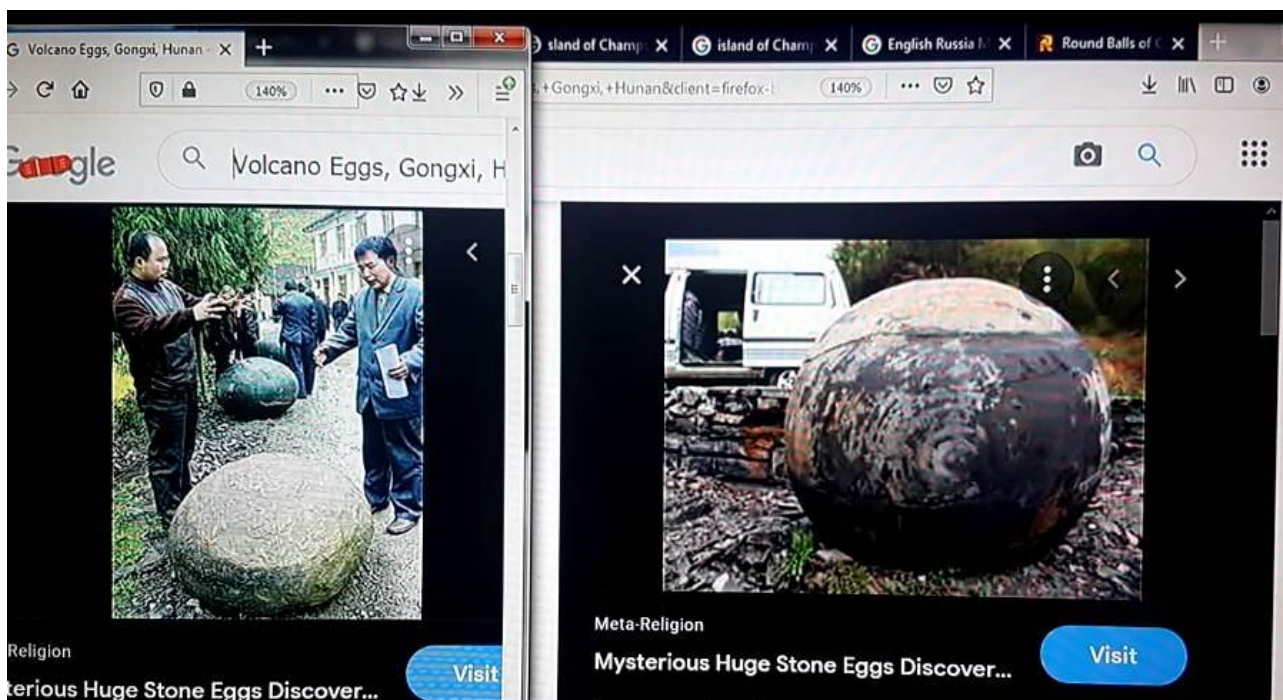

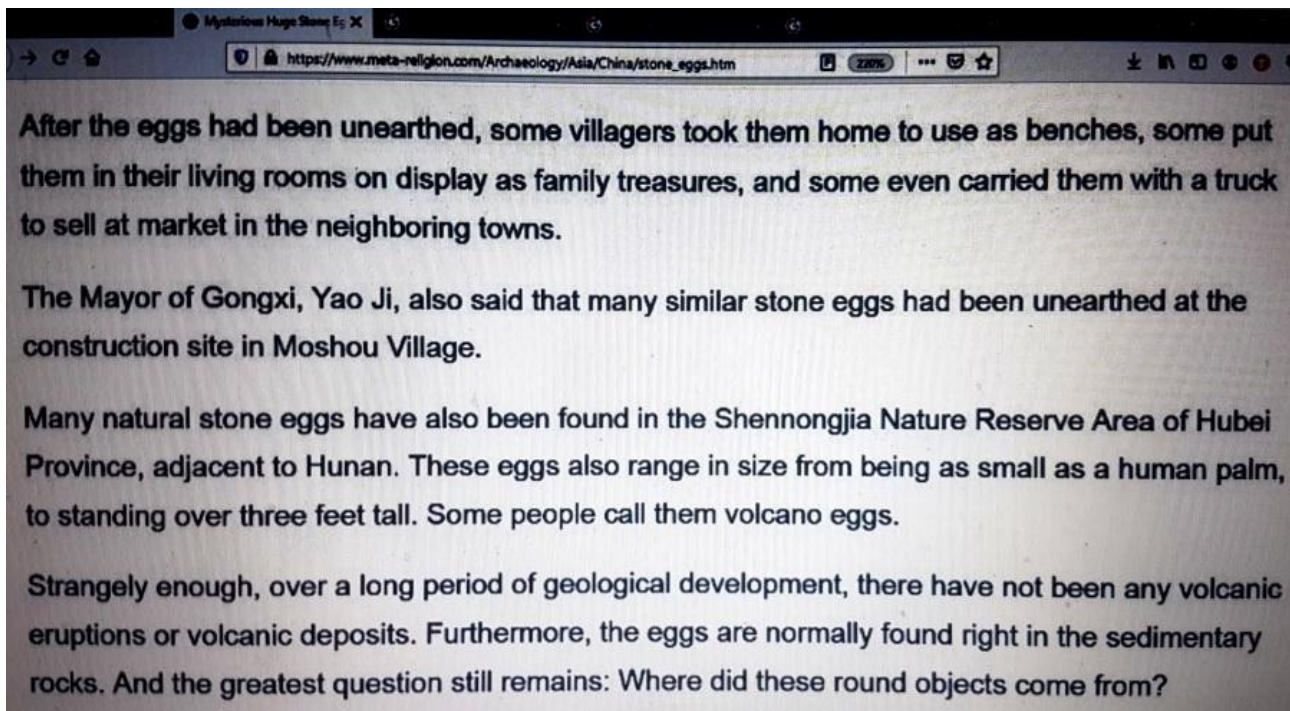

Photo above - Volcano Eggs, Gongxi, Hunan, China

Many balls have been found buried in rocks in China. Many people call them - Volcano Eggs. Because China is a developing country, many cases of discoveries are normally not reported. The balls have many different sizes.

In countries like China, many people take these balls and sell them or take them to their own homes. Because developing countries are poor compared to Europe and America, when anything historical is discovered or found, they are normally not reported to the rest of the world. Also, - many nation states are known to hide or falsify historical evidence for nationalistic reasons and other reasons

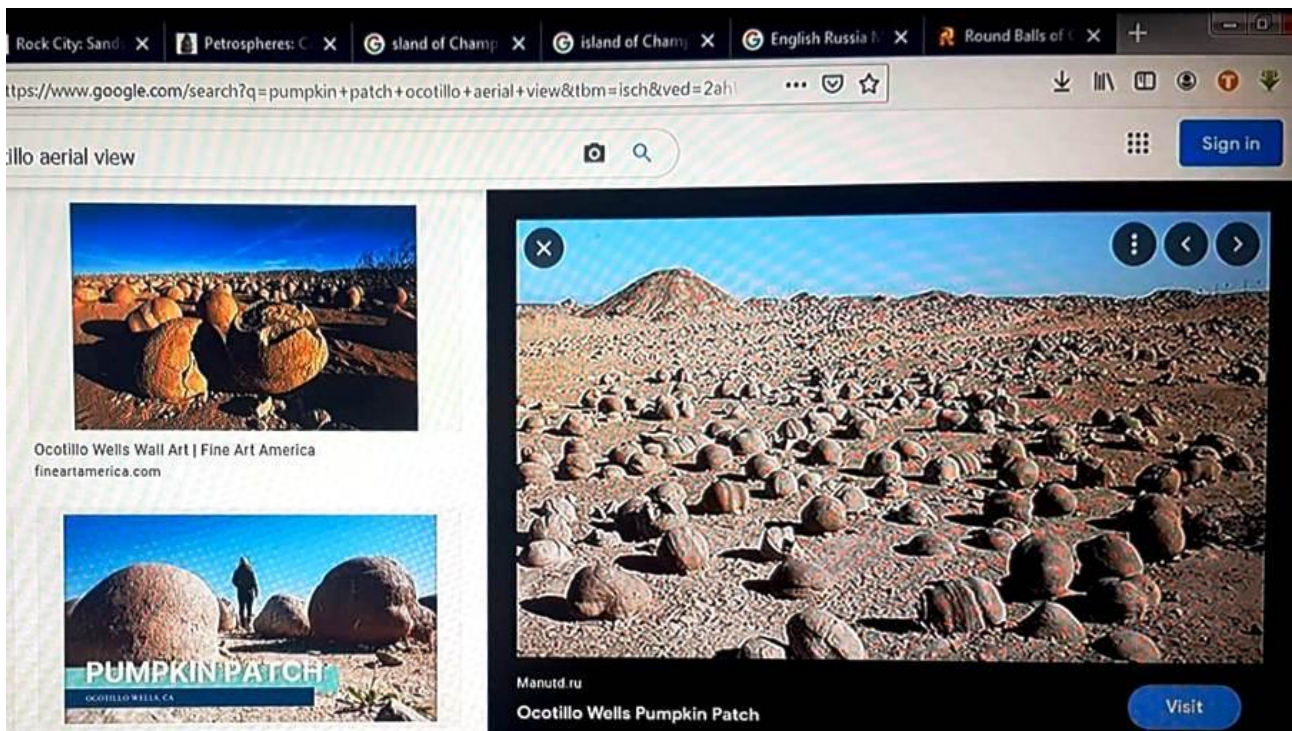

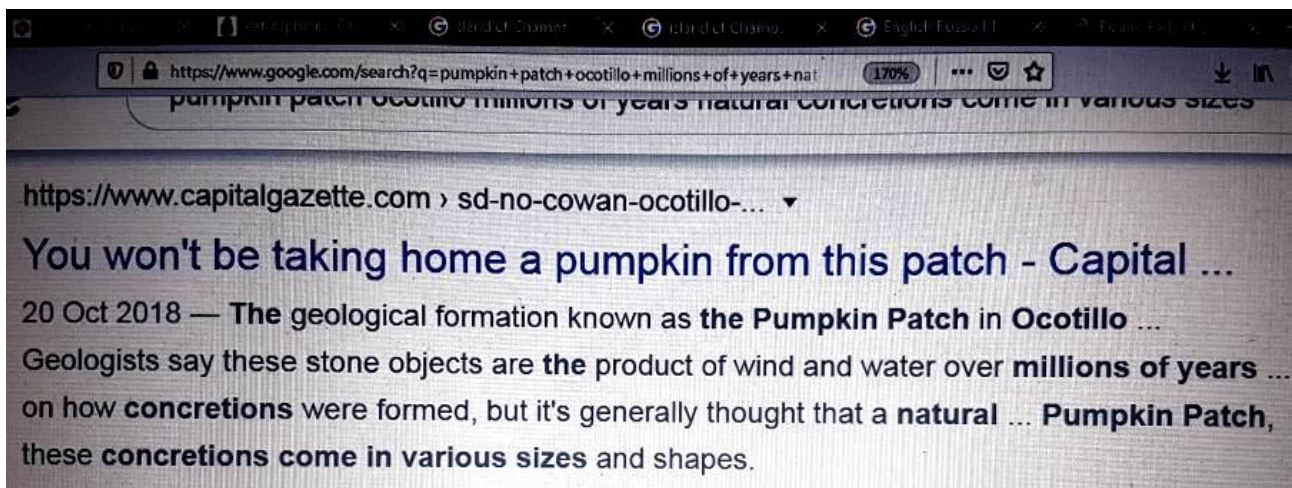

Photo above - Pumpkin Patch, Ocotillo Wells, California, United States of America

The balls at Pumpkin Patch have many different sizes. Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

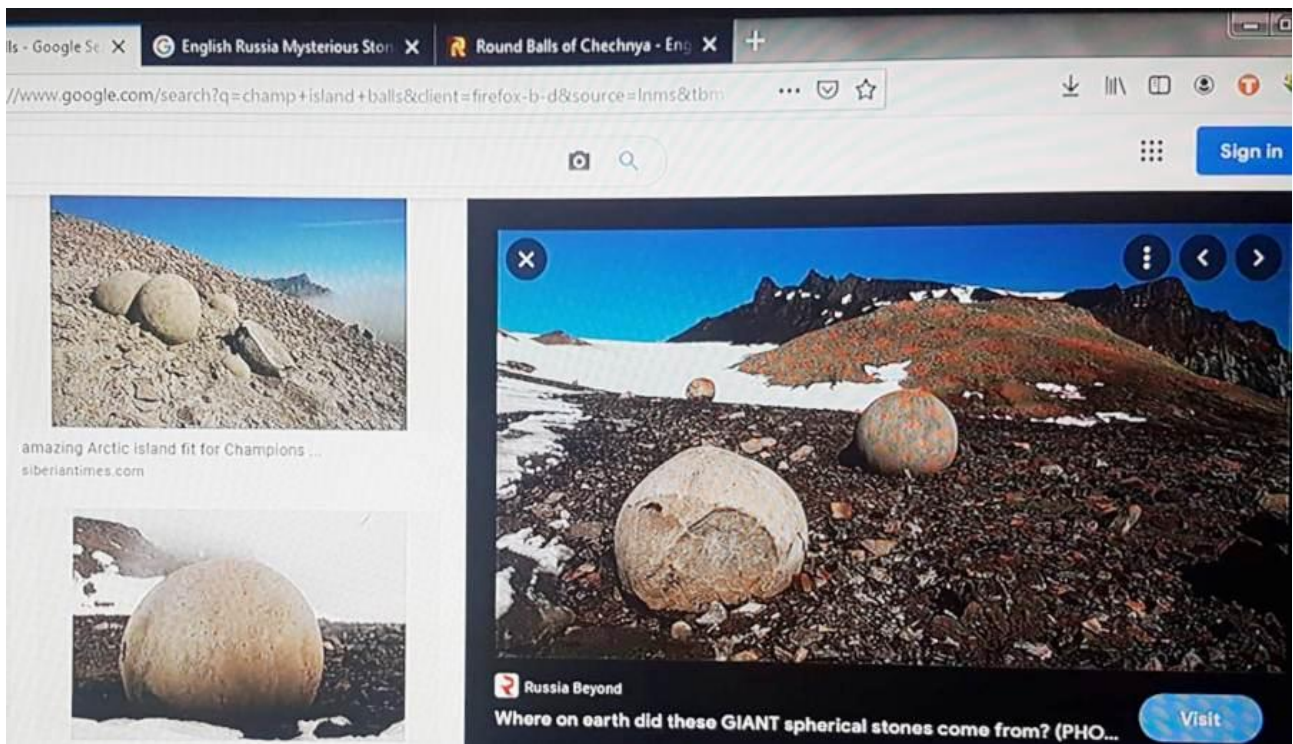

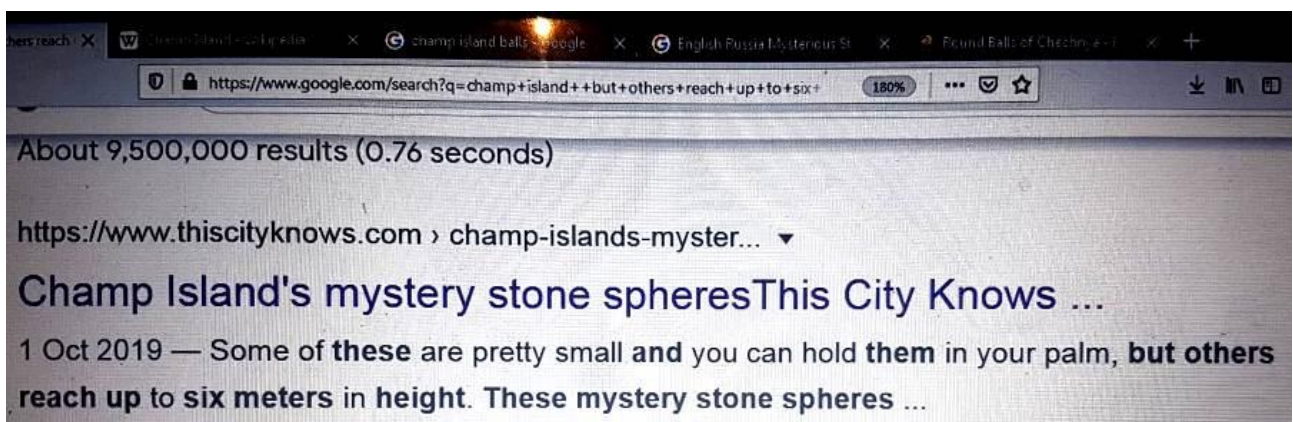

Photo above - Champ Island, Arctic Region, Russia

Some of the balls on Champs Island reach up to 6 metres in height. Historians say that the balls are natural, but are not sure how they exactly formed. Historians do not know? Or - maybe they don't want the world to know?

Many similar balls have been found all over the world

Researchers noticed that the natural balls seen all around the world, looked very similar to balls that are used in modern industry. Were these balls created by machinery, by advanced civilisations in the past?

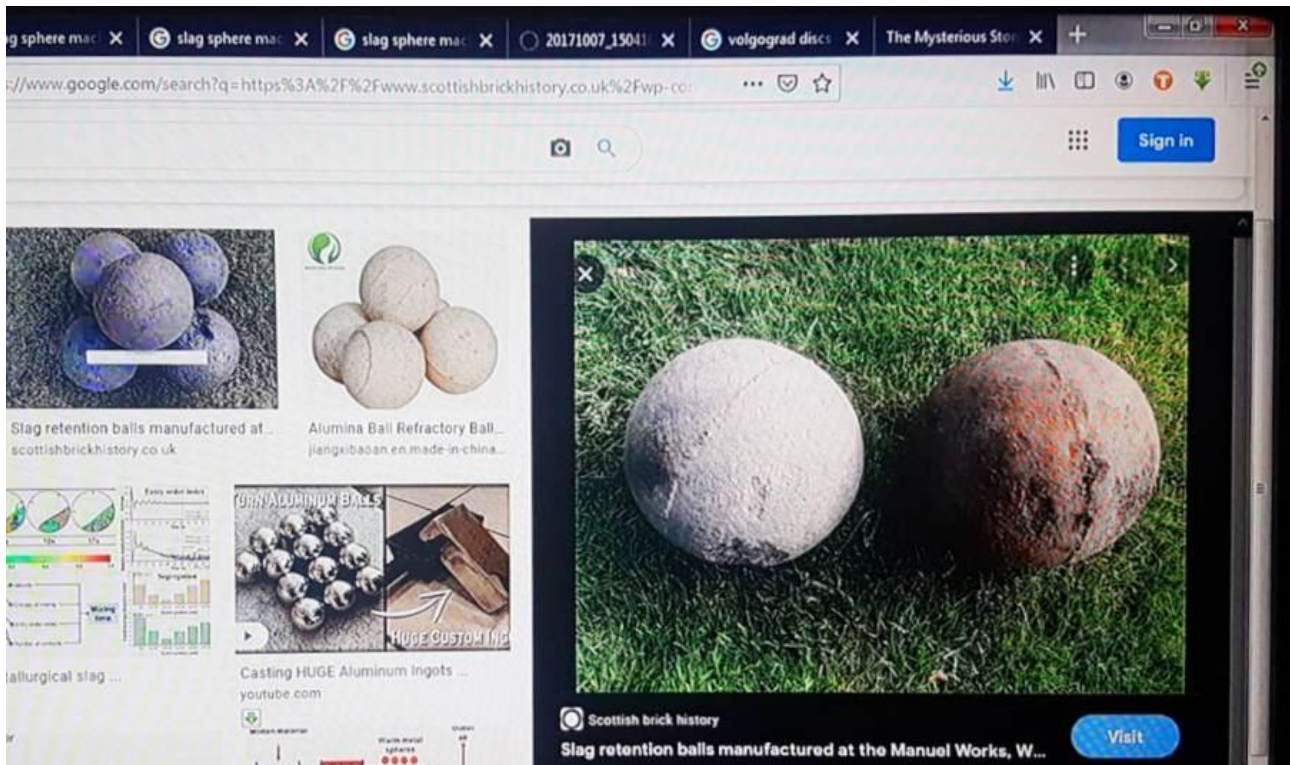

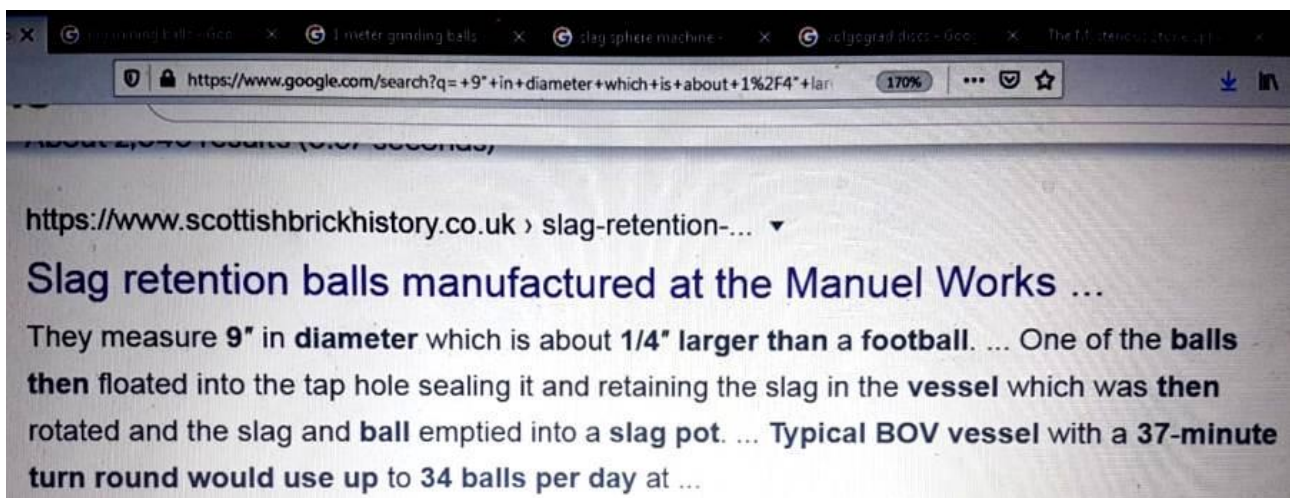

Photo above - an example of modern balls used by industrial and mining companies

These modern balls are different in sizes and different in types, depending on what they are used for. Hundreds of these balls have been used by industrial companies in modern times. It was clear that they looked very similar to the balls that can be seen in many places around the world

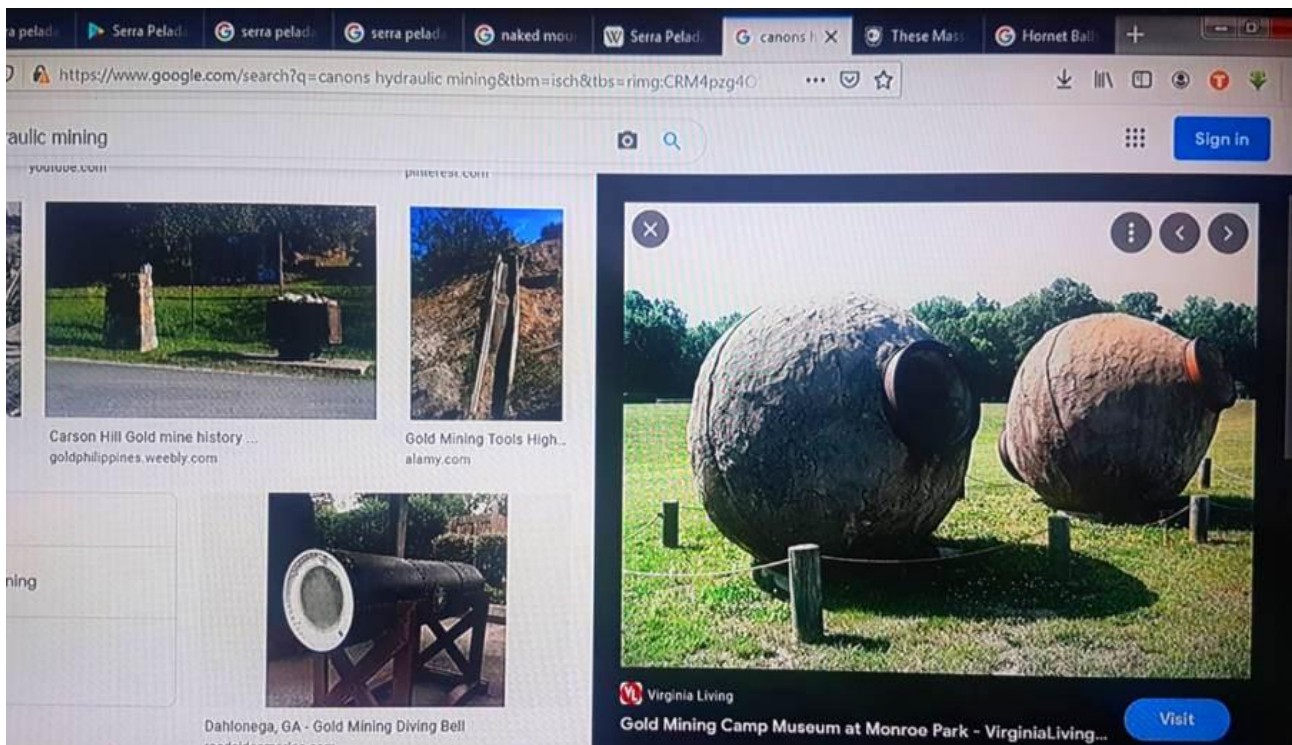

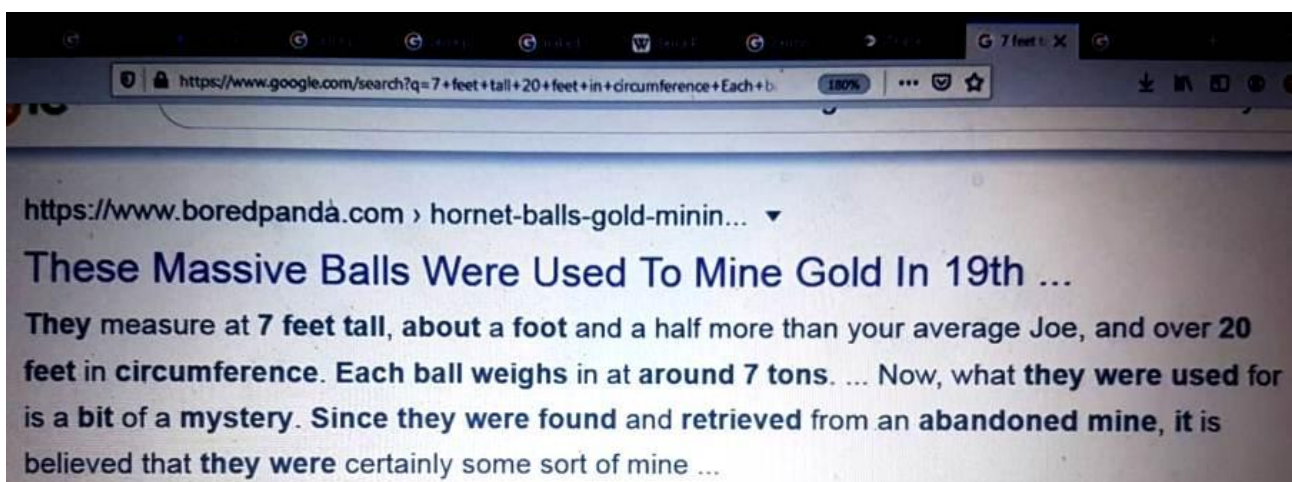

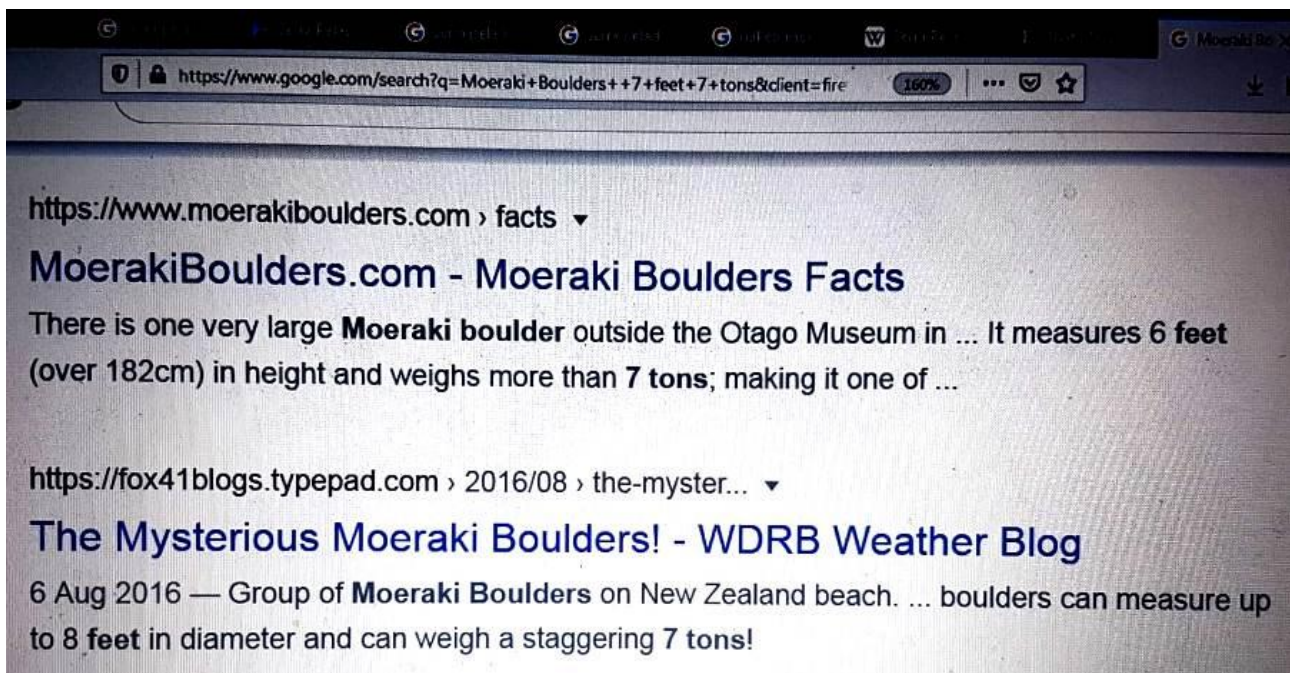

Photo above - Hornet Balls, Virginia, United States of America

Historians say that the Hornet Balls were found in an abandoned 19th century gold mine called: - “Liberty Mine” in Virginia. They are 7 feet tall and weigh around 7 tons. Historians say that they do not know what these balls were exactly used for, but they had something to do with mining

Researchers concluded that historians either - really do not know what these balls were exactly used for - or - they do not wish to say. But this clearly showed one thing: - it showed that we do not even know the recent local history of Virginia and we do not know really know the true history of mining. The same problem can be seen all over the world. We do not know the true history of our world or it is being hidden away

Some of the Moeraki Boulders in New Zealand are around 7 feet tall and weigh around 7 tons, similar to the Hornet Balls found in Virginia

Not only are balls used in modern industry, - balls of different sizes are made by machinery today and are placed as decoration in gardens and parks

The story that historians have told the world about the historical balls, made no sense, and researchers concluded that historians were telling lies

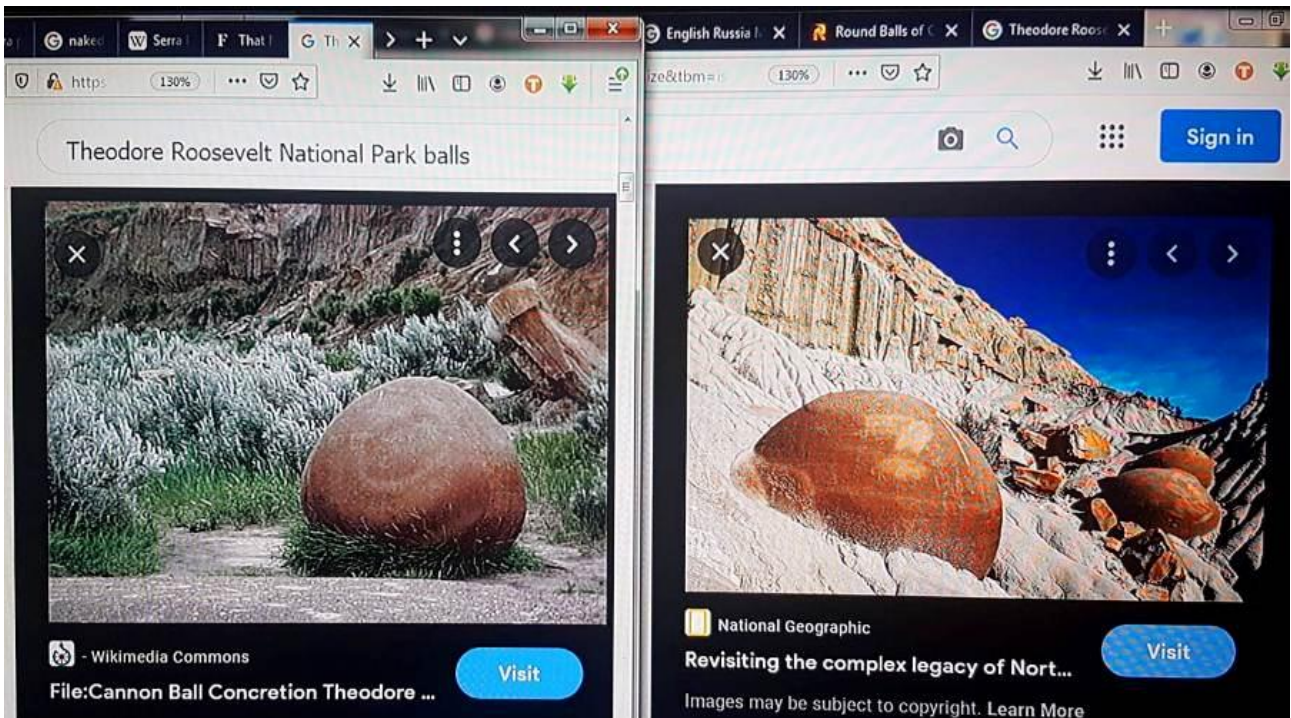

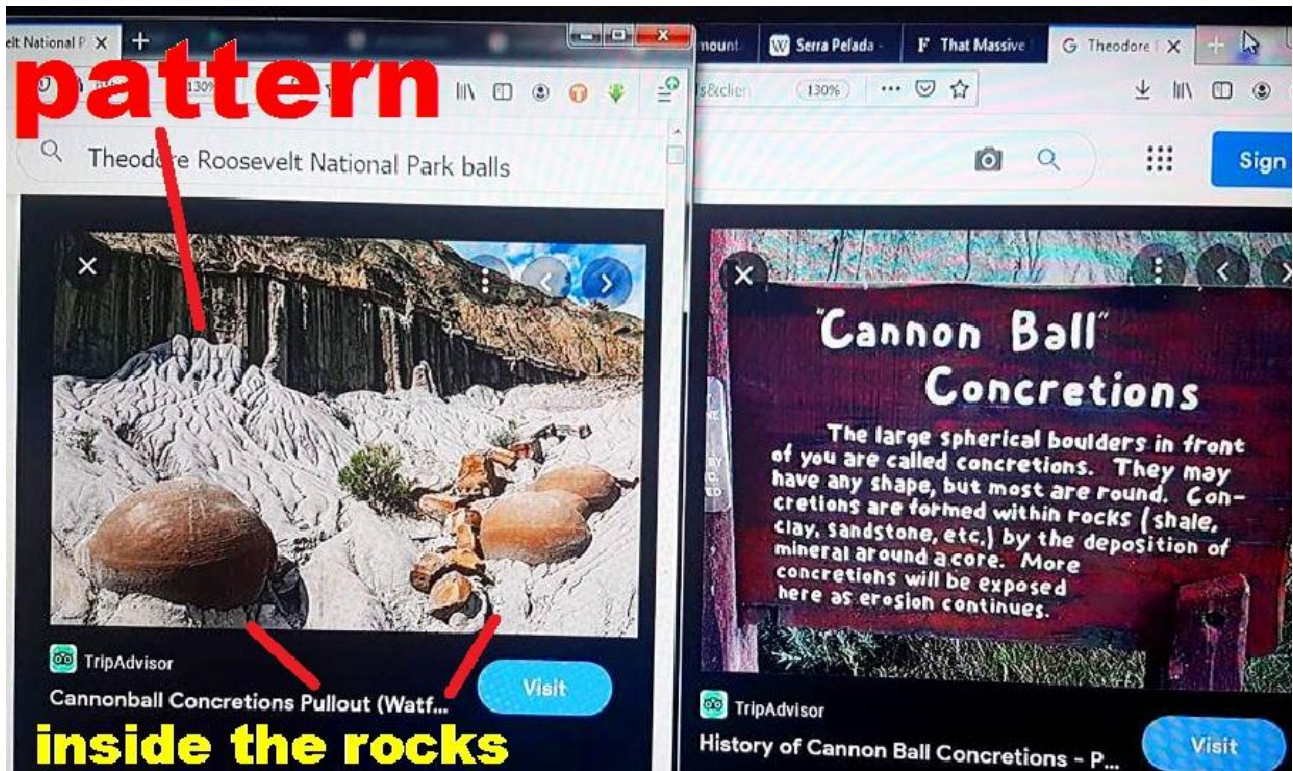

Photo above - balls in Theodore Roosevelt National Park, North Dakota, United States of America

Historians say that these balls are millions of years old. Historians say that they are natural formations. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

Many of the balls in Theodore Roosevelt National Park, - are buried inside the rocks. Historians say that the balls naturally formed inside the rocks. Is this really true? Or - are they telling lies?

Researchers noticed that a pattern could be seen in the white natural rock that was around the balls at Theodore Roosevelt National Park. The same pattern can be seen in mining waste around the world

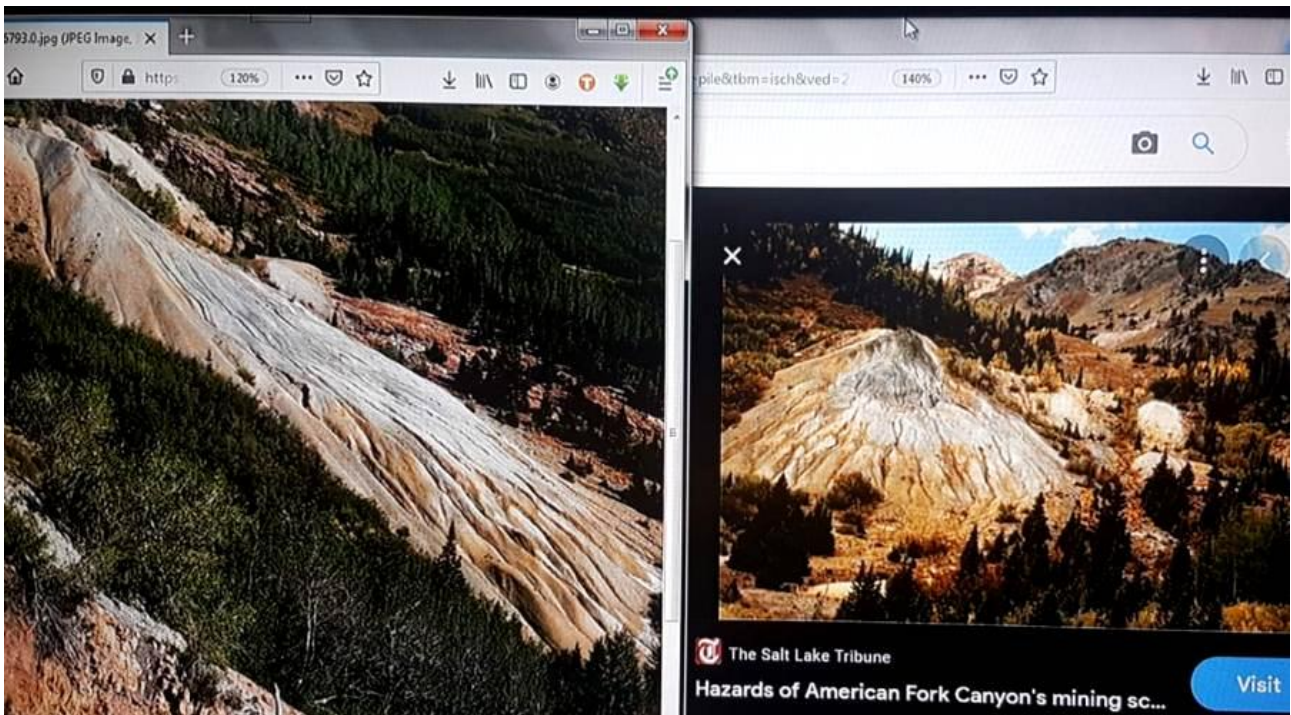

Photo above - mining waste known as “tailings” - at Fork Canyon, Utah, United States of America

The pattern in the mining waste at Fork Canyon looked exactly same like the pattern on the rock at Theodore Roosevelt National Park. The white rock at Theodore Roosevelt National Park clearly looked like mining waste, - and the balls were buried along with the waste

Similar balls were found in many other parts of the world that were half buried.

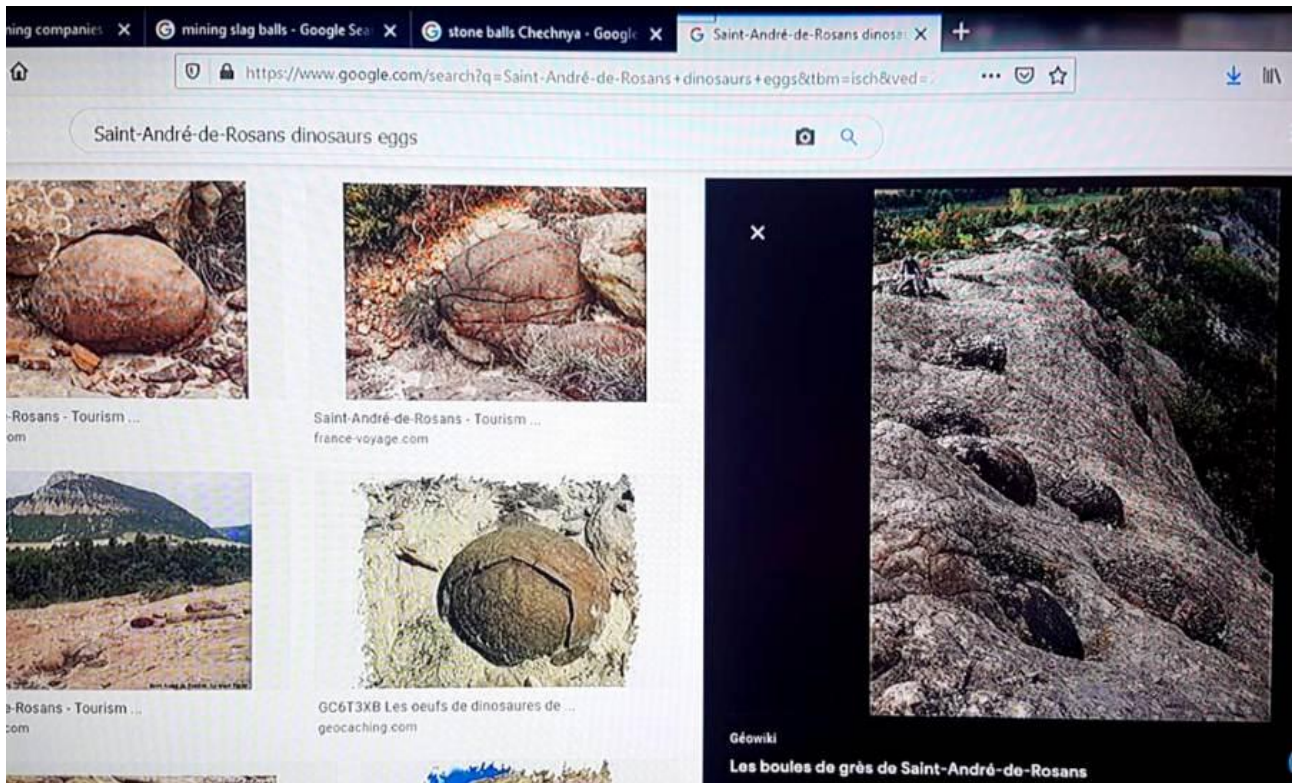

Photo above - Dinosaur Eggs, St André de Rosans, France

Photo above - Round Balls of Chechnya, Caucasus

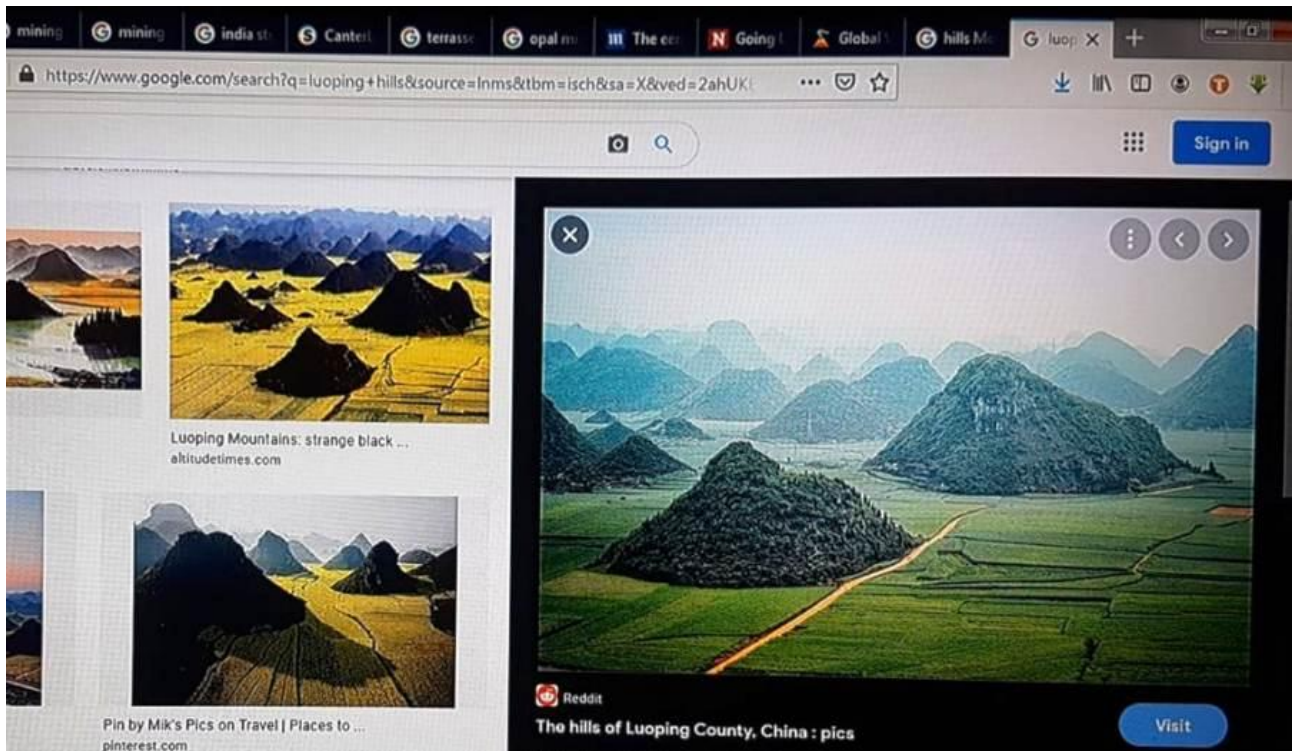

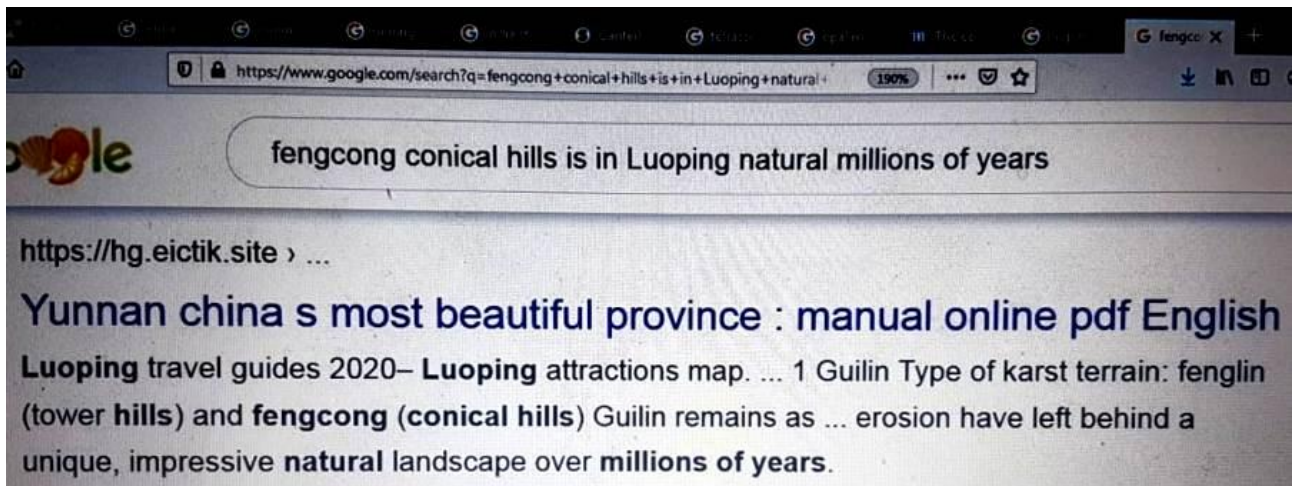

Photo above - Fengcong Hills, Luoping, Yunnan, China

The area around the Fengcong Hills in China has been turned into farmland. Luoping has many cone shaped hills. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

There are thousands of similar hills that can be seen all around the world

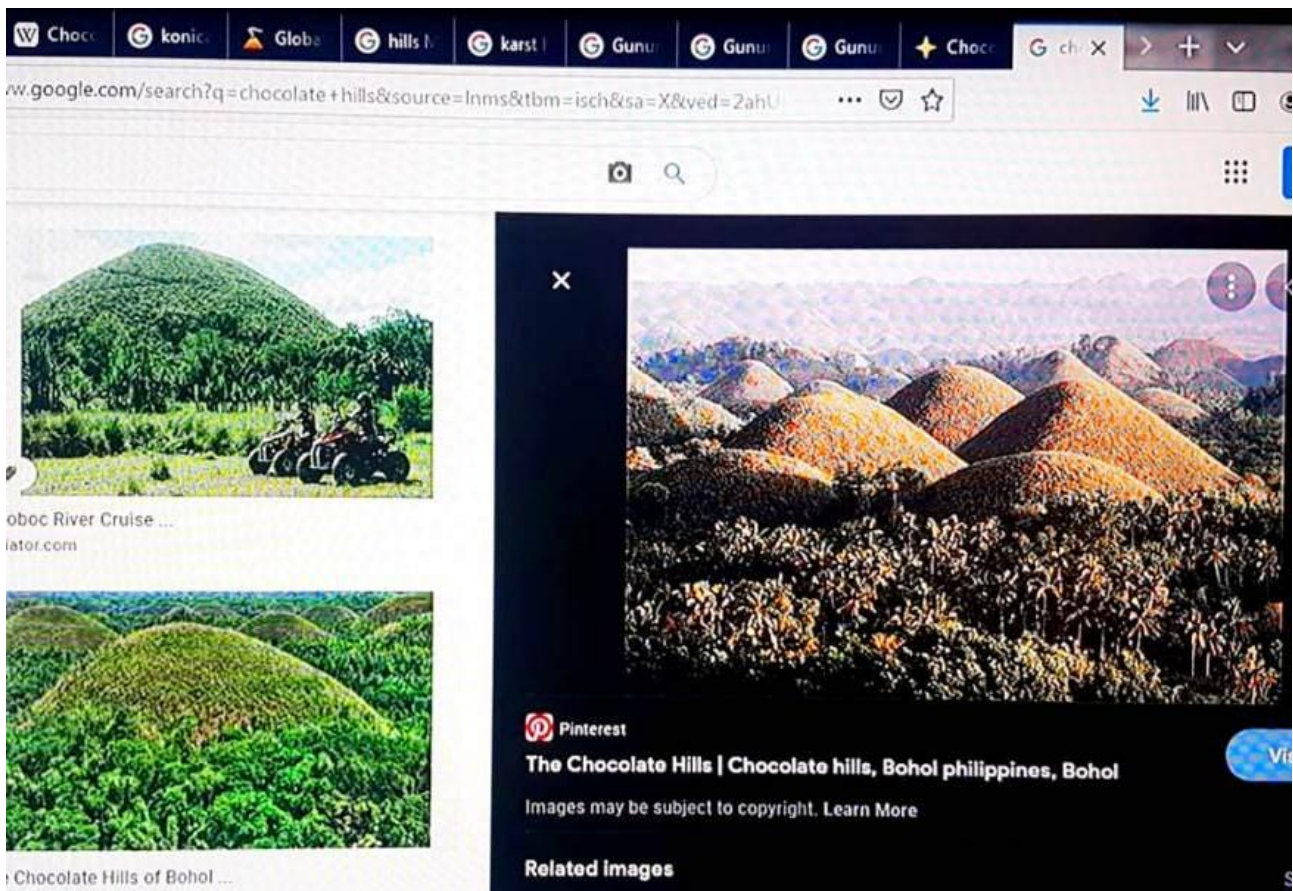

Photo above - Chocolate Hills, Philippines

Chocolate Hills, Philippines - there are more than 1000 of these hills in the area. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

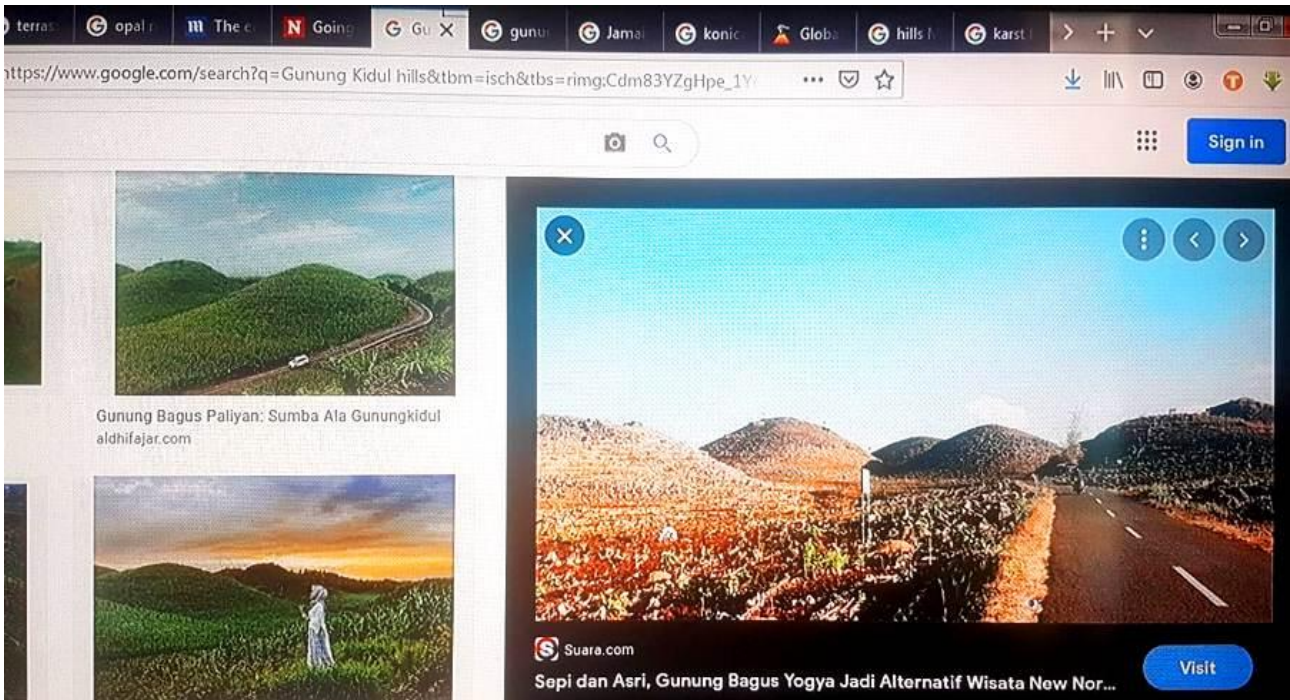

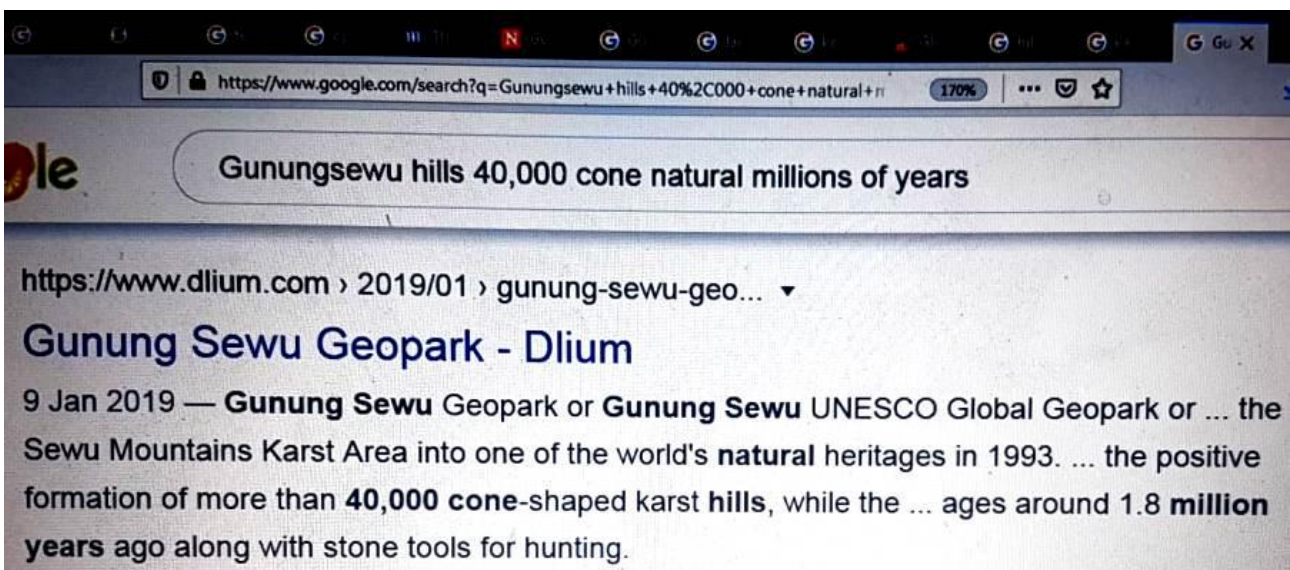

Photo above - Gunung Sewu Hills, Indonesia

Gunung Sewu Hills, Indonesia - there are more than 40,000 of these hills in the area. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

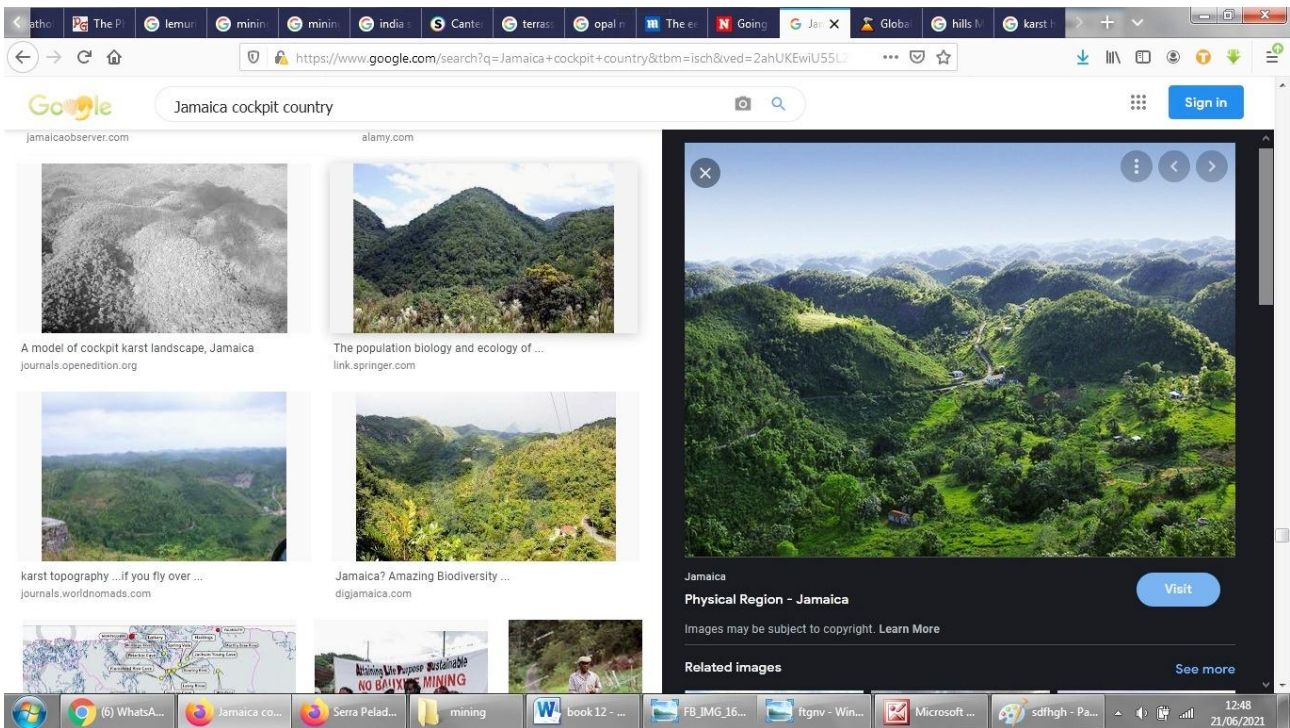

Photo above - Cockpit Country, Jamaica

Cockpit Country in Jamaica has many cone shaped hills. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

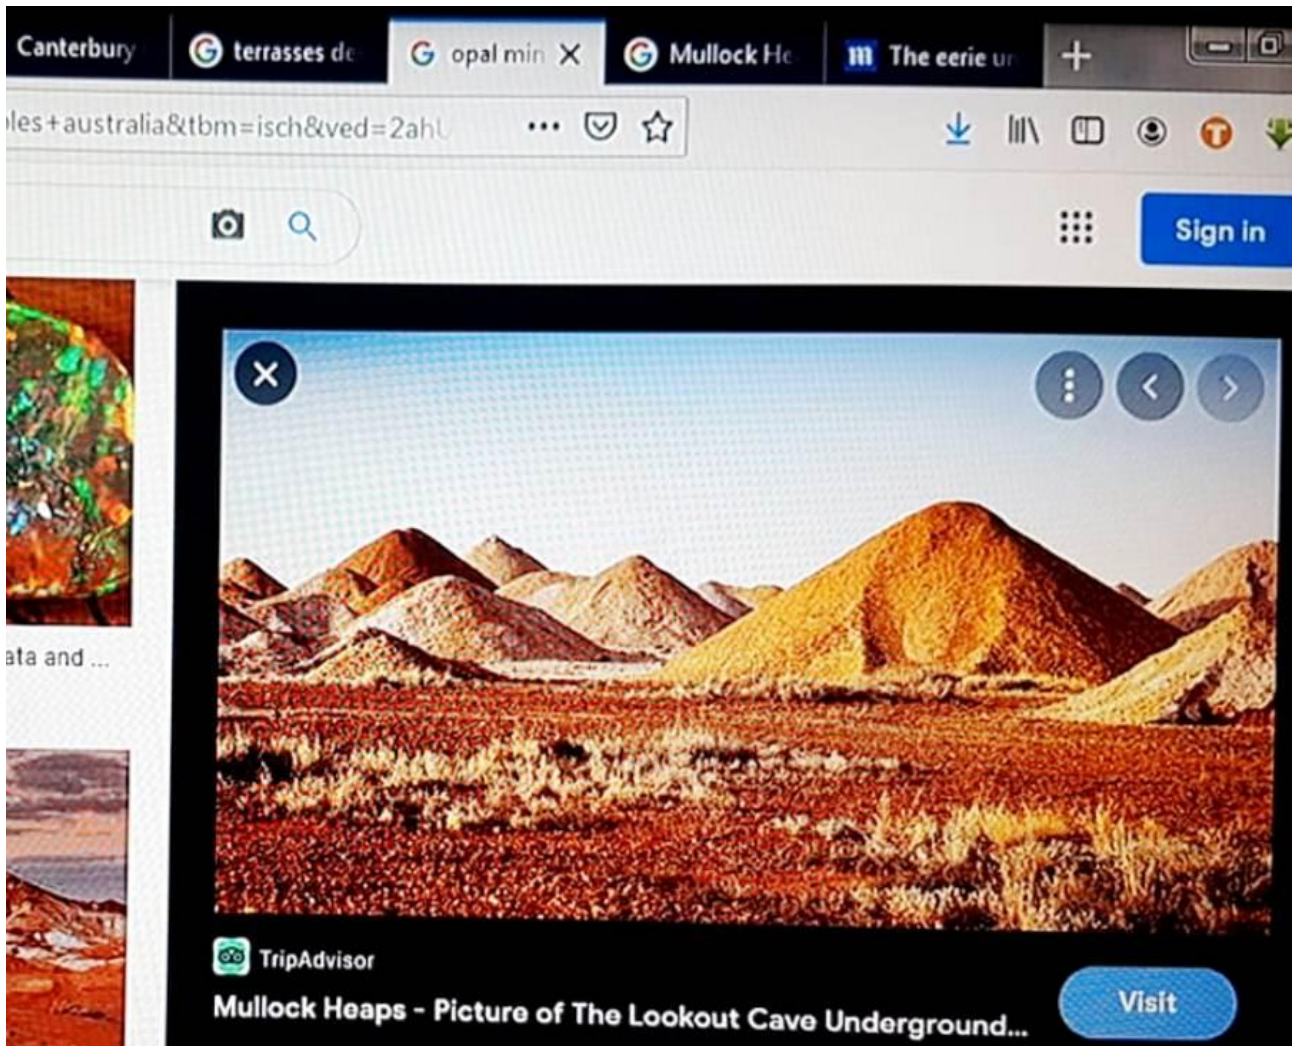

Photo above - Mullock Heaps, Australia

Mullock Heaps are artificial manmade hills. They are made from mining waste. They look exactly the same like natural hills that are seen worldwide.

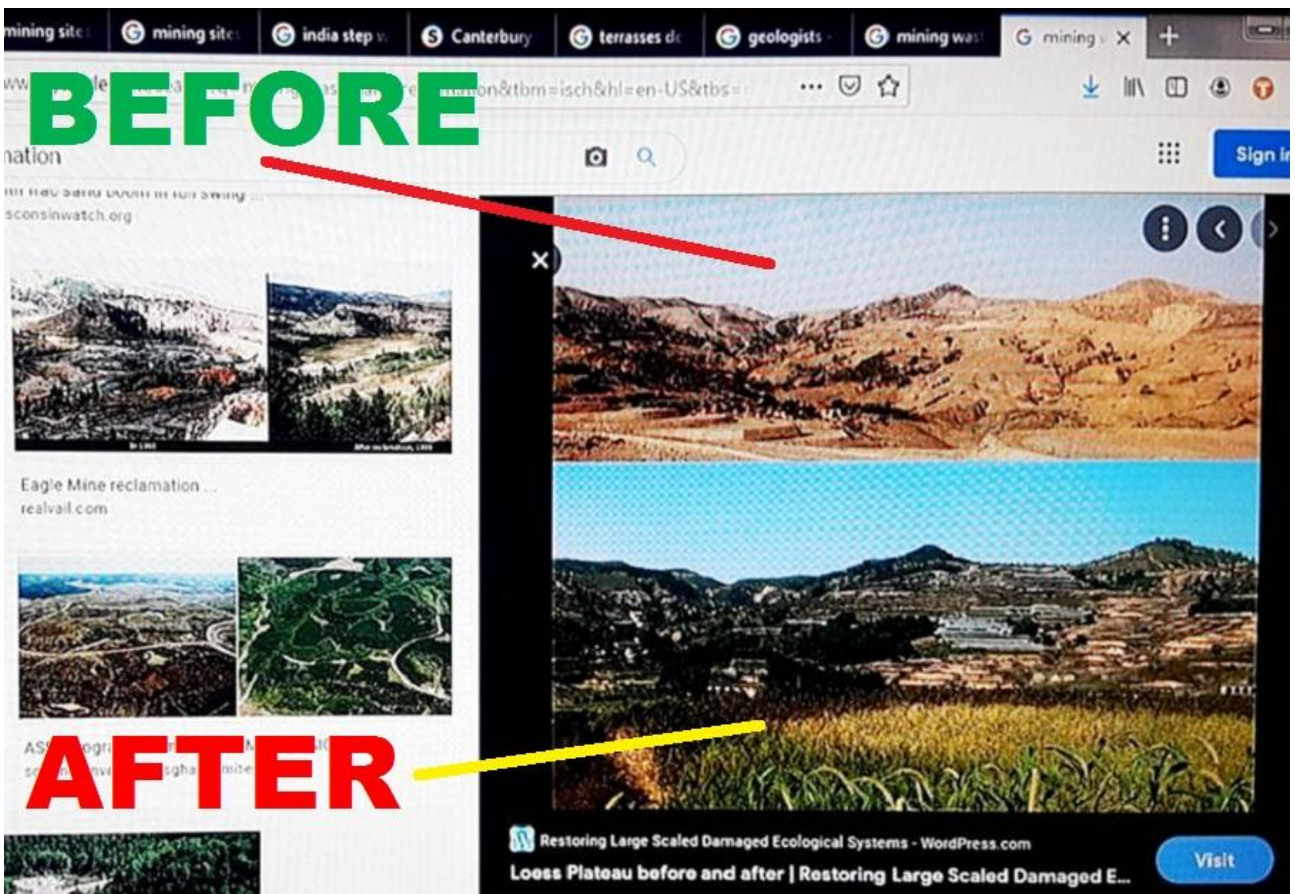

Photo above - land development in the Loess Plateau in China

Land is always being reused and modified by humans. It does not always take thousands or millions of years for trees and vegetation to develop in mining waste lands or in desert regions. Humans have modified the land according to their needs

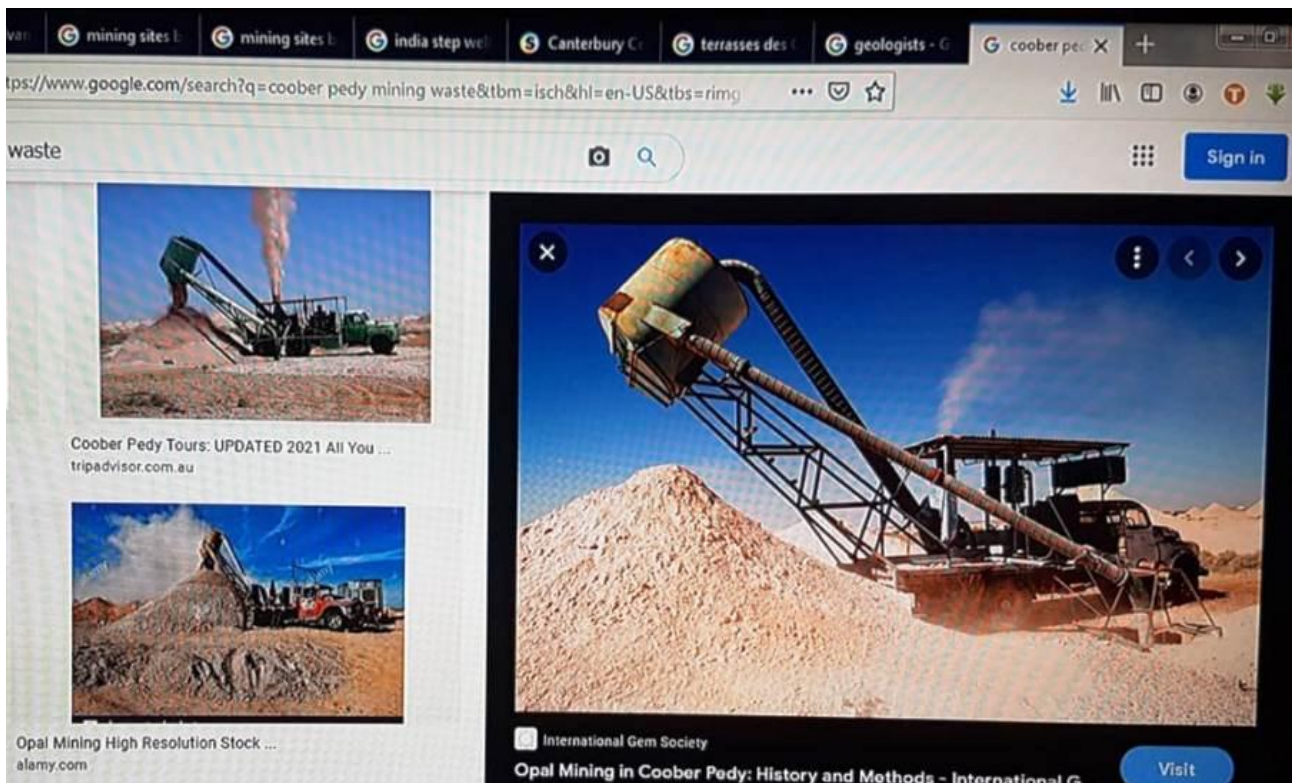

Photo above - Coober Pedy mining waste hills, Australia

There are many similar artificial manmade hills all over the world, which were created using modern machinery. They are the unwanted waste from mining and are not natural. Researchers noticed that these manmade hills looked exactly the same like thousands of natural hills all over the world. These hills did not need millions of years to form

Researchers concluded that historians and geologists, who worked together, were nothing but liars. They were telling lies to hide the true history and science of the world.

Researchers noticed that thousands of natural hills around the world were not natural at all. They concluded that many of the hills were made by advanced civilisations in the past. Similar machinery or greater machinery was used to make these hills. They concluded that these hills were the remains of mining waste.

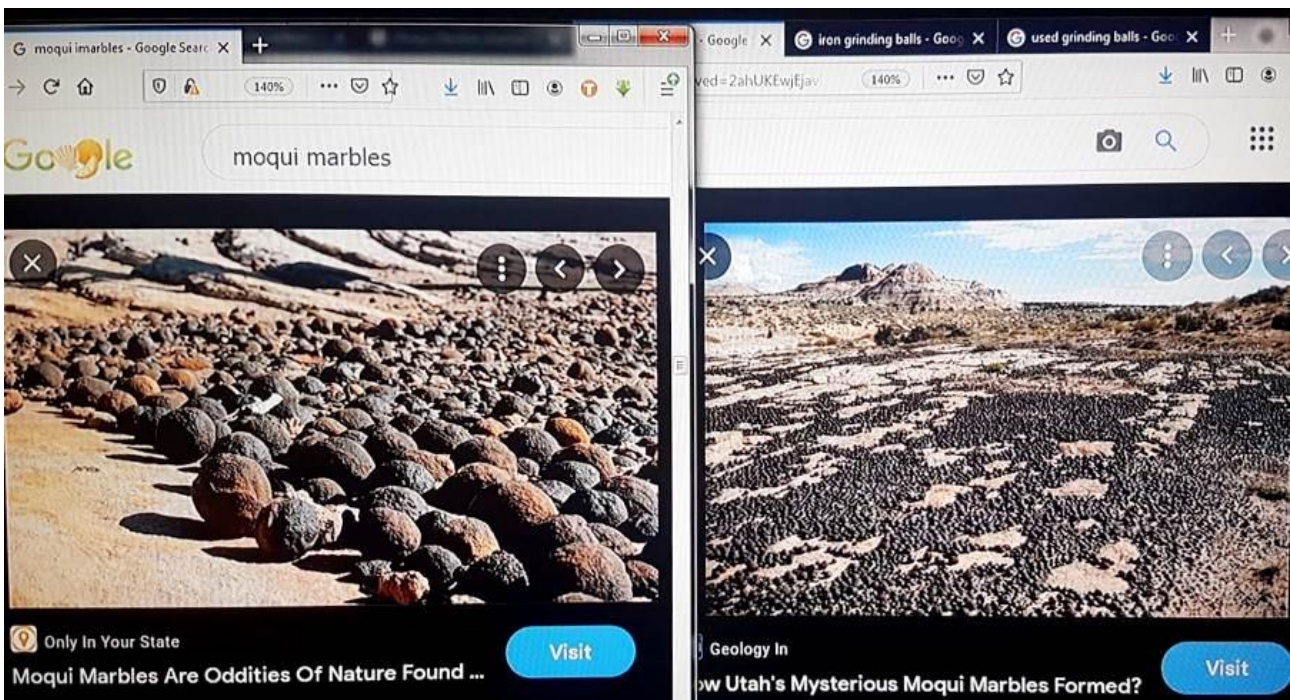

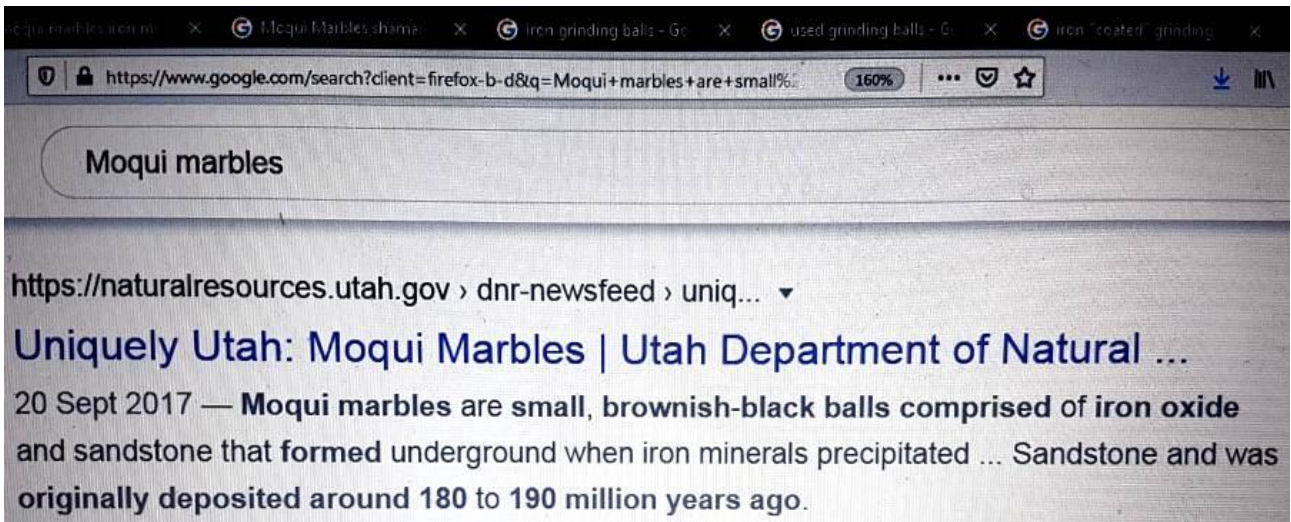

Photo above - Moqui Marbles, Navajo Sandstone, Utah, United States of America

Moqui Marbles are small balls that have a high content of iron. Thousands of them are seen in Utah. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

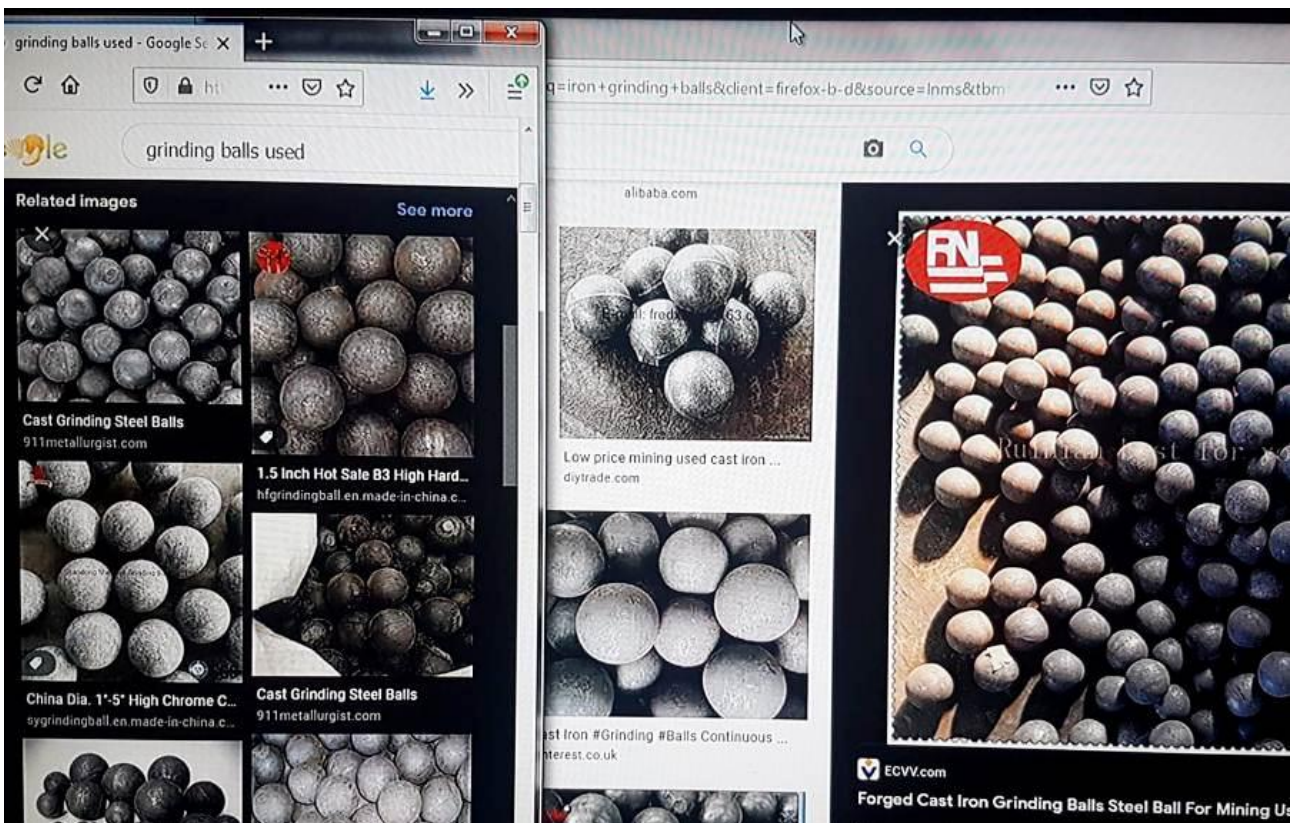

Photo above - modern Iron and steel grinding balls

Balls that are very similar to the Moqui Marbles, with a high content of iron are used in mining and industry in the modern world today

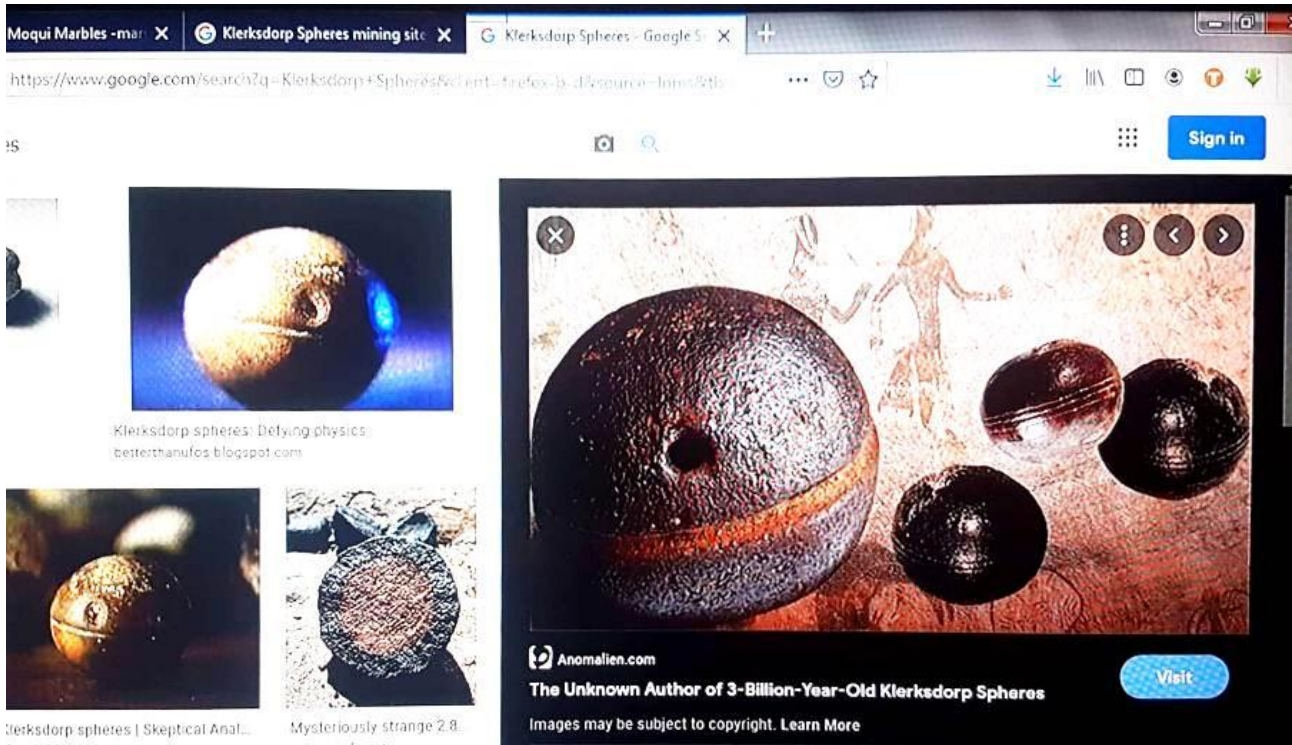

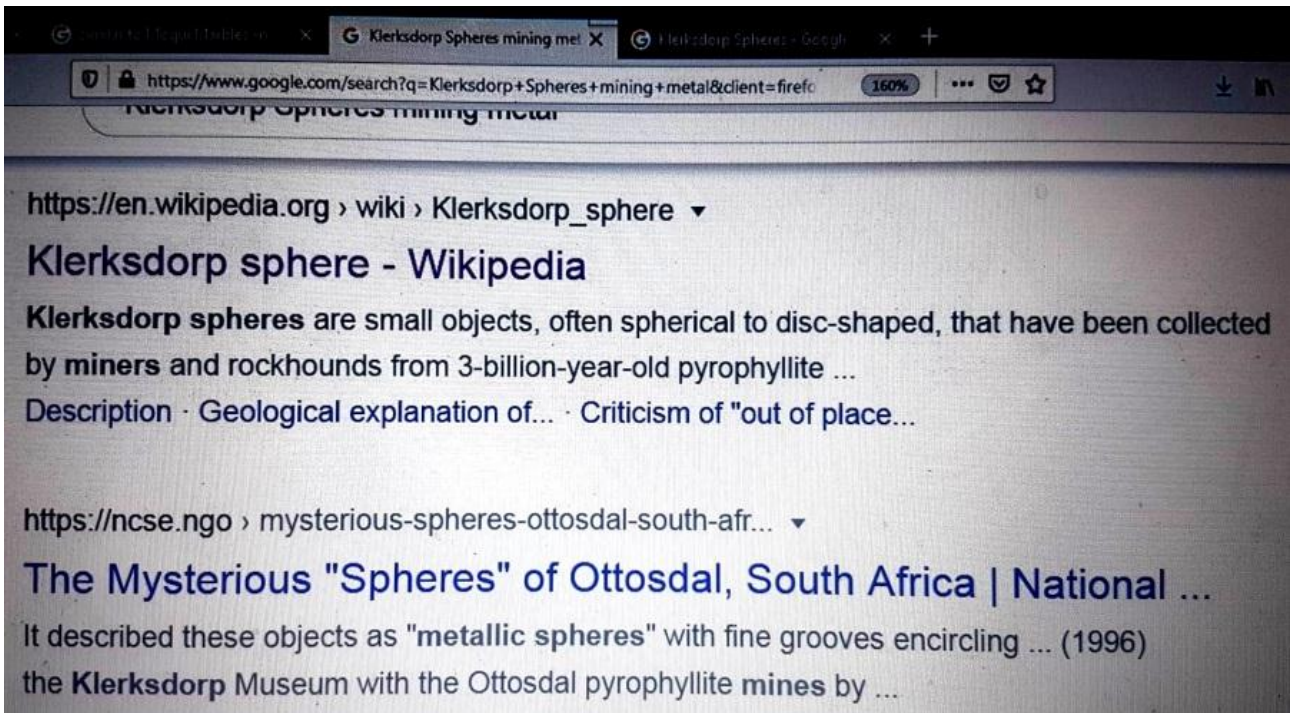

Photo above - Klerksdorp Spheres, South Africa

Klerksdorp Spheres are small round metallic balls. They were found by miners. Historians say that they are natural formations. Historians say that they are billions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

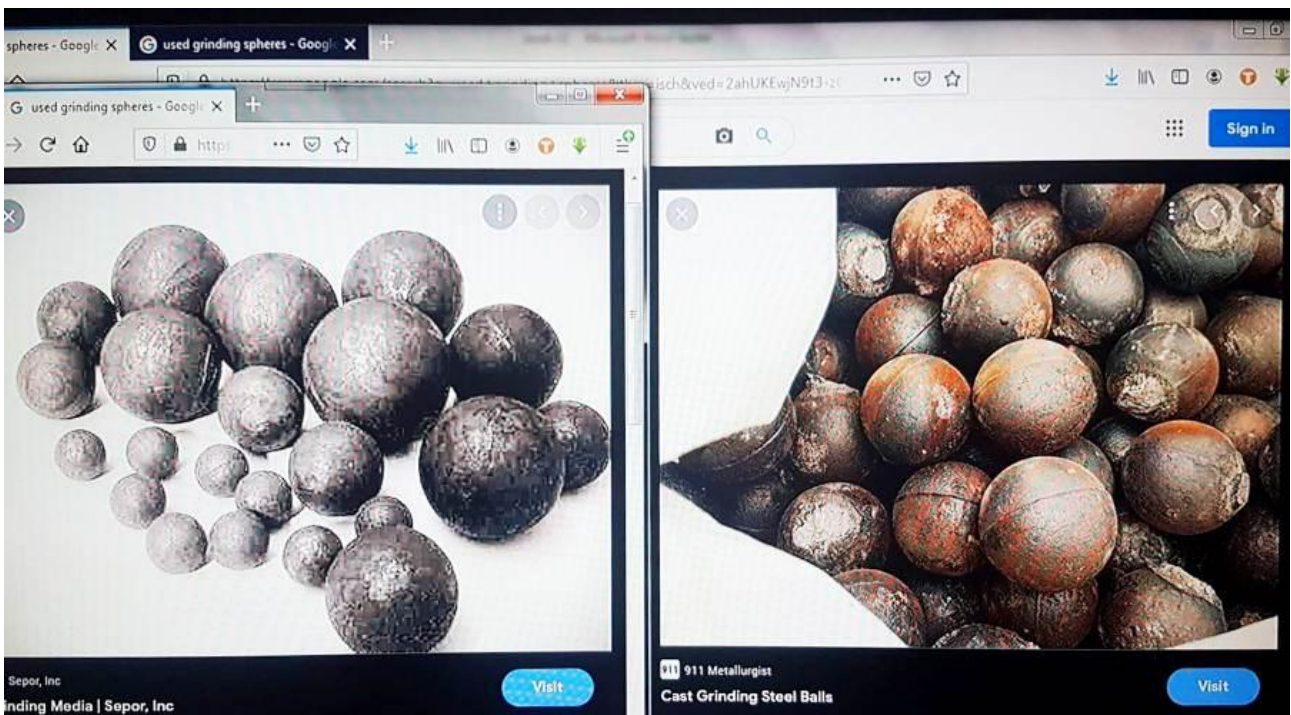

Photo above - different sizes and styles of modern Iron and steel grinding balls

Balls that are very similar to the Klerksdorp Spheres are used in mining and industry in the modern world today.

The Klerksdorp Spheres were found by miners.

Researchers concluded that the history regarding the Klerksdorp Spheres was nothing more than a big joke and a big scam

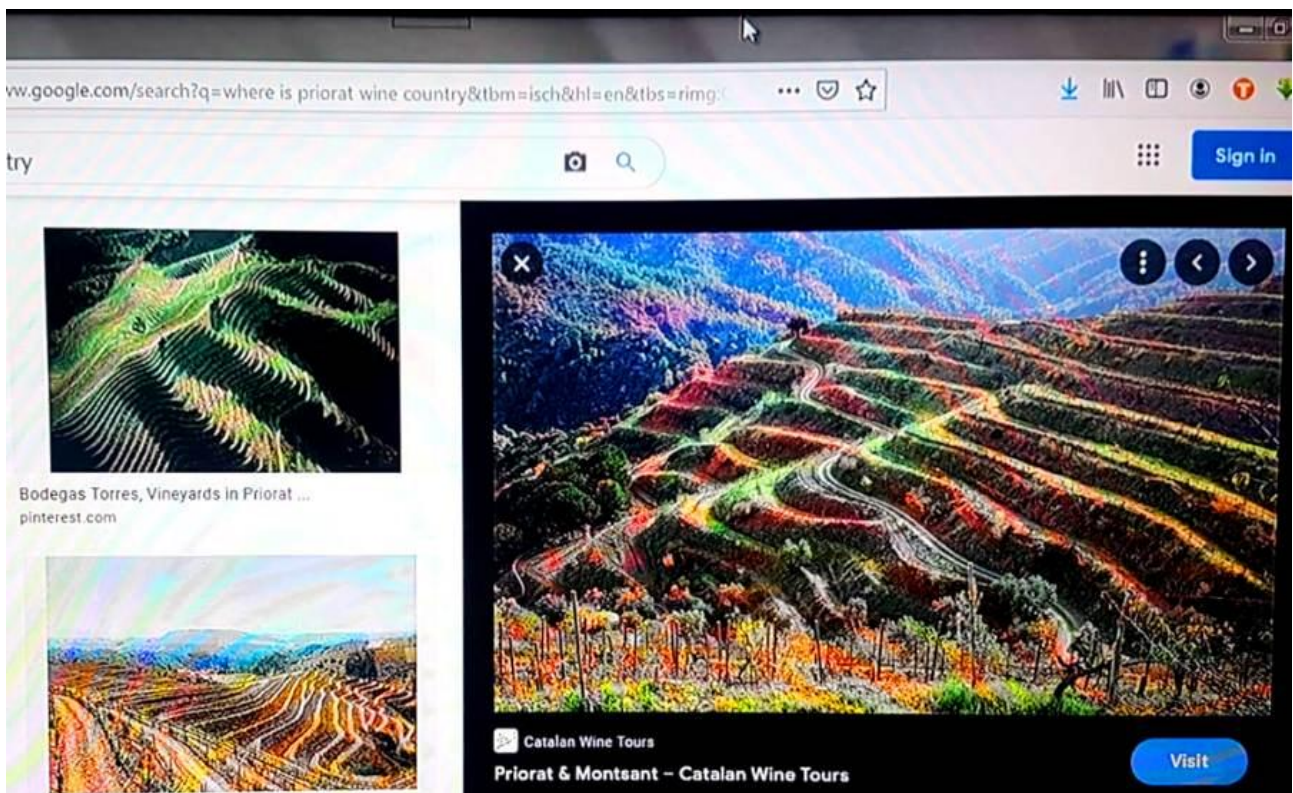

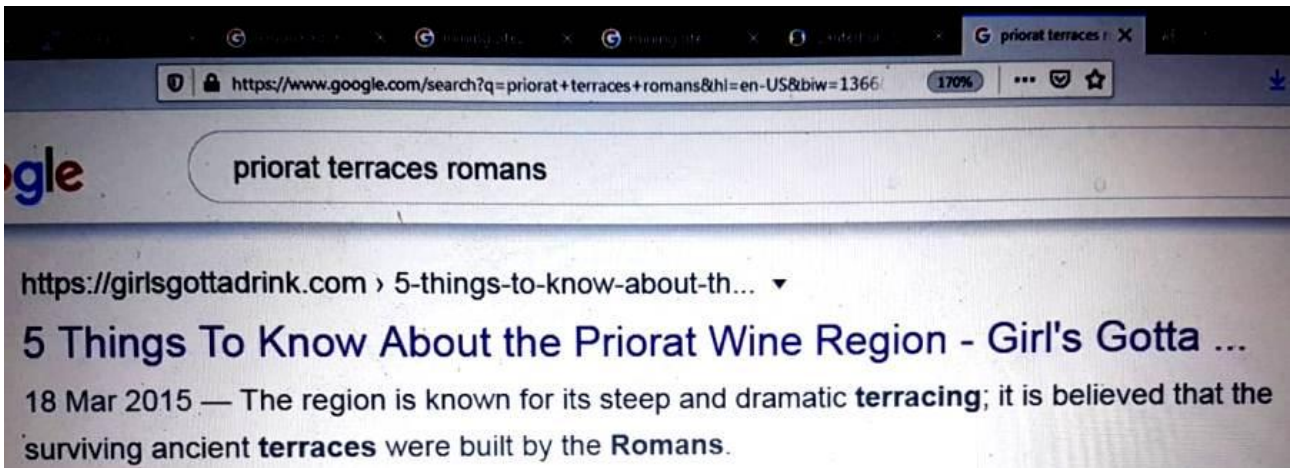

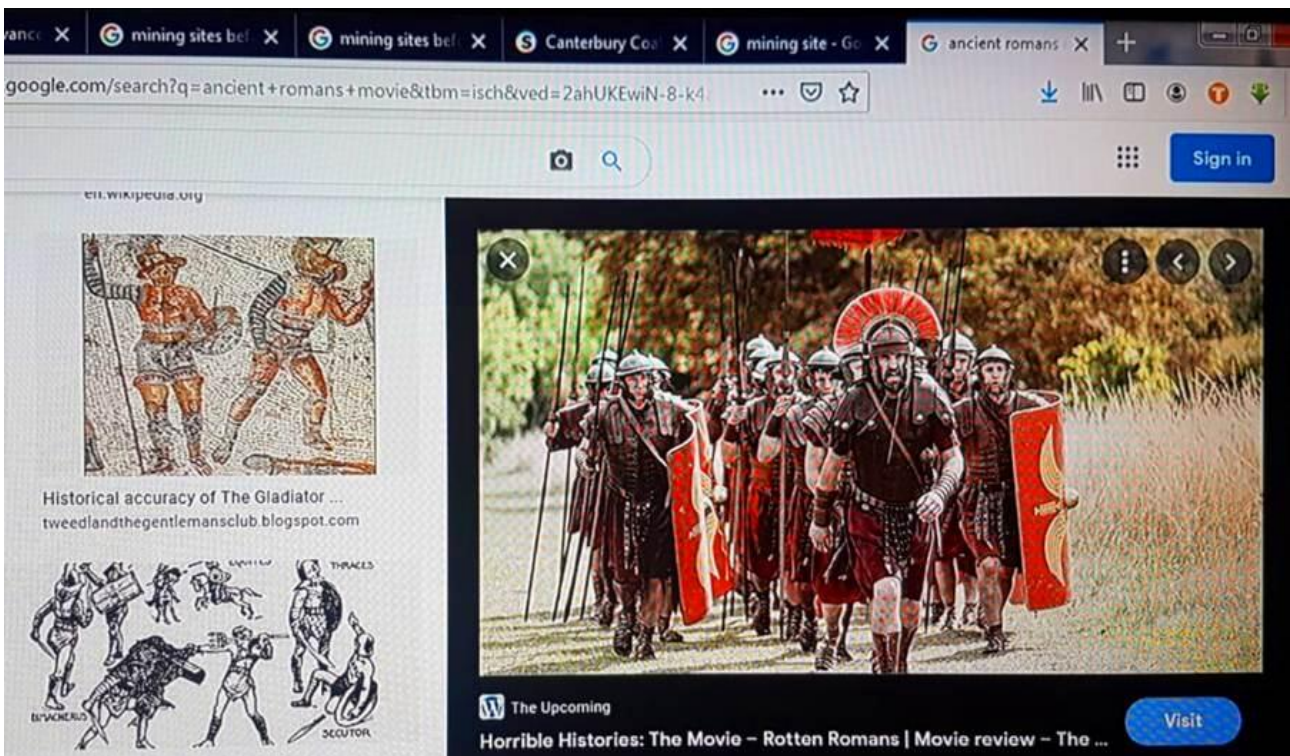

Photo above - Priorat wine region, Catalonia, Spain

Historians normally say that the terraces in Catalonia, Spain were built by the Ancient Romans

The Ancient Romans...?

Historians are telling the world that these types of people did mining and construction in many places around the world in ancient times without machinery

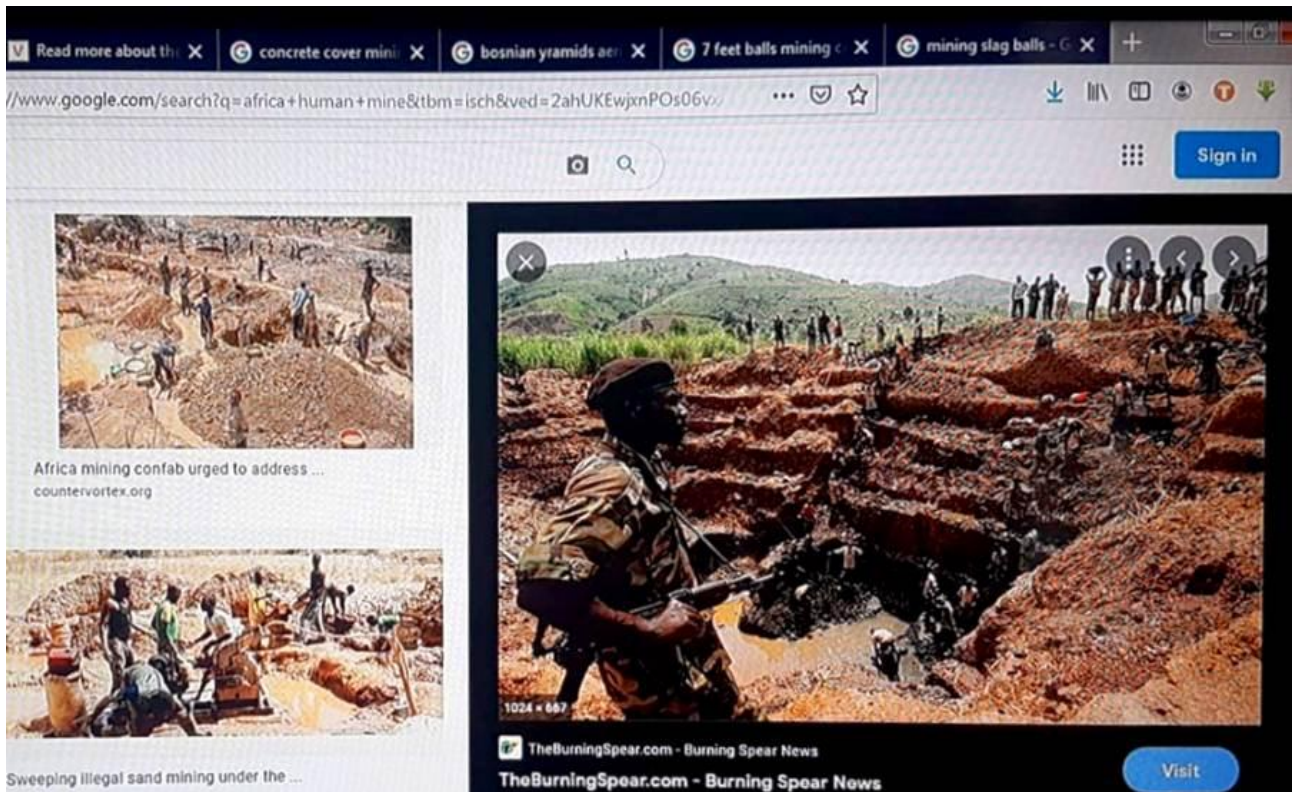

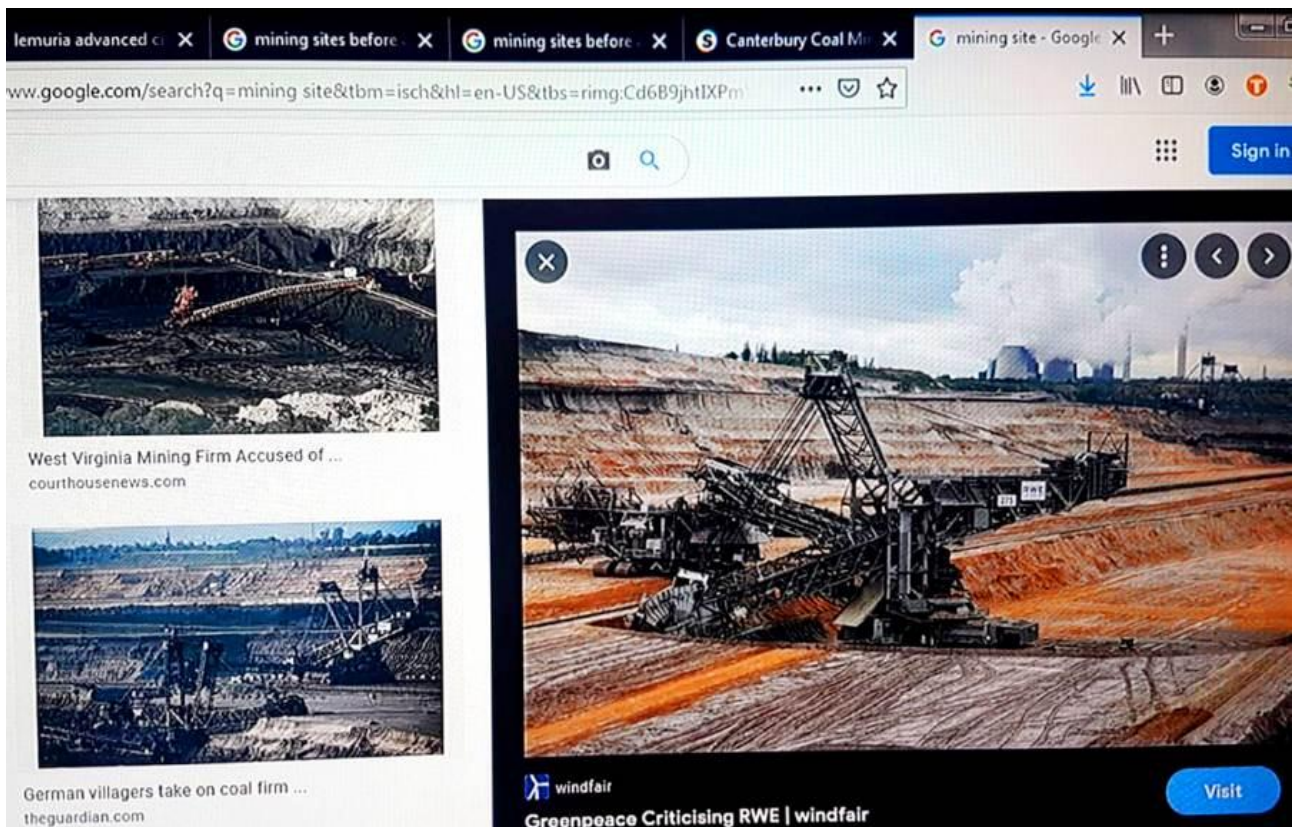

Photo above - human labour being used for mining purposes in Africa

It is well known that human labour has been used many times in the past for mining and construction and continues today

But today, - a lot of the advanced mining and construction is being done by big machinery.

World history did not make sense. Thousands of places all over the world looked clearly similar to the remains of modern mining sites. Many of these historical places are too difficult for human labour. There was also the serious question regarding the formation of many hills around the world, that clearly looked like the remains of mining waste

Are historians telling lies? Are they trying to hide true world history? Are historians liars?

Is there something within world history that they are afraid of?

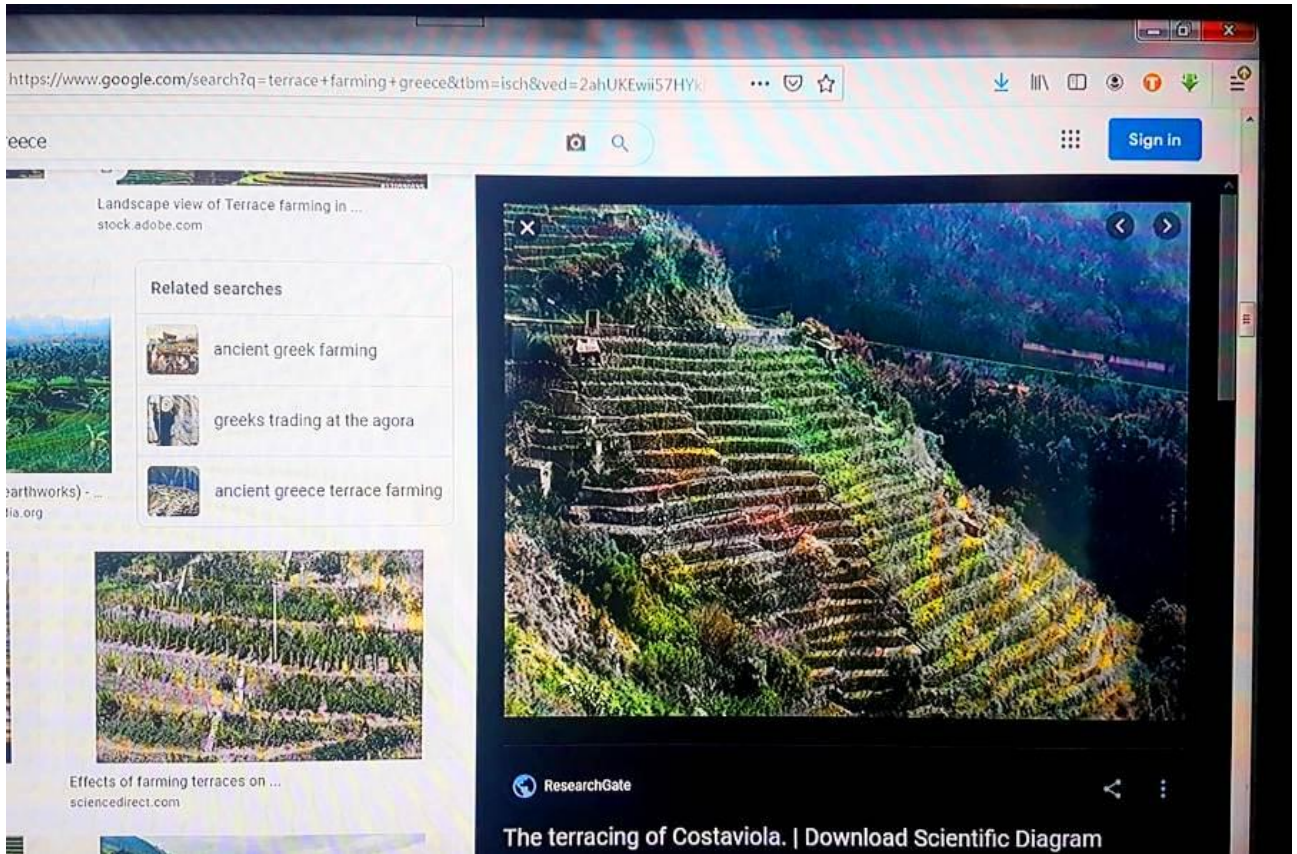

Photo above - Costa Viola, Calabria, Italy

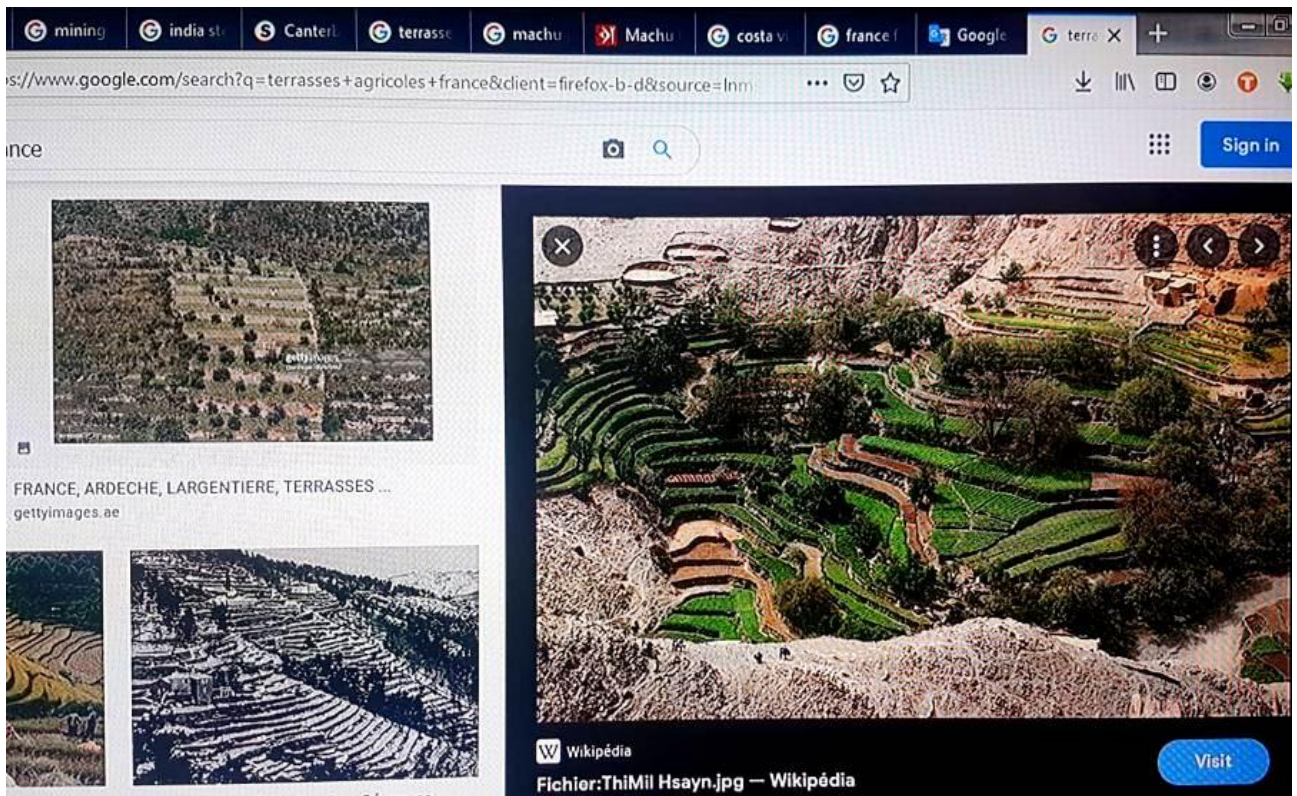

Photo above - Atlas mountains region, Morocco

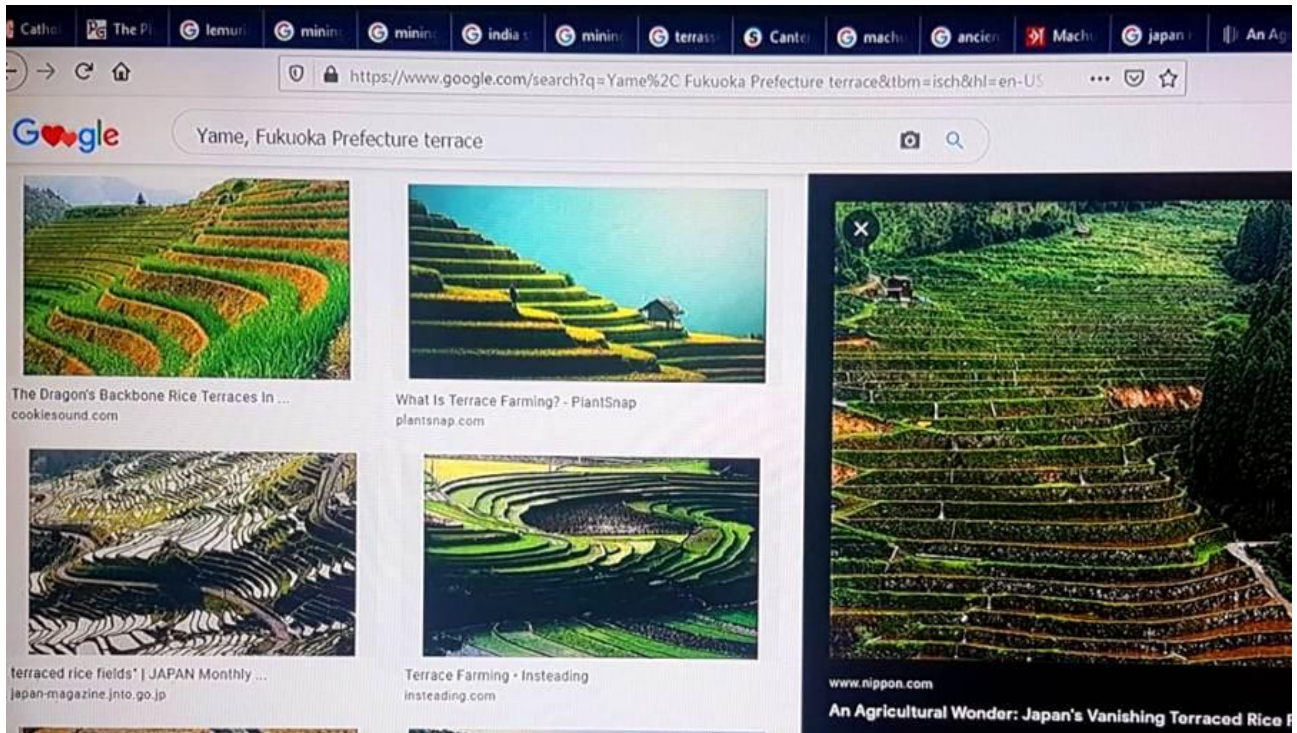

Photo above - near Fukuoka, Japan

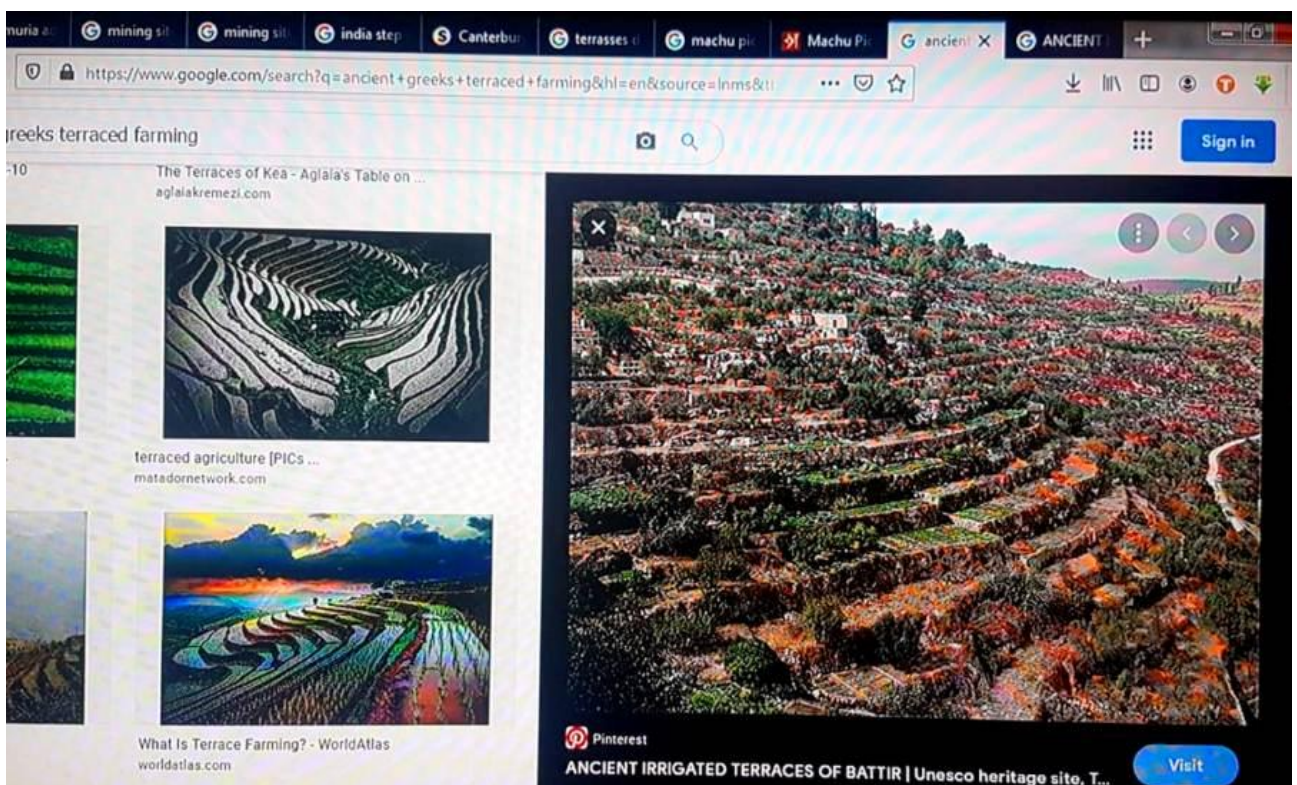

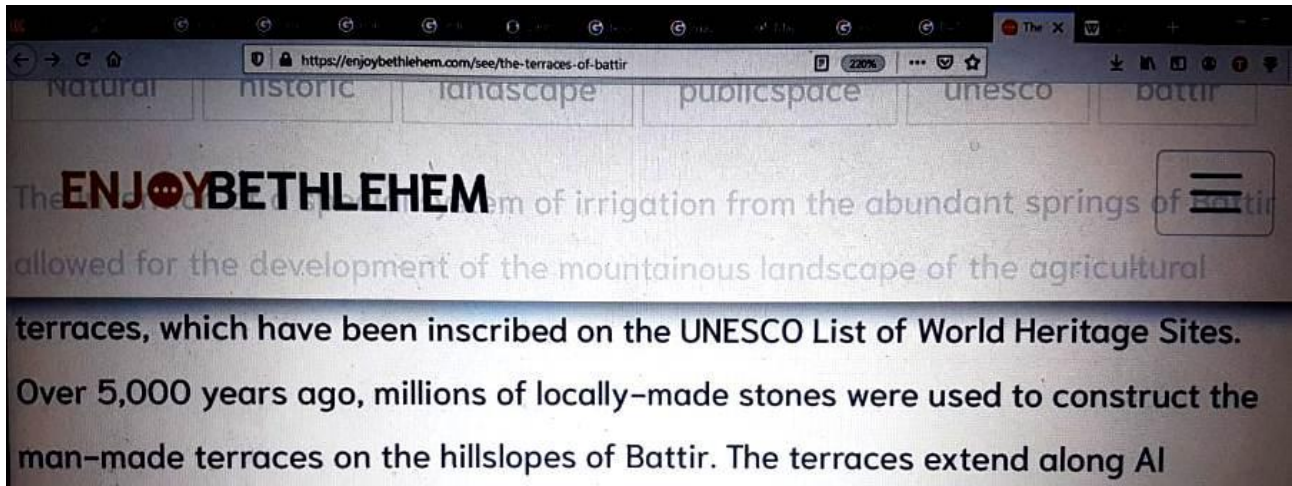

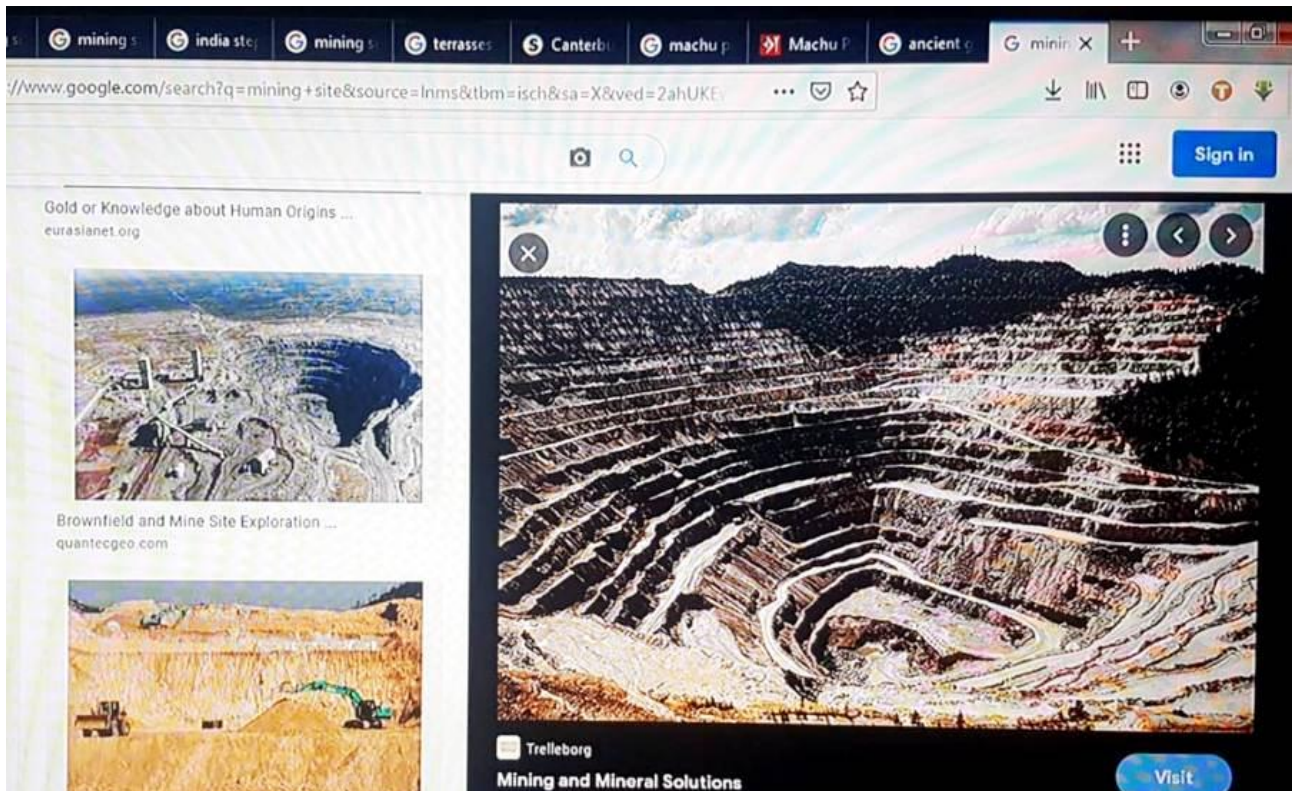

Photo above - Ancient Battir terraces in Jerusalem

Historians say that Ancient Battir was built by men without machines and they say that it is thousands of years old

Ancient Battir and other places around the world clearly looked like mining sites. Many researchers have said that historians are nothing but a group of liars that are teaching rubbish

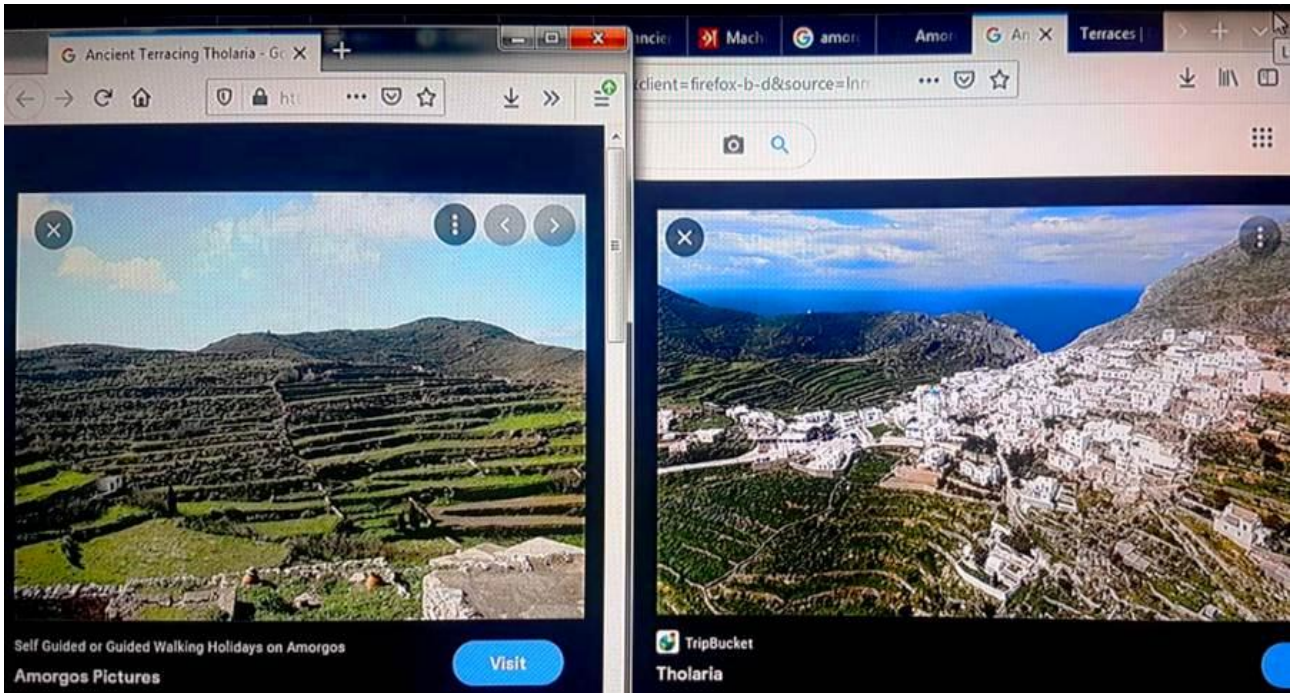

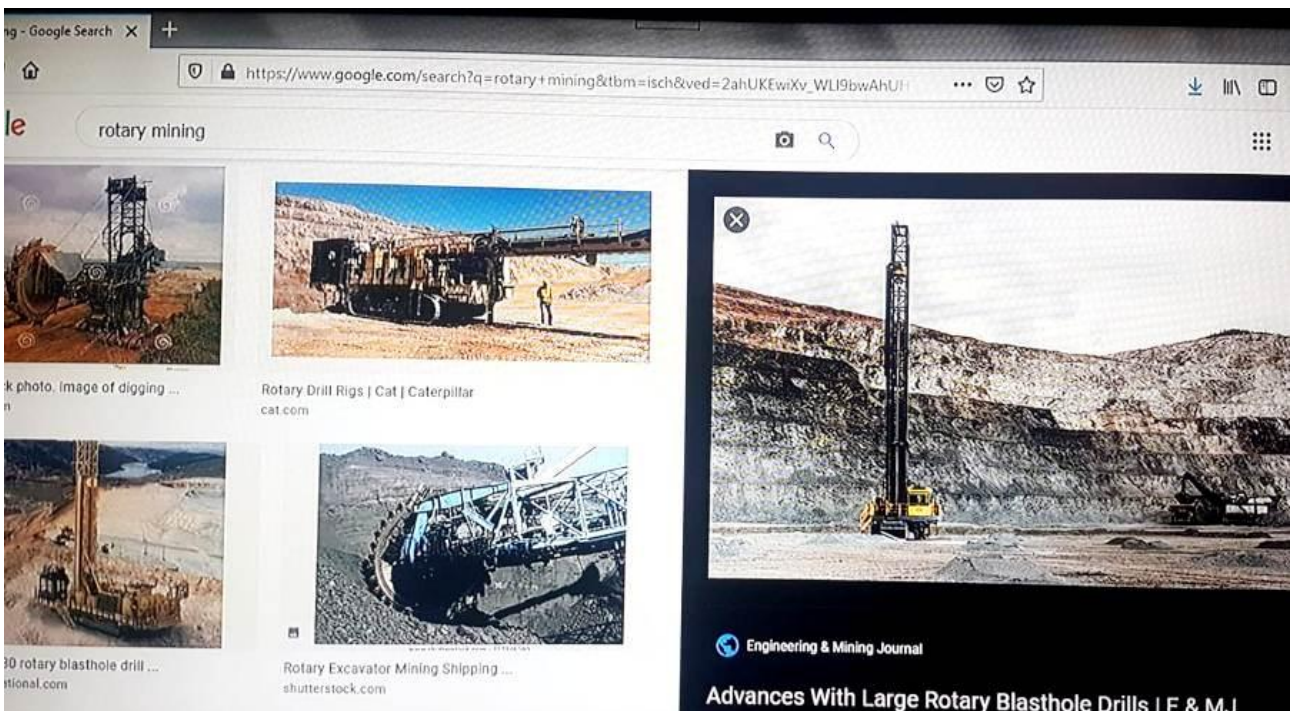

Photo above - Ancient terraces in Amorgos, Greece

There are hundreds of similar places worldwide. Historians are telling the world that the Ancient Greeks, made these places in the mountains, thousands of years ago without machinery. They did it with their own hands. They were supermen.

The population of the region was much lower at the time according to historians. This means that there was no need to cut into the hills for farming. There was no need to do so much hard work. There was much more free land available for farming in the region. The story that historians were telling did not make sense

We need machines to cut into the land today. But the Ancient Greeks and Ancient Romans and thousands of other people around the world, did this with their own hands.

We are doing this for mining, because we have a modern world. But the people long ago, did this for farming. This is what historians say. It was clear that these places looked like historical mining sites. Historians were telling lies to hide the fact that people did industrial mining long ago. If they did industrial mining, this means that they lived in a modern world.

This means that the full history of the world is a lie. It means there were no stone ages or bronze ages the way that historians say it. It means that the full history of Ancient Greece and Ancient Rome is a lie attempted to address both the historical and archaeological evidence. Basing their arguments on both revised readings of ancient texts and their fieldwork on Crete, they suggest that terracing was relatively common in the ancient world. In parts of the Near East scholars have suggested there is evidence for terraces – particularly check-dams – in prehistory (Wagstaff 1992; Kuijt et al. 2007). In Greece, terraces on the islet of Pseira off Crete have been firmly dated to the Bronze Age by their stratification below a layer containing tephra from the eruption of Thera (Betancourt and Hope Simpson 1992). Recent research around the Mediterranean has been reviewed and synthesised by Romana Harfouche (2007), who outlines a methodology for dating terraces by excavation and presents a range of case studies with particular emphasis on southern France in the late Iron Age and Roman period. In western Spain, Maria Ruiz del Árbol has excavated terraces dated by stratified ceramics to the Roman period near Salamanca (Ruiz del Árbol 2005).

Who were these people that did mining long ago? There are hundreds of these sites all over the world

Historians and archaeologists say that they have found plenty of historical items in many of these places to show that these places are ancient. They say that these places are mentioned in ancient writings. Historians have written many reports, almost as if they are scientific reports, but many researchers say that these reports are nothing but rubbish.

These reports had arguments and suggestions and theories and not facts. Historians and their allies have many times revised and changed their own arguments and suggestions and theories, which was nothing but a joke. It only created confusion, and made sure that the people of the world will never find true world history

Many museums around the world show pottery and coins to prove that these places were built by people such as the Ancient Romans and the Ancient Greeks.

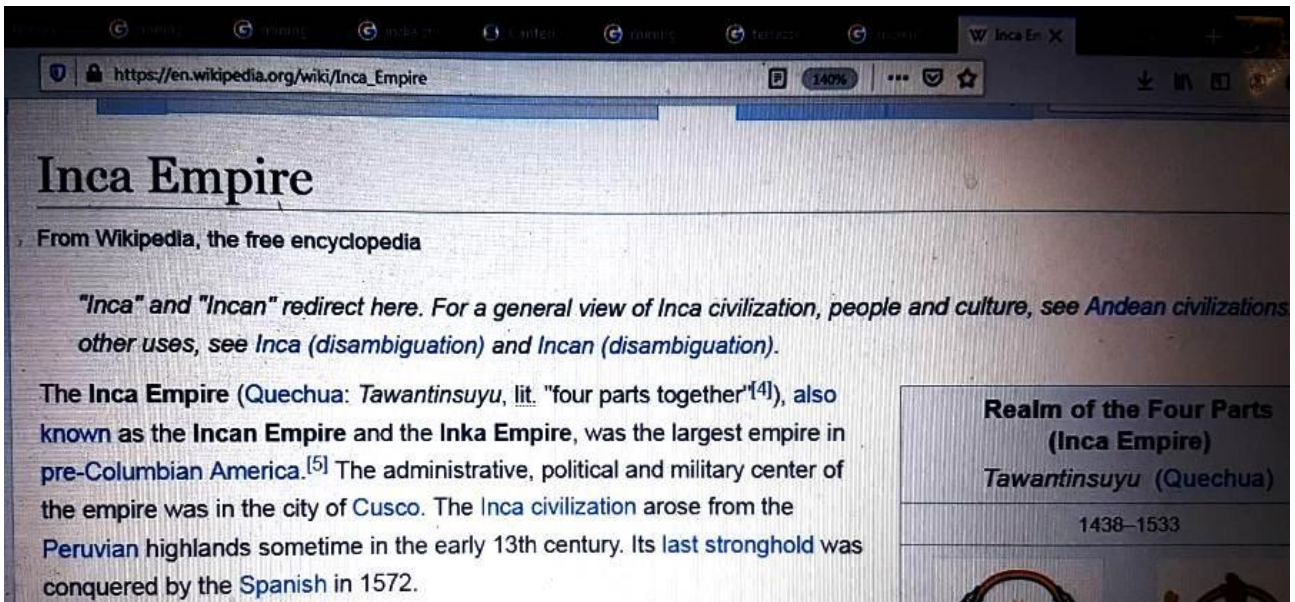

Researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko (a very famous professor at Moscow State University) and others have shown that the history of the Ancient Romans and Ancient Greeks was fraudulently created during and after the Renaissance. This fake history was being constantly updated, adding more rubbish to the lies

Researchers concluded that these places were historical mining sites and that the pottery and coins that historians are showing, have fraudulently history. Many were artificially and fraudulently created to hide the true history of advanced mining in the past. A lot of the ancient writings were nothing but forgeries. These places clearly looked similar to modern mining sites

Photo above - Machu Picchu, the historical site of the Ancient Inca

Historians say that the capital of the Inca Empire was in Cusco, Peru, South America. Historians say that the Inca people built Machu Picchu with their hands, without machinery

The photo above shows a modern mine. It looked the same like Machu Picchu. We need big machines to cut into these mountains. But the Ancient Inca people and thousands of other people around the world, - they did this with their own hands. They must be: - supermen

It was clear that the history of South America and the Inca Empire was a lie. Machu Picchu was nothing more than a mining site that has been fraudulently decorated to look like a historical site. Historians had falsified evidence and told lies about the place. It was clear that historians were telling lies about these places all over the world. Researchers concluded that historians were telling lies about the history of the entire world

Historians all over the world were telling the same story. This means that historians all over the world were working for the same masters. They all wanted to hide something. There was clearly something that they were all afraid of. What are they hiding? What are they afraid of?

There was no need to hide historical mining. Does it matter if people did mining? It does matter if the history of the world has a special meaning

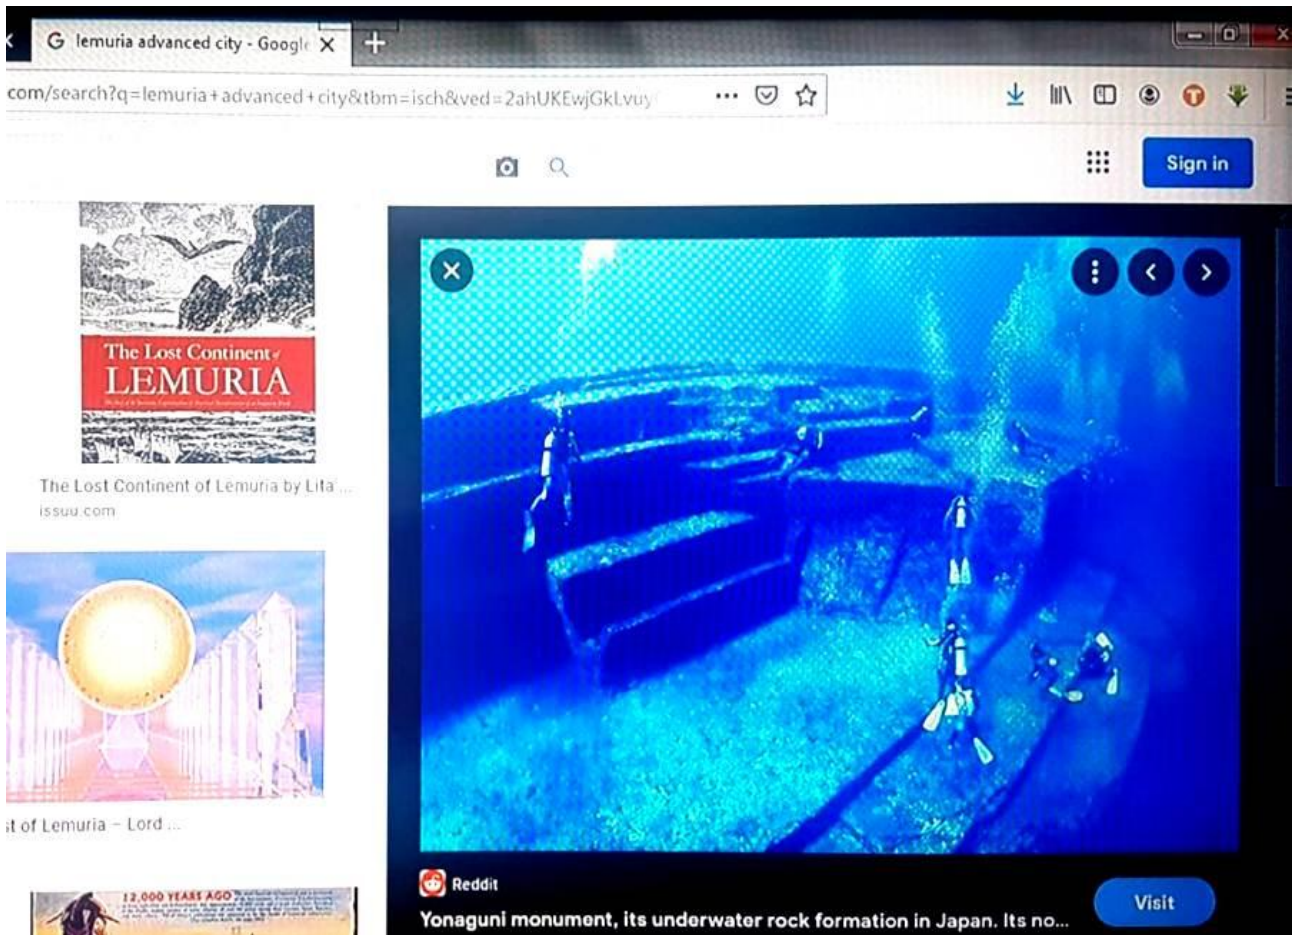

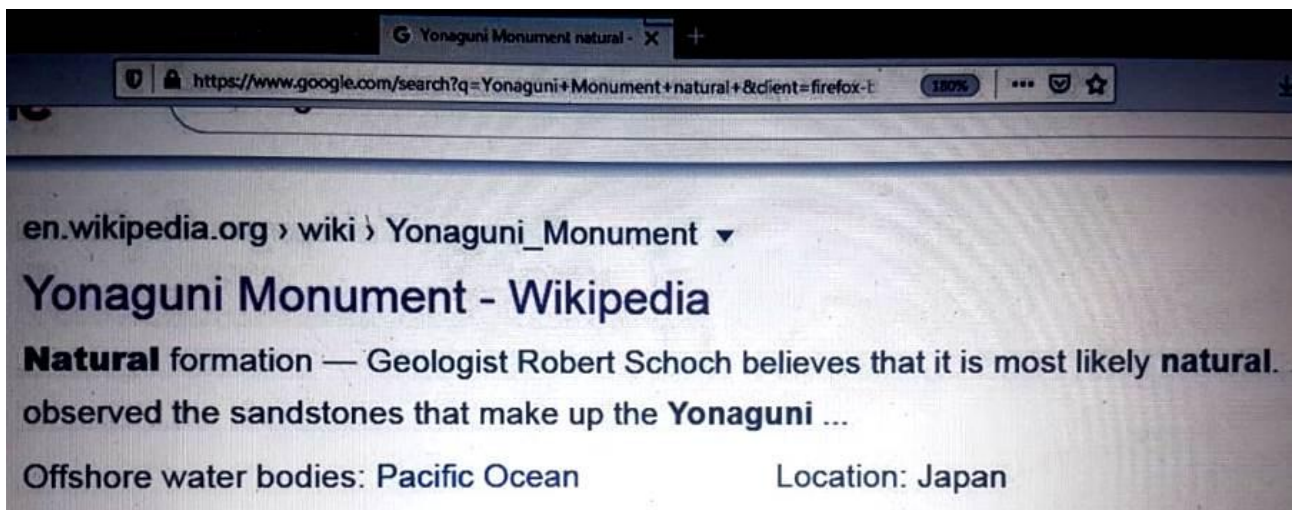

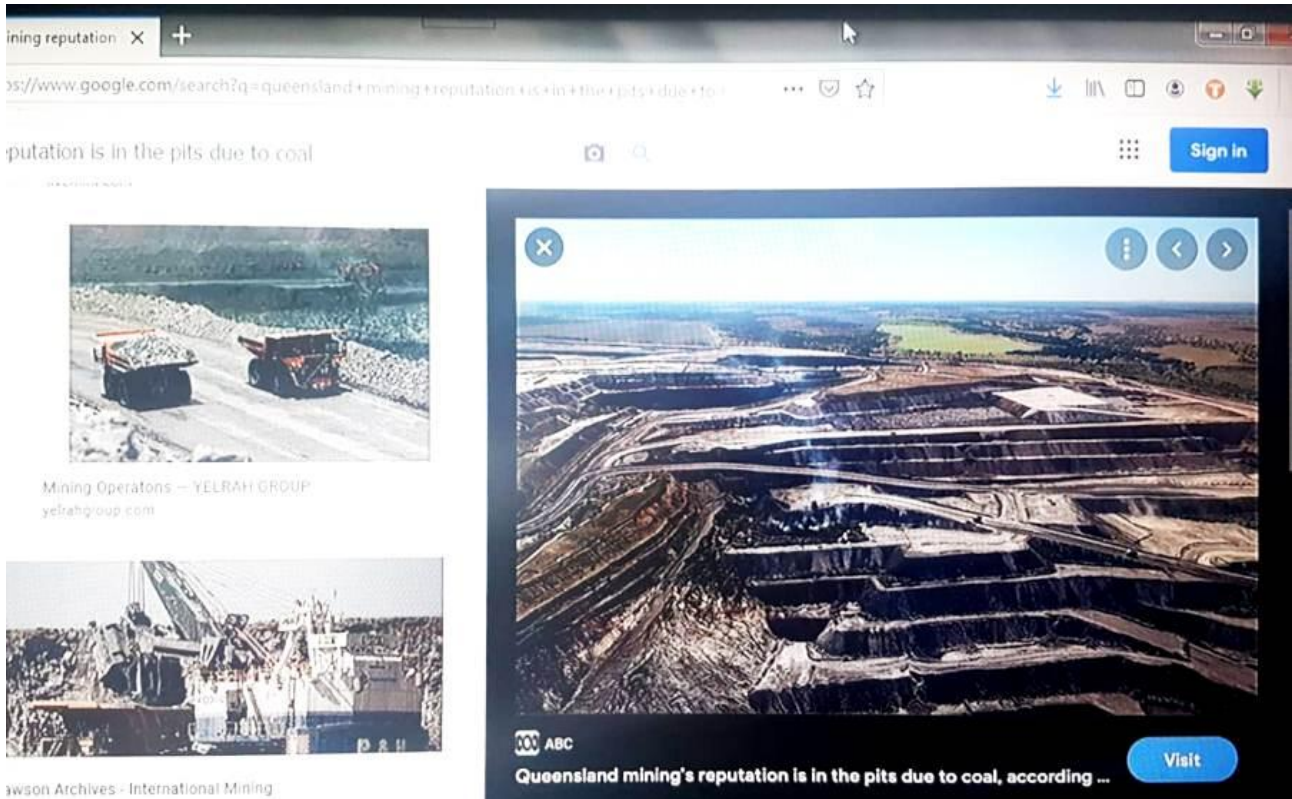

Photo above - Yonaguni Monument - in Okinawa, Japan

Many people are not sure what the Yonaguni Monument is. The Yonaguni Monument looks like blocks of big stones. Many people think that is could be part of the lost civilisation known as Lemuria or Atlantis.

Historians generally say that they are natural features, but many people do not believe this at all

Many researchers noticed that the blocks at Yonaguni looked very similar to mining landscape. The Yonaguni Monument needs more investigation. Then again, the place could be a forgery. It is too early to decide at the moment

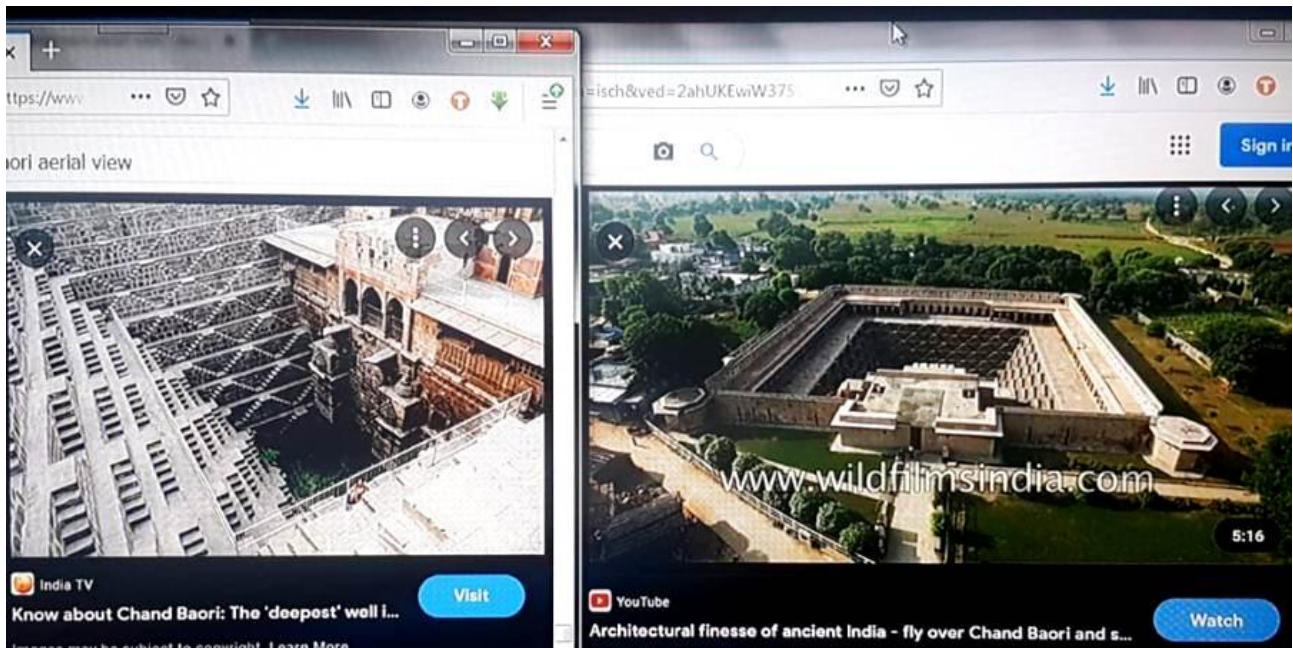

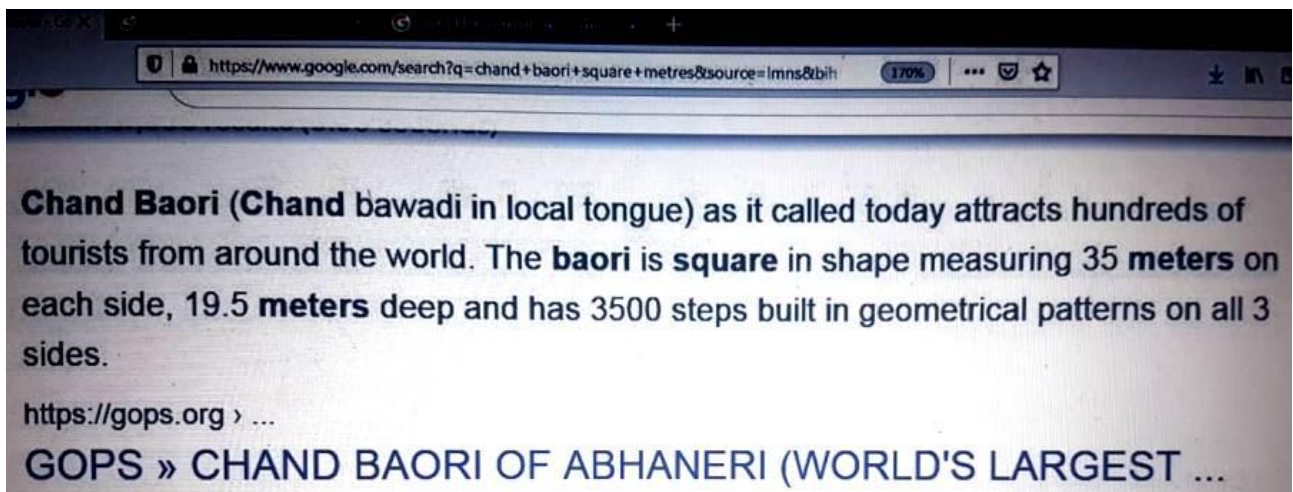

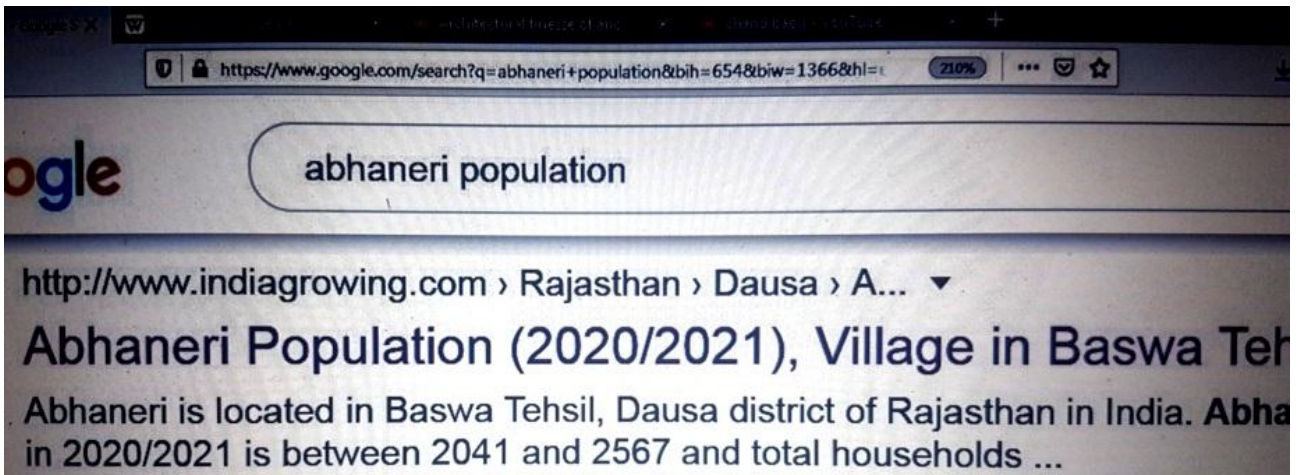

Photo above - Chand Baori, Abhaneri, Rajasthan, India

Chand Baori in India is a huge complex. It is 35 metres long and 19.5 metres deep. How did they build this place? Historians say that they built it without modern machinery. Historians say that Chand Baori is a step water well

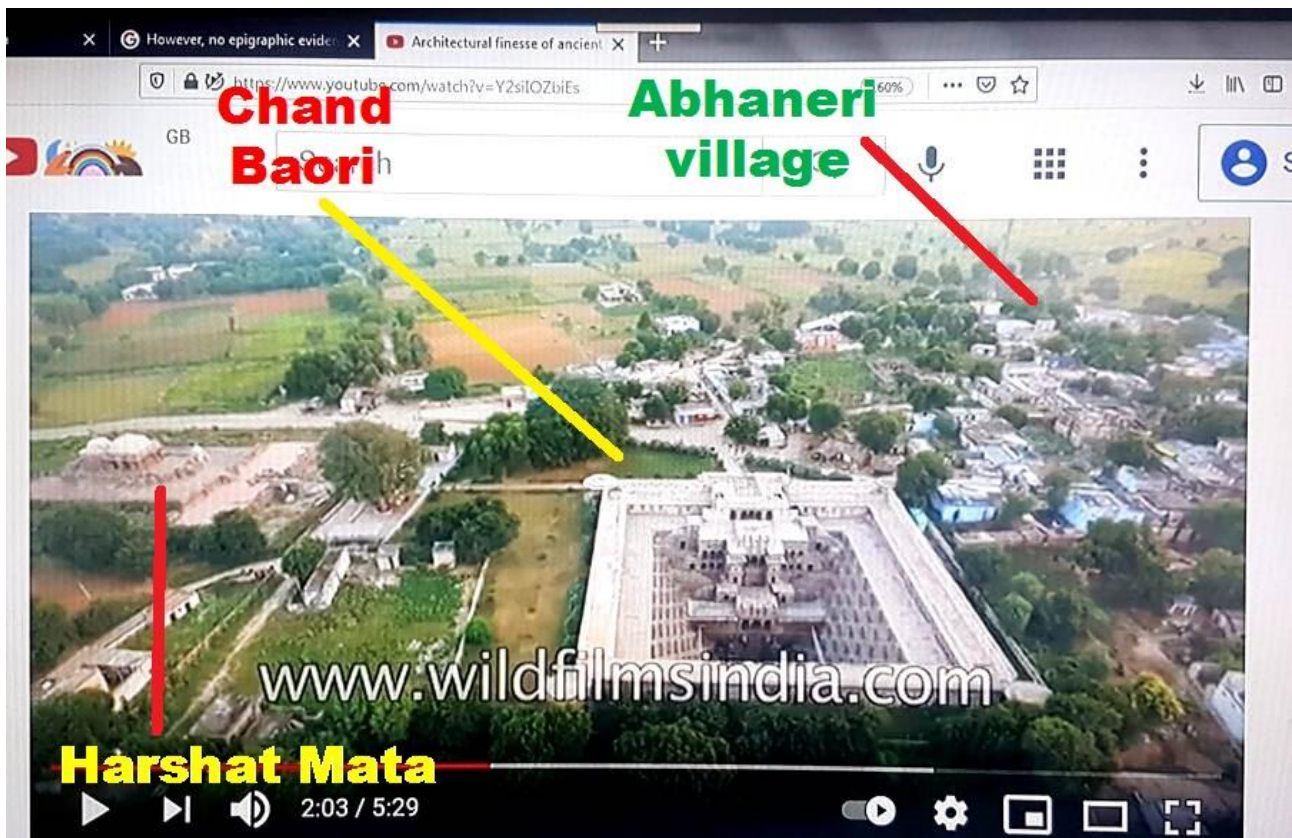

The population of Abhaneri in 2020 was around 2000 to 2500 people only. Abhaneri is very small village. India has had a high birth rate in the last 200 years. Many people are migrating to city areas from villages, and this is one reason why village populations are going down. Because India has had a high birth rate in the last 200 years, it can be possible to say that very few people, - or even no one lived in Abhaneri village 200 years ago

No evidence has been found to show how Chand Baori was built. There is a temple beside Chand Baori, which is called Harshat Mata Temple. Historians do not know when it was built and have made a guess that it was built in the Dark Ages - Middle Ages. This is history. Making guesses

People are guessing, and these people are called historians. They are guessing when it was built. They do not even know who built it. They are guessing. They are telling the world that Chand Baori is water well. They are guessing things and telling the world, that this is true world history

Modern machines and modern tools were used to build Abhaneri village. But historians say that Harshat Mata and Chand Baori were built without using modern machinery. Historians say they are speaking the truth. Everyone else is a liar or a conspiracy theorist.

Even a child can see that the history of Chand Baori did not make sense Historians say that Harshat Mata is a religious temple. Historians say that it has always been a temple built for religious purposes. Harshat Mata and Chand Baori are so big in size. There is hardly anyone living in the area today. It seems like a joke, that such a huge complex was built for religious purposes by very few people. And a serious question is: - how did they build these places?

It was clear that place had been modified many times in the past. The British and European colonialists and their allies in India modified many buildings in the 19th and 20th century for political reasons. Researchers did not believe what historians said.

Some of the historical art at the complex looked like recent creations that were placed there on purpose to create a falsified history

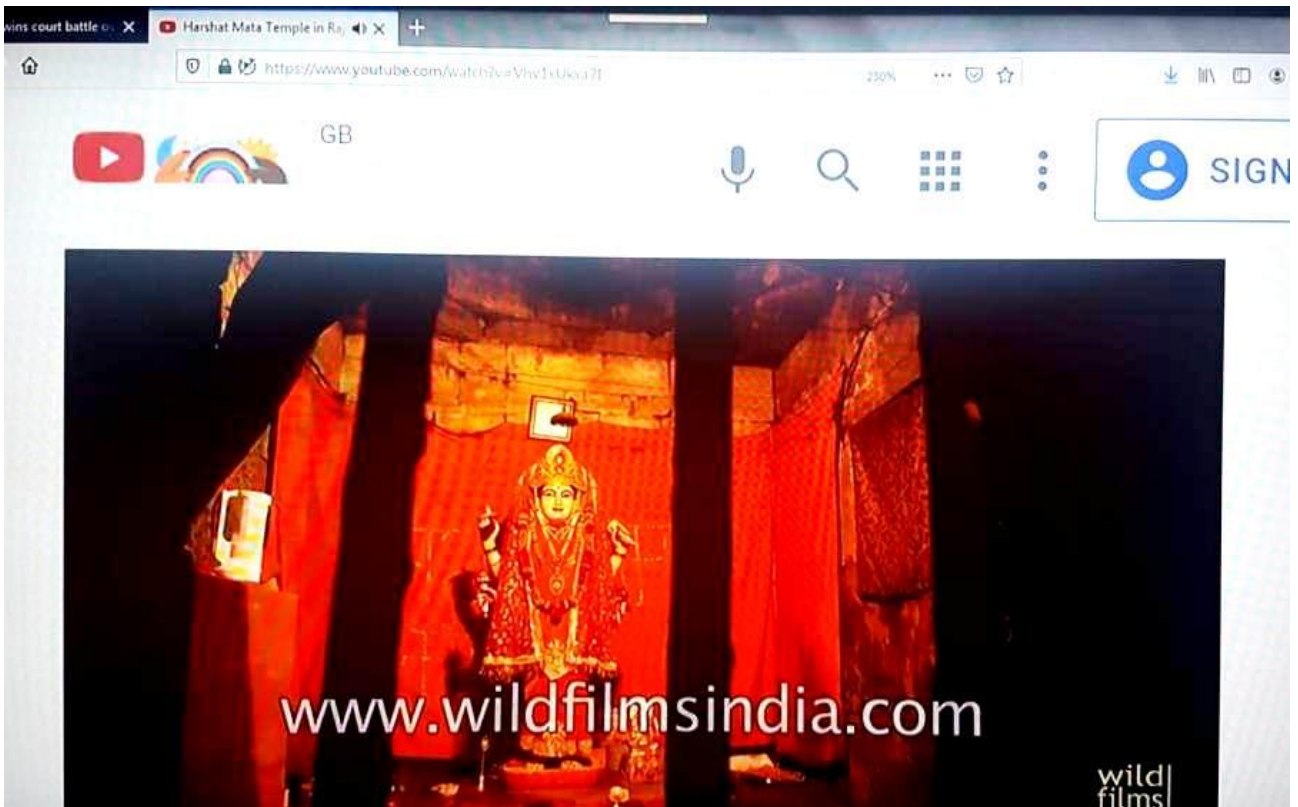

Many of the blocks seen at Harshat Mata looked like they were randomly placed there. The place clearly looked like it had been modified or tampered with

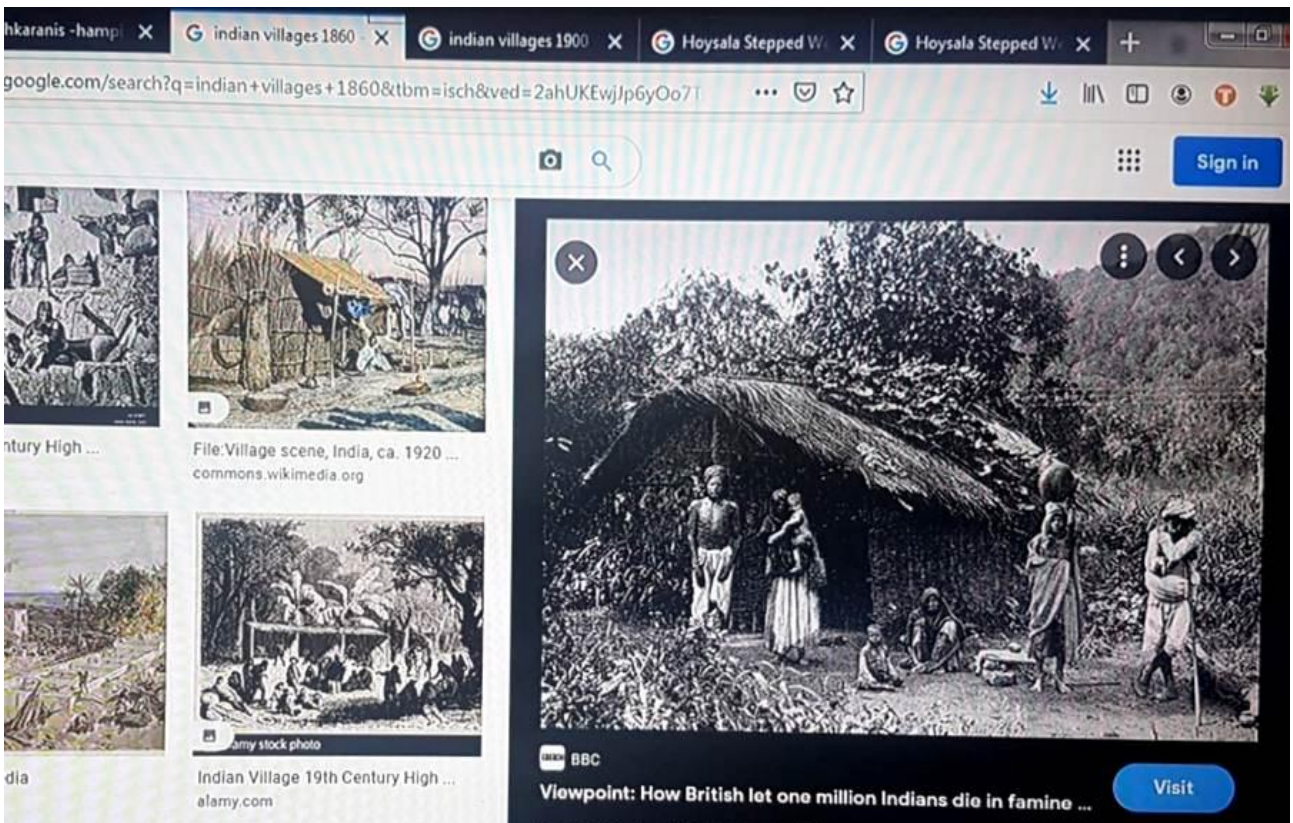

In the photo above we can see that a bell has been recently placed at the entrance of the Harshat Mata

Inside it did not look like a temple at all. The decorations on the walls and pillars were recently created

Inside the centre room are recent decorations with the statue of a goddess. It was clearly placed here recently

The photo above shows an example of how people lived in India before the 1900's. The history made no sense that a village like Abhaneri had a big temple and a big water well that was over 19 metres deep. The history of Harshat Mata and Chand Baori was clearly a lie

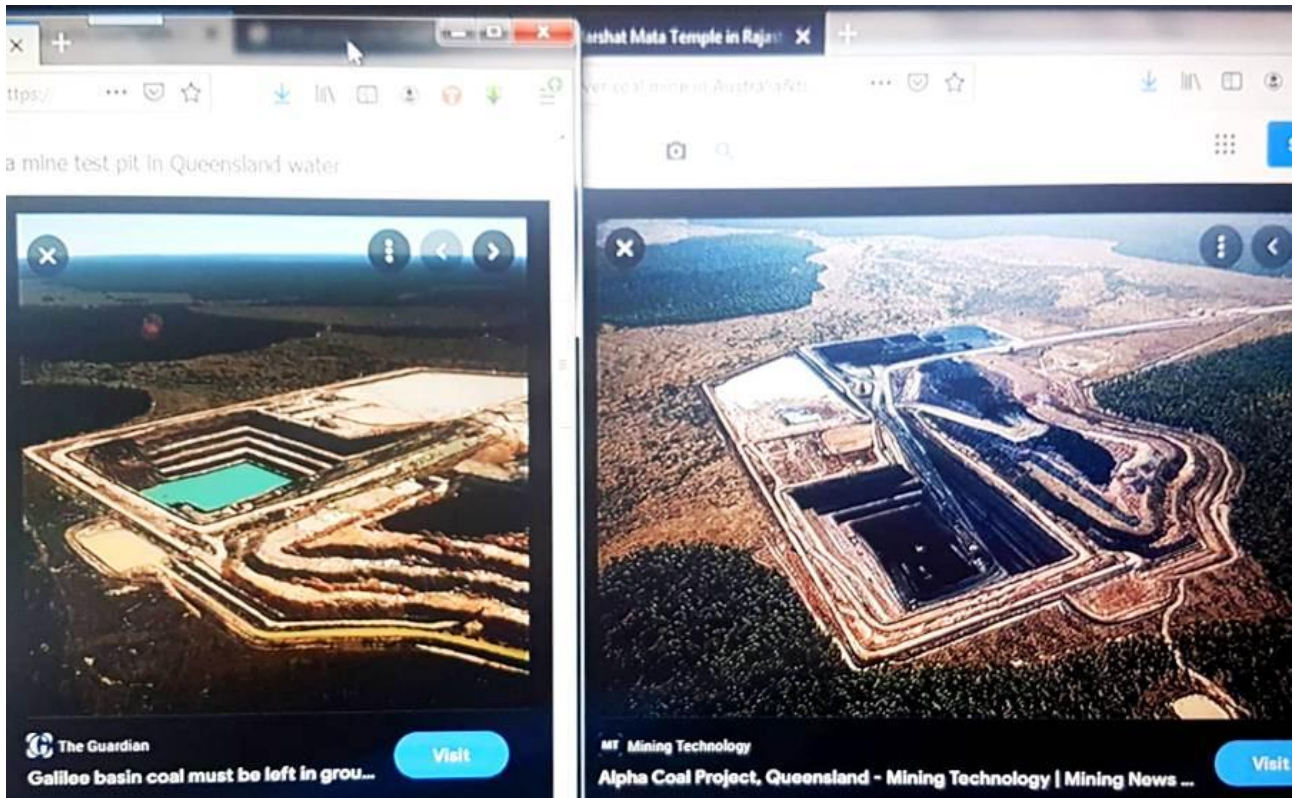

Photo above - mining project site, Galilee Basin, Queensland, Australia

Researchers noticed that the Chand Baori complex in Abhaneri village looked very similar to modern mining sites. Chand Baori complex looked like the remains of a mining site that was decorated to look like a water well, - and Harshat Mata was decorated to look like a historical temple

Stepwells in India - Go X | Stepwells after restoration - X | Restoring the glory of icons - X | Bhagmandas Bagh Bagh - G X +

https://www.google.com/search?q=how+many+step+wells+india&ei=tqbWYLDXK9 180%

Subsequently, steps were built, leading into the stepwell, to make the collection of water more comfortable and also served as a source of leisure and worship. Even today, there are around 2000 surviving stepwells in India.

https://www.holidify.com › pages › stepwells-in-india-605

15 Stepwells in India That Are Frozen in Time - Hol

There are thousands of step water wells in India and in other countries. There are many different types of wells and therefore, each one needs to be assessed separately and independently

Pushkaranis - hampi X | Hoysala Stepped W X | Hoysala Stepped W X | Hoysala Stepped W X | Gujarat water well - X +

www.google.com/search?q=Gujarat water well&tbm=isch&tbs=rimg:Ca0SLN0rBhtmYXii ... ☆

Sign in

File:Stepped tank hampi.jpg - Wikimedia ... commons.wikimedia.org

Stepped Tank - Hampi

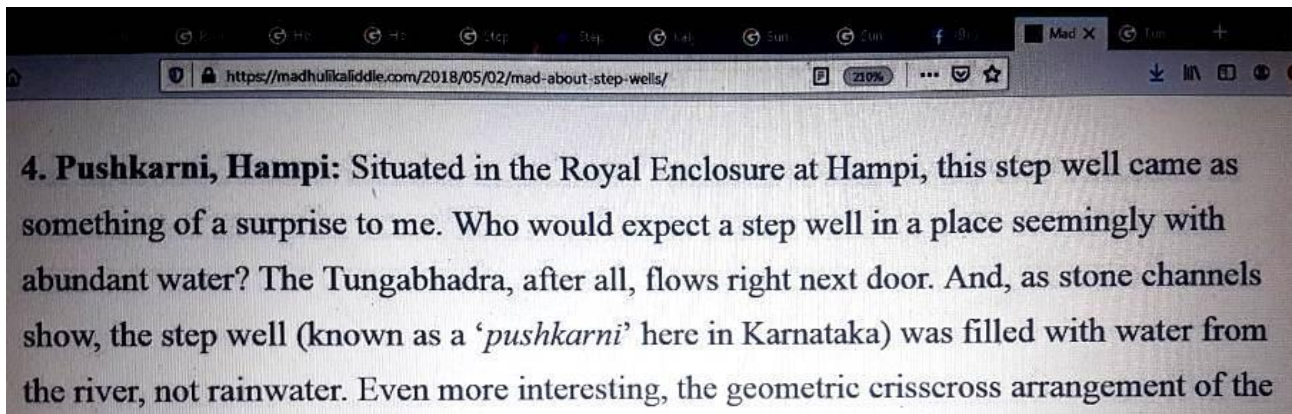

TrekEarth
The Stepped Tank, a photo from Karnataka, South | TrekEarth

Visit

Photo above - step water well - Hampi, Karnataka, India

The step water well in Hampi looked similar to Chand Baori. It is historians that are telling the people of the world that these places are water wells. Some of them may have been water wells, but others look nothing like water wells. Many places clearly had been modified into water wells to create a fraudulent history for India and the region

Many people, who went to Hampi in Karnataka, noticed that there was no need for the big water well. Why? - Because the Tungabhadra River was only 150 metres away. It was clear that historians were telling lies about these places. The true history of these places had been hidden

If there is a big river 150 metres away, then why build a big water well here? It made no sense. Was it really originally a water well? Or - were historians telling lies?

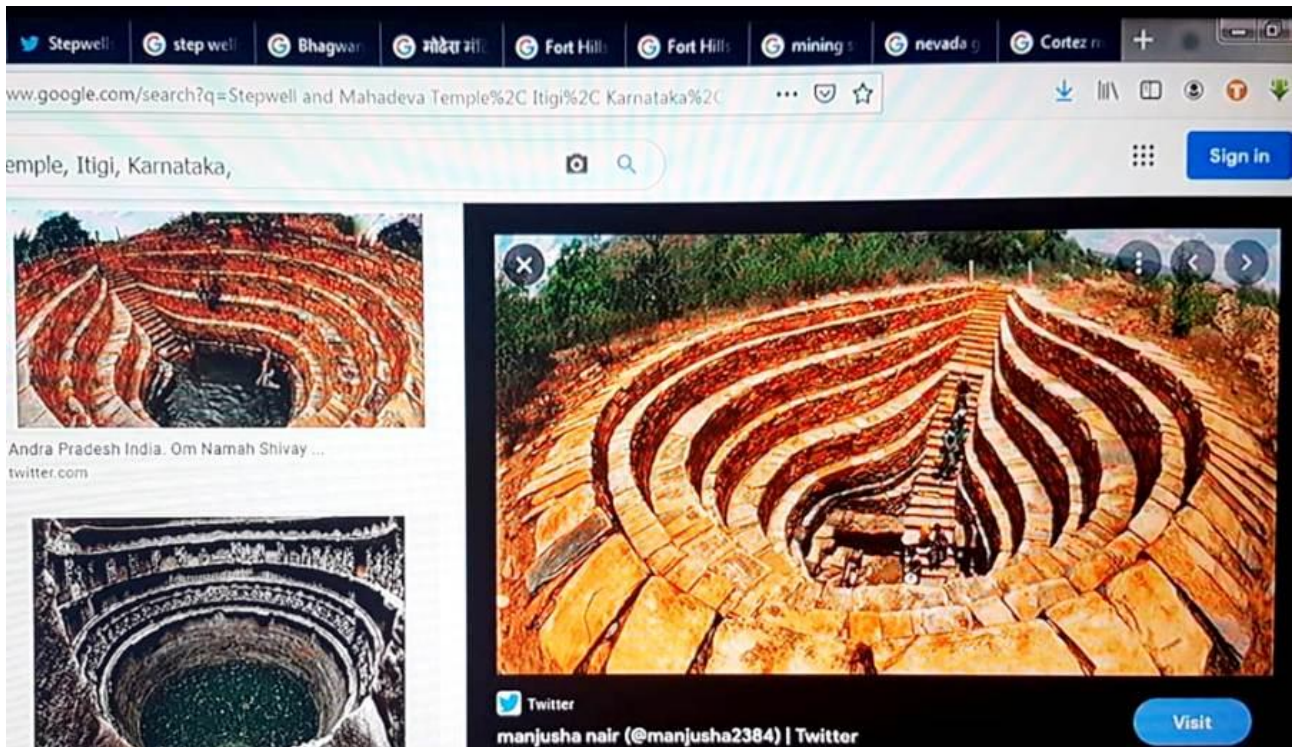

Photo above - Mylacherla step water well, Prakasam, Andhra Pradesh, India

Many historians say that the Mylacherla step water well is over 300 years old

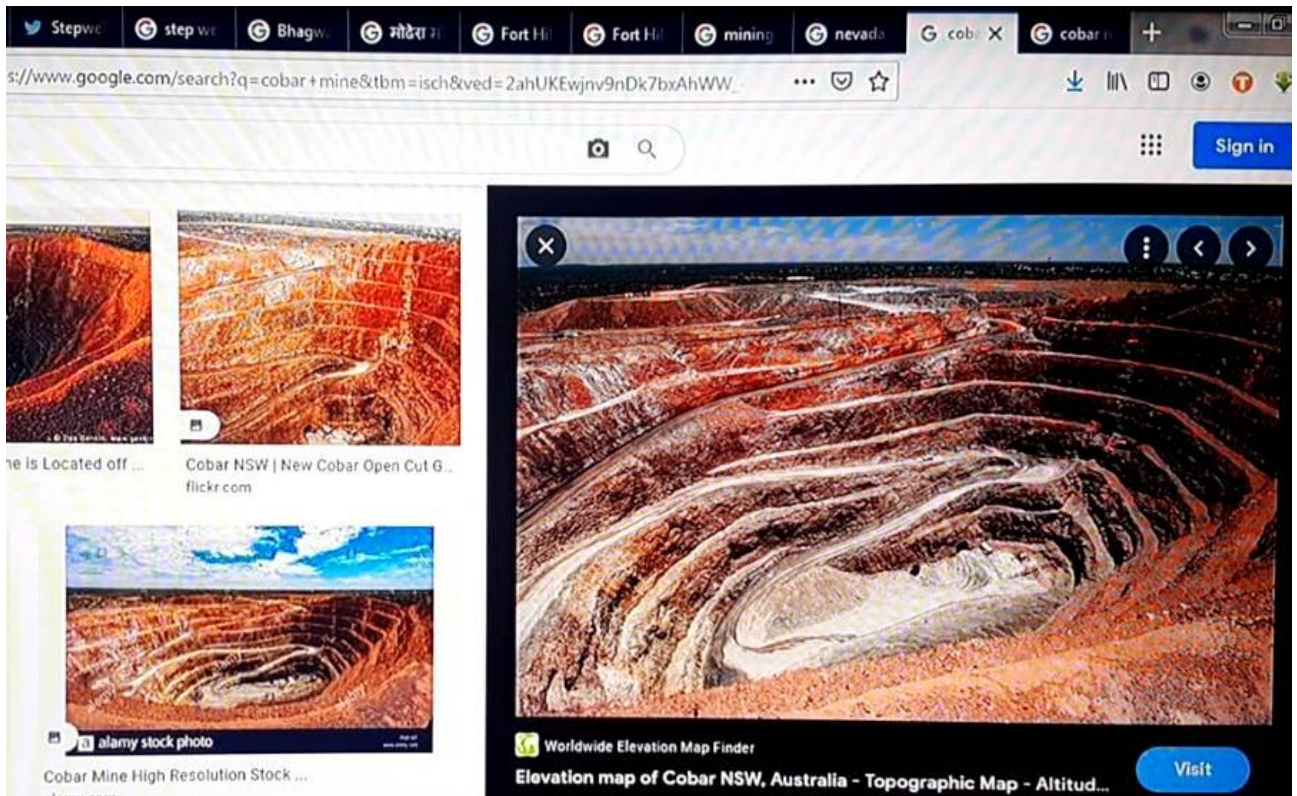

Photo above - Cobar mining site, New South Wales, Australia

Researchers found that Mylacherla step water well looked very similar to mining sites seen around the world. Researchers concluded that the history of Mylacherla water well was a fraud

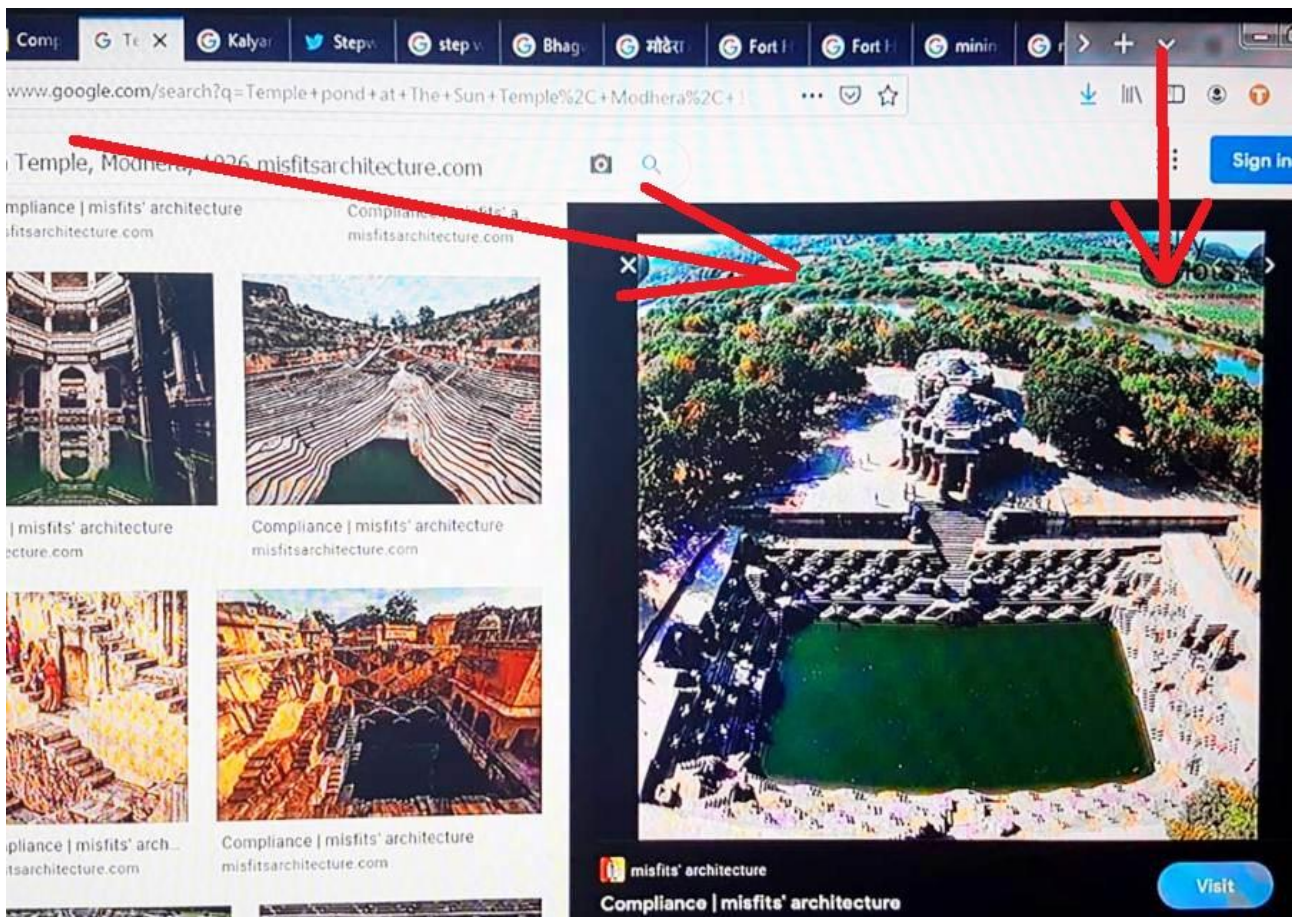

Photo above - Modhera Sun Temple, Gujerat, India

Historians say that the Modhera Sun Temple is a religious building that was built between the 11th and 13th centuries. The Modhera Sun Temple is beside the River Pushpawati. Historians say that there is a: - step water well at the Modhera Sun Temple.

Photo above - buildings at the Modhera Sun Temple

Modhera Sun Temple has many carvings. Sculptures are basically seen in every pillar of the temple

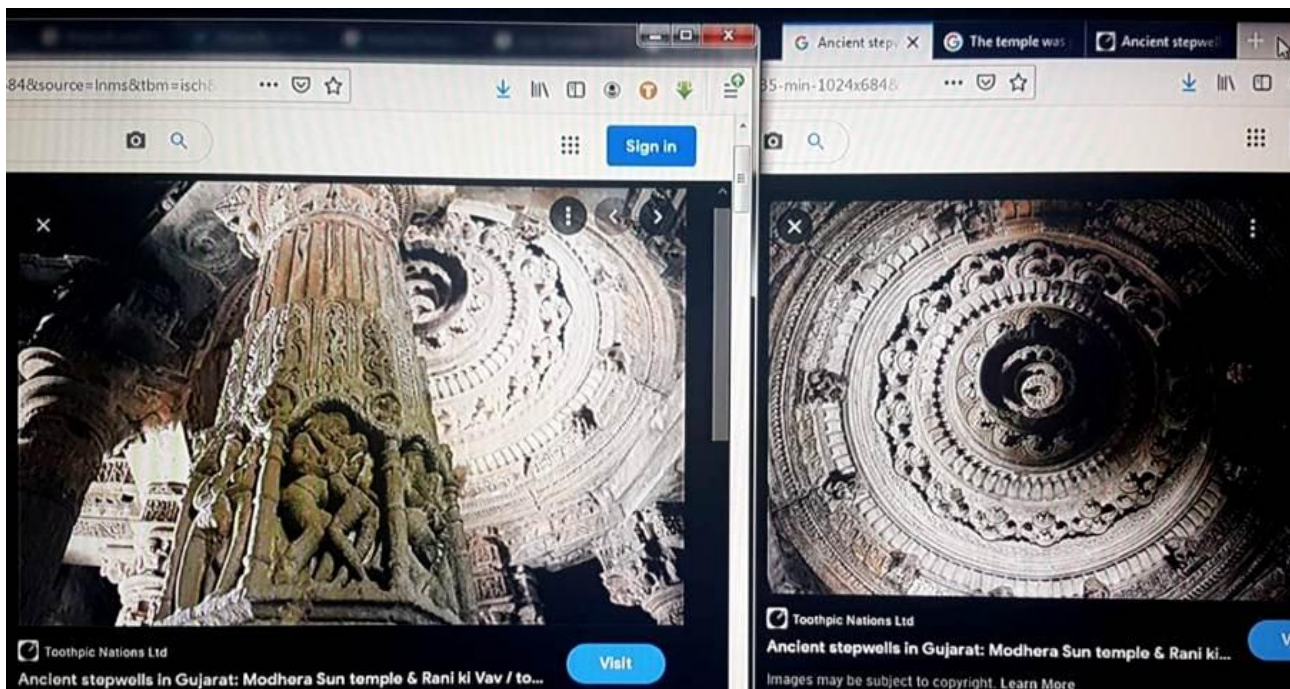

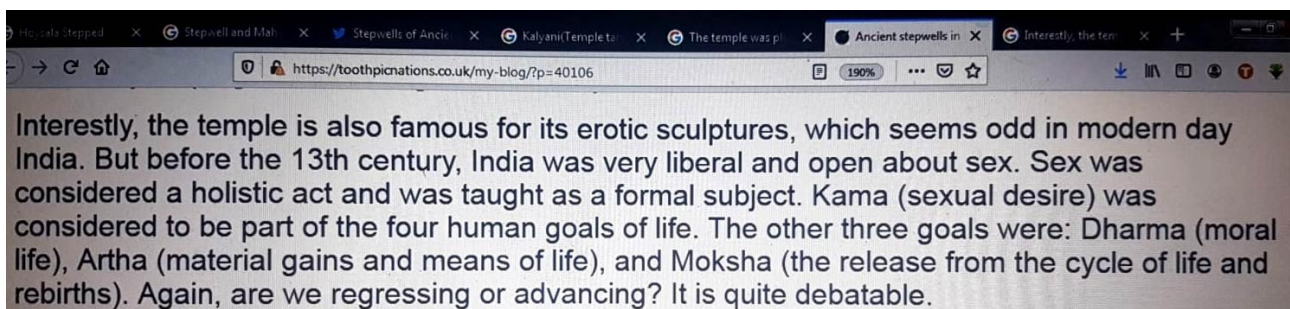

Photo above: - the interior of Modhera Sun Temple. The place looked amazing and looked historical and ancient to many people

The temple is famous for having erotic sculptures. According to historians: - India was very liberal and open about sex before the 13th century and sex was considered an act of holiness and was taught as an official subject

Is this history actually true? Was the building at Modhera really a religious temple in the past with erotic sculptures?

Historians say that the original temple was looted and destroyed and the current temple is a restoration. It was restored according to the wishes of historians and their masters. There is no evidence that the original building was a temple at all, - except for revelations by historians, who worked according to their masters.

This also means that evidence in the temple which shows that: - India was very liberal and open about sex before the 13th century and sex was considered an act of holiness and was taught as an official subject - was a fraud and this evidence was created recently, to create fake history

The photo above shows one of the buildings at the Modhera Sun Temple around 1900. Researchers noticed that the building did not look old at all and looked like it was built or reconstructed at that time

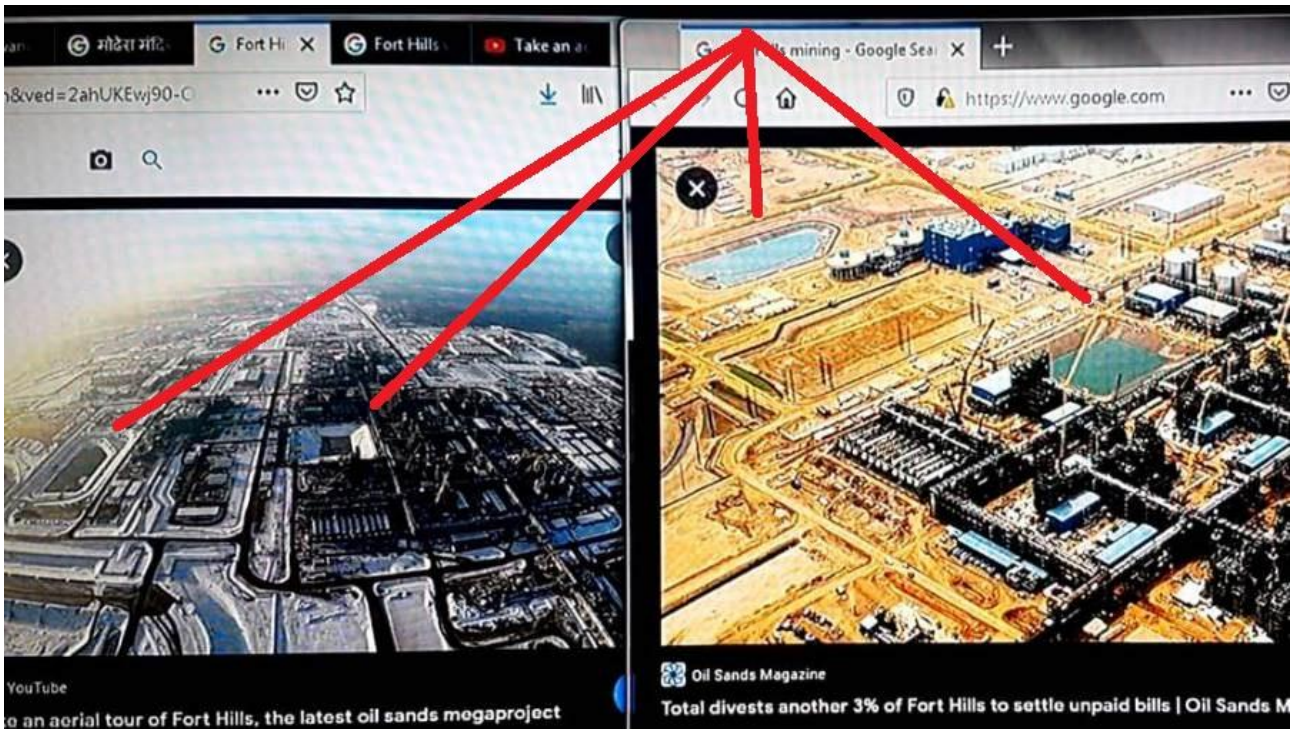

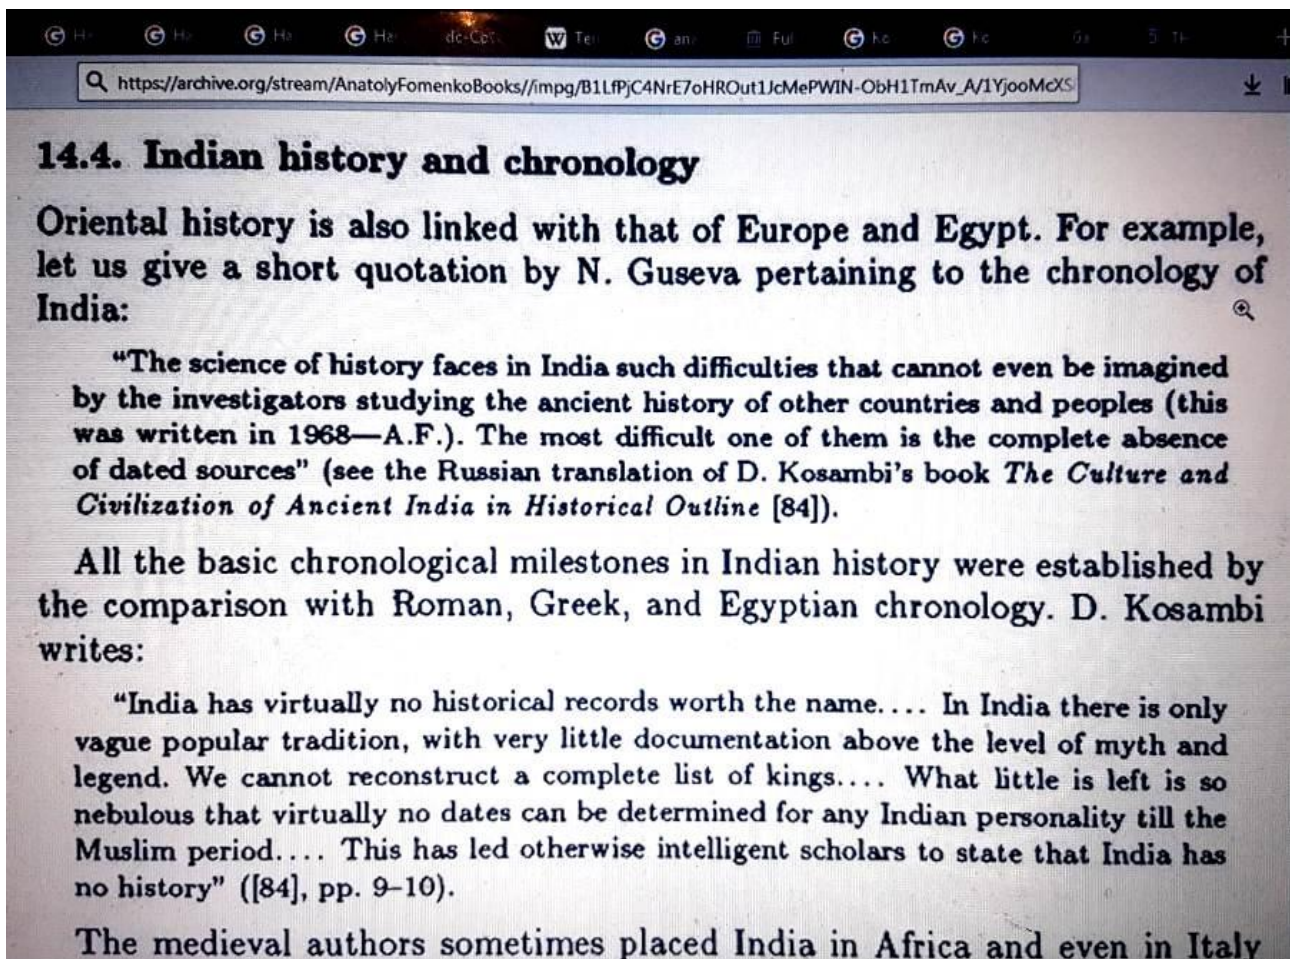

Photo above - Fort Hills mining project in Canada

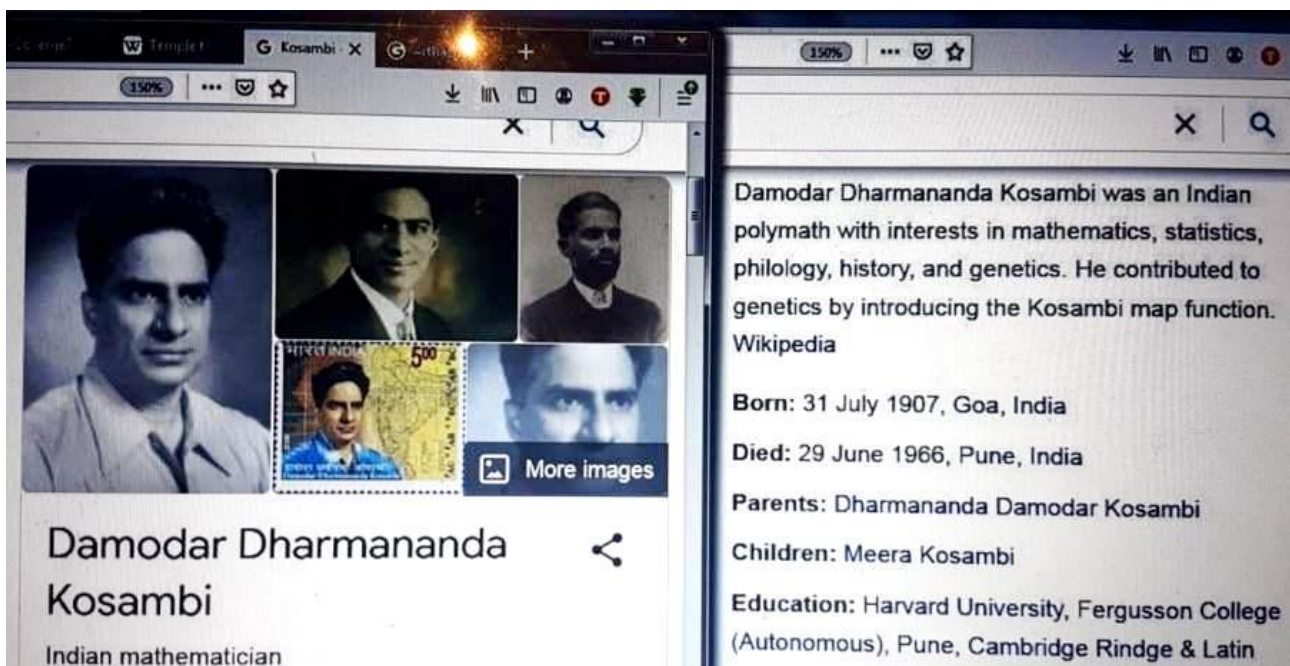

Many mining and industrial sites store their own water, even if they are beside a river. The step water well at the Modhera Sun Temple did not make sense because there was large river next door. Why build such a big water well, when there is a big river next door? Researchers concluded that the history of Modhera was nothing but a fraud

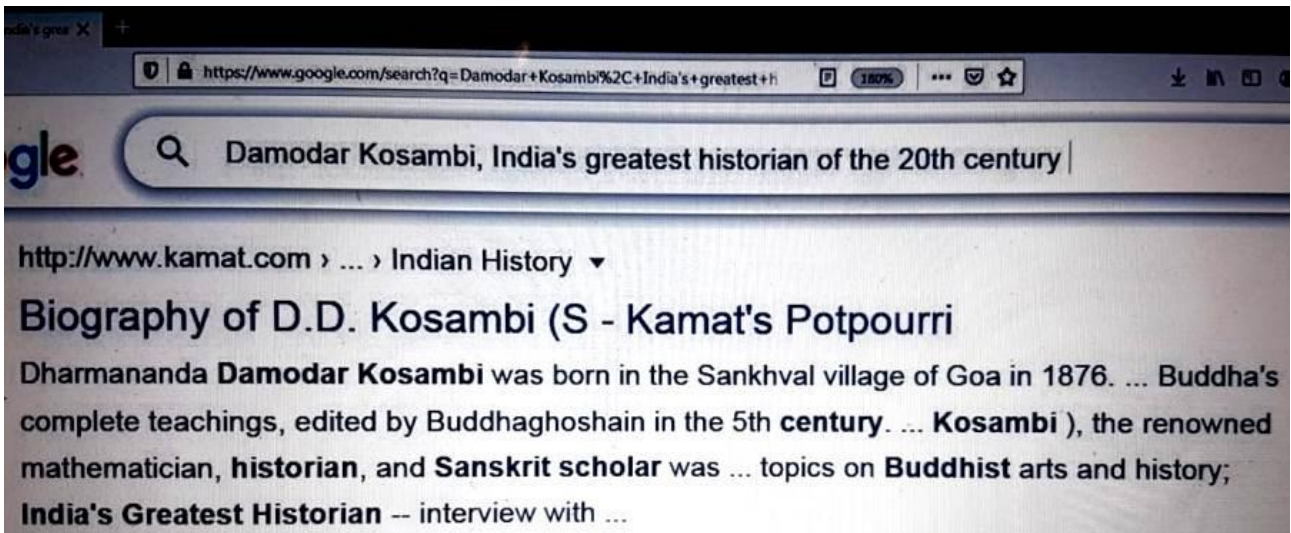

Professor Anatoly Fomenko did an investigation into the history of India. He pointed out that the history of India has a complete absence of dated sources. A similar thing was pointed out by Damodar Kosambi, an Indian historian. Evidence shows that the history of India was written in the 19th and 20th century, in way so that it matches the history of: - the Ancient Romans, the Ancient Greeks, and the Ancient Egyptians

What is even worse is that some medieval and renaissance European writers, who worked for the Church, placed India in Africa or Italy. So the history that they wrote is a nothing but a joke. The people who wrote in Europe during the Renaissance did not seem to know where India was, or they falsified information on purpose. This shows that the people who wrote such history in Europe, were nothing but liars

Damodar Kosambi was a famous Indian mathematician and historian and Sanskrit scholar

Damodar Kosambi is known as India's greatest historian of the 20th century. He pointed out that: -

India has virtually no historical records worth the name. In India there is only vague popular tradition, with very little documentation above the level of myth and legend. We cannot reconstruct a complete list of kings. What little is left is so nebulous that virtually no dates can be determined for any Indian personality until the Muslim period. This has led otherwise intelligent scholars to state that: -

INDIA HAS NO HISTORY

Written memorials of the Indus culture defy decipherment to this day. Not a single finding can be associated with an actual person or historical episode. We don't even know the language that was spoken by the inhabitants of the Indus valley

We are told further on that many vital issues concerning the "ancient" history of India, that are based on manuscripts found as late as the 20th century. It turns out, for instance, that the main source of knowledge in what concerns the governmental system of India and the policy of the state in the epoch of Maghadhi's ascension is the Arthashastra - the book that was only found in 1905, after many a century of utter oblivion.

It turns out that this book is basically an Indian version of the famous mediaeval work of Machiavelli. However, in this case the "ancient Indian Arthashastra" couldn't have been written before the Renaissance. This could have happened in the 17th - 18th century, or even the 19th century.

Researchers noted that Damodar Kosambi discovered that no history in India could be verified until the Muslim period. What did Islam have to do with India?

The image shows a screenshot of a web browser displaying the Wikipedia page for Arthashastra. The URL in the address bar is <https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Arthashastra>. The page content includes the following text:

authors over centuries.^[10] Composed, expanded and redacted between the 2nd century BCE and 3rd century CE,^[11] the Arthashastra was influential until the 12th century, when it disappeared. It was rediscovered in 1905 by R. Shamasastri, who published it in 1909.^[12] The first English translation was published in 1915.^[13]

The title Arthashastra is often translated to "the science of wealth" (अर्थ),^{[14][15]} but the book has a broader scope.^[16] It includes books on the nature of government, law, civil and criminal court systems, ethics, economics, markets and

On the right side of the screenshot, there is a book cover for "Part of a series on Hindu scriptures and". The cover features a large red Om symbol and the text "Shruti · Smriti". Below the Om symbol, there are two orange buttons labeled "Vedas" and "Upanishads".

Historians say that the Arthashastra is an ancient Indian Sanskrit document that was lost for centuries. The Arthashastra was mysteriously rediscovered in 1905 by a man named R. Shamasastri, while India was under the colonial administration of the British

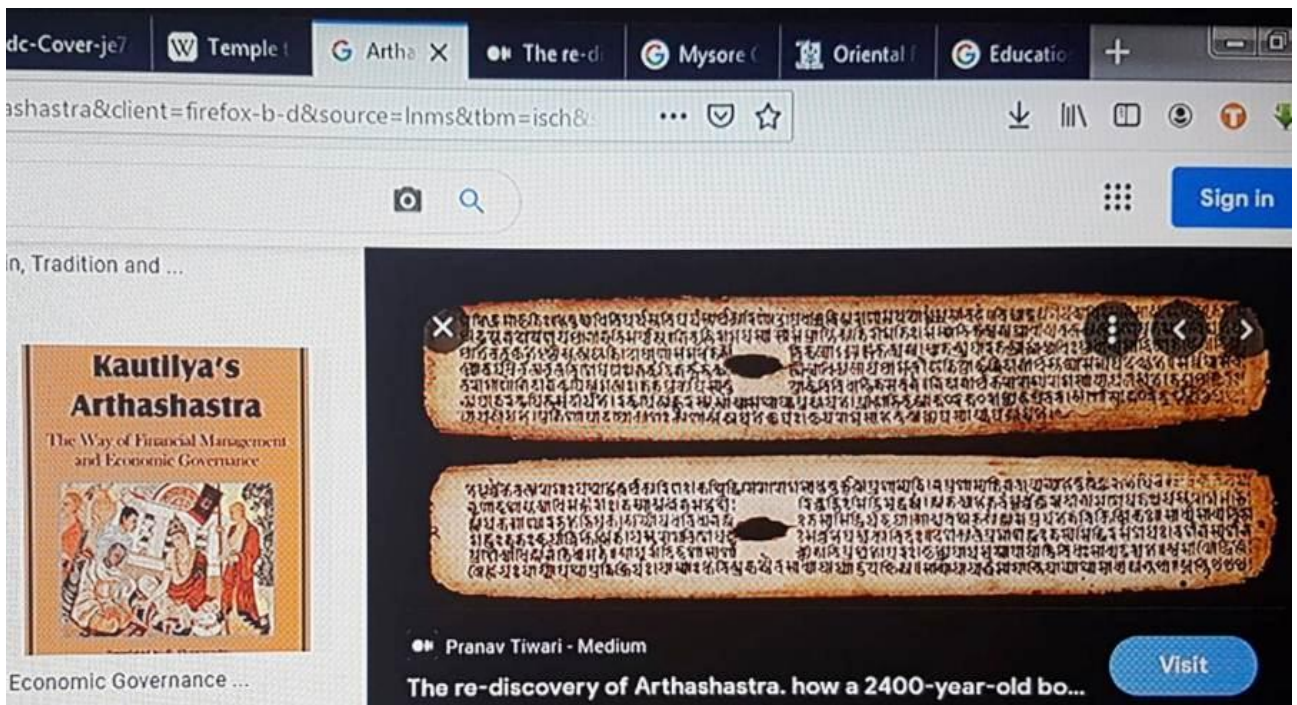

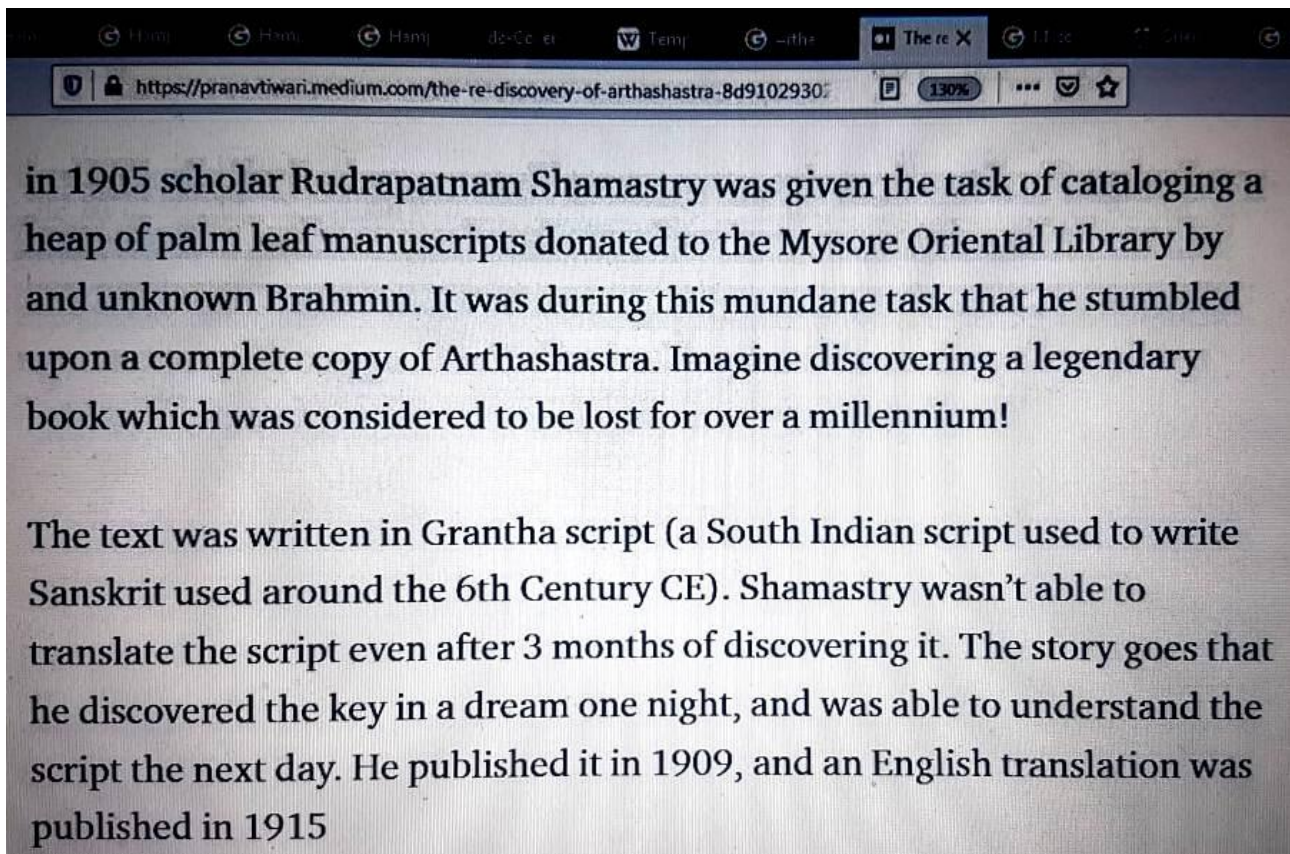

Photo above - Arthashastra on palm leaves

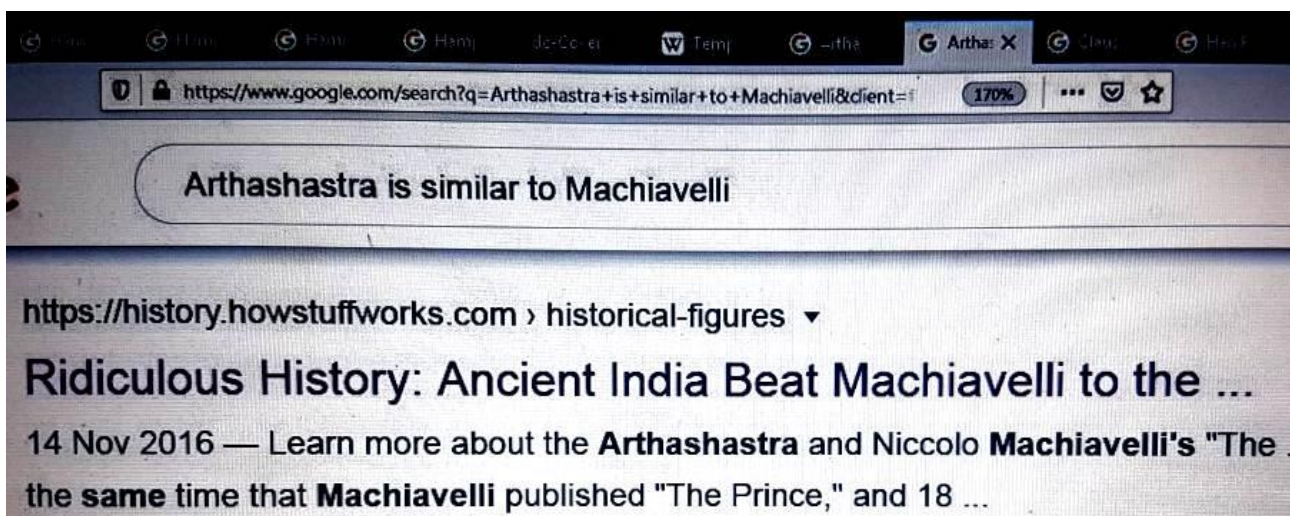

Researchers found that a pathetic story was told regarding the Arthashastra. Historians say that the Arthashastra was lost for around 1000 years. Then suddenly and mysteriously, an unknown man walks into the Mysore Oriental Library in India and gives it to the museum. No one knows who he was or where he came from or where he found the Arthashastra.

R. Shamasastri then finds mysteriously finds this Arthashastra and was able to translate it, because he found the translation key in a dream. What an amazing story. This is called - history

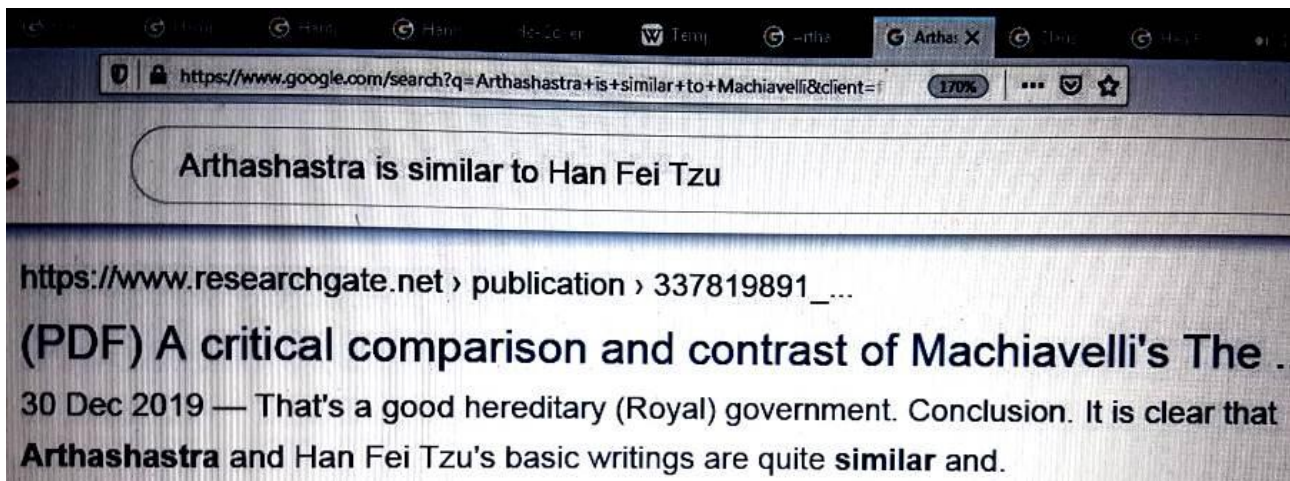

Many researchers called it: - rubbish

The museum was of course controlled and managed by the British colonial authorities and their allies, who were working according to the agenda created by the colonialists. That story is too long to mention here.

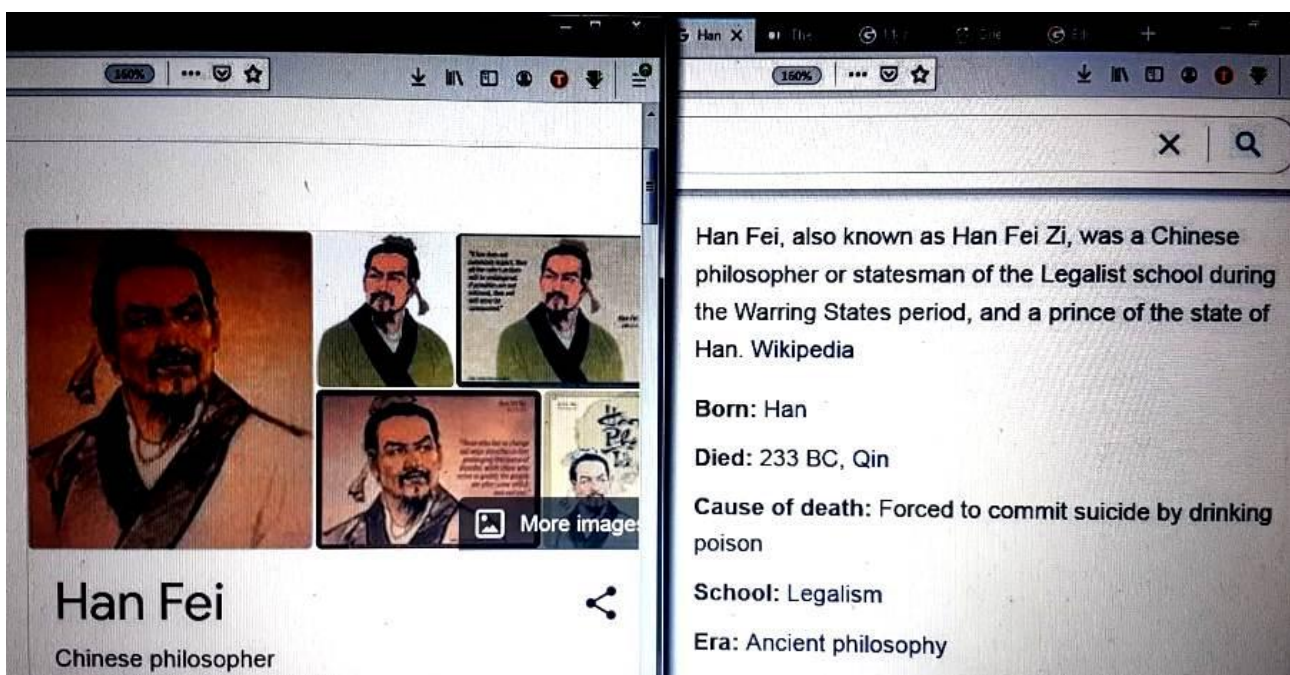

Researchers concluded that British and their allies in India created the Arthashastra for political reasons

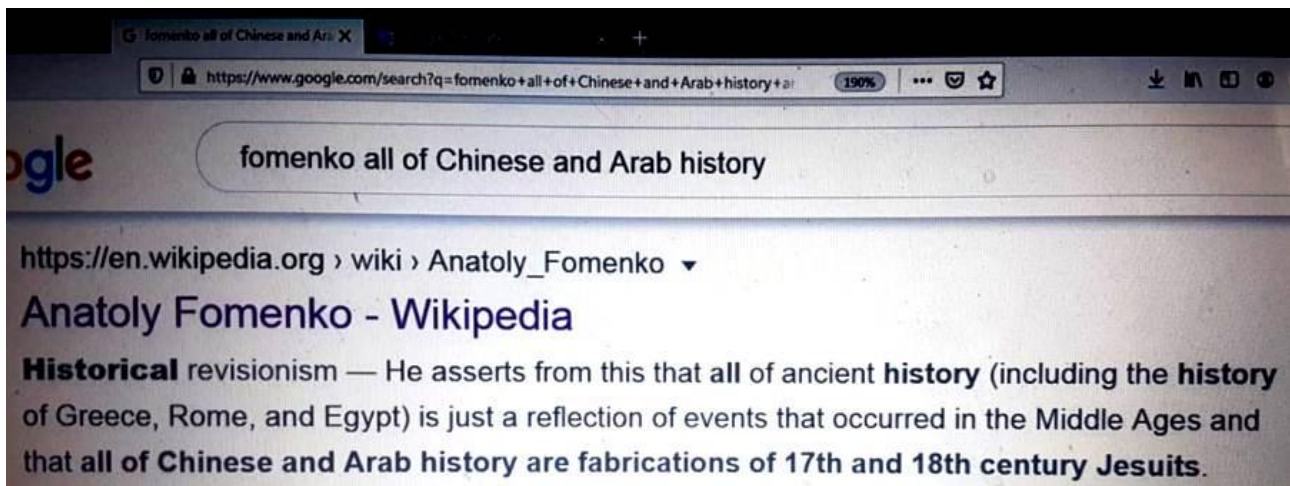

Damodar Kosambi pointed out that the Arthashastra was basically a copy of the work known as “The Prince” by the mediaeval European writer Machiavelli. Many researchers have noticed this and concluded that the Arthashastra was not old, - and that it was a forgery, - that was fraudulently created by historians and their allies

It is also known that the Arthashastra was very similar to the work of the Chinese philosopher Han Fei Zi or Han Fei Tzu

Historians say that the Chinese philosopher Han Fei lived in Ancient China in the 3rd century B.C. Historians say that he is one of the greatest philosophers of Ancient China. His original works do not exist. His existence could not be confirmed by researchers.

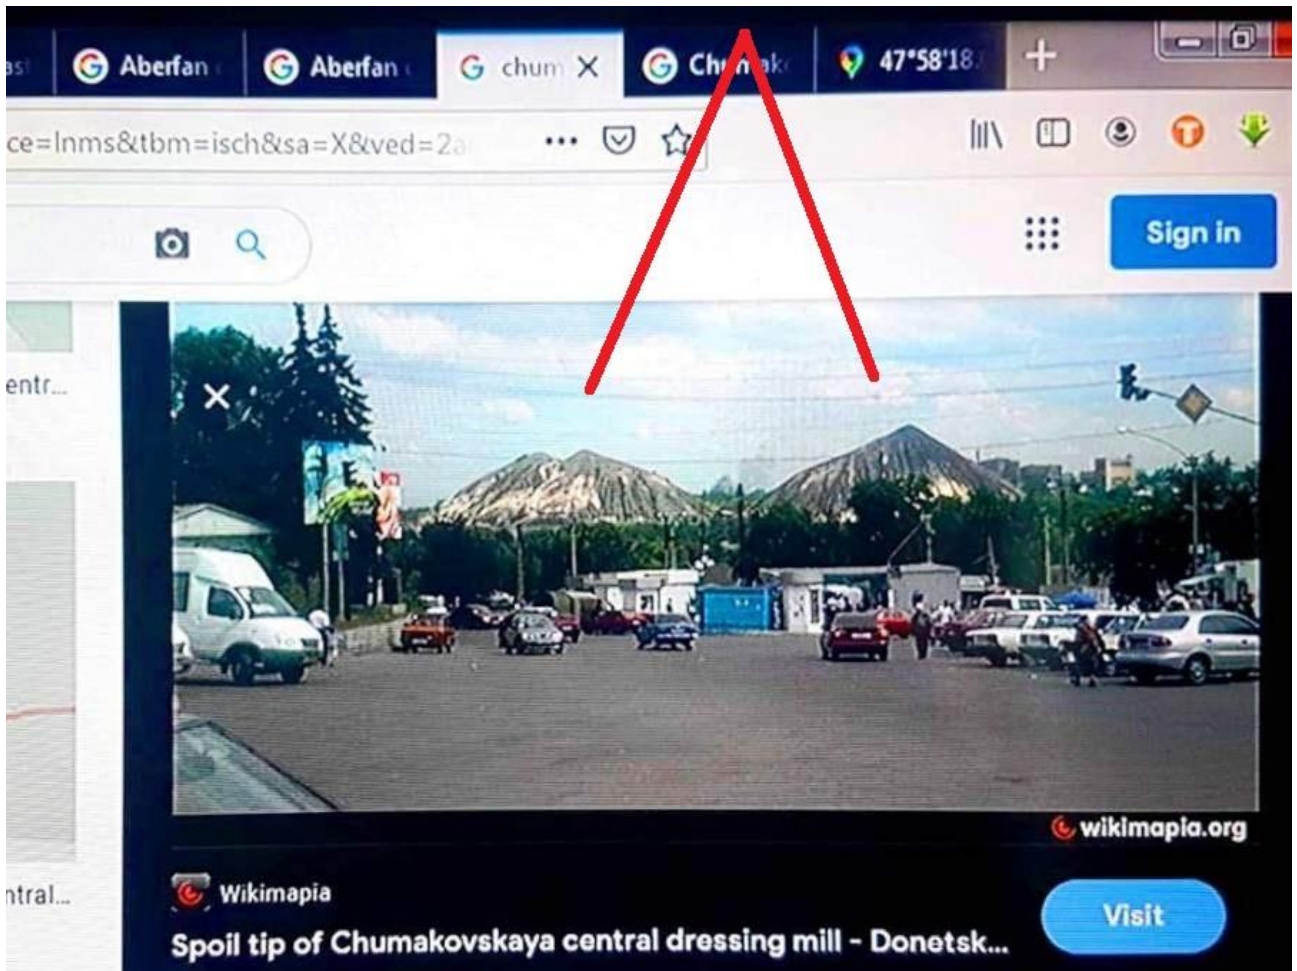

Anatoly Fomenko has shown evidence that the history of China was created and invented by the Jesuits in the 17th and 18th centuries. This is why original documents do not exist and this is why the history of China cannot be verified, but that story is too long to mention here

It was strange that all 3 works were similar. It was clear that the Arthashastra and the work of Han Fei Zi were fraudulent creations. Evidence shows that they copied world history from nation to nation, but changed the dates and the names of the people in history

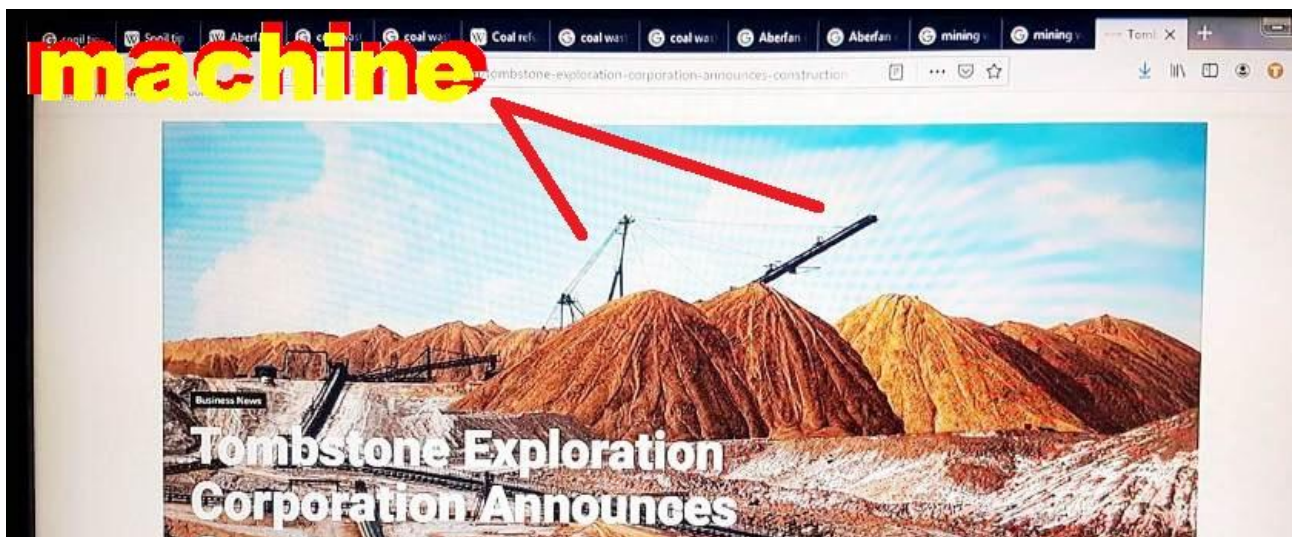

Damodar Kosambi said from his investigations that:

INDIA HAS NO HISTORY

The truth is that India does have a history, but that history was hidden by the ruling powers in the last few centuries. What were they hiding? What is true world history?

The photo above is from Donetsk in Ukraine. Many people who have been to Donetsk, reported that they have seen volcanoes in the region. But what they did not know is that: what they saw, was mining waste

There are many artificial mountains around the world that are created from mining waste. Modern machinery is used to build these artificial mountains

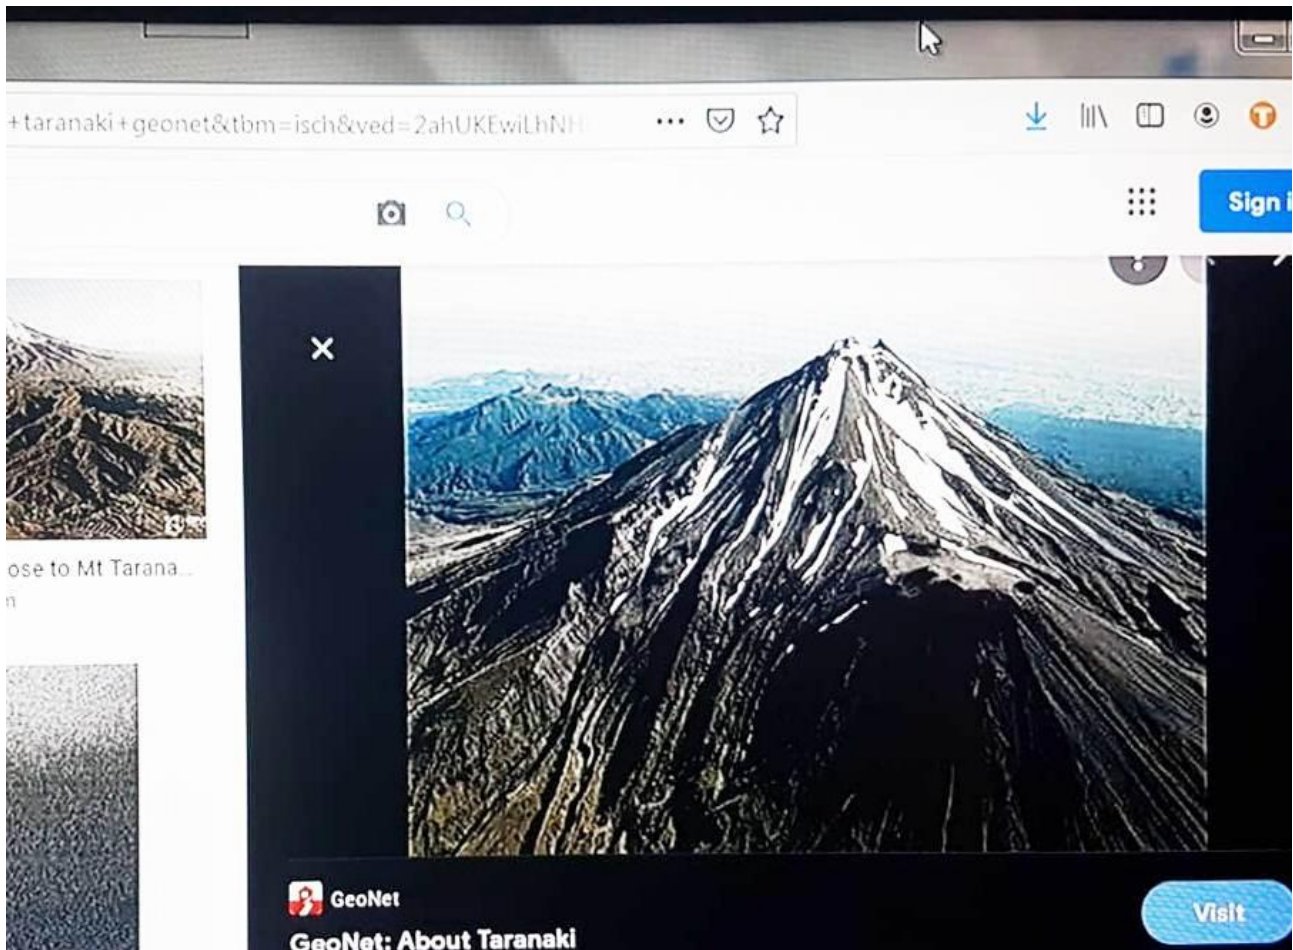

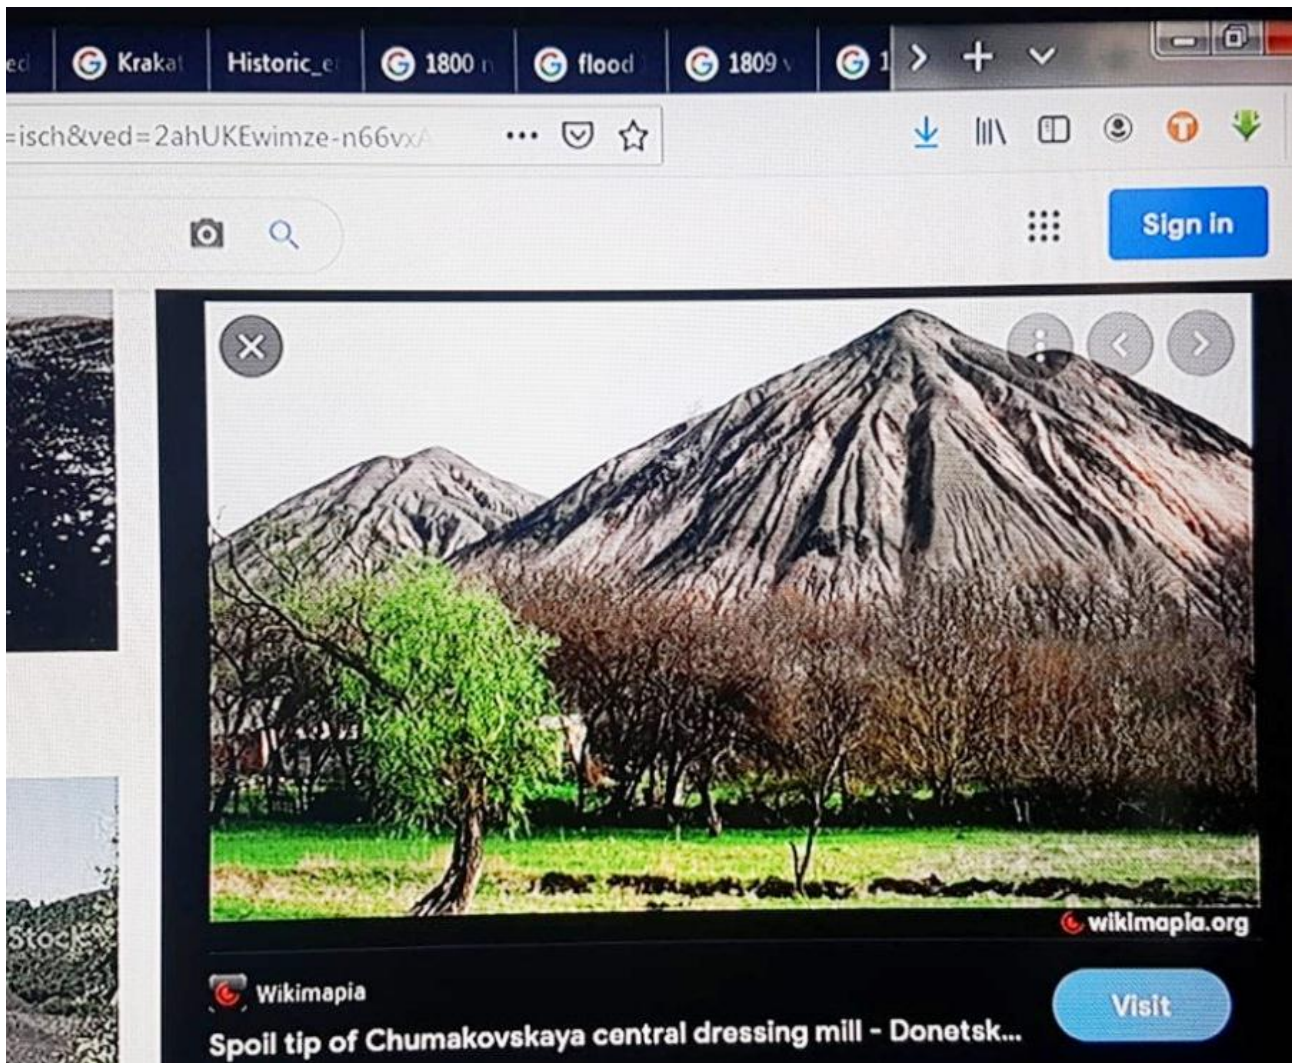

Photo above - Mount Taranaki, New Zealand

There are thousands of volcanoes around the world.
Historians say that they are natural formations.
Historians say that they are millions of years old. Is this really true? Or - are historians telling lies?

Photo above - mining waste mountain - Donetsk, Ukraine

Many people around the world have noticed that volcanoes and mining waste mountains look very similar

en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Spoil_tip pile, waste tip^[2] or bing^[3] is a pile built of accumulated spoil – waste material removed during mining.^[4] These waste materials are typically composed of shale, as well as smaller quantities of carboniferous sandstone and various other residues. Spoil tips are not formed of slag, but in

Botayama (spoil tip) in Iizuka City, Japan, in the 1950s

Botayama mining waste mountains in Iizuka City, Japan, in the 1950s

There are different types of volcanoes and there are different types of mining waste mountains. Different machines are used in different mining sites, and this is why some mining waste mountains are bigger than others. This also depends on the size of the mining operations

Land use changes, depending on what human needs and requirements are. The photo above shows what the mountains in Botayama in Izuka City look like today

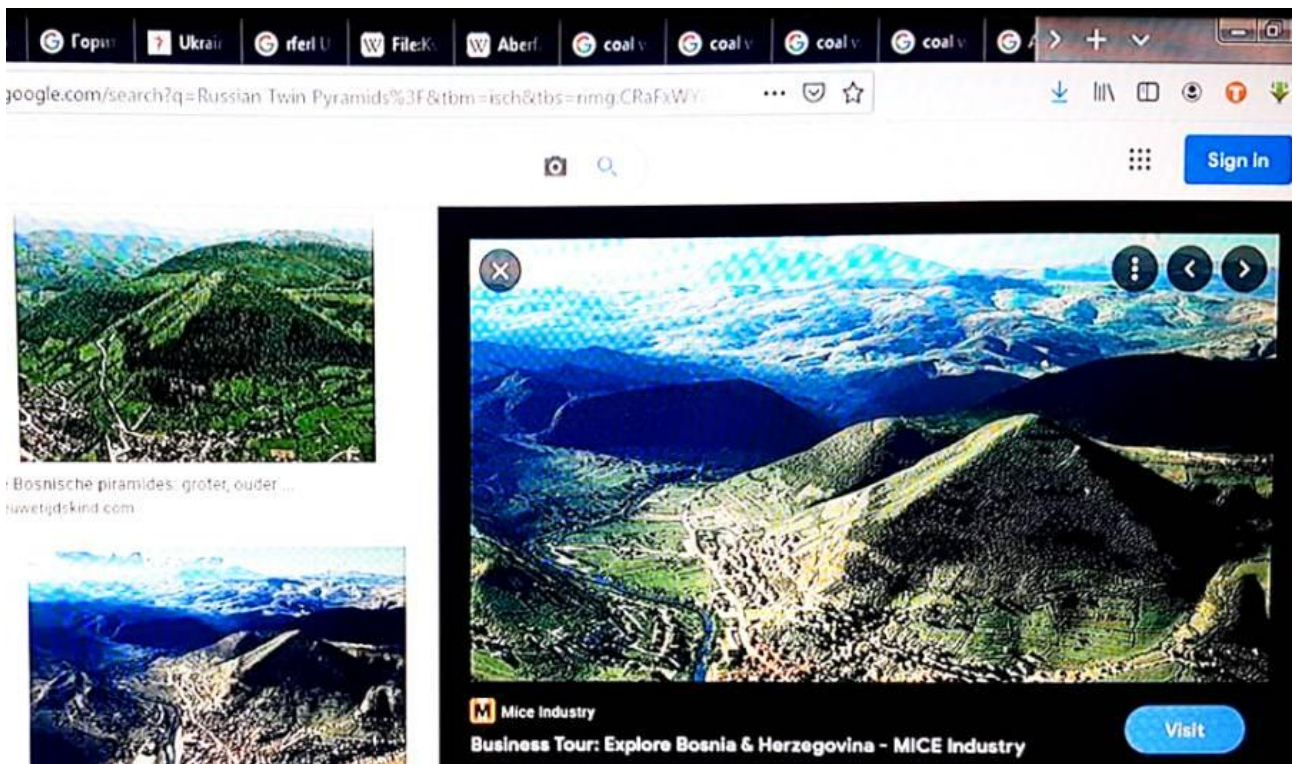

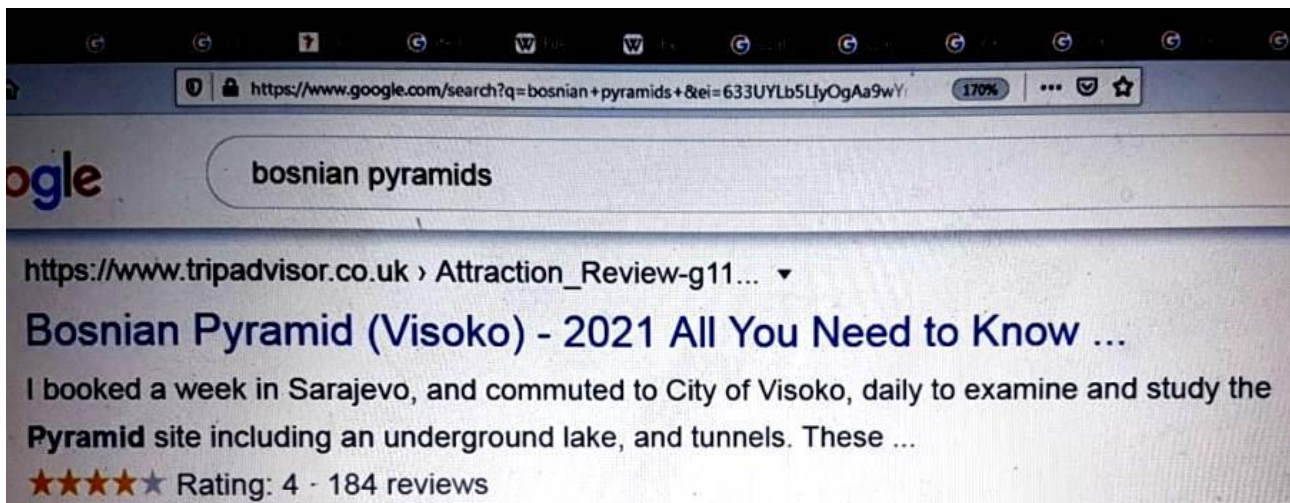

Photo above - mountain in Visoko, known as the Bosnian Pyramid

Thousands of people are currently investigating the mountains in Visoko, Bosnia, - to see if the mountains are natural structures or if they are artificial structures

There are many similar mountains and hills around the world that do not look natural. Many researchers have noticed that many mountains around the world look like artificial structures, which may have been built or modified by civilisations in the past. Historians say that modern mining on a big industrial level, - is something that humans have done recently, - and to create artificial mountains in the past: - is impossible.

Historians say that humans may have evolved from monkeys. This means monkeys changed into humans, - and then came the stone ages, - and then came the ancient world. This is why historians say that advanced industrial mining was not possible by humans in the past. It was not possible because humans were monkeys. Your great grandfather was a monkey?

Researchers have found much of this history to be nothing but lies, but that story is too long to mention here

Maybe historians and their great grandfathers were monkeys, but millions of people around the world do not believe them. Of course historians will not understand when researchers show them evidence that world history is a lie. If you try speaking to monkeys, what type of results do you expect?

The photo above shows a mountain range in Donbass, Ukraine. These mountains are manmade. They were created from mining waste

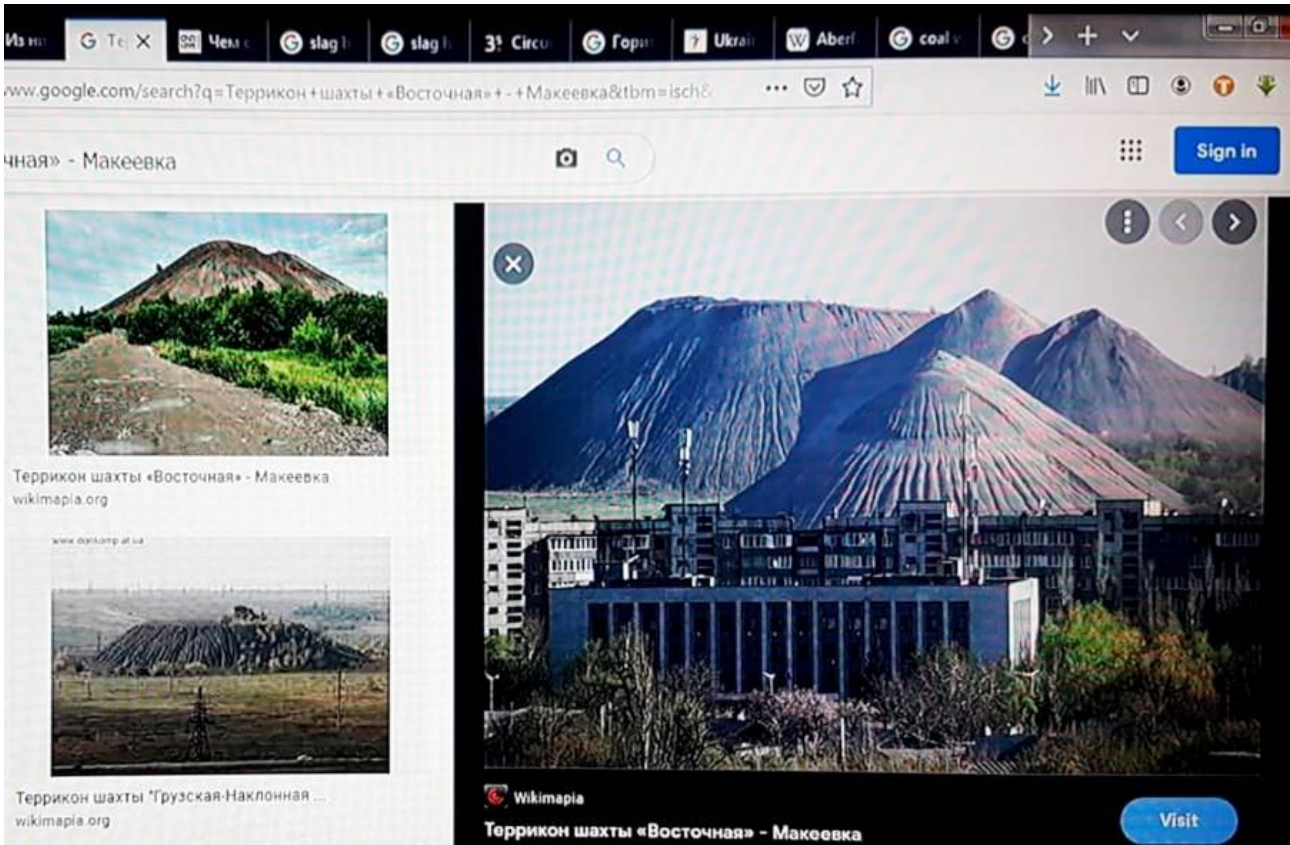

Photo above - mining waste mountains, Ukraine

In Ukraine, there are hundreds of mountains made from mining waste. There are thousands of similar mountains worldwide. Many of these mountains are on fire and are constantly burning

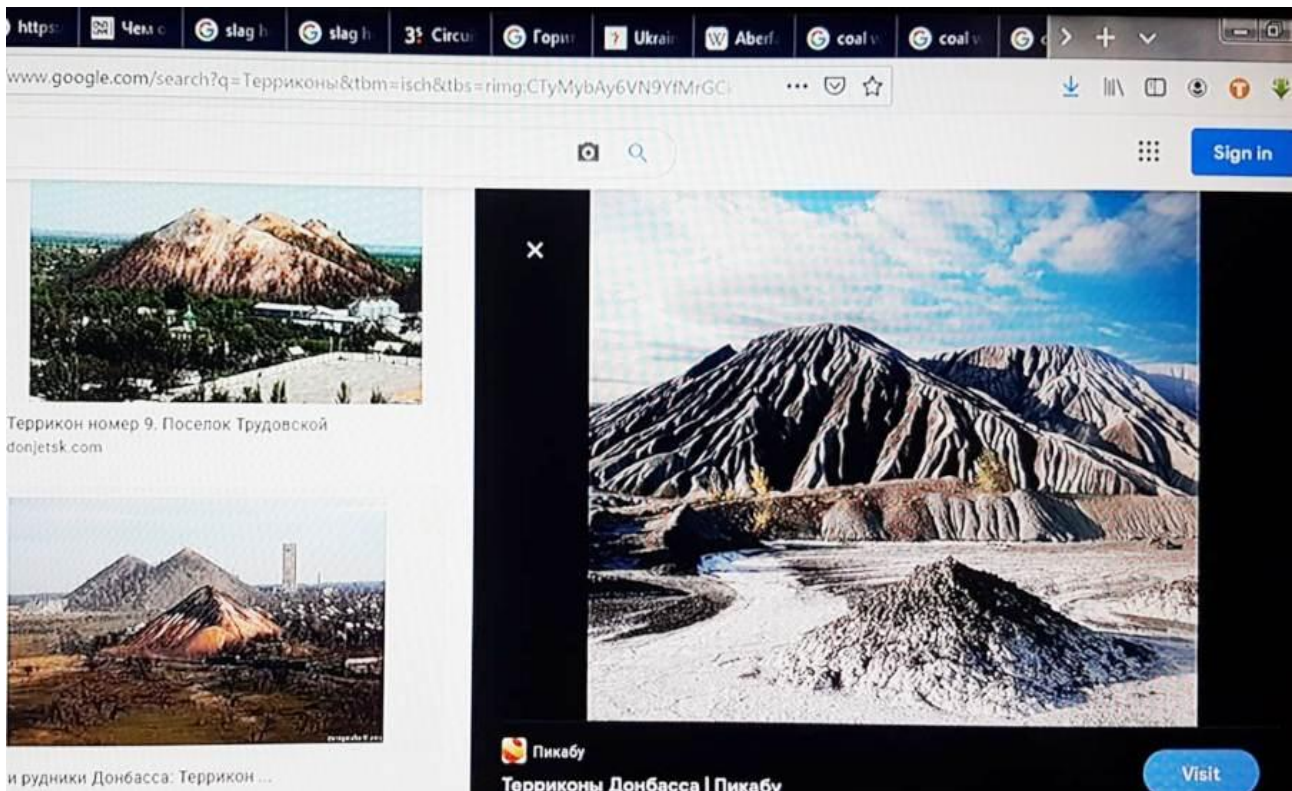

Photo above - mining waste mountains - Ukraine

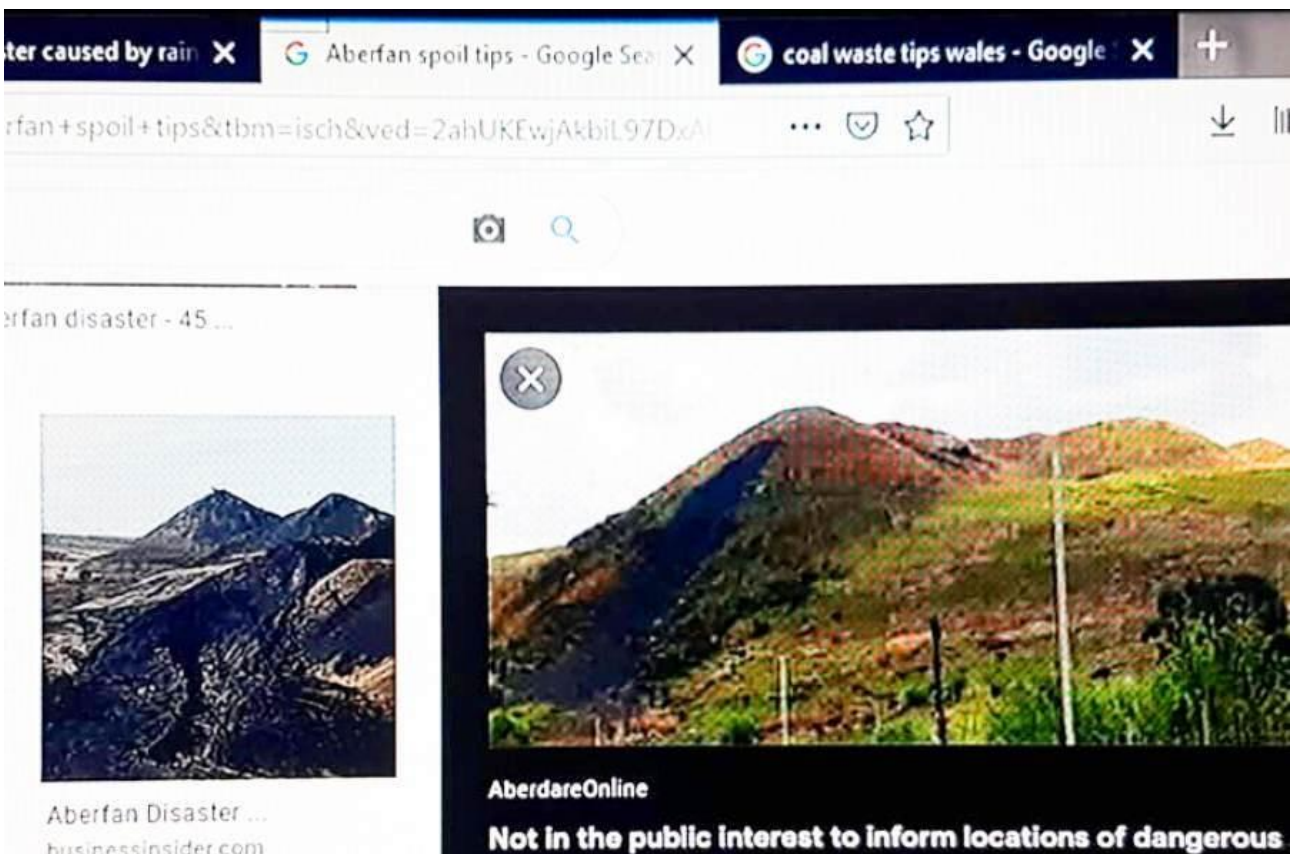

Mining waste is very dangerous and sometimes it is not managed properly. This is why many of these places are on fire and are burning. Many of these mountains clearly looked like volcanoes, and they were burning like volcanoes

There are thousands of similar structures around the world that were created from mining waste. All manmade, many of which were created in the last 2 centuries. Many of these manmade mountains look like volcanoes and other natural mountains

Mining waste is found in thousands of locations all over the world. A small country like Wales has over 2000 locations for coal waste.

There are thousands of hills and mountains that have been artificially created from mining around the world in the last 2 centuries. Many people are not aware that there are so many of these places, even in their local areas, and many of them are dangerous

It is a serious question: - Are many hills and mountains around the world really natural? Many mountains and hills around the world clearly show the scars of mining from previous civilisations

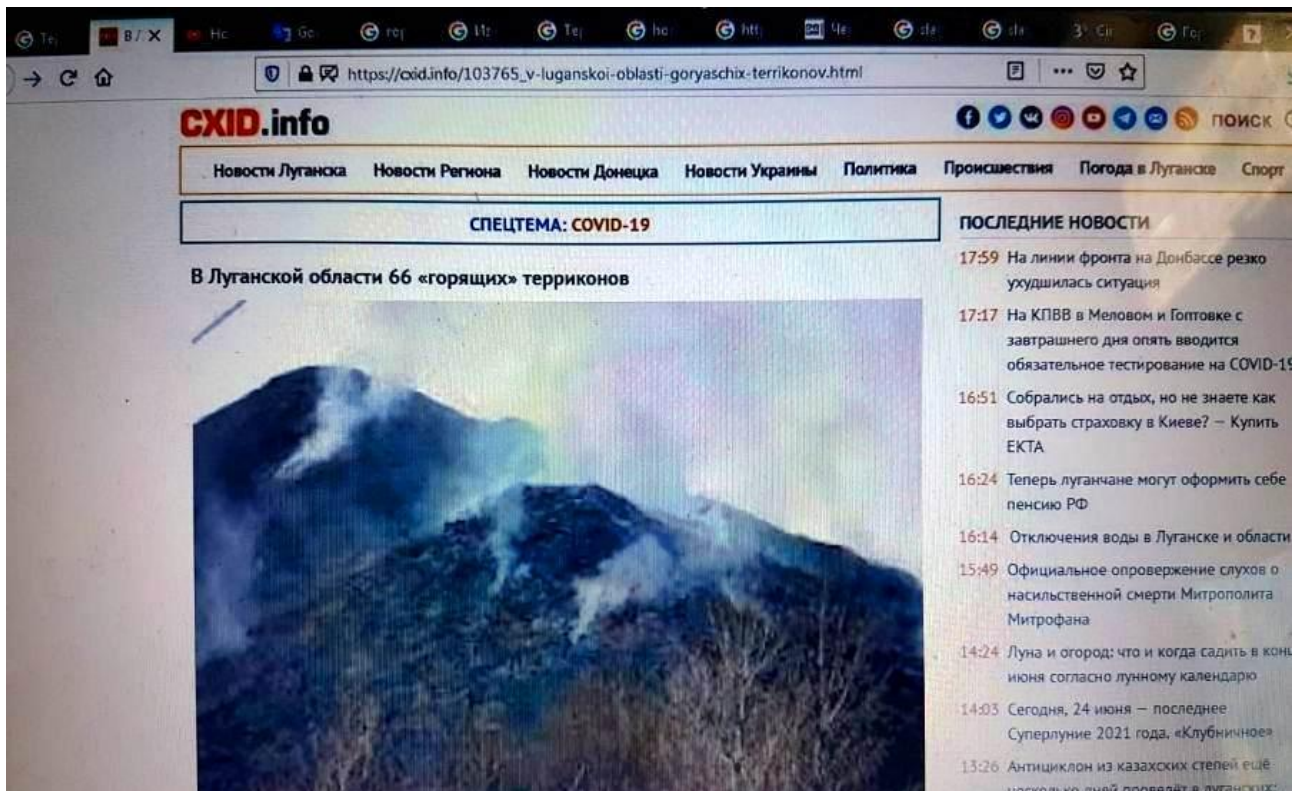

Photo above - mining waste mountains burning in Ukraine

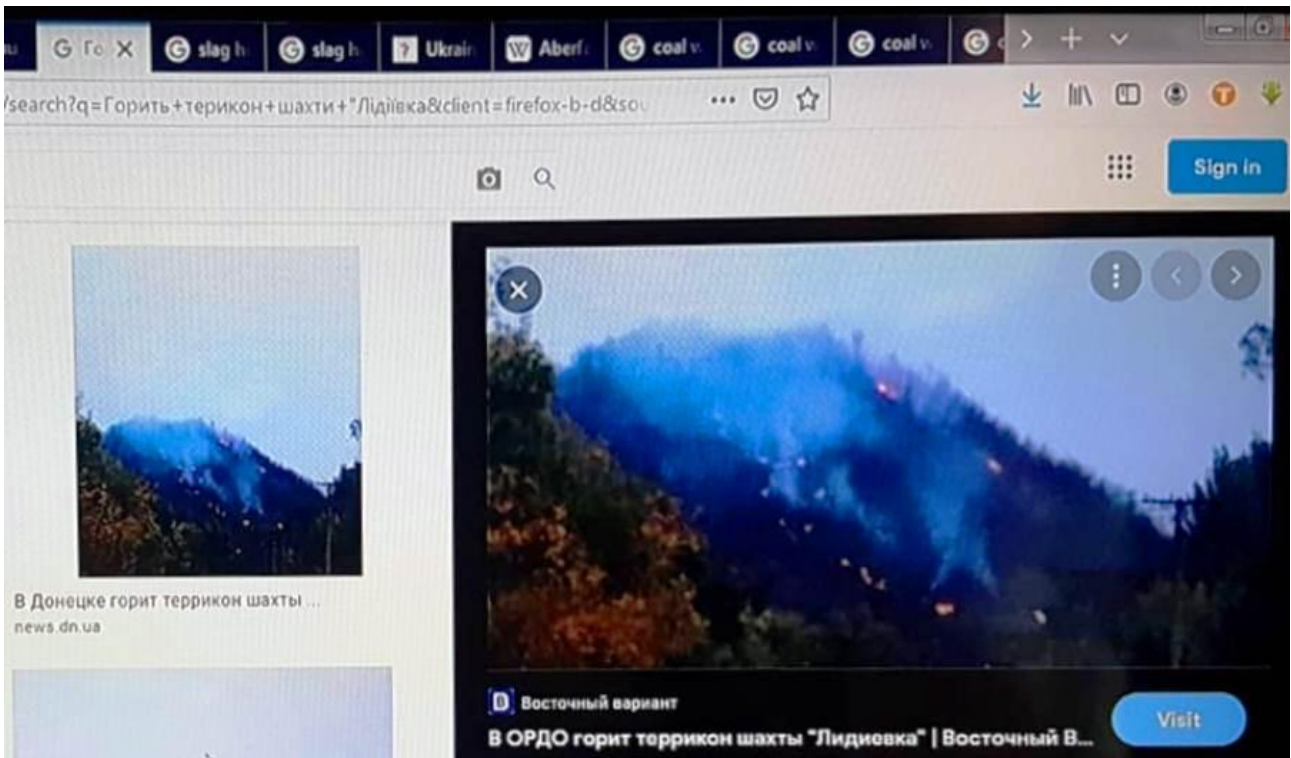

Photo above - mining waste mountains burning in Ukraine

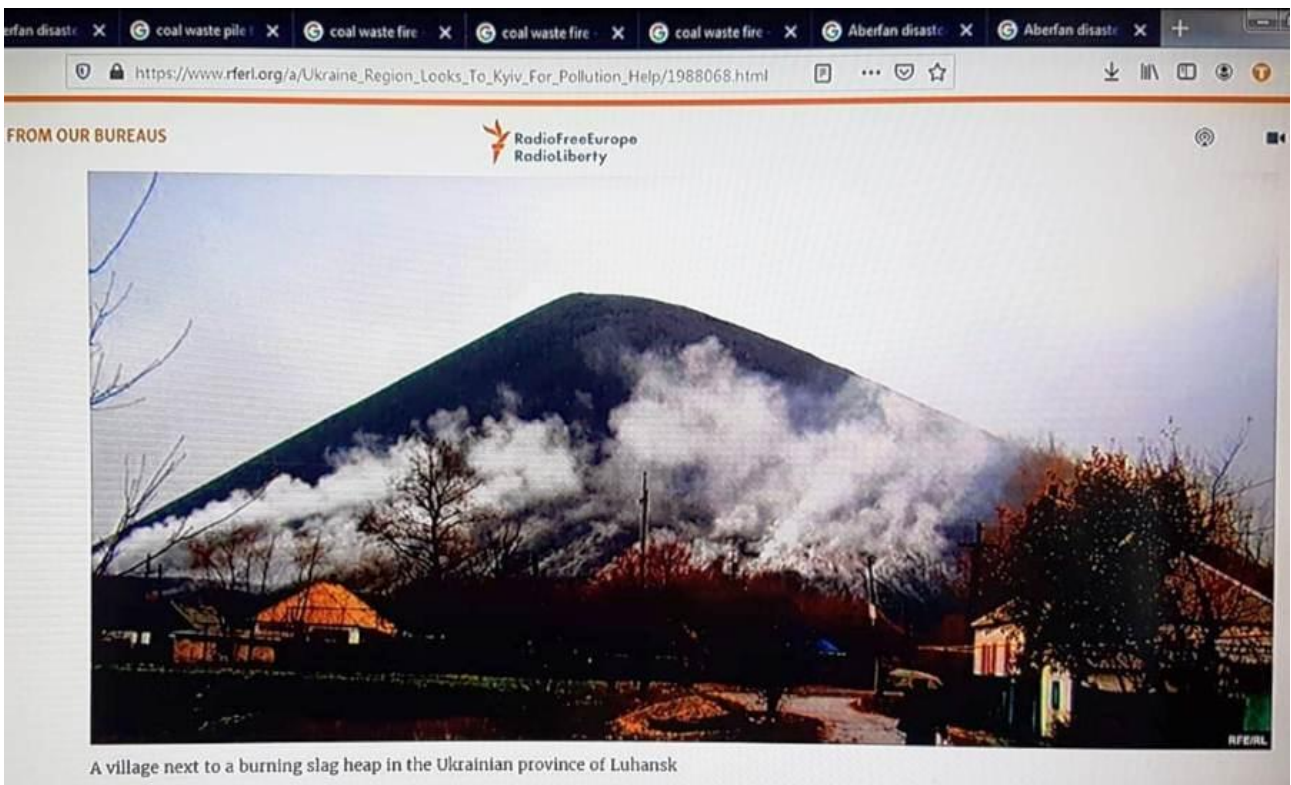

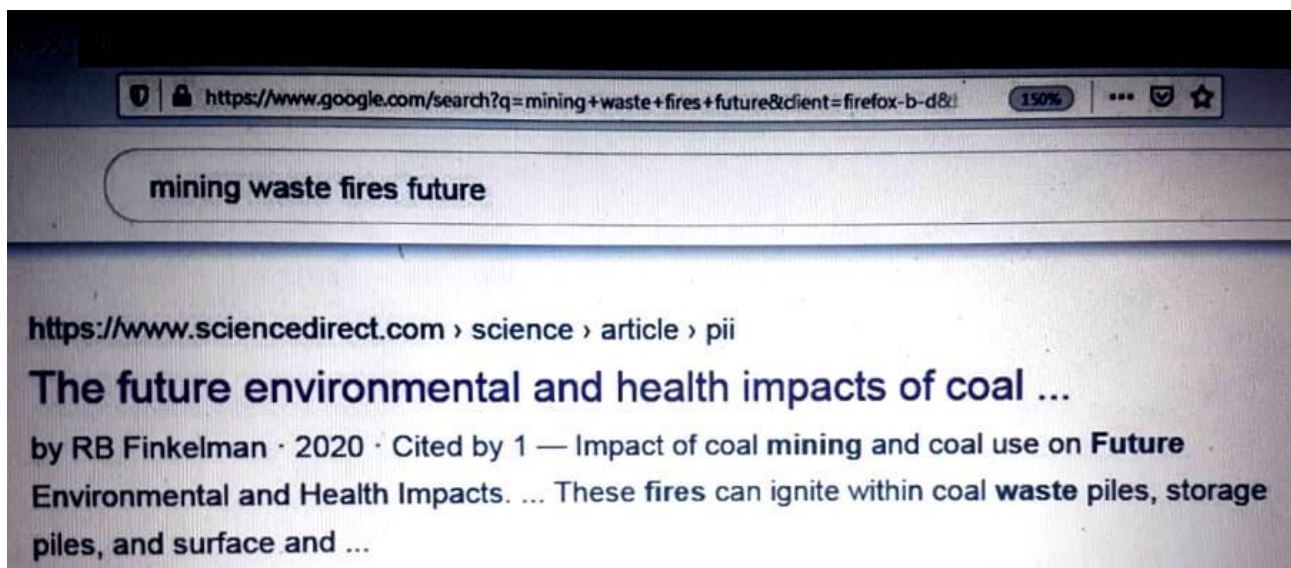

Photo above - mining waste mountains burning in Ukraine

One day in the future, the burning seen in mining waste mountains could be many times worse. Many volcanoes are mountains that are burning. These mining waste mountains could become future volcanoes if they are not managed properly

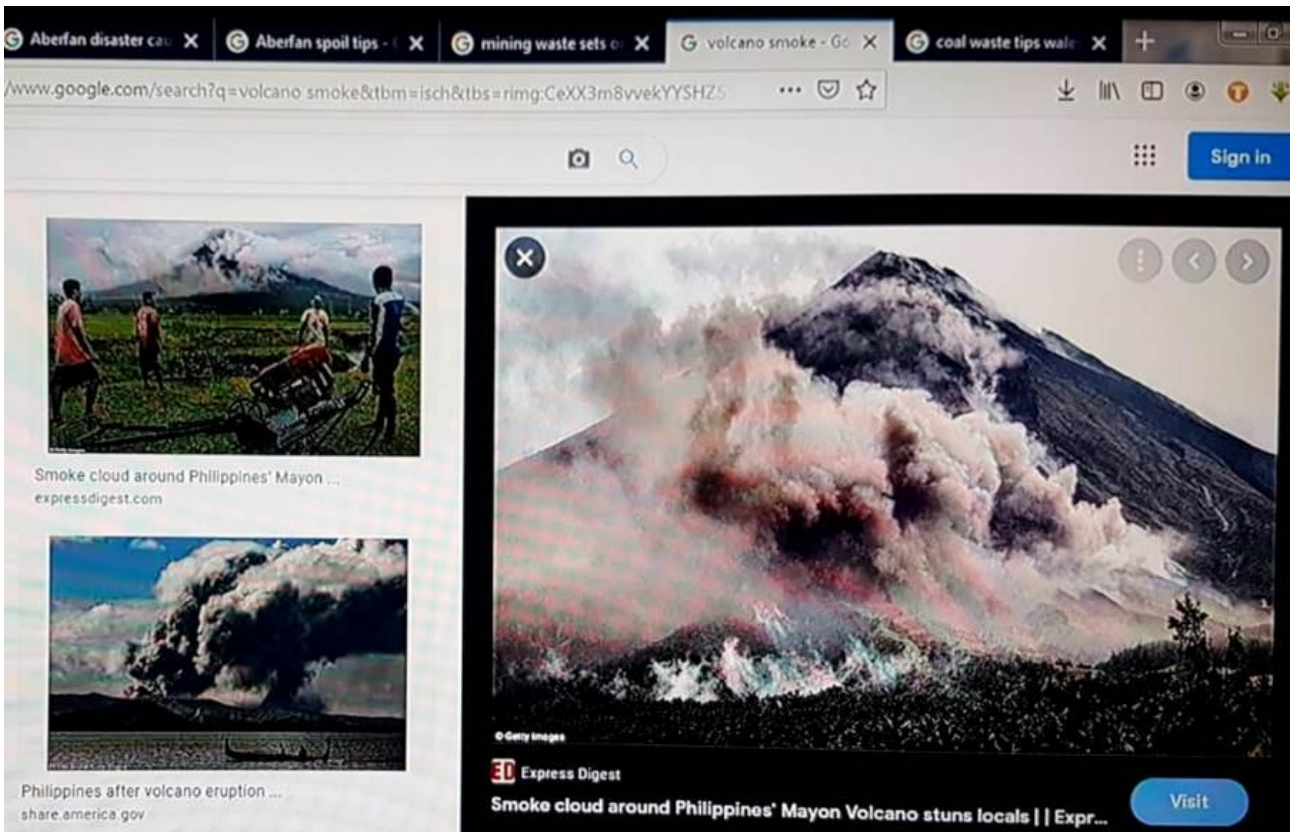

Photo above - volcano in the Philippines.

Smoke can be seen around the volcano. Researchers noticed that it was similar to the smoke seen coming out of mining waste mountains that are burning

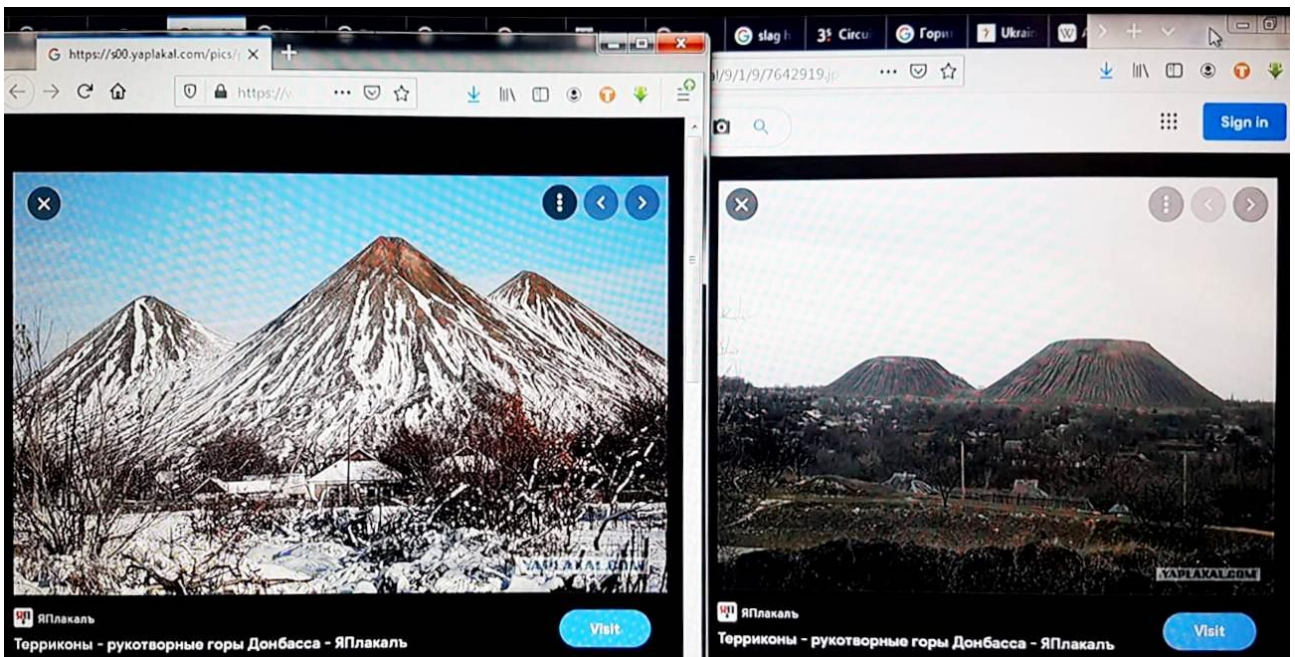

Photo above - mining waste mountains - Ukraine

The mountains were different in shape and size depending on what was being mined and what machinery was being used

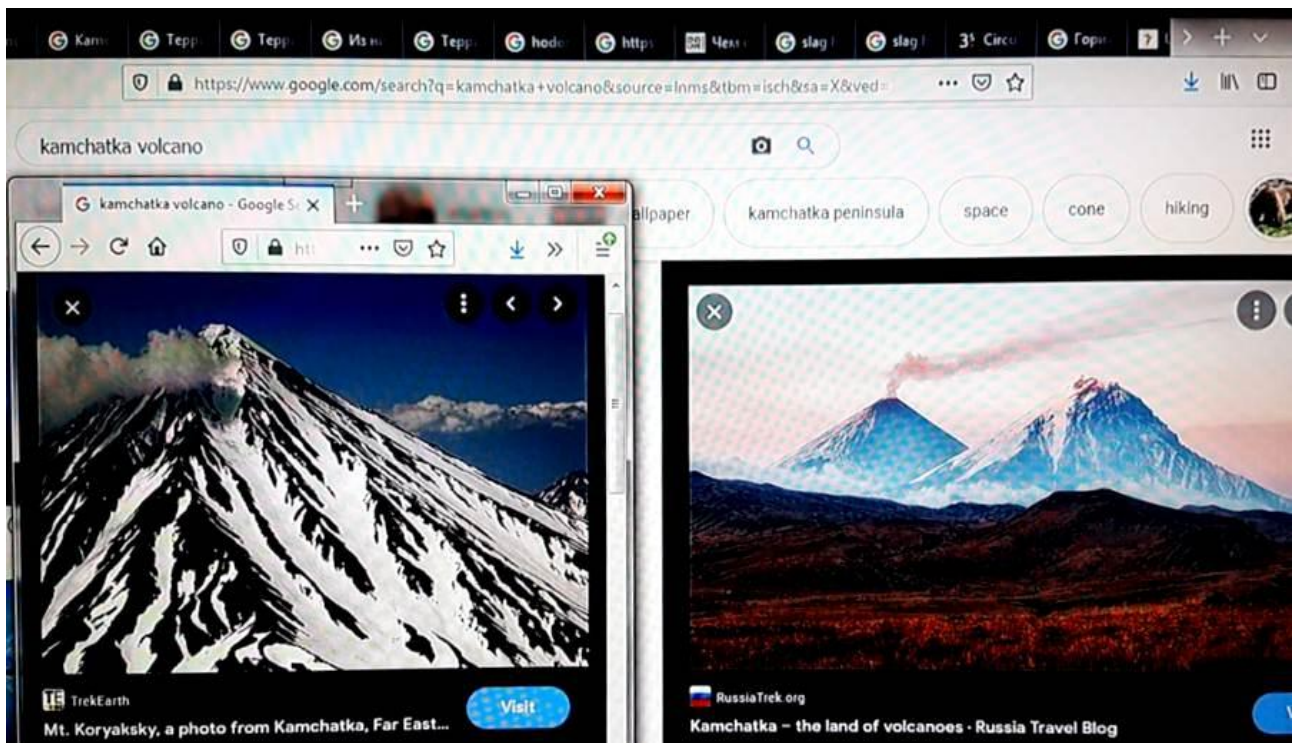

Photo above - Kamchatka volcano region, Russia

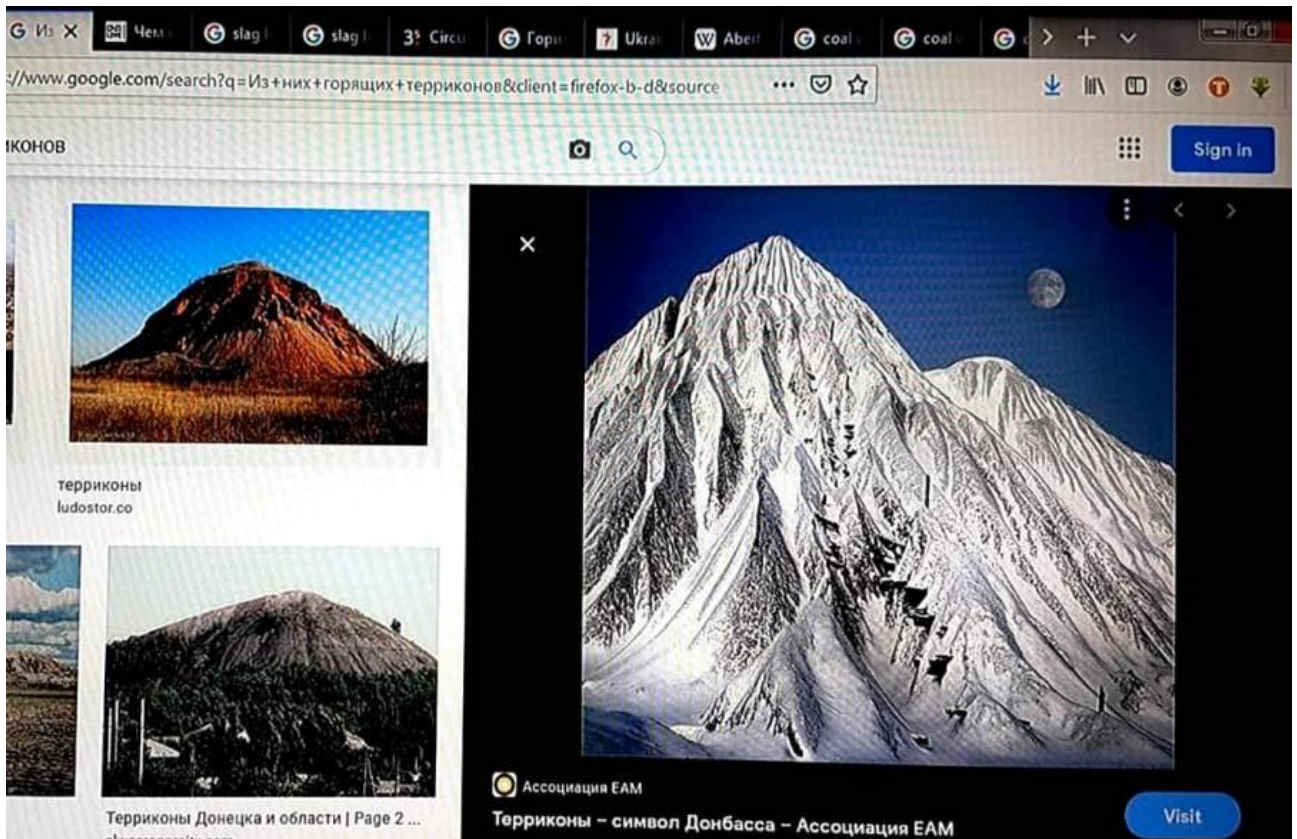

Photo above - mining waste mountains - Ukraine

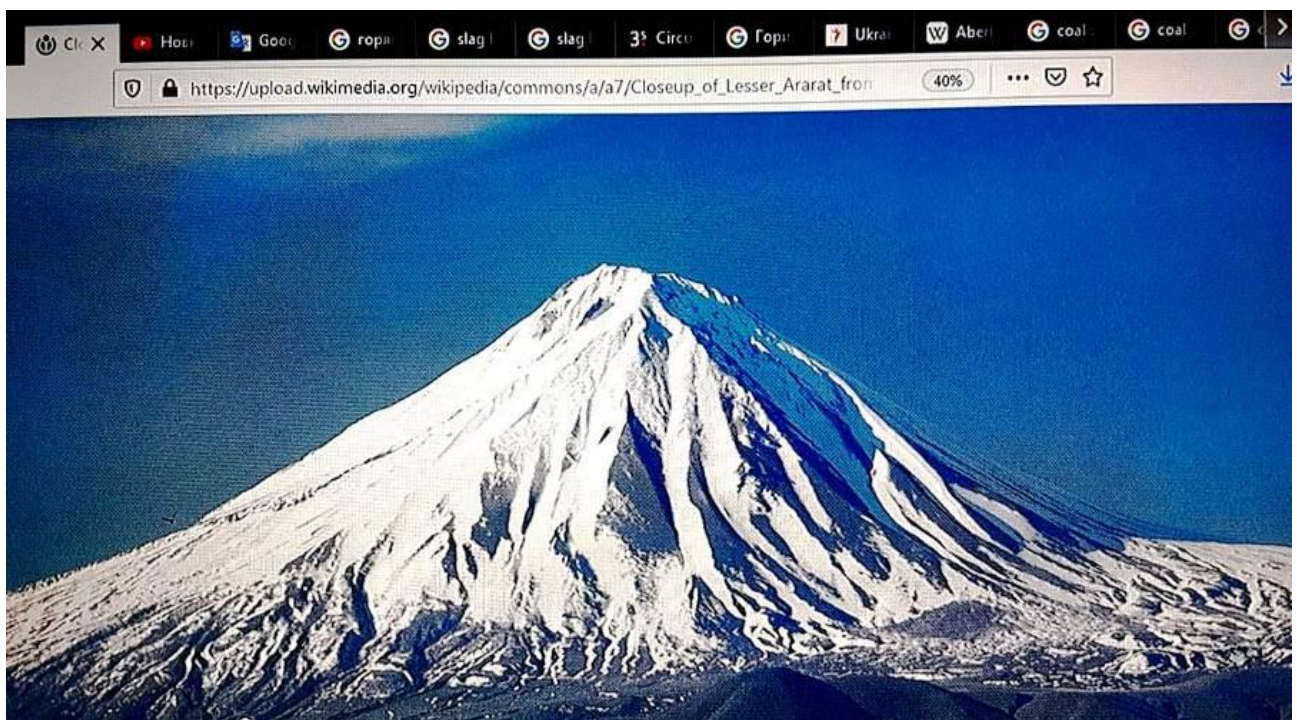

Photo above - Little Ararat Mountain, Turkey

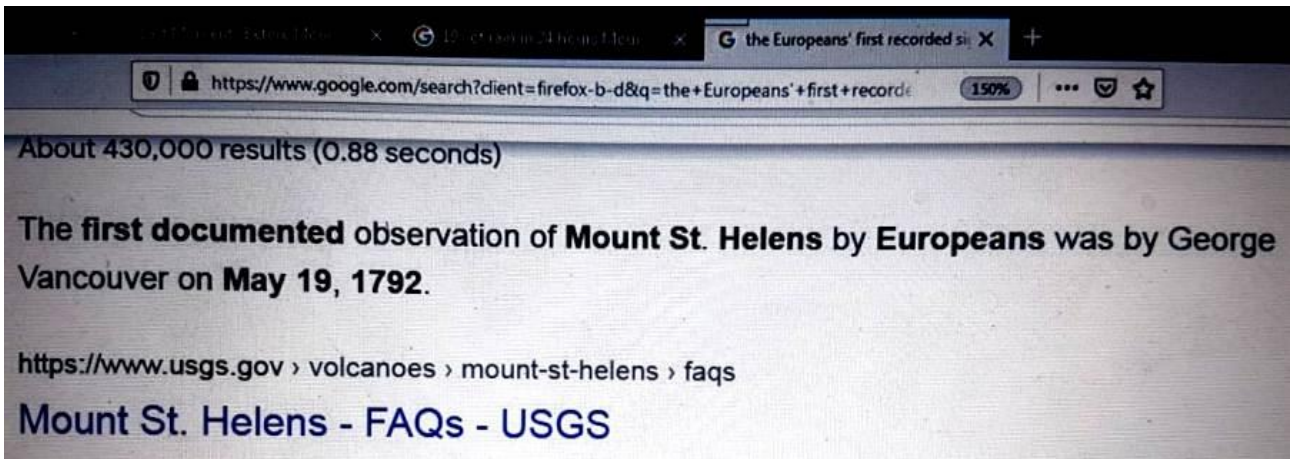

It was clear that volcanoes and many other mountains looked the same like mining waste. Many researchers concluded that many volcanoes and many other mountains around the world, - were nothing more than mining waste.

Many volcanoes and mountains were much bigger than the mining waste mountains that our machines build today. As our current civilisation moves into the future, we are creating bigger mining waste mountains.

Researchers concluded that civilisations in the past were more advanced and greater than we are today.

Researchers found much information which showed that world history was full lie. Scientific data had many lies, and geography had many lies. Everything seemed to be a big lie

There have been many volcano eruptions in the past. There is a lot of mathematical data available for the many events. But, - researchers found suspicious mathematical data provided by historians for the major events related to volcanoes. The major events are those that are told to the people of the world, - or the major events that are repeatedly mentioned by historians. These events had suspicious mathematical data. The history of these events was also very suspicious

One of the most famous volcanoes around the world is Mount St. Helens in Oregon, United States of America. Mount St. Helens is famous because historians and the world media have advertised it. Historians say that the first documented observation of Mount St. Helens by Europeans, was by George Vancouver on May 19, 1792

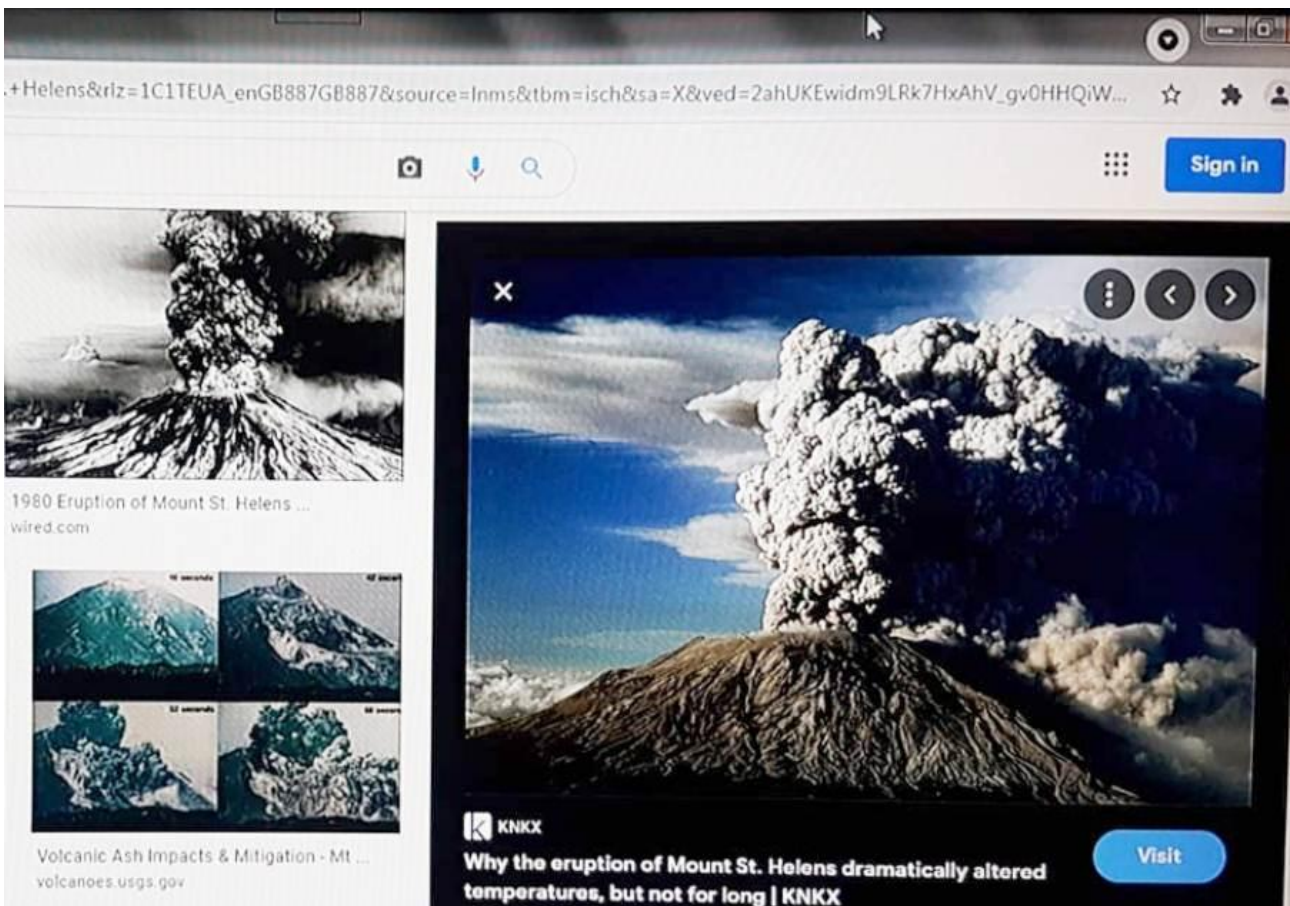

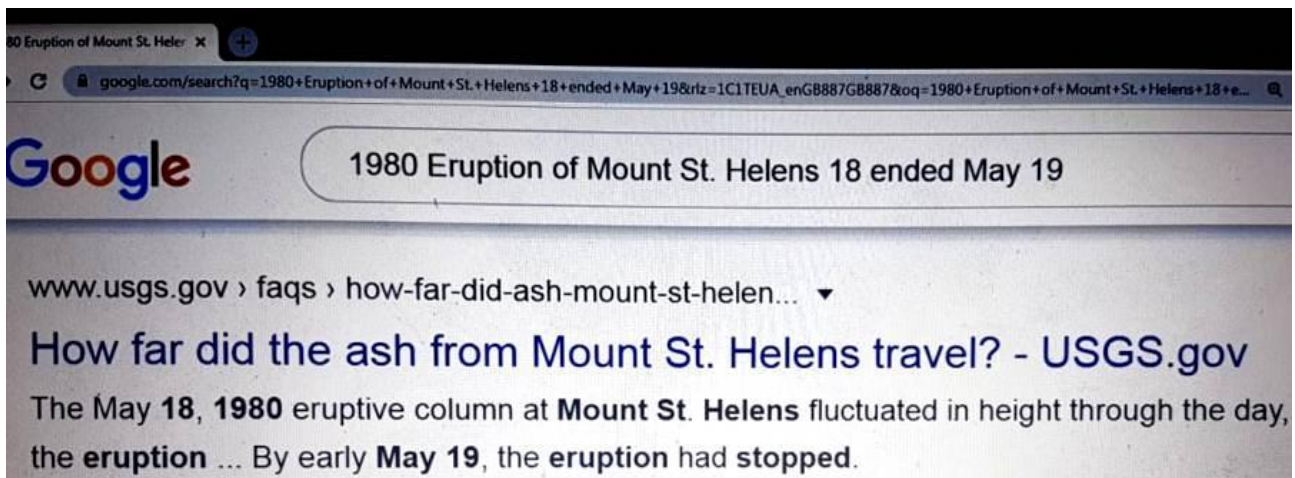

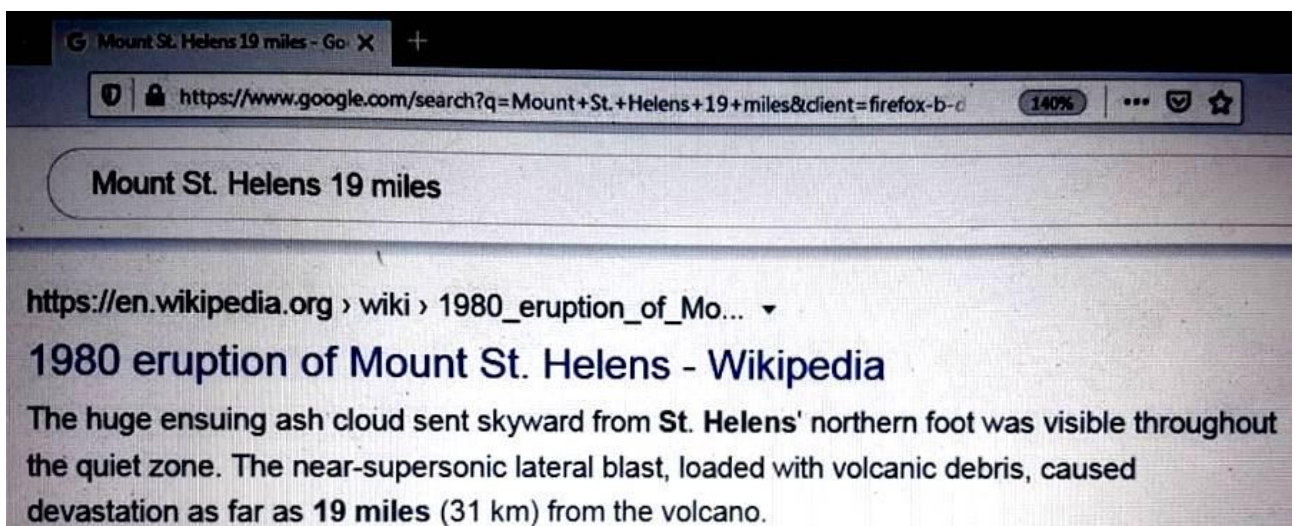

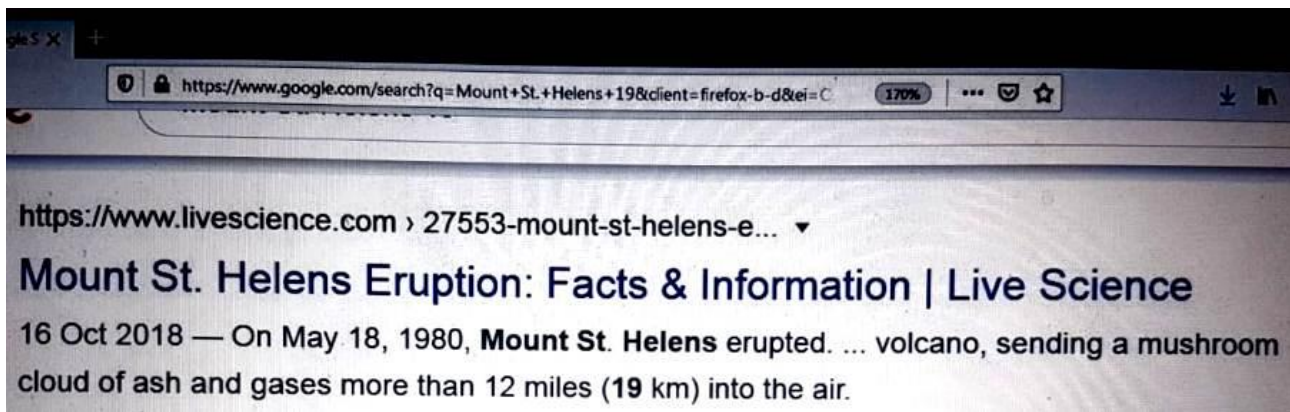

Photo above - eruption of volcano - Mount St. Helens in Oregon, United States of America

Mount St. Helens erupted on May 18, 1980 and this stopped on May 19, 1980. Historians generally say that it was the worst volcano eruption in American history. Did the volcano erupt by accident or was it caused deliberately to happen on these dates?

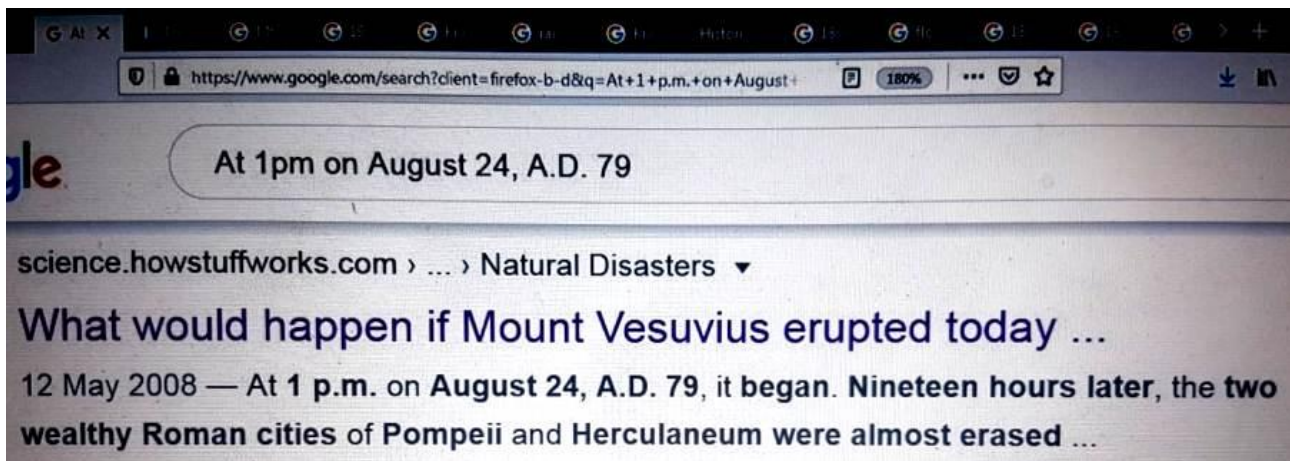

Historians say that the Mount St. Helens eruption, caused devastation around 19 miles from the volcano

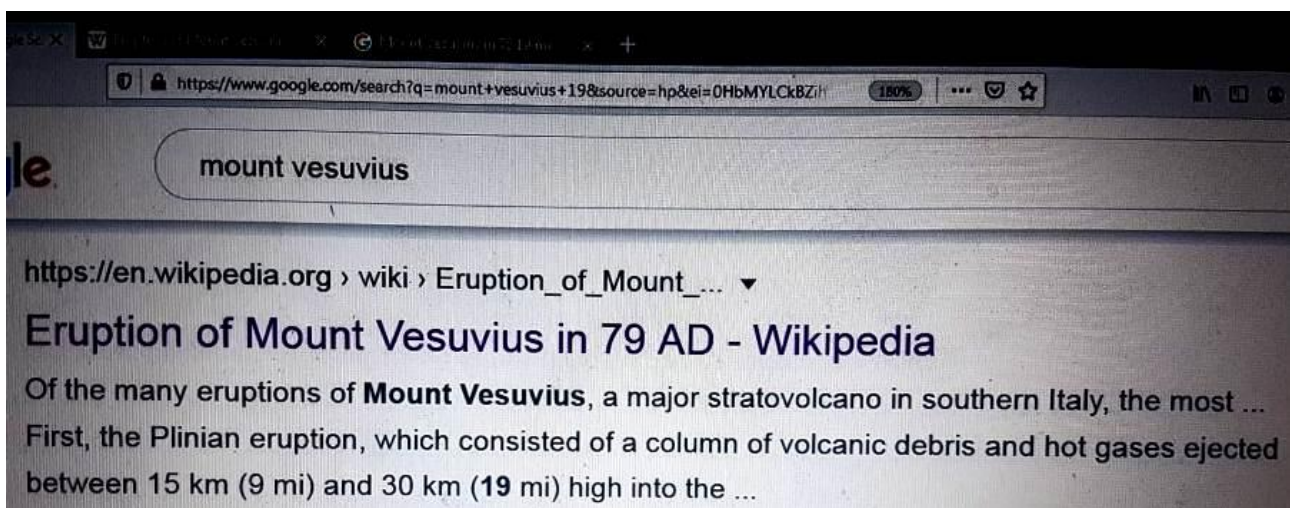

Historians say that the Mount St. Helens eruption sent a cloud of ashes and gases, around 19 kilometres into the air

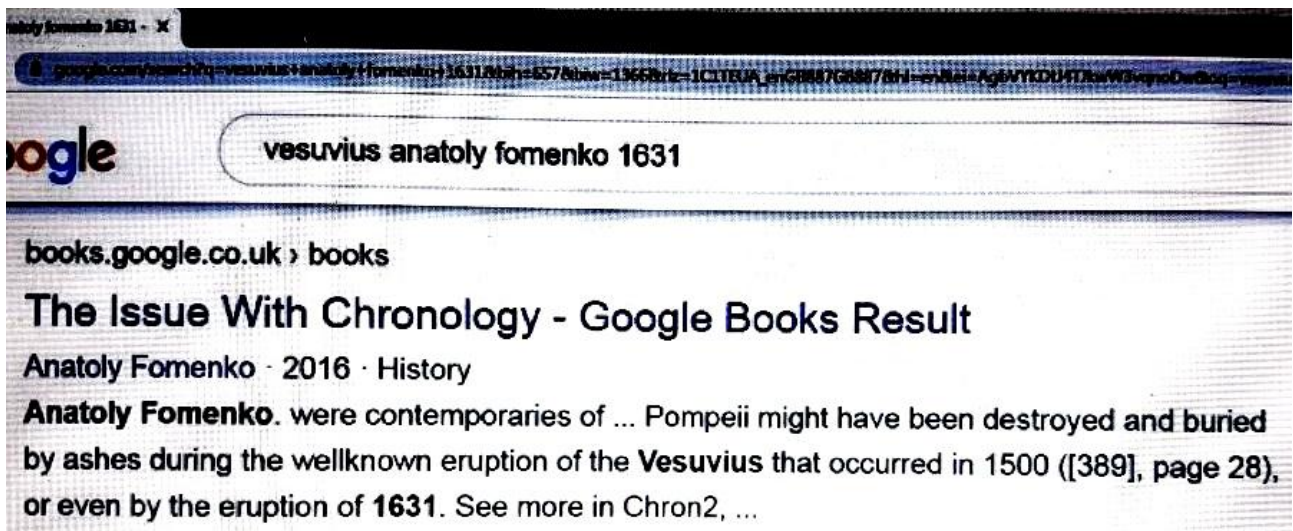

Mount Vesuvius is the only active volcano, on mainland Europe. It is famous for the eruption in the year A.D.79. It is famous because historians and their allies: - the global education system, promote and advertise the story of the eruption in the year A.D.79

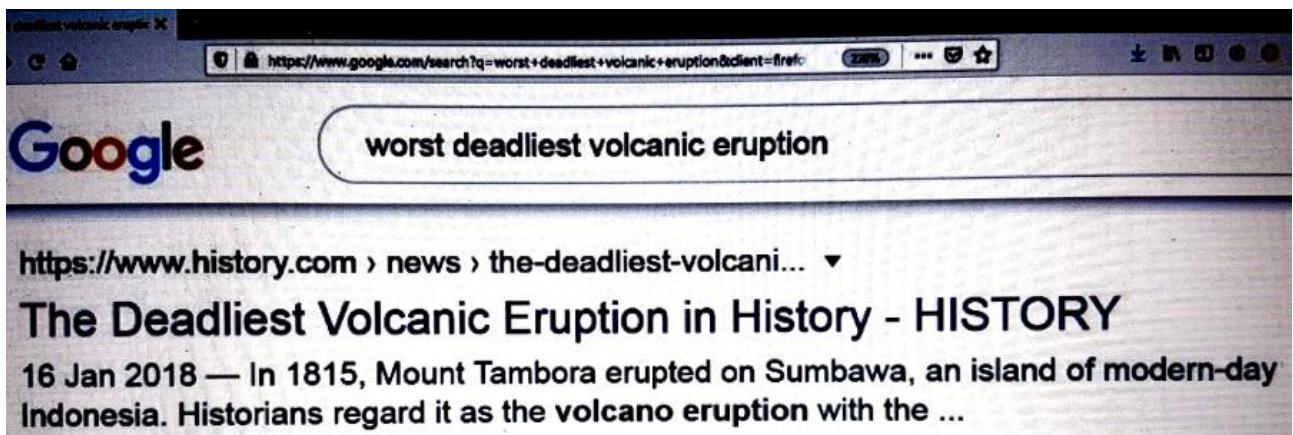

Historians say that Mount Vesuvius erupted for around 19 hours. Historians say that the Ancient Roman cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum were destroyed at this time

Historians say that the Mount Vesuvius eruption of A.D.79, sent volcanic ashes and gases, between 9 and 19 miles into the air

Researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko and others have shown that the history of the Ancient Romans was nothing but a fraud. Anatoly Fomenko and other researchers have presented much evidence to show that the eruption of Mount Vesuvius, that destroyed the cities of Pompeii and Herculaneum, happened much later, - maybe in the 16th or 17th century

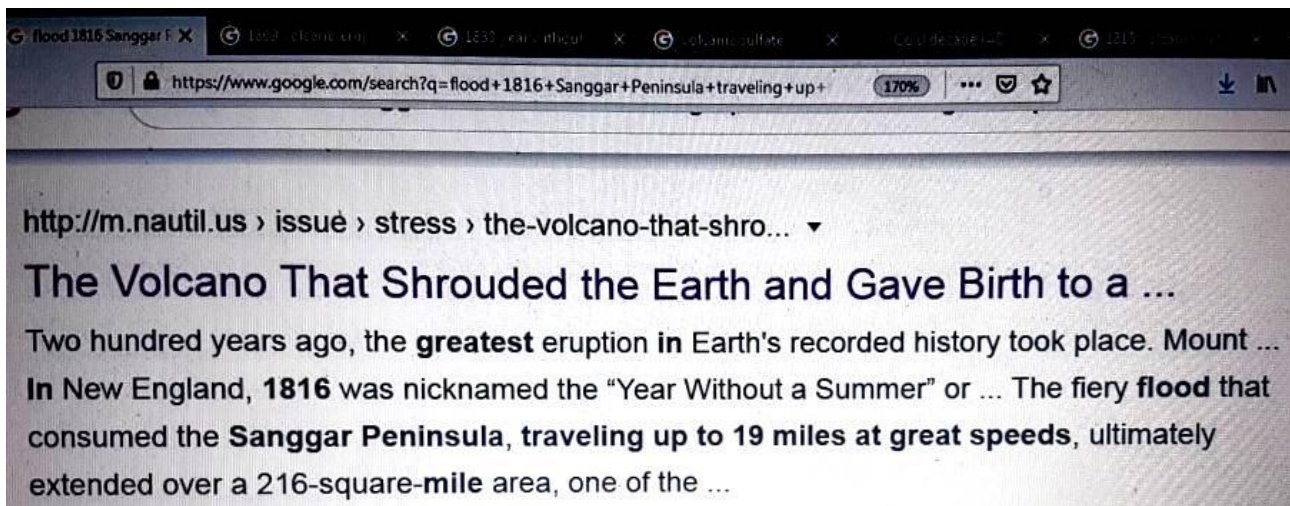

According to historians, the worst or deadliest volcanic eruption in history took place in 1815. The eruption of Mount Tambora on Sumbawa Island, Indonesia

According to historians, the main eruption of Mount Tambora started at 19.00 hours on 10 April, 1815

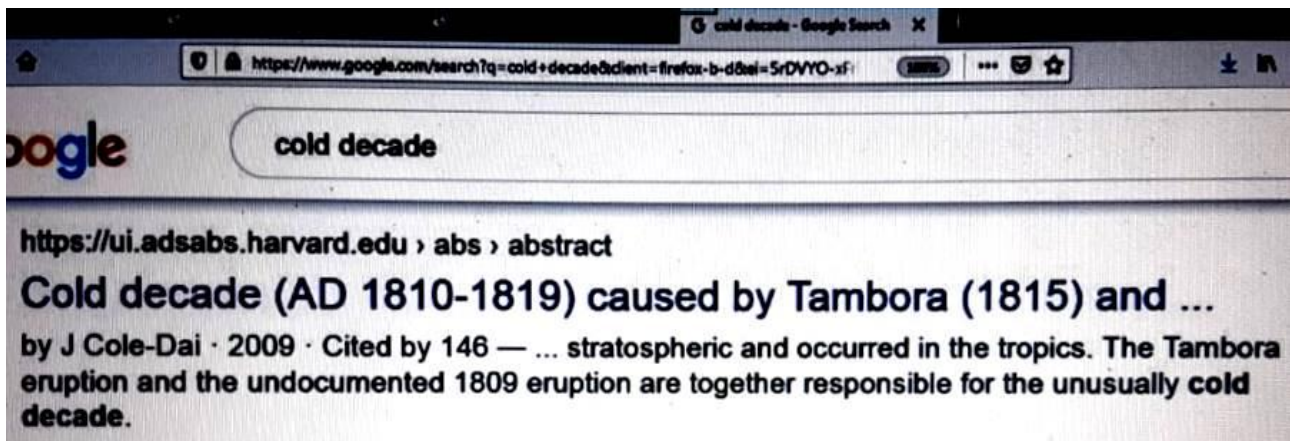

Volcanic debris from Mount Tambora travelled as far as 19 miles away and fell down upon the village of Sanggar

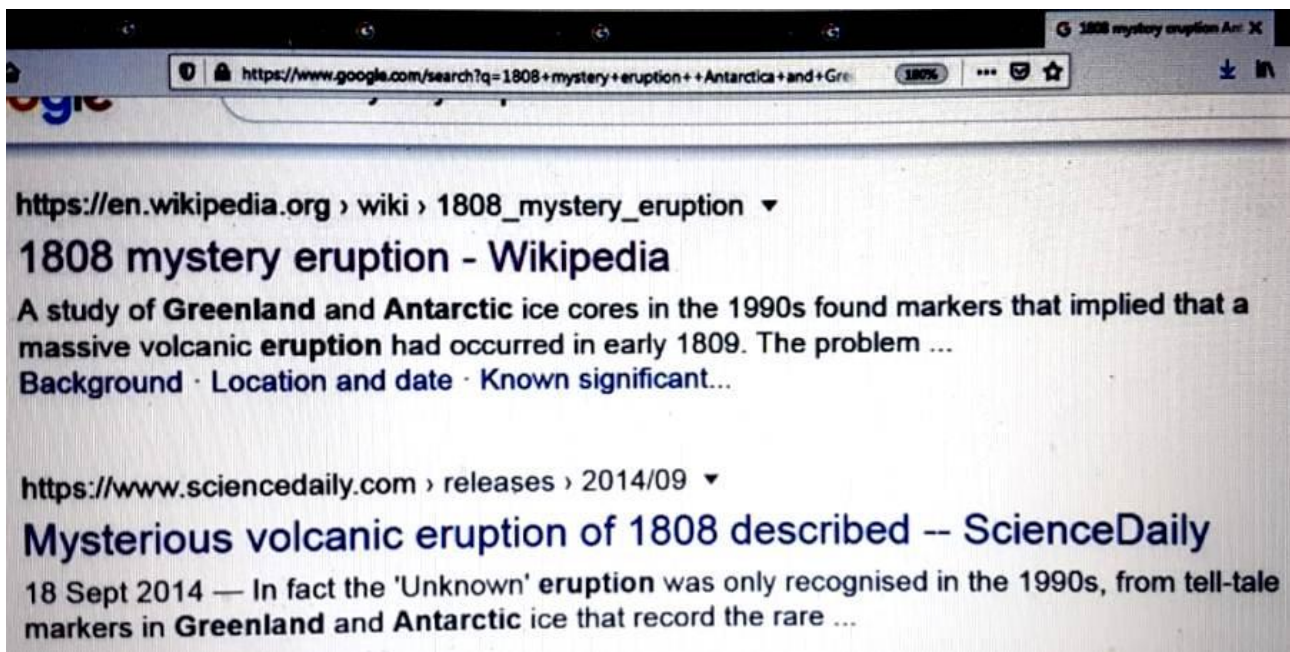

A serious flood also took place at that time on the Sanggar Peninsula and it travelled up to 19 miles

Historians say that the eruption of Mount Tambora caused the "Year Without A Summer" in 1816. Historians say that 1816 was a very cold year, and there were many farming problems worldwide. According to historians, this happened because dust from the volcano reduced sunlight and this made it colder and affected farming and this affected food supplies

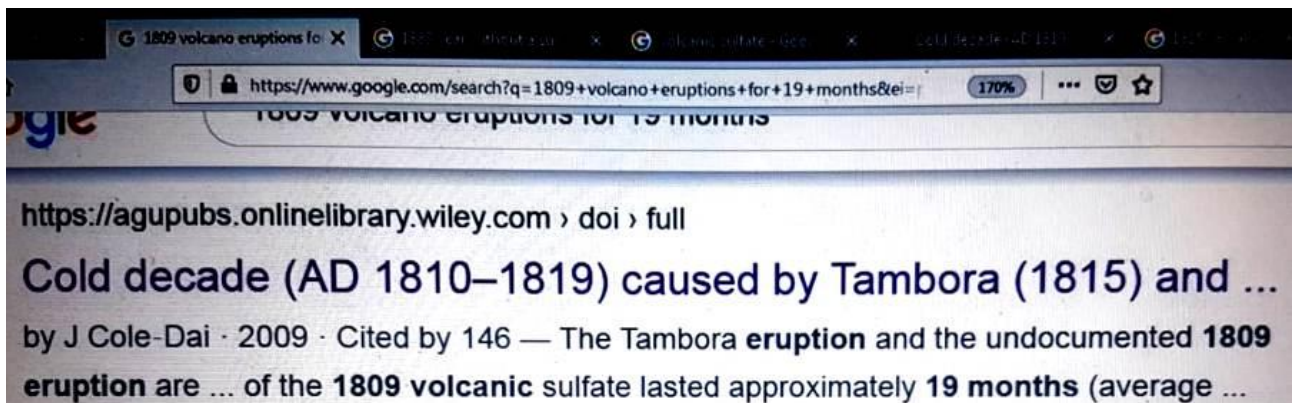

Historians say that the cold weather at the time had already started a few years before, around the year 1810. The cold weather lasted for about 10 years. This is sometimes known as the “Cold Decade”. This decade was during the time of Napoleon Bonaparte and his wars with Russia. The history of that time is full of lies, but that story is too long to mention here

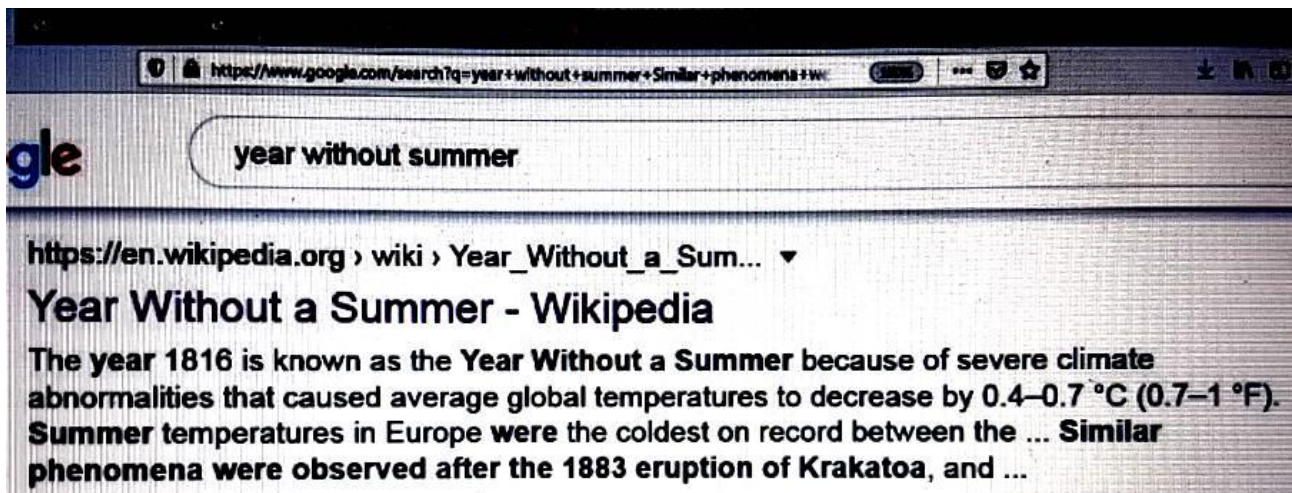

Historians say that: - they think and they believe that a major volcanic eruption in the world took place in 1809.

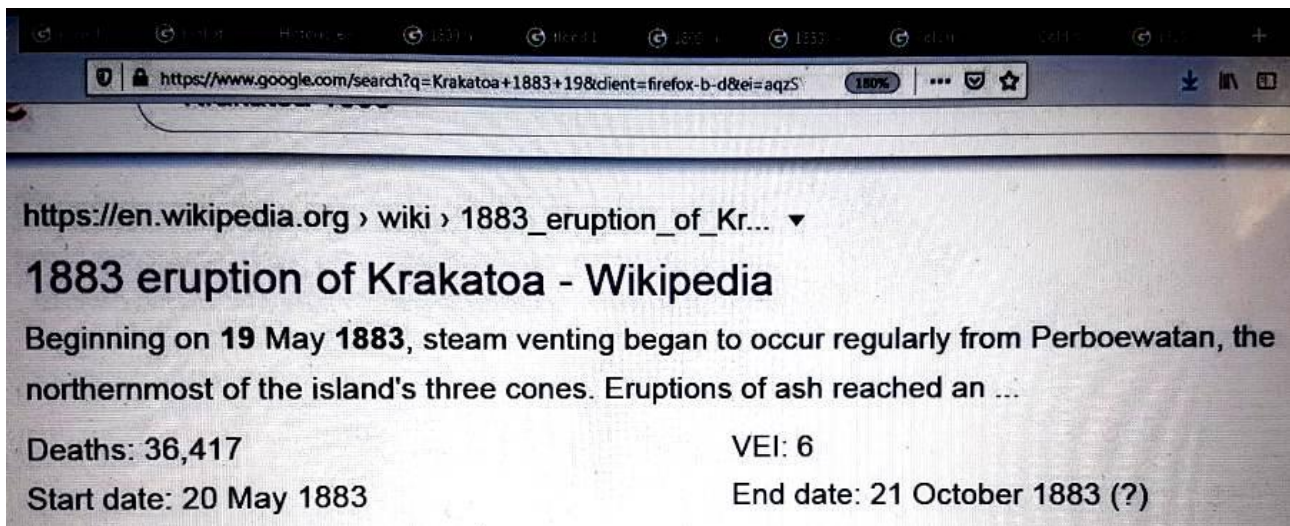

But they don't know where it was or what exactly happened.

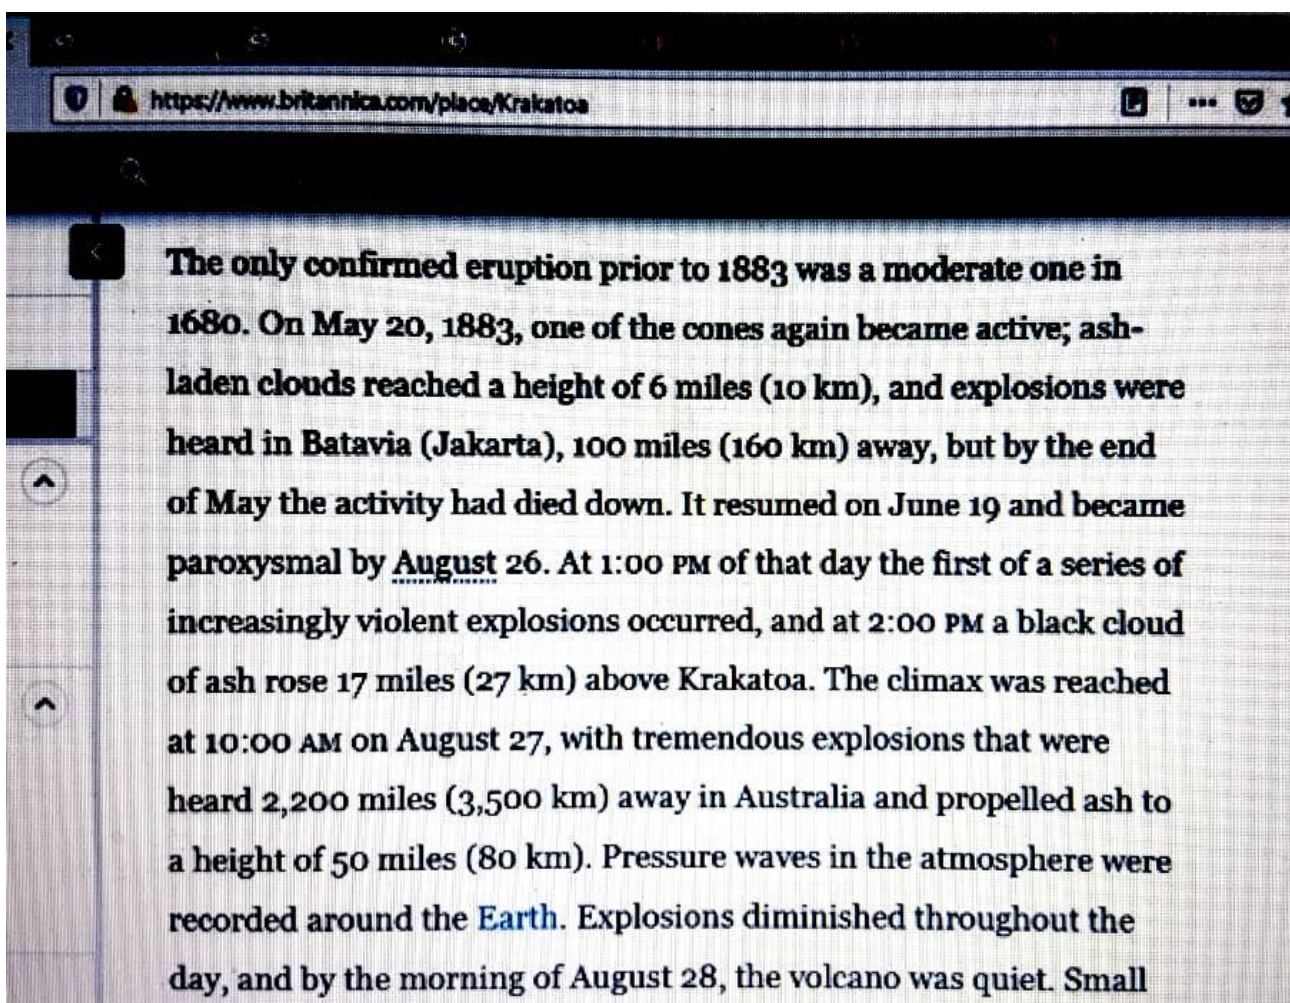

According to historians, the volcanic sulphate from the mysterious unknown eruption of 1809, lasted for around 19 months

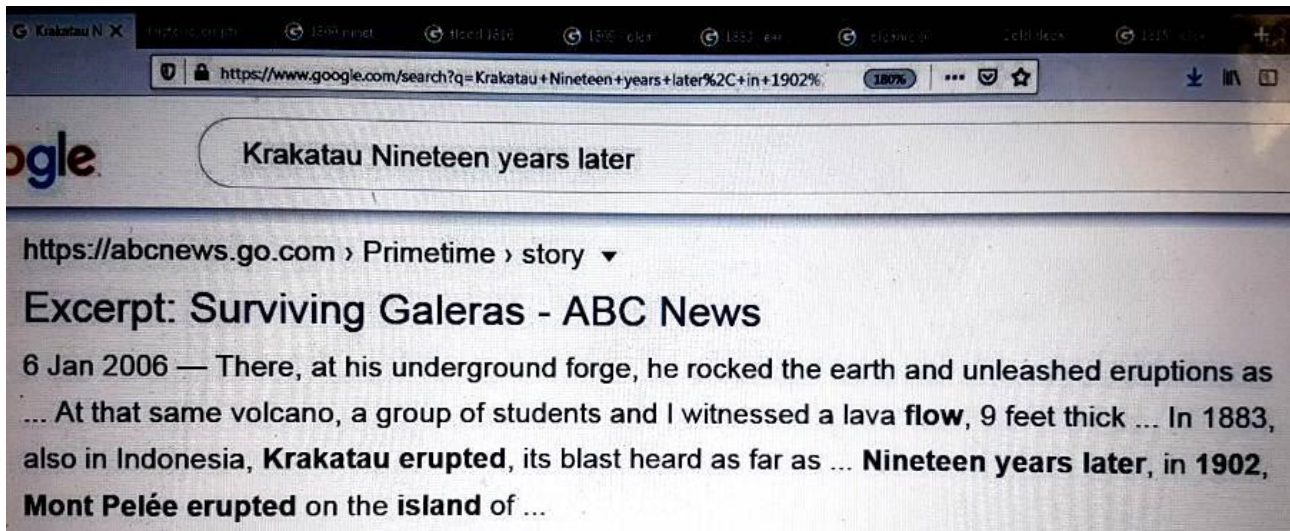

Historians say that something similar happened in 1883. They say it was another year without summer and was very cold, because of the eruption of Mount Krakatoa

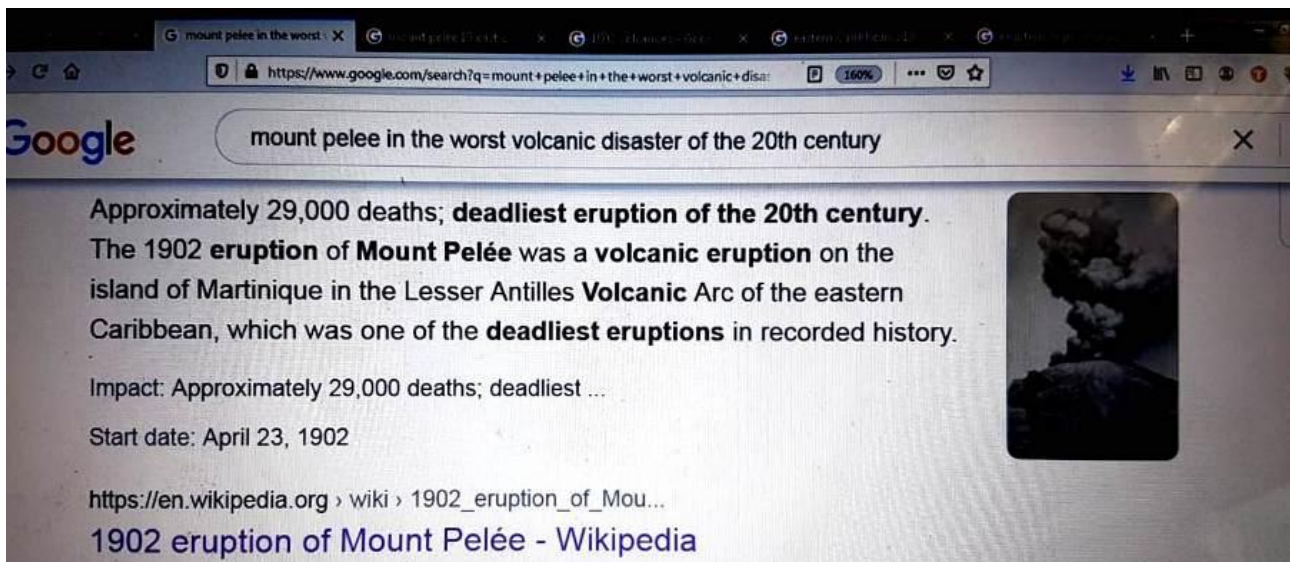

Historians say that severe volcanic activity started on Mount Krakatoa on 19 May 1883 and the volcano erupted on 20 May 1883

Historians say that after Mount Krakatoa erupted on 20 May 1883, by the end of May 1883, the activity had died down. Historians say that volcanic activity restarted on 19 June 1883 and died down again on 28 August 1883

19 years after the eruption of Mount Krakatoa, - Mount Pelee erupted in 1902.

Many historians say that the eruption Mount Pelee was the deadliest eruption of the 20th century

Historians say that the eruption of Mount Pelee created a cloud that went 19 to 22 kilometres high into the air

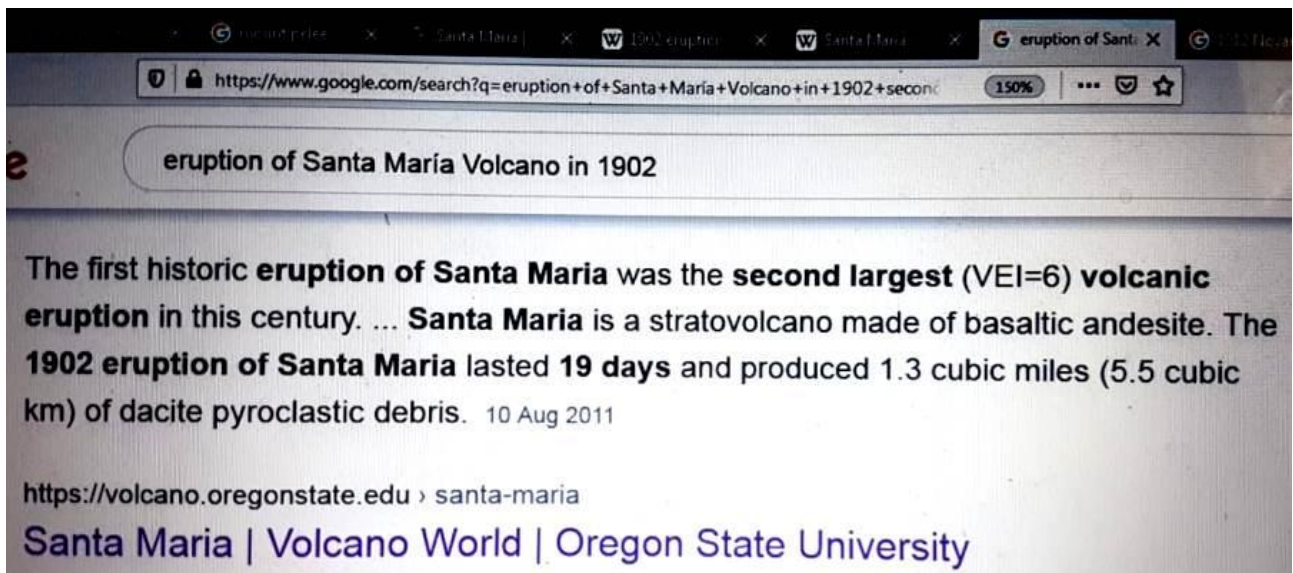

Mount Pelee is classified to be one of the 19 active volcanoes of the eastern Caribbean. This classification was decided by historians and their academic allies

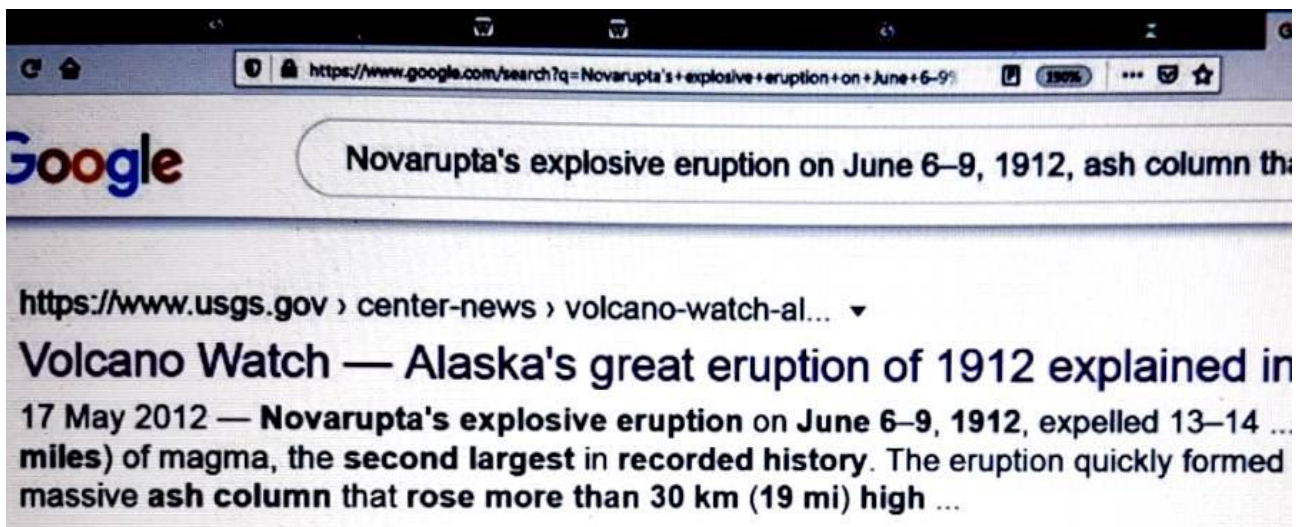

19 years after the eruption of Mount Krakatoa, - Mount Soufriere erupted in 1902, but this volcano erupted many times between 1902 and 1903 and was described as one of the worst eruptions of the 20th century. Mount Soufriere is classified to be one of the 19 active volcanoes of the eastern Caribbean

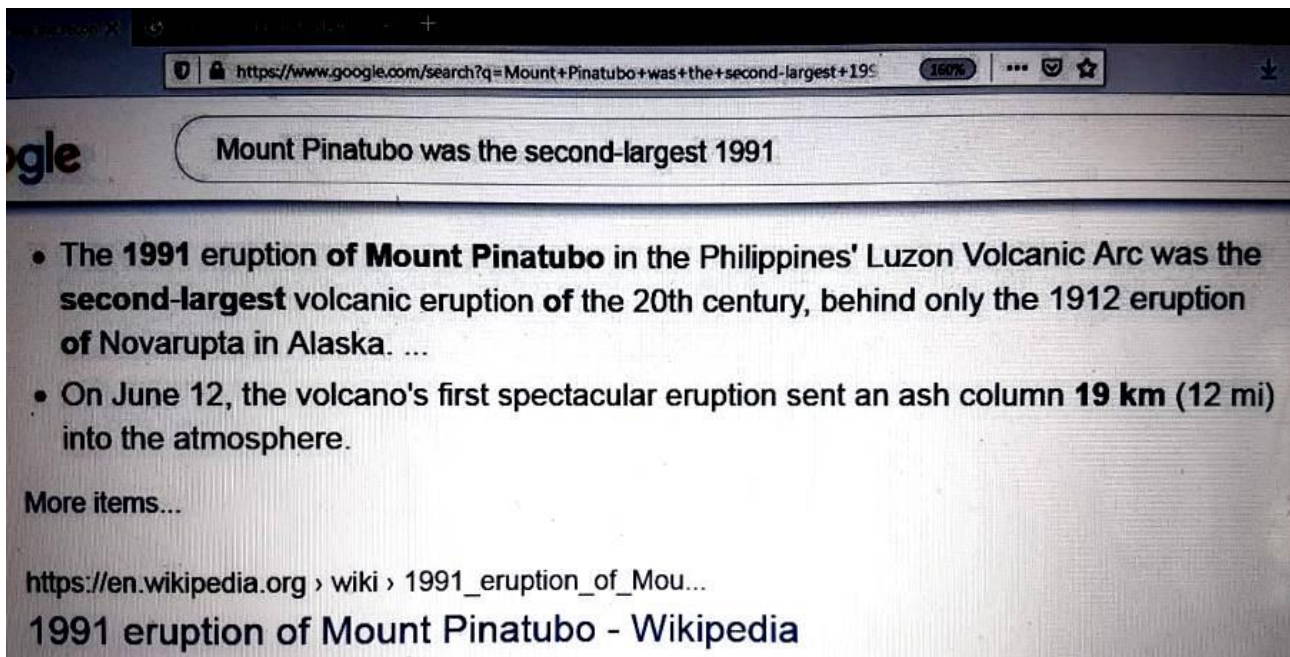

19 years after the eruption of Mount Krakatoa, - Mount Santa Maria in Guatemala erupted in 1902. This was one of the three largest eruptions of the 20th century according to historians, - after the 1912 Novarupta eruption and the 1991 Pinatubo eruption

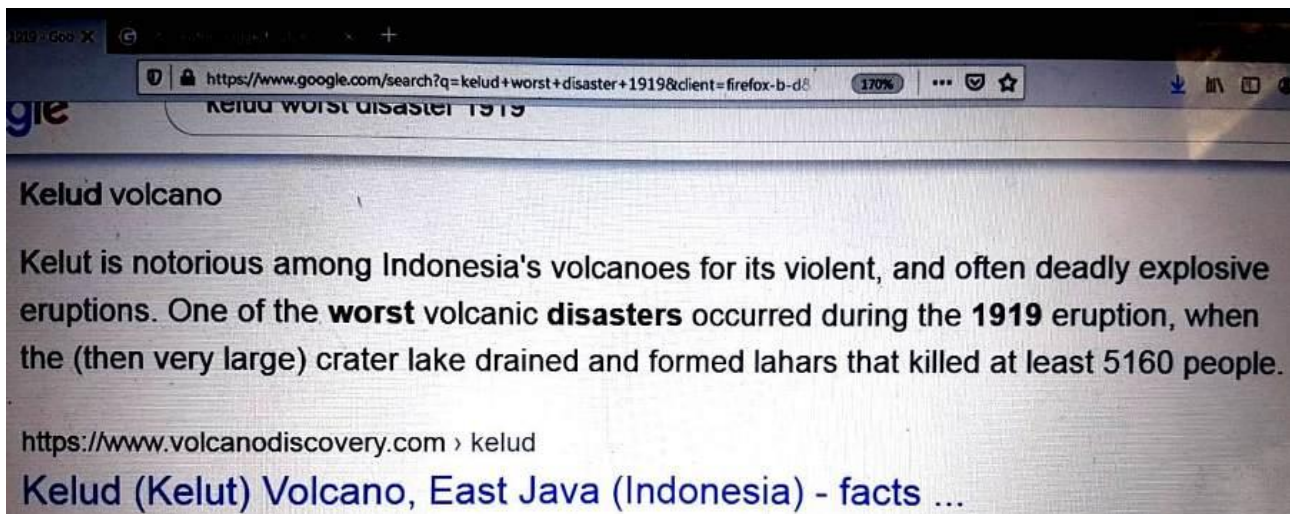

The eruption of Mount Santa Maria in Guatemala lasted for 19 days

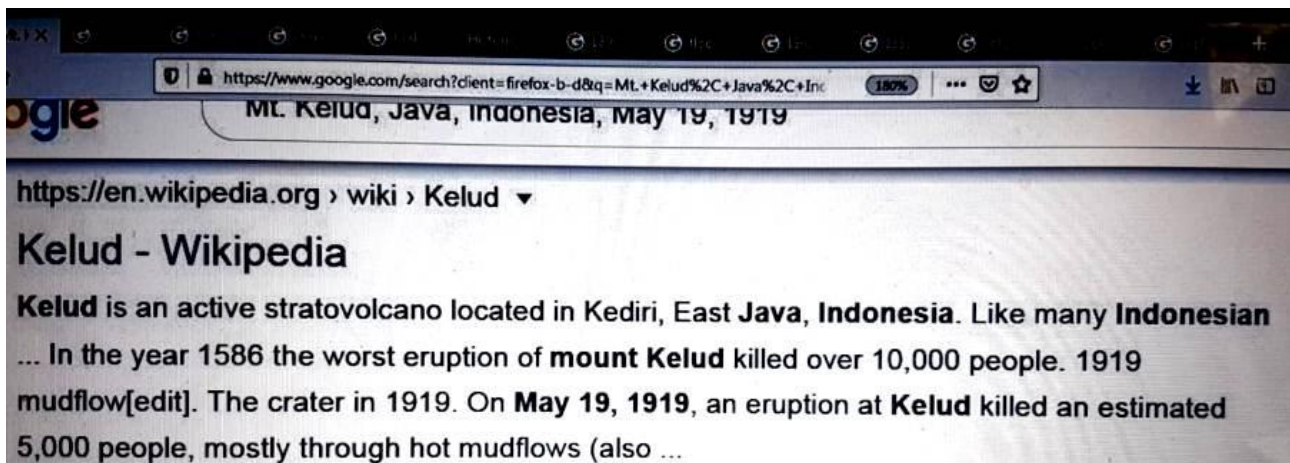

The eruption of Mount Novarupta in Alaska, took place in 1912 and created a cloud of ash that went more than 19 miles into the air

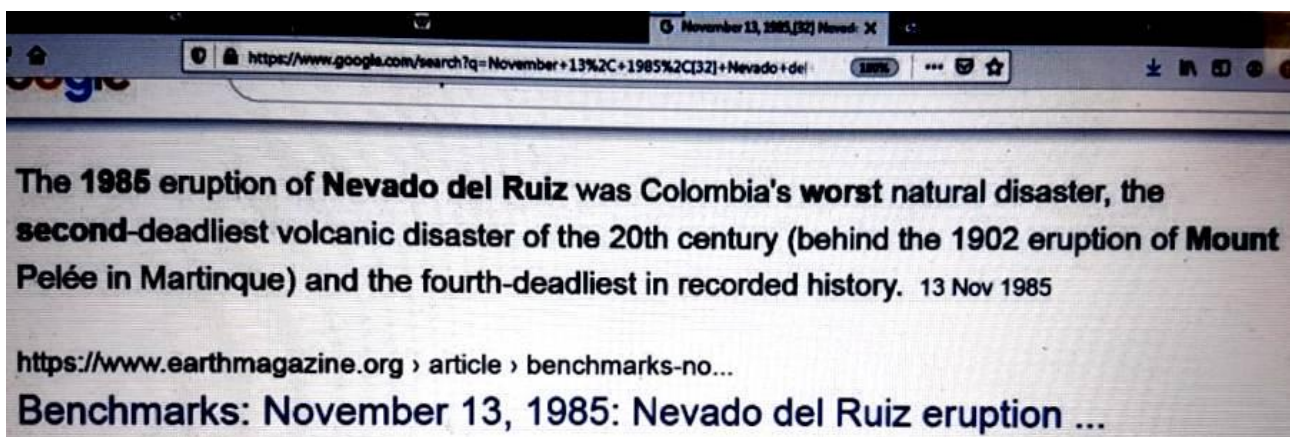

The eruption of Mount Pinatubo in the Philippines, took place in 1991 and created a cloud of ash that went 19 miles into the air

Historians say that one the worst volcanic disasters took place in 1919 because of the eruption of Mount Kelud in Indonesia

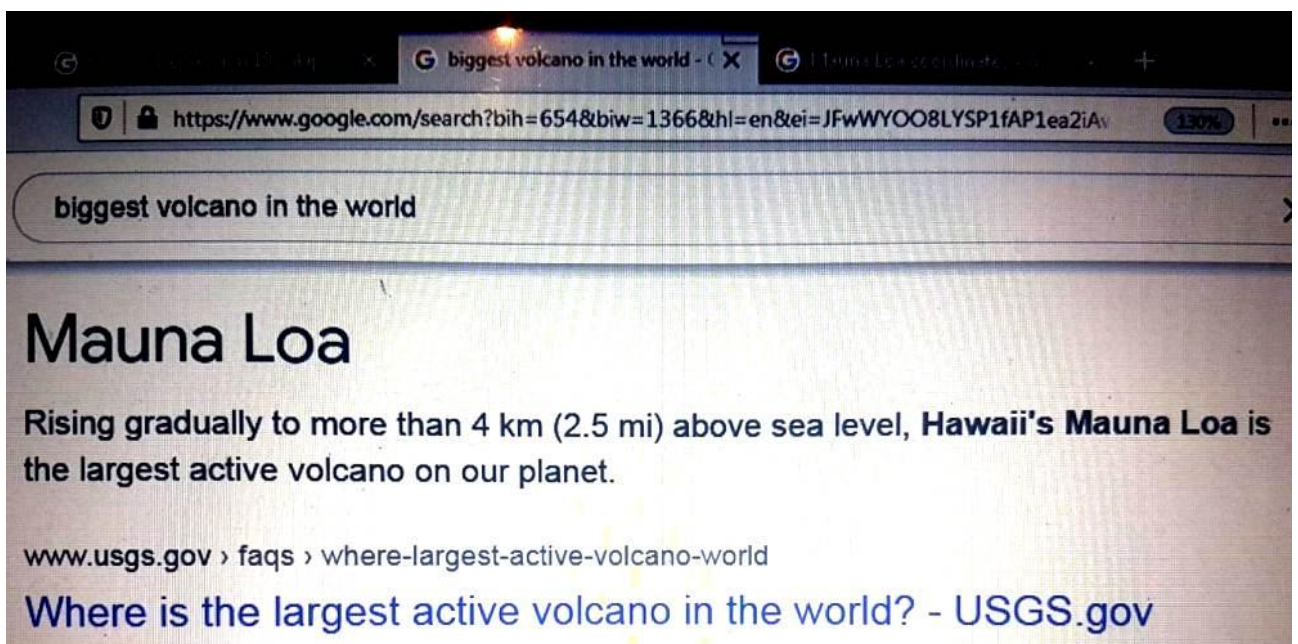

Mount Kelud erupted on 19 May 1919

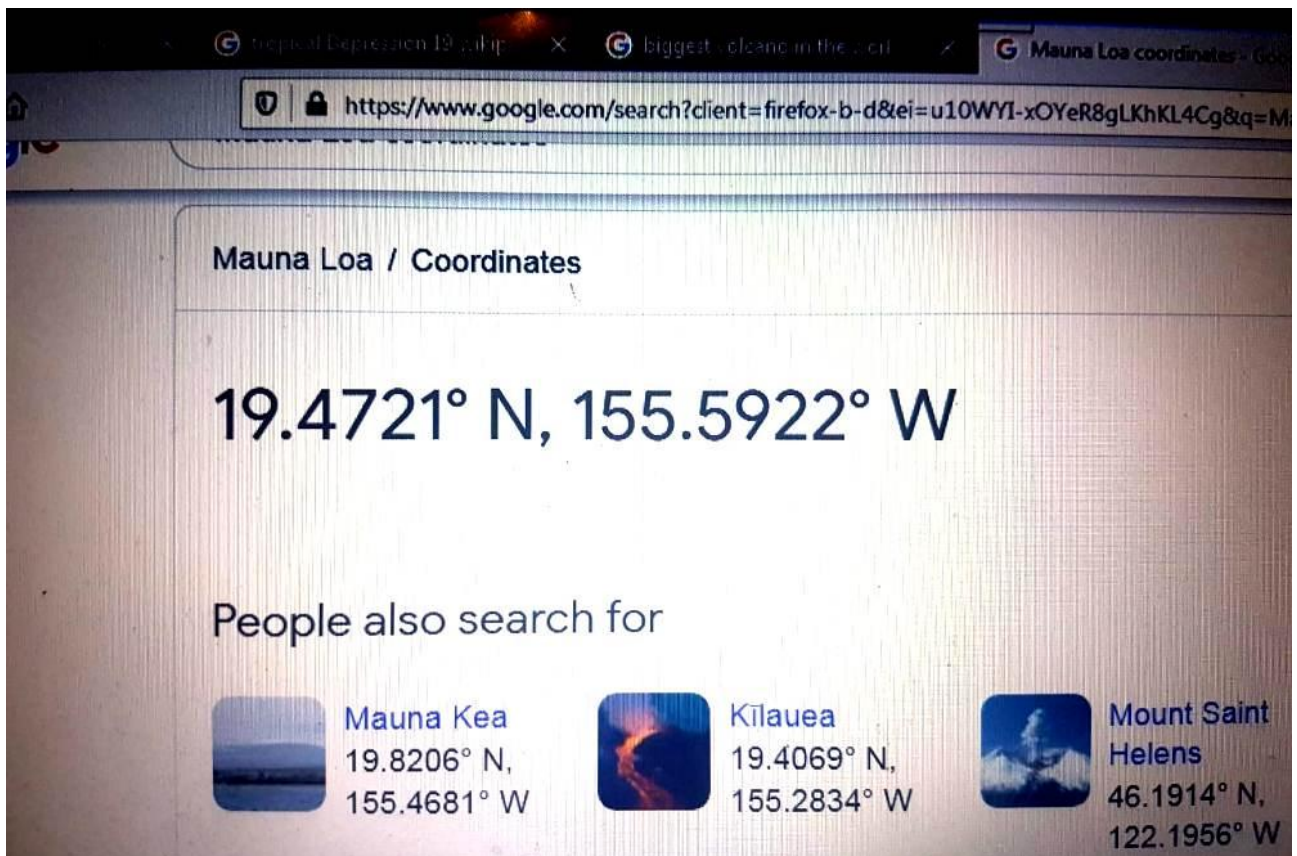

The eruption of Mount Nevado del Ruiz in Colombia, was one of the worst volcanic disasters of the 20th century

Mount Nevado del Ruiz created a cloud of ash consisting of “dacitic tephra” that went 19 miles into the air

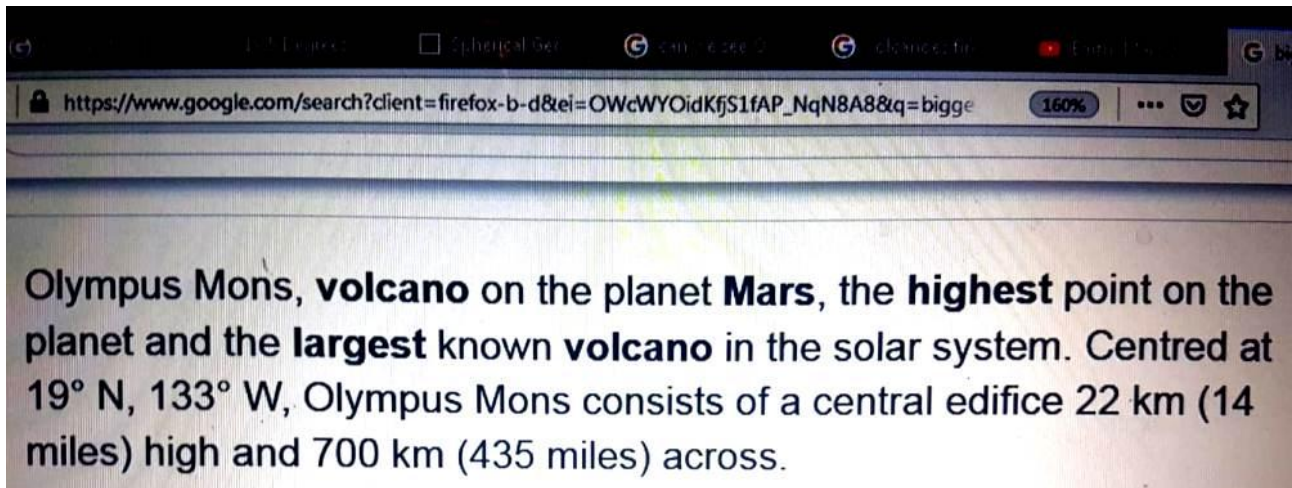

According to historians, Mount Loa in Hawaii is the biggest or largest volcano in the world.

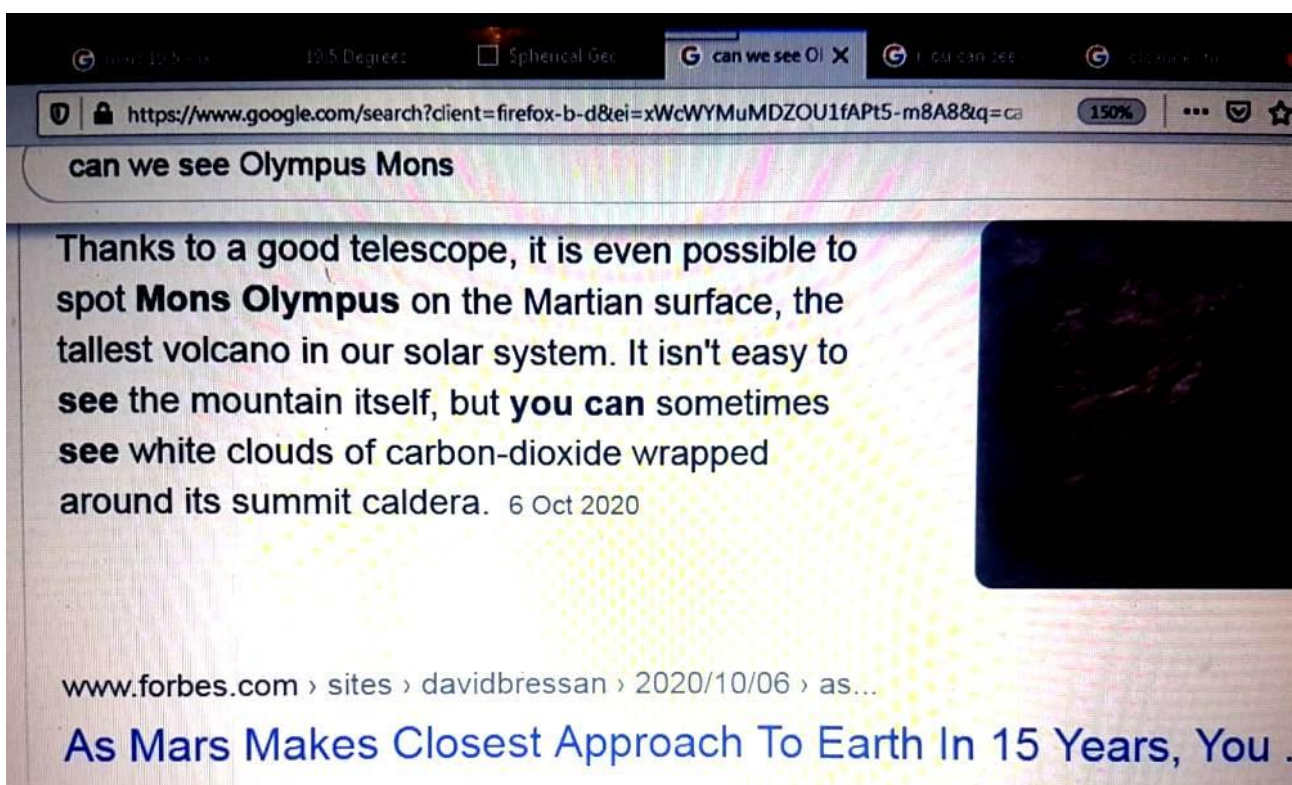

Mount Loa, Hawaii, is located 19 degrees north

According to historians, the largest known volcano on the planet Mars is called Olympus Mons

Olympus Mons, is located 19 degrees north

Olympus Mons is said to be the largest known volcano in our solar system.

Can the existence of Olympus Mons be verified?

This is something researchers are examining right now

There was too much suspicious data in the history of volcanoes, with regard to the major volcano eruptions, that were being told to the world by historians and the global media.

It was ridiculous and impossible for the number 19 to appear in the heart of the major mathematical data in these major volcano eruptions. Historians based a lot of their data on guesses and theories. A lot of the data was clearly fraudulently invented

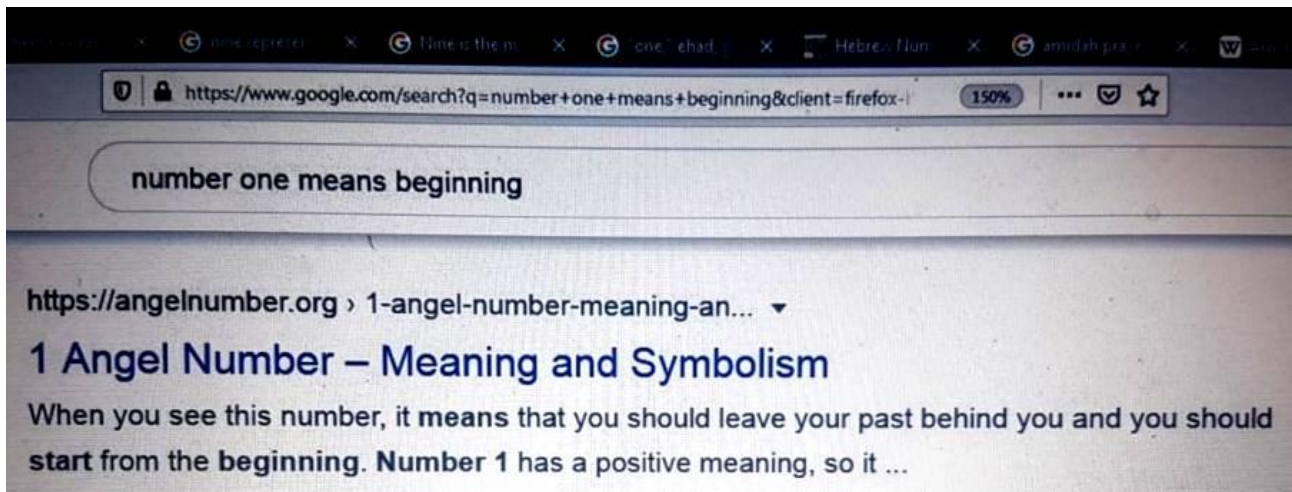

Mount Vesuvius A.D.79. - sent volcanic ashes: - 9 and 19 miles into the air - were historians there to record this data? What proof do they have? It was nothing but theories and guesses. There is no proper evidence from that time to show that the volcano erupted on that date

Mount Vesuvius erupted for around 19 hours - what evidence do they have from that time to show it was 19 hours? Nothing... the oldest records for this event are not reliable and are from the Renaissance times or after

Similar suspicious mathematical data was found in a lot of historical data. This was nothing new to researchers. Researchers concluded that the history of volcanoes was nothing but a lie. The fraudulent history and mathematical data was created in order to hide true world history

What is this number 19?

The number 1 normally represents the beginning. It also represents One God

The number 9 normally represents the end

In the Book of Revelation in the Bible it says that:

God is the first and the last
God is the Alpha and Omega
God is the beginning and the end

The beginning is 1

The end is 9

1 - 9

19

The number 19 was a mathematical symbol to represent God

Photo above - Round Church, Cambridge, England

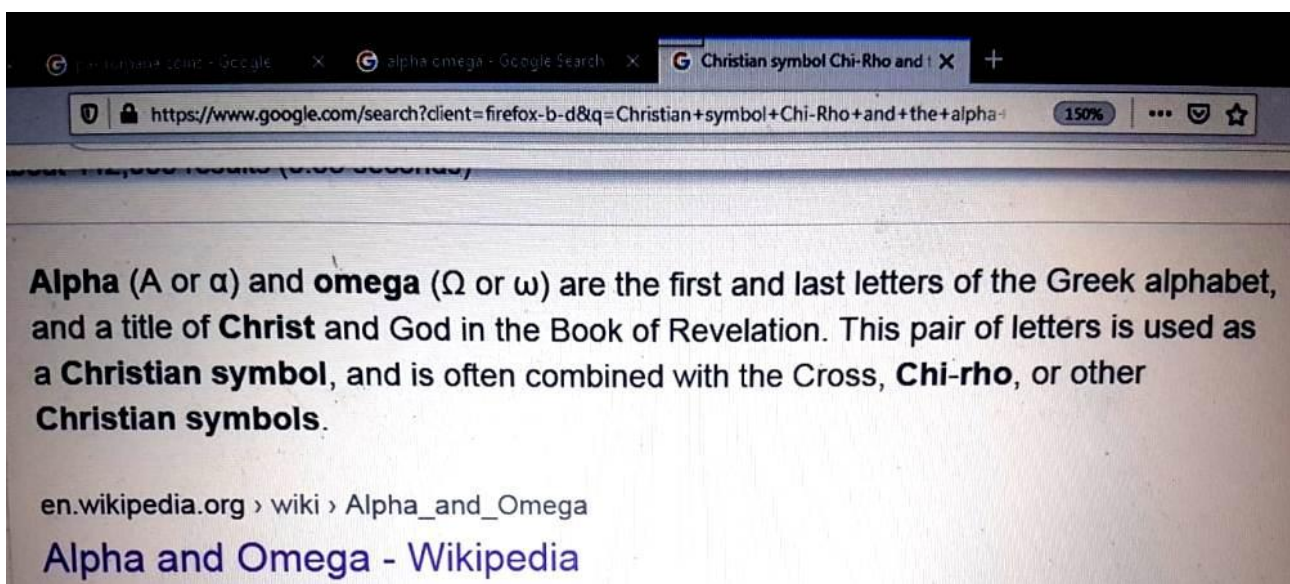

The building is estimated to be 900 years old and is one of the oldest churches in England. Researchers noted that historical buildings and their contents had been modified many times throughout the past. Researchers also noted that the dating of the construction of this building could not be verified

Photo above - window in the Round Church, Cambridge

The symbol in the photo above is a very famous Roman symbol found in many places and on many historical relics. It is known as Pax Romana (the Roman Peace). It looks like a P and X. There are 2 other characters in the photo, known as the Alpha and the Omega.

The Romans were famous for using the symbols that are today known as the Alpha and the Omega.

Historians claim that they are Greek letters and claim that they are allegedly Christian symbols

What researchers found very strange was that the Alpha and the Omega in the Pax Romana look exactly like the symbol for Allah (God in Arabic). Alpha is known as Aleph in Arabic

Researchers concluded that the Pax Romana - was the Peace of Allah or the Peace of God

Pax means peace. Islam - or - Salam means peace.

Rahmana means merciful God in Arabic

Photo below - shows the letters for the Alpha and the Omega from Pax Romana, - and - it also shows the letters for the symbols used to write the word Allah in the Arabic language

Omega

Alpha

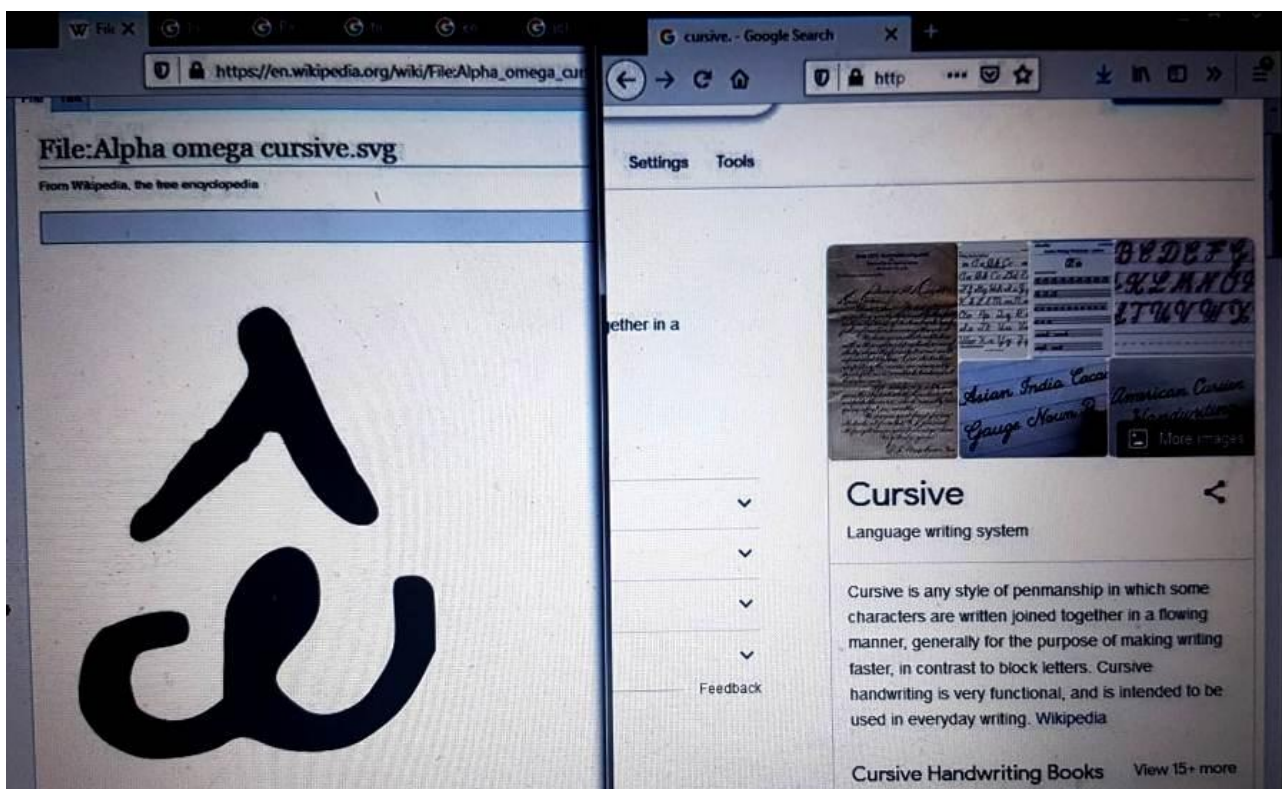

The Alpha and Omega and number 19 or the Arabic word Allah has been for used centuries for the name of God

The Bible says that God is the Alpha and the Omega. It has been known for centuries that Alpha and Omega are the symbol for God. The Muslims are the main people in the world who use this symbol today

This symbol was used by the great grandfathers of the people of Europe and America. Today, many of the people in Europe and America are no longer aware of this

It was clear that the number 19 is a mathematical representation of Alah or Elah or God, and the people in power know what this number represents. They seem to be using this number and other numbers for their own agendas. The science of sacred mathematics and sacred geometry was taken seriously in the old world education system.

The photo above shows what the Alpha and the Omega normally looked like when they were written down

The symbol for God as described in the book of Revelation, in the Bible was Allah. The symbol for God found in Churches was Allah. The symbol for God used by the Romans was Allah. This symbol was found in many historical places and on many historical objects. But historians and the Churches organisations mysteriously cannot see what this symbol is Historians can say whatever they want - even a child can notice that the Alpha and the Omega is Allah.

The current Christian Bible, even with its hundreds of fraudulent modifications, shows that the name for God was Allah

In the Hebrew Bible there are 4 major words used for God - El, Elah, Eloah, and Elohim

In Judaism today, there are many words used for God such as Hashem and the Tetragrammaton

In the Arabic Koran, there are many words used for God, but one word that is known worldwide is Alah or Allah. Another word that is used in Islam is the word Alahum or Allahum

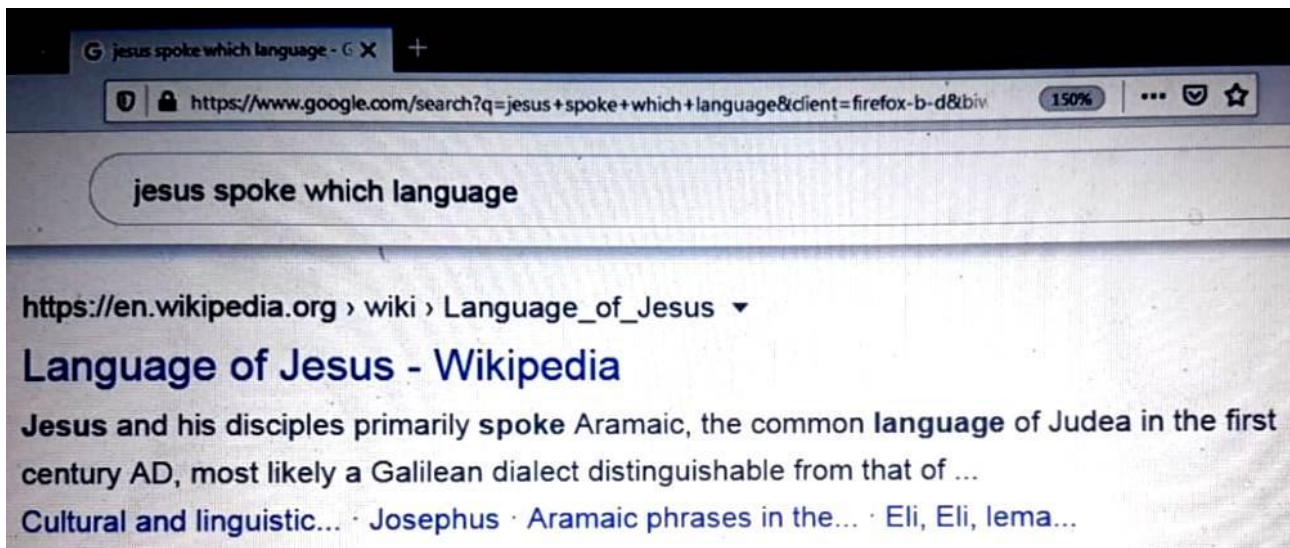

In Aramaic the word for God is - Elah or Alah, depending on how you wish to pronounce it

Researchers noted that different people wrote these words down in different ways in modern languages.

Different people in different parts of the world, pronounce words in different ways

Alah and Elah were the same word that was written and pronounced differently depending on the people

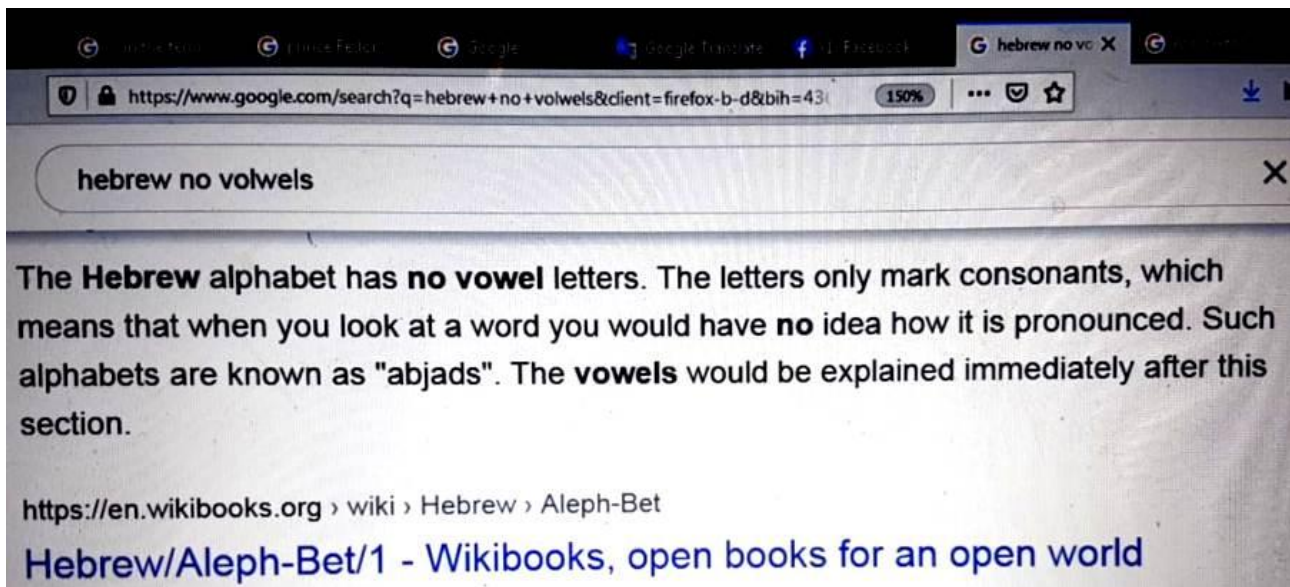

Historians say that Jesus Christ spoke a language called Aramaic

What is clear is that Jesus Christ and his original followers used the word - Elah or Alah. Jesus did not speak English or French or Spanish. Most modern followers of Jesus Christ today, are no longer aware of this because of the changes in history. Many Christians today that use the word Elah or Alah - are normally people who live in the Middle East.

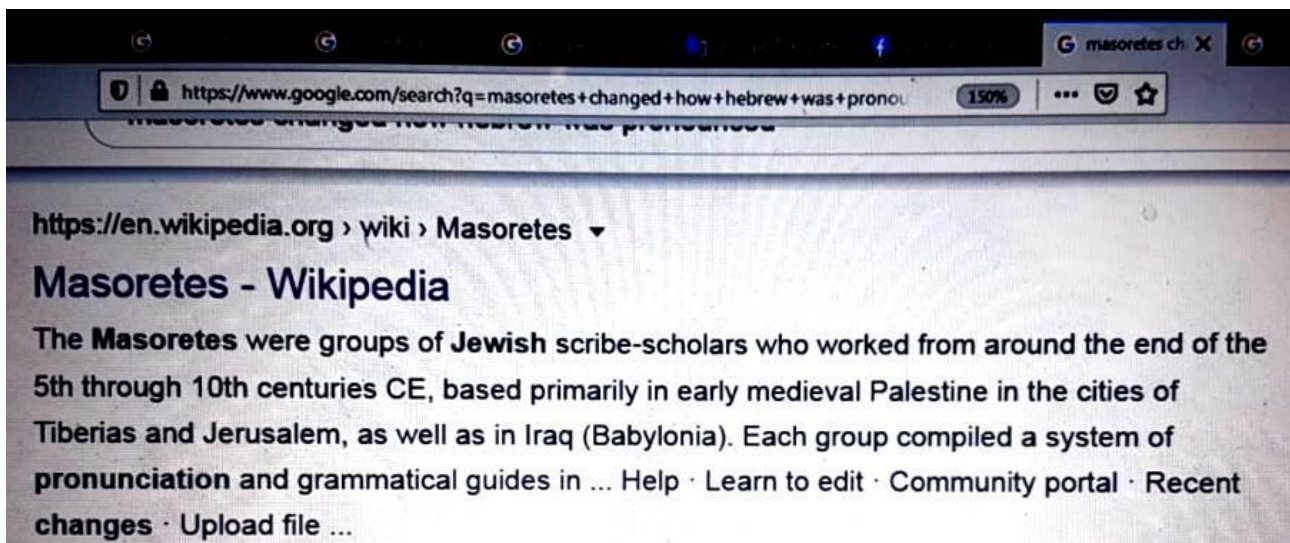

The main groups of people in the world today who call God - Elah or Alah, are the Jewish people and the Muslims

Was the original word for God - Allah or Elah?

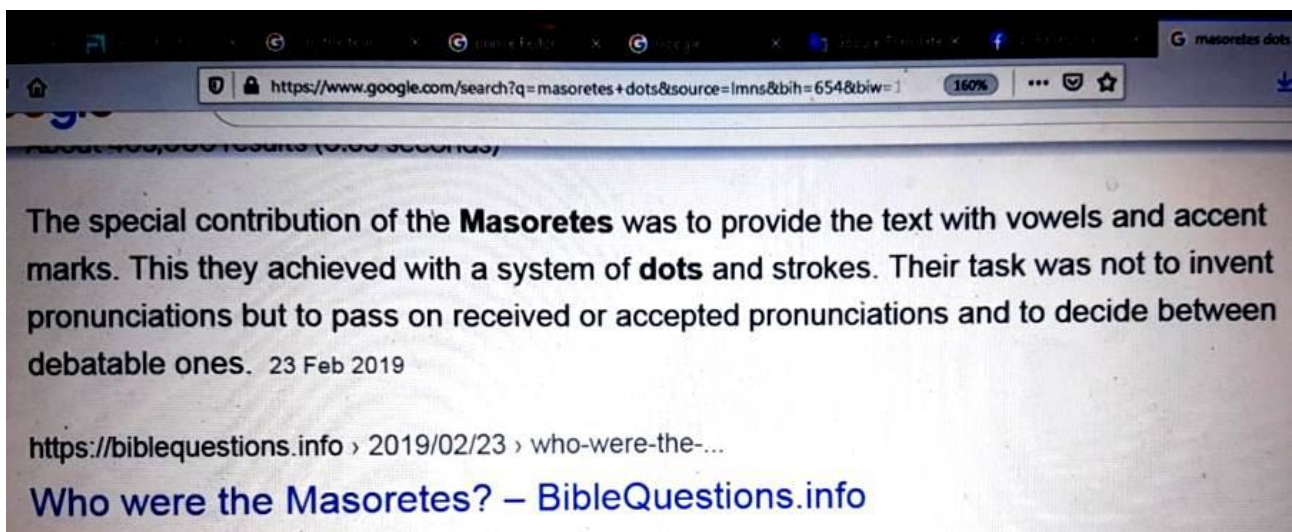

The Hebrew alphabet has no vowels.

So the word for God, is it Elah or Allah?

In the Middle Ages or Dark Ages a groups of scholars decided to create a new system of how to pronounce Hebrew or Aramaic words, according to what they wanted. These groups of people were known as the Masoretes. Many researchers believe that this history has been falsified to match the fake historical timeline.

Many researchers believe that these Masoretes took place during and after the Renaissance

What is the Masoretes?

The Masoretes show you how to pronounce a word by adding dots and strokes (circles or lines)

Here we can see the Hebrew word for Elah and Allah. The word is exactly the same, but the dots and lines are placed differently. Without the dots and lines, the word for God was originally pronounced Allah, by Jews and Muslims and Christians

These dots and lines were created by a group of men called “scholars” by historians. These men are called the Masoretes. They decided that the word for God - Allah, should now be pronounced Elah. Who were these men and what gave them the right to decide this?

It was clear that the original word for God was Allah

A similar thing happened to the words: - Eropean and Arapean, Eropa and Arapa and Arabe, European and Arabean. They were clearly the same word, but the way that they were pronounced, was deliberately changed

The Masoretes, what they did was not small. It now meant that people will pronounce words according to how scholars decide and this helped to change and modify the original language that people used

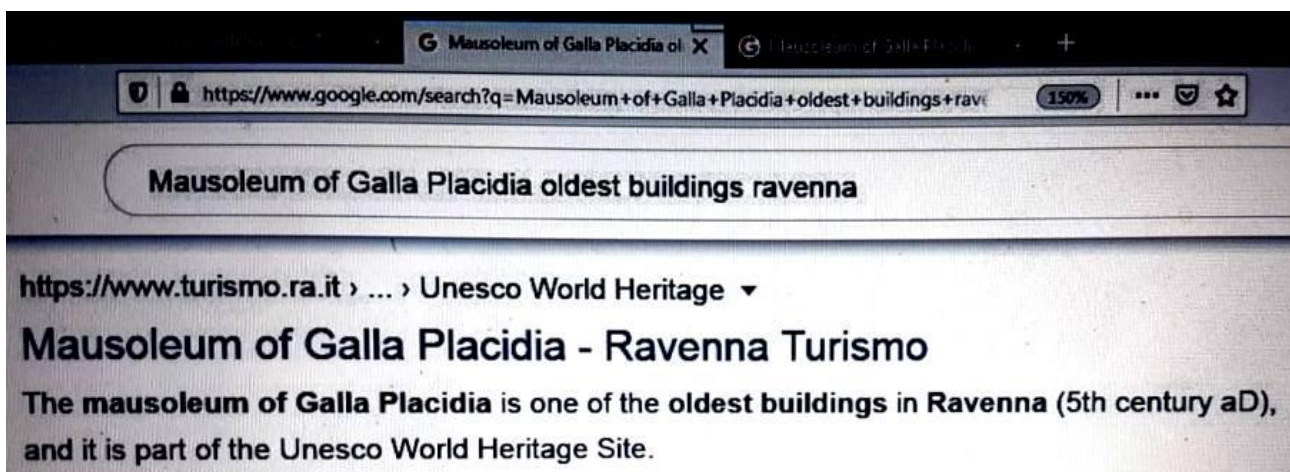

Many other scholars totally changed words and how they were spelt. It meant that original Arabic and Hebrew words became divided and different. A similar thing happened during and after the Renaissance and in recent times, when modern languages were given to people in the nation states

Who the hell are these scholars and experts anyway?
What gave them the right to do these things?

The evidence clearly shows that the Alpha and Omega represents Allah. The evidence clearly shows that Allah is the name used for God by Jesus Christ and other people in the Bible. But no one wants to admit the truth.

Allah was the original name used for God by the original Christians and the original followers of the Prophet Moses.

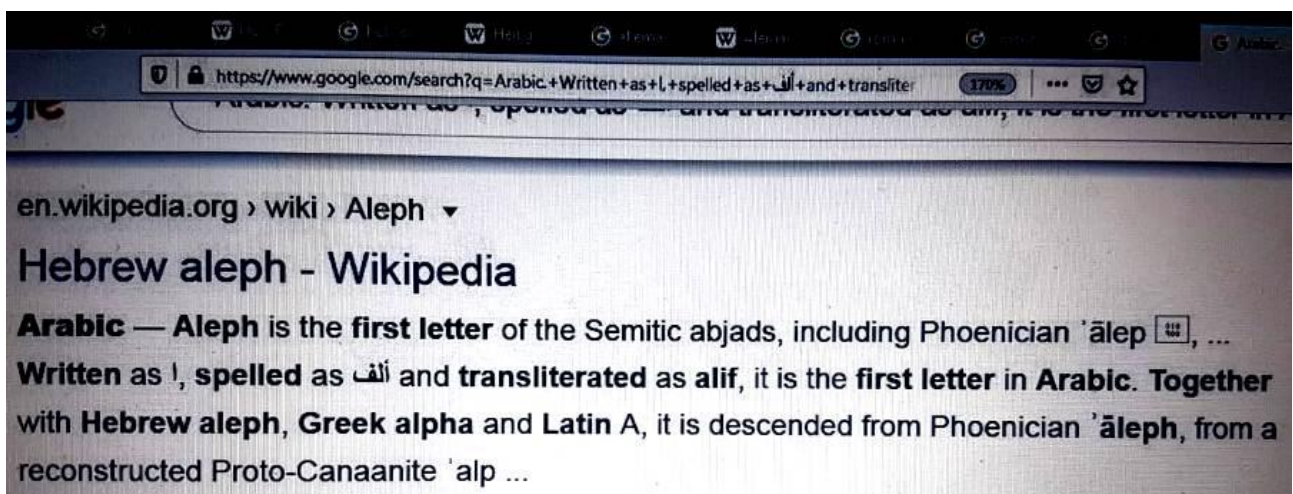

Instead, historians and their allies, tell pathetic stories. This is why the people of the world, do not even know this simple history

The Mausoleum of Galla Placidia is estimated to be 1500 years old and is one of the oldest buildings in the city of Ravenna, Italy

The photo above is from the Mausoleum of Galla Placidia. Inside the building the symbol for Allah, the Alpha and Omega can be seen. Many buildings have been modified in the last few centuries. Researchers noted this. One thing that was clear was that the Alpha symbol looked like the modern letter: - A

The modern letter A is from Latin. Historians say that this was created from the Greek letter Alpha. Historians say that Alpha came from Middle Eastern languages such as Hebrew and Arabic. Historians say that it came from the Phoenicians, but that history was found by researchers to be a lie. In Hebrew and Arabic, today it is called Aleph. Different pronunciations only, nothing difficult to understand

God is the Alpha and Omega. God is not the Elpha and Omega. It was always the letter A and not E. Fraudulent scholars, - changed the pronunciation of the word Allah to Elah, when they wrote their fraudulent Bibles. Jesus Christ did not speak Greek or Latin. This also clearly shows that the current Bible and the many different manuscripts that we have, were written after they changed the word Allah to Elah

The history of languages and how they were formed was another lie. The history was based on the theory of evolution, which does not match historical evidence seen around the world. Many researchers found evidence which showed that the Latin and Greek and Cyrillic alphabets were created from the writing system of the Arabic Koran.

The modern English alphabet A-B-C-D-E-F-G-H-I-J-K-L-M-N-O-P-Q-R-S-T-U-V-W-X-Y-Z, and other similar ones were created from Arabic. Scholars who worked for their masters, changed the writing styles and designs, - and created new alphabets, all around the world, during and after the Renaissance, but that story is too long to mention here.

The Arabic Koran actually sends a message to humanity with regard to the number 19 in Chapter 74. Researchers noted that the number 74 appeared often in major events and also it had other meanings in gematria (too long to mention this story here)

Chapter 74 basically says that Elah or Allah or God - will make the bad people burn as a punishment for what they have done. It says - But what will explain to you what this burning is? ... Over it are Nineteen -19. We have appointed only angels to be guardians of the fire, and have made their number to be a trial and a test for those who do not believe, so that those people who were given the previous Scriptures (such as the Torah and the Book of Christ and the Book of David), so that they may know for sure what is the truth, and those who believe may have more faith, and those who were given the previous Scriptures and the believers will have no doubts. And those people whose hearts have a disease, and the people who do not believe, will say, - "What is God trying to teach us?"... This is one of the greatest warnings to mankind.

Today, sacred mathematics and sacred geometry seem to be hidden away from normal people. But many people say that it is taught in secret organisations around the world. One group of people who study this sacred mathematics are certain religious Jewish people. Another group of people who study this sacred science is the followers of the Arabic Koran. There seems to be a war against these people in the world today in order to destroy them, - but that is another story which is too long to mention here.

Many researchers found evidence that the word “Allah” was used by churches before the 18th century. For example - Anatoly Fomenko presented evidence that Allah was used by the Russian Church before the 18th century. Anatoly Fomenko also presented evidence that the Arabic Koran was used in churches

Many researchers have shown evidence that the current Christian Bible was created during and after the Renaissance.

Many researchers found evidence that Churches around the world used the word “Allah” and had the Arabic Koran before the new global system took over.

Most churches before the 17th century were not controlled by modern Church organisations. The original churches were taken over by force or were destroyed

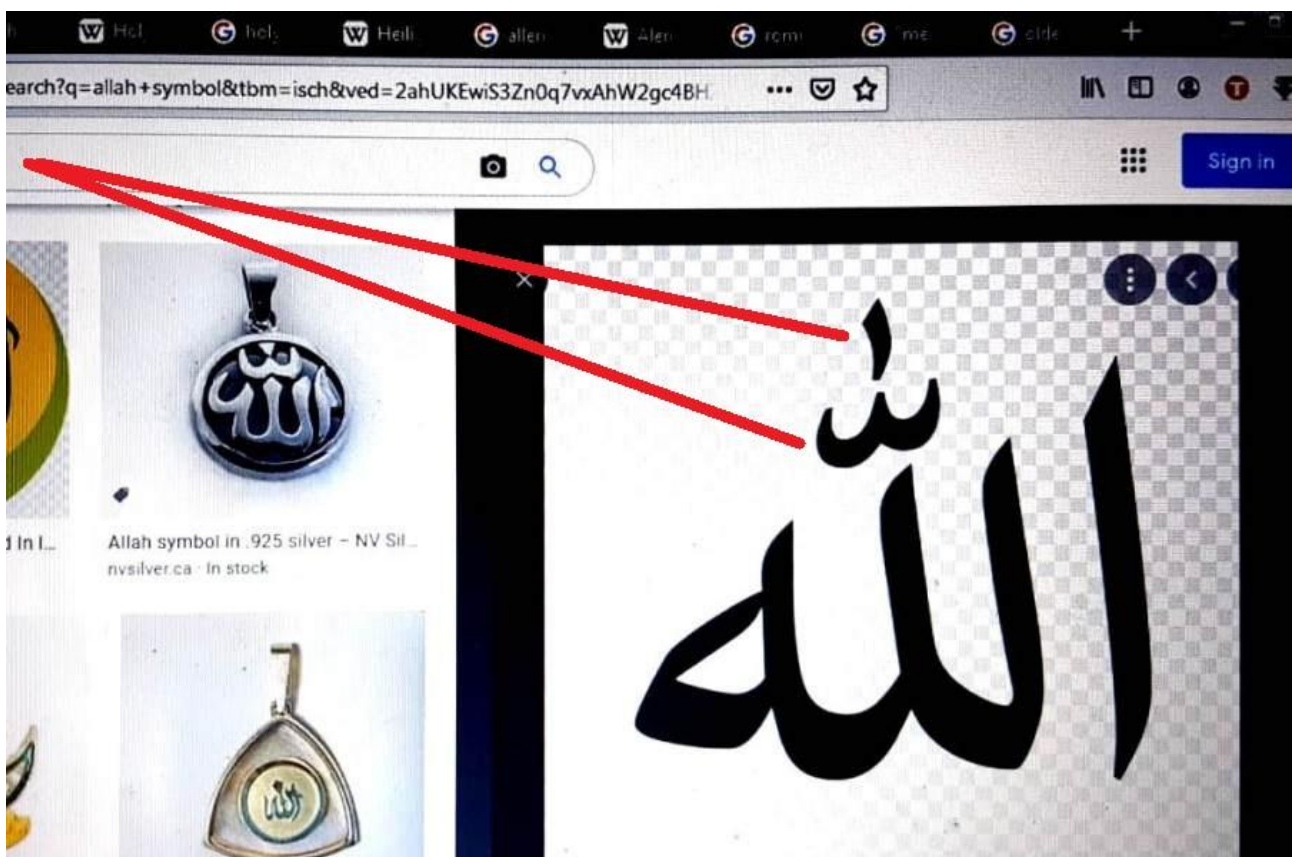

Therefore it is normal to see the symbol for Alpha and Omega or “Allah” in Churches and in many other places that were used by the “original Christians”. Why would they use the word “Allah”? Were they not Christians? Historians they said they hated Muslims. Or - were historians telling lies about the history of “original Christianity”?

This question is being investigated by researchers

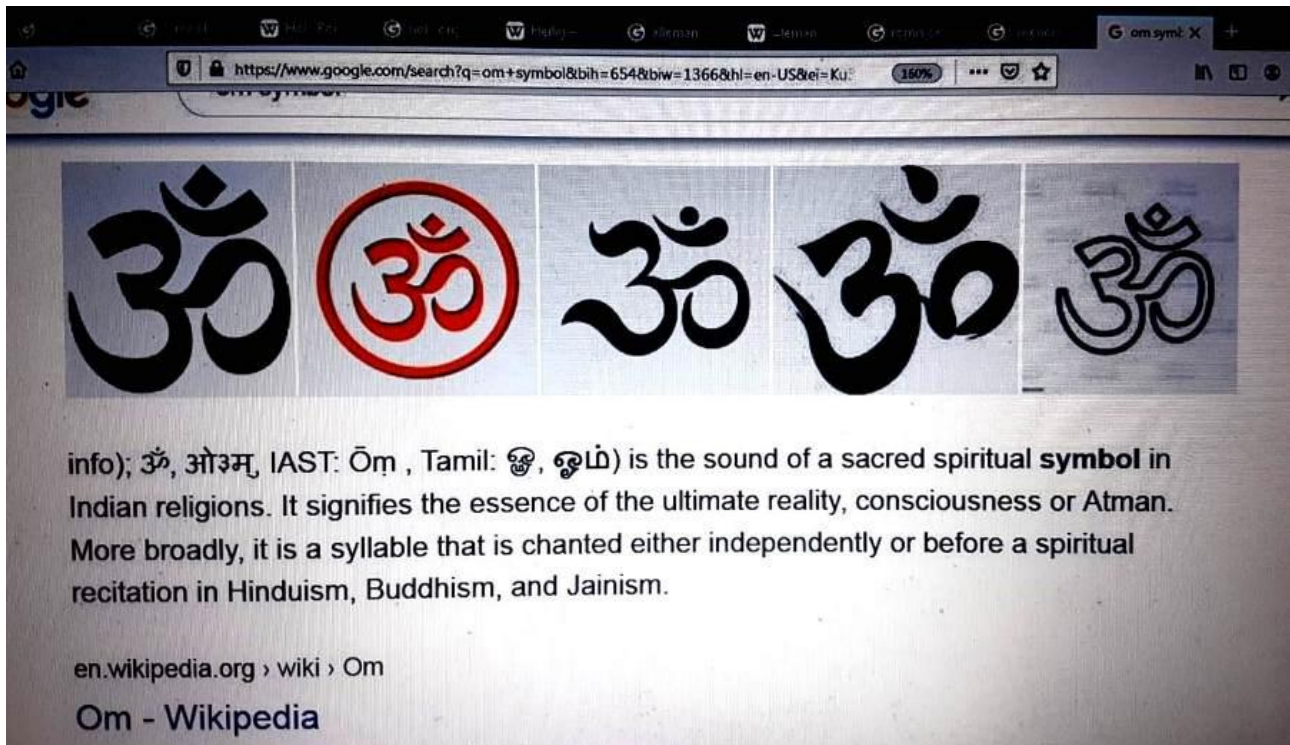

The photo above shows small markings that have been added to Arabic writing. The column on the right hand side shows the original, and the left hand side shows example of modern Arabic. After the new world education system was created by the Church and its allies, the Arabic writing system had new marks introduced by different political states. Many of these states were directly created by colonial empires that were connected to the Church and its allies

Evidence shows that these marks did not really exist before the Renaissance. Modern historians give a similar story to the Hebrew alphabet. They say that these marks were introduced to help people pronounce words. Researchers found evidence that this was deliberately done in order to create new languages in the Middle East and Central Asia in the last few centuries, but that story is too long to mention here

Even the writing style and design of Arabic has changed over the centuries and new markings have been added to the symbol for Allah. The symbol above became common for the word Allah in many places around the world in the last 2 centuries

The symbol Allah was not only seen in the western world, researchers found something similar in the eastern world also.

The photo above shows one of the most famous symbols of Hinduism in many countries around the world, especially India

The symbol is known as Om and signifies the essence of ultimate reality. Different Indian religions and groups, interpret this symbol in different ways. Different groups and regions and religions write this symbol in different ways. The most common way that this symbol is written, is shown above

Devanagari Sanskrit

Tamil

Tibetan

Balinese

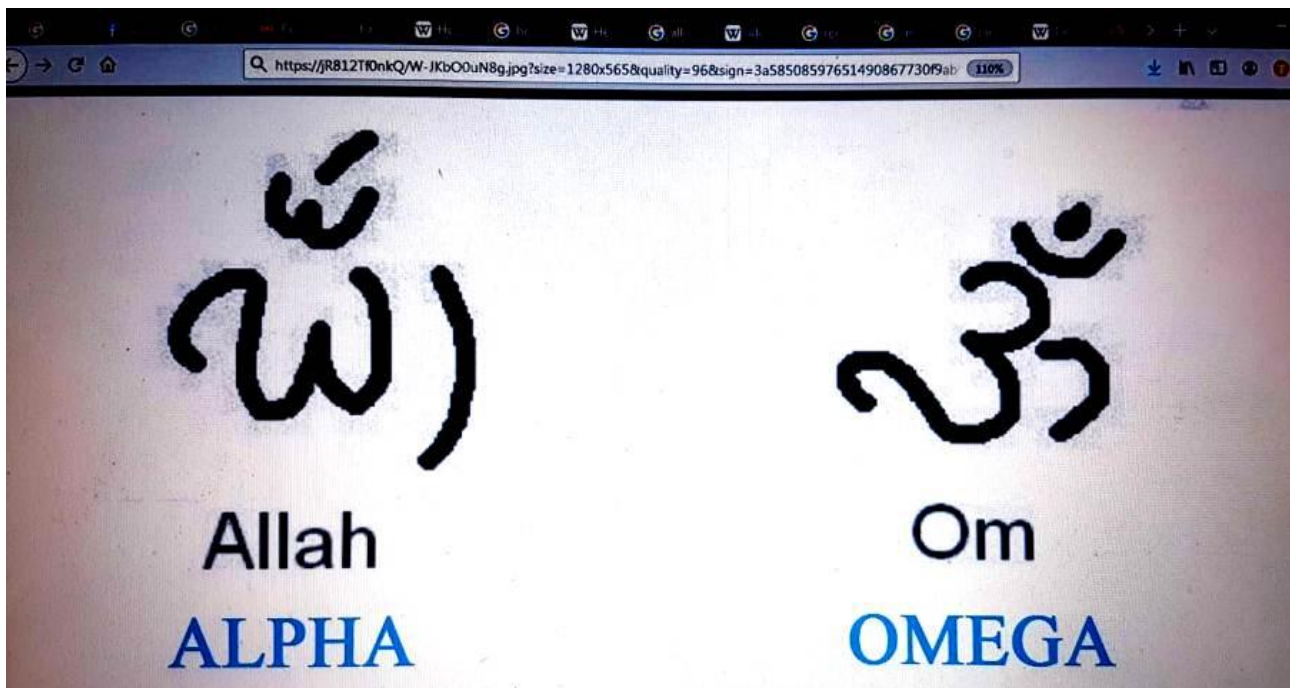

Bengali

Jain

The photo above shows the modern symbol for Allah and the major designs for the Indian symbol known as Om. Researchers noticed that they all looked similar to the word for Allah

Many people pointed out that the main symbol for Om was just a modification of the symbol for Allah

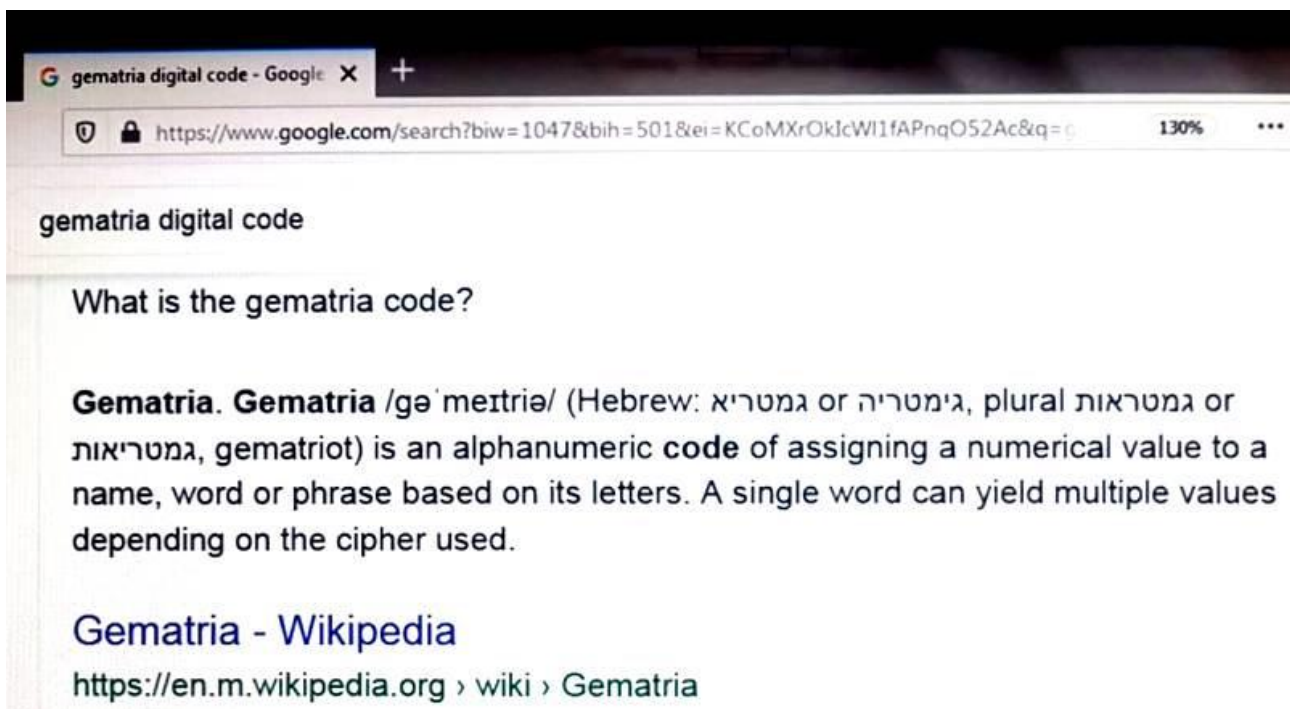

Many researchers concluded by investigating Indian history: - that whoever modified the symbol for Allah was working for the Church and its colonial allies, and they gave it the name Om. This was very suspicious, because it was clearly taken from the word Omega.

Many people are saying that the word Allah was copied from Sanskrit. But evidence shows that no one could even speak Sanskrit in India before the 19th century, so this was impossible.

Also most Sanskrit documents were mysteriously found recently, and collected recently, after the 18th century, by the Church and her colonial allies. Europeans and their allies found most of the Sanskrit and Indian historical documents and collected them. These Sanskrit documents, the local people in India, even they could not read or understand this writing before the 19th century, which was very suspicious. Historians had an answer for this - they called it lost ancient history, they said the same thing all over the world

Researchers who investigated the history of India, could not find true Indian history, and this is why many researchers concluded that: - India has no history

Gematria is basically a code of assigning a numerical value to a name, word or phrase based on its letters. Every single word can have multiple values depending on the method used.

What is a digital language? Most of you probably don't know. But many of the modern languages we use are digital languages and they have a digital gematria - maths code. When the digital gematria - maths code - is examined carefully - we can clearly see - that these modern languages did not evolve and they must have created on a digital platform - such as a computer and they were then given to us - or the language was created based on a language that already had a digital gematria - maths code.

Researchers point out that anyone who has access to digital technology can easily make a new digital language himself, with digital codes and patterns and can add sounds to it, and they can create a new language as they wish. Another way they can easily create a new language and alphabet - with a digital code - is if they based the new language - on a language that already has a digital gematria - maths code.

Here is an example of Greek gematria. Many historians claim that gematria was developed by humans but researchers dispute this. Gematria is so advanced that a computer is needed to understand and calculate it - in many cases of gematria - we can see amazing digital patterns and codes related to nature and the world that we live in. The table below shows a simple gematria chart for the Greek language and the maths values for the words Jesus and Christ. There are of course different types of gematria, some types with more advanced mathematics involved.

Alpha	Beta	Gamma	Delta	Epsilon	Zeta	Eta	Theta	Iota	Kappa	Lambda	Mu
Α	Β	Γ	Δ	Ε	Ζ	Η	Θ	Ι	Κ	Λ	Μ
α	β	γ	δ	ε	ζ	η	θ	ι	κ	λ	μ
1	2	3	4	5	7	8	9	10	20	30	40
Nu	Xi	Omicron	Pi	Rho	Sigma	Tau	Upsilon	Phi	Chi	Psi	Omega
Ν	Ξ	Ο	Π	Ρ	Σ	Τ	Υ	Φ	Χ	Ψ	Ω
ν	ξ	ο	π	ρ	σ, ς	τ	υ	φ	χ	ψ	ω
50	60	70	80	100	200	300	400	500	600	700	800
Ιησους		Jesus		$10 + 8 + 200 + 70 + 400 + 200 = 888$
Χριστος		Christ		$600 + 100 + 10 + 200 + 300 + 70 + 200 = 1480$

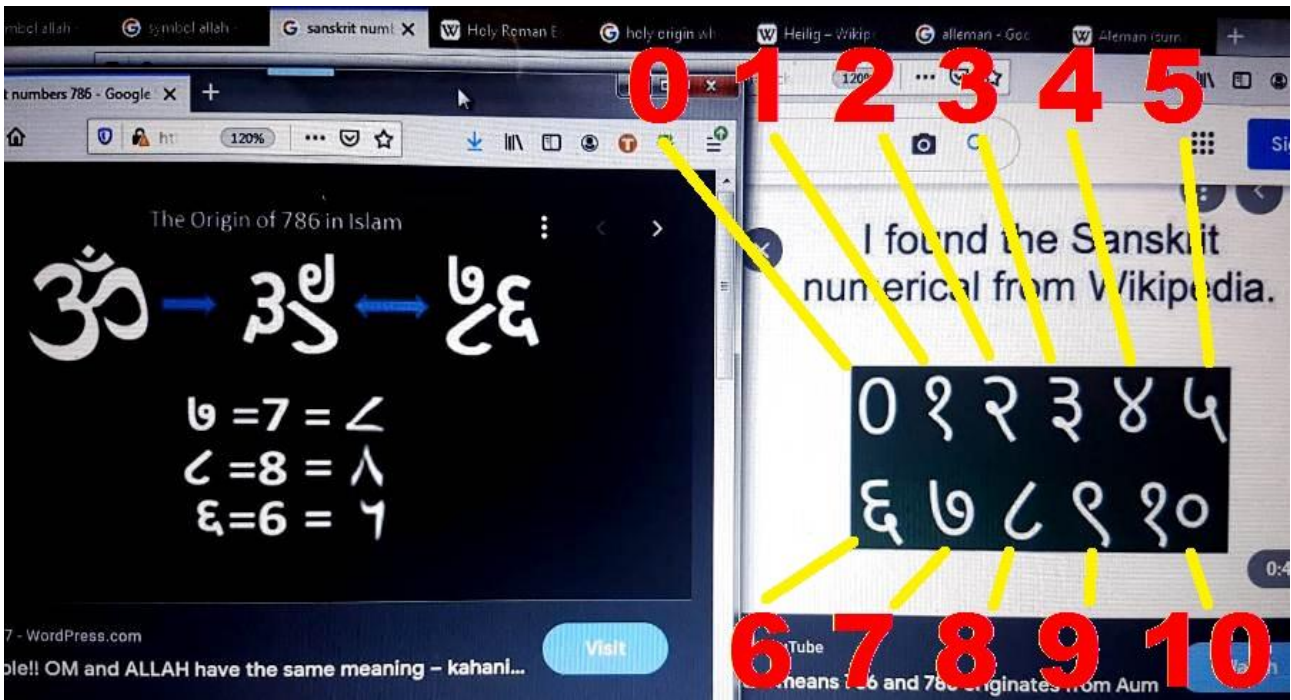

It can be seen that the value of the name Jesus in Greek in this gematria method is 888 - and researchers state that this no accident, but must have been designed to be that way, when the language was created or when the spelling of the word was designed. The gematria patterns are not just in words but sometimes in sentence lay outs too. Researchers point out that - at first it seems like gematria can be evidence - that something may be the word of God - but a deeper understanding of gematria - shows that this may not be the case at all.

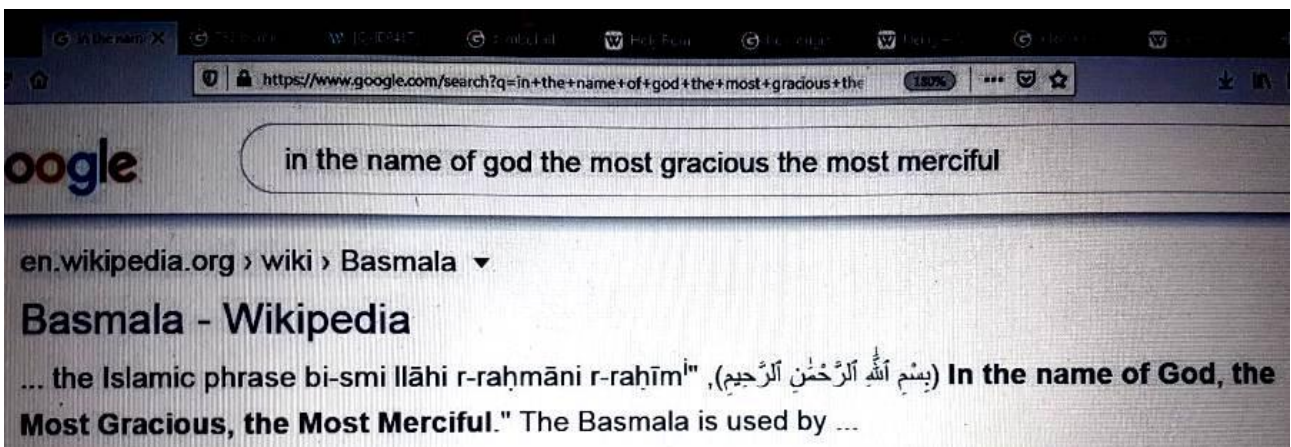

Many people are aware that gematria is found in western languages such as English or French or Spanish or Greek or Hebrew or Arabic. Many people are not aware of gematria in eastern languages

Many researchers investigated major modern languages around the world today and found that it was clear that these languages were created from an original language that already had a digital gematria - maths code. Many people who have not studied global gematria, who accept world history that is said by historians, believe that Hebrew is this master language.

Researchers now believe that world history is a lie and evidence shows that the language of the Arabic Koran is the master language. Evidence shows that the Arabic language was modified and used to create many languages around the world. This was done in order to replace the Arabic language, which was the most important global language before the Renaissance, but that story is too long to mention here

Many people have pointed out that the symbol Om, - looked very similar to Devanagari numerals, which are also known as Sanskrit numbers. The photo above shows how the Sanskrit numbers 786, formed the symbol know as Om, when the numbers were rotated

The first sentence in the Arabic Koran says: - In the name of God, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful. Muslims normally say this sentence every day when they start to eat or when they go out or when they sleep or when they wake up or when they eat. This sentence is very common in the Islamic world and it is known as the Basmala or Bismillah.

Bismillahir Rahmanir Rahim - which means - In the Name of God, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful

This sentence has 19 letters

اعداد Numerical values	حروف Letters	اعداد Numerical values	حروف Letters	اعداد Numerical values	حروف Letters	اعداد Numerical values	حروف Letters
400	ت	60	س	8	ح	1	ا
500	ث	70	ع	9	ط	2	ب
600	خ	80	ف	10	ي	3	ج
700	ذ	90	ص	20	ك	4	د
800	ض	100	ق	30	ل	5	ه
900	ظ	200	ر	40	م	6	و
1000	غ	300	ش	50	ن	7	ز

The photo above shows a major mathematical system of calculating gematria in the Arabic language. There are many different systems and methods in every language. People can create their own system and own methods, and this is why it is easy to create new digital languages or alphabets from existing languages that have gematria systems

Using the mathematical gematria system in the photo above, the first sentence of the Arabic Koran known as the Basmala or Bismillah, came to the number 786

The photo above shows the Basmala or Bismillah and shows how the number 786 is found

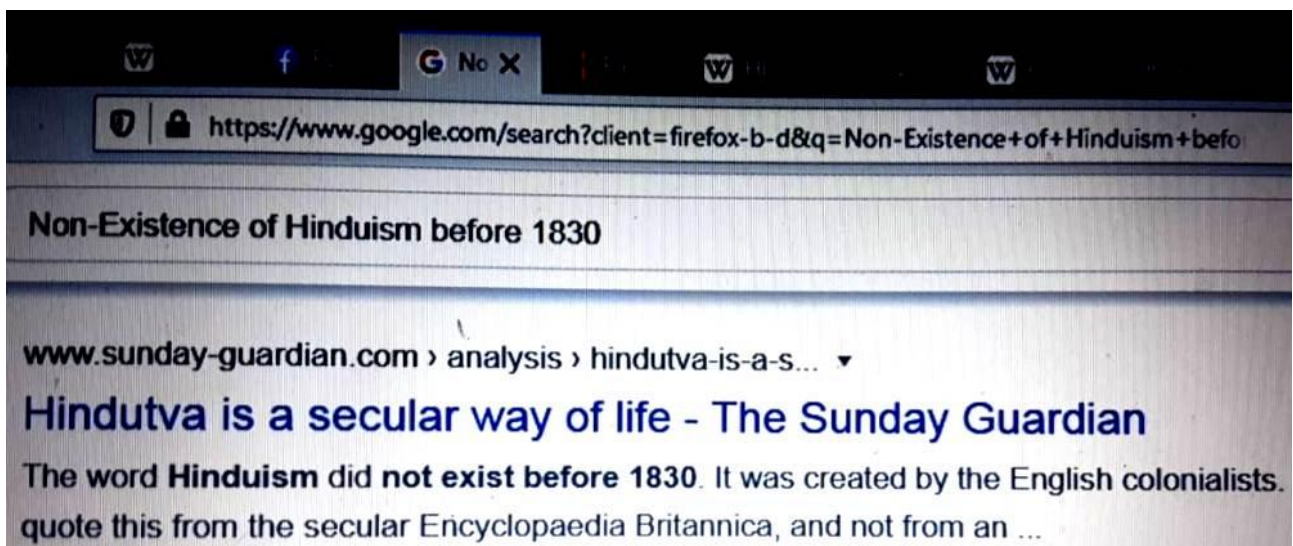

The number 786 is famous to many Muslim people around the world and is sometimes used to represent the Basmala or Bismillah

It was clear that Sanskrit and Arabic had a relationship. Many people have made many conclusions about this matter. Many historians say that Arabic copied from Sanskrit. Many historians say that Sanskrit is older than Arabic.

This is great news for historians, because evidence shows that Islam and the Arabic Koran has been the enemy of historians and their masters for many centuries. If they can show that Arabic originated from Sanskrit, then historians can show that the Islam and the Arabic Koran was influenced by Sanskrit and Hinduism, which is seen as a pagan and idolatrous. Researchers decided to investigate to see if Arabic had copied from Sanskrit and Hinduism

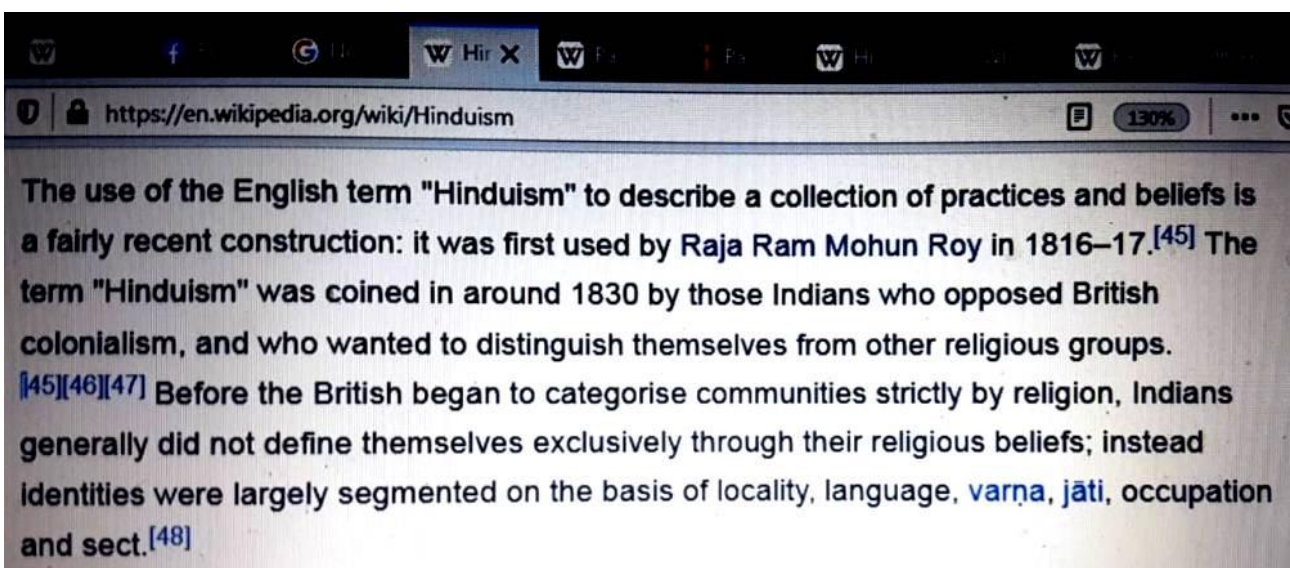

The Spanish and British and Portuguese and French, invaded India during and after the Renaissance. The Church was at the heart of these invasions. These invaders were deeply involved in the politics of language, - and language modification in India

What is Hinduism? Evidence shows that the word Hinduism did not exist before 1830. Historians say different stories how it originated. Some historians say that Indian people created it. But evidence shows that it was created by European colonialists

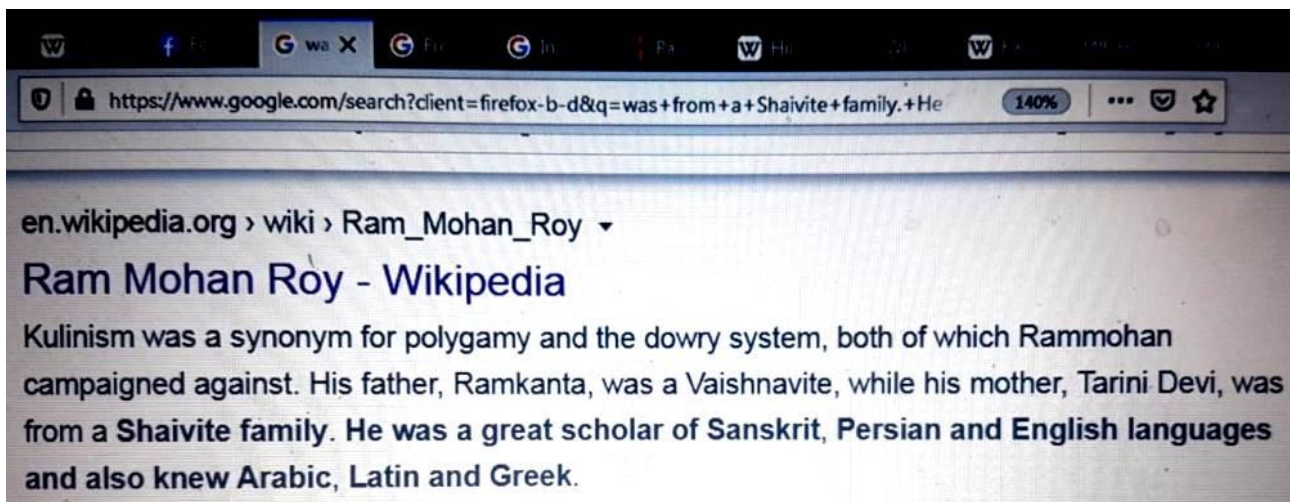

Many researchers have noticed that there is no mention of the terms 'Hindu' in the Vedas or Puranas or any other religious text before the year 1830

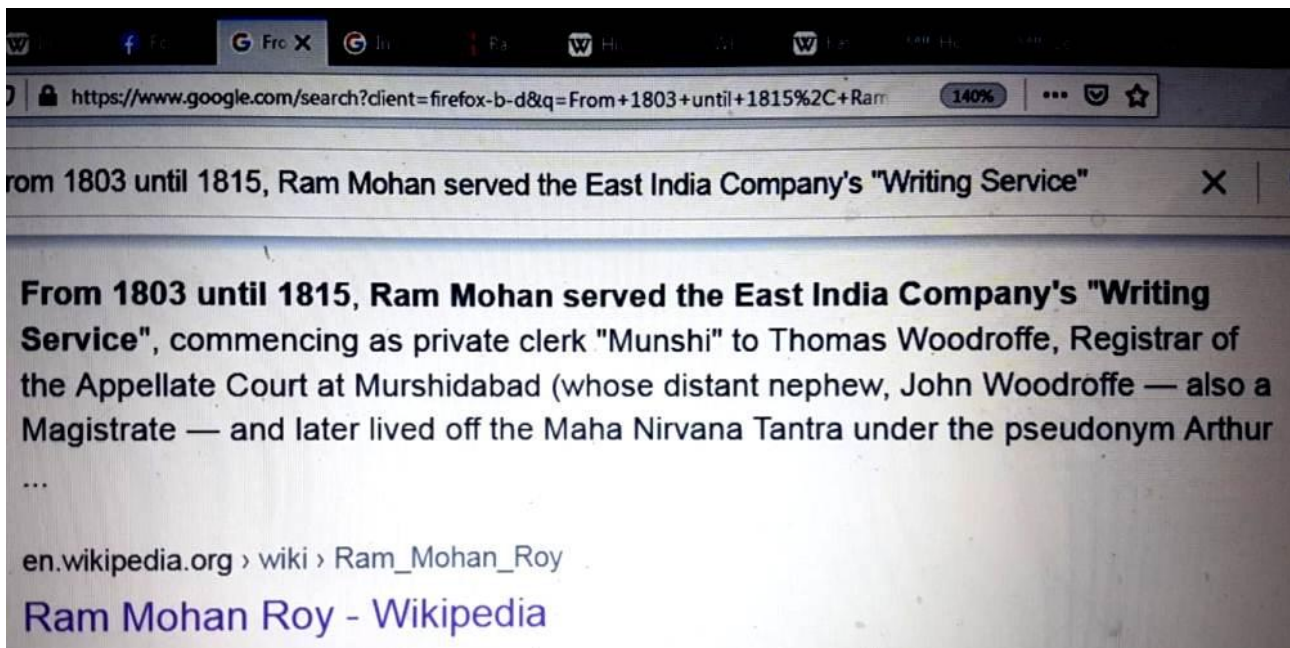

The British and French and Spanish and Portuguese and Dutch and Italian colonialists in India, - were all part of the same team, part of the new global system. The European colonialists in India classified the people of India based on so called religions. Evidence shows that India did not have separate religions before this time. People attended different temples and mosques as they wished and many people saw religion as one religion and the same. Many traditional people in India still follow this system, but the numbers of people doing this are going down every year

Some historians state that Rajah Ram Mohan Roy, an Indian man was the first to use the word Hinduism. The full history of this man and others at the time cannot be fully verified because history has been falsified

Rajah Ram Mohan Roy knew Sanskrit and Persian and Arabic and Latin and Greek according to historians.
Who taught him all these languages?

Rajah Ram Mohan Roy worked as a writer for the East India Company's writing service. In fact the East India Company had many writers. A serious question is what were these people writing?

Researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko (a very famous professor at Moscow State University) and others have stated that the history of India was fraudulently changed by the European colonialists and their Indian allies.

The 19th century was a time when Indians did not even understand Sanskrit

Mysteriously, in the 19th century, many Europeans seemed to understand Sanskrit and many books were published in Europe, that were translated from Sanskrit. George Buhler was one of these men, who worked for the British colonialists. Where did they learn Sanskrit?

Ralph Thomas Hotchkin Griffith translated the Rig Veda. Many researchers began to ask the question - why were so many people in Europe experts in Sanskrit at that time? This was a time when Indians did not even understand Sanskrit

Was Sanskrit invented and created in Europe?

Sanskrit was being studied in the 18th century and 19th century in Europe, in institutions that were controlled by the colonial governments, who were part of the new global order. It was common knowledge that many Sanskrit manuscripts were being created by European people at the time and many were being modified.

Many were sold throughout Europe and India and the world. It was a way to make big money. Many researchers suspected that the Sanskrit language may have been invented during and after the Renaissance, in the same way that many other languages were invented

Historical evidence shows that Arabic writing and the Arabic language was dominant in India before the European colonial invasions. Many historians say that the Arabic language spoken in India was related to Persian. Researchers found that this history was falsified to hide the history of Tartaria and India, but that story is too long to mention here

The reason was clear why no one seemed to know Sanskrit in India before the 19th century except for the people who were connected to the Church and her colonial allies. Arabic and languages related to Arabic were spoken in India before the arrival of the Church and her colonial allies

There was no evidence to show that Arabic or the symbol for Allah came from Sanskrit. Evidence shows that Sanskrit manuscripts were created recently and modified by the European colonialists and their allies after the 18th century. Evidence shows that the Indian people did not even know Sanskrit and learnt it from the colonialists.

The name for the symbol Om was clearly taken from the word “Omega”, and the design was taken from the word Allah. The symbol Om was similar to Sanskrit numerals that formed 786, and evidence showed that no Indians knew this language called Sanskrit. The number 786 was found in the first sentence of the Arabic Koran which says: - In the name of God, the Most Gracious, the Most Merciful

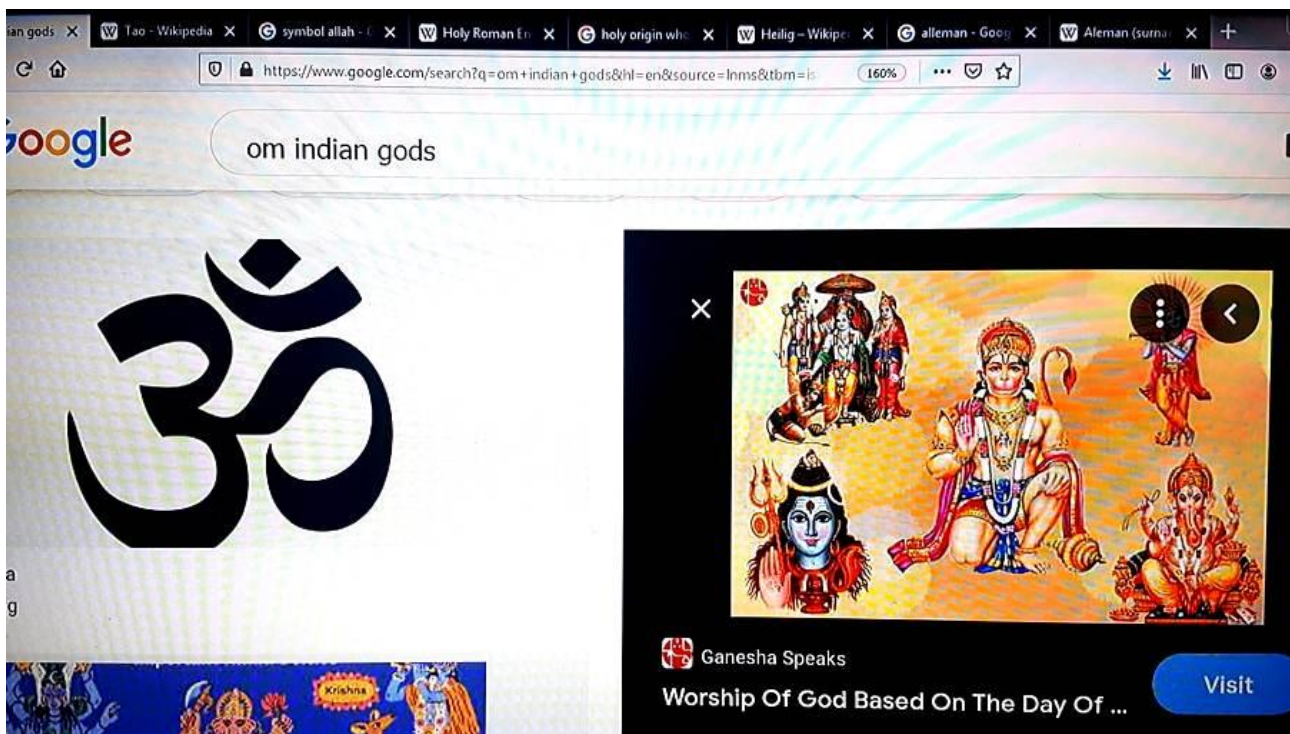

It was clear that all this was no accident. Whoever created the symbol Om was very intelligent and very smart and had a very serious agenda. They created Sanskrit documents which no one saw before the 19th century. These people created Hinduism, which no one even heard of before the 19th century.

These people created a religious system which was in conflict with the beliefs found in western religions such as Christianity and Islam. The west had the concept of “1” God. The false ancient history that these people created, - normally showed many gods all over the world. For example: - the many Indian gods, the many Greek gods, the many Roman gods and many Egyptian gods, etc. It was clear that they were at war against the concept of “1” God.

They wanted to show the world this: -

- your great grandfathers were animals
 - they were monkeys
 - they were superstitious
 - they were stupid
- they were pagans and bowed down to idols
 - they were idiots

Researchers concluded that the symbol Om and Hinduism and Sanskrit, were created to fight and destroy “original Islam” in the east. World history was deliberately falsified by the new global powers, to fight against “original Islam” and the followers of the Arabic Koran, and this war continues today

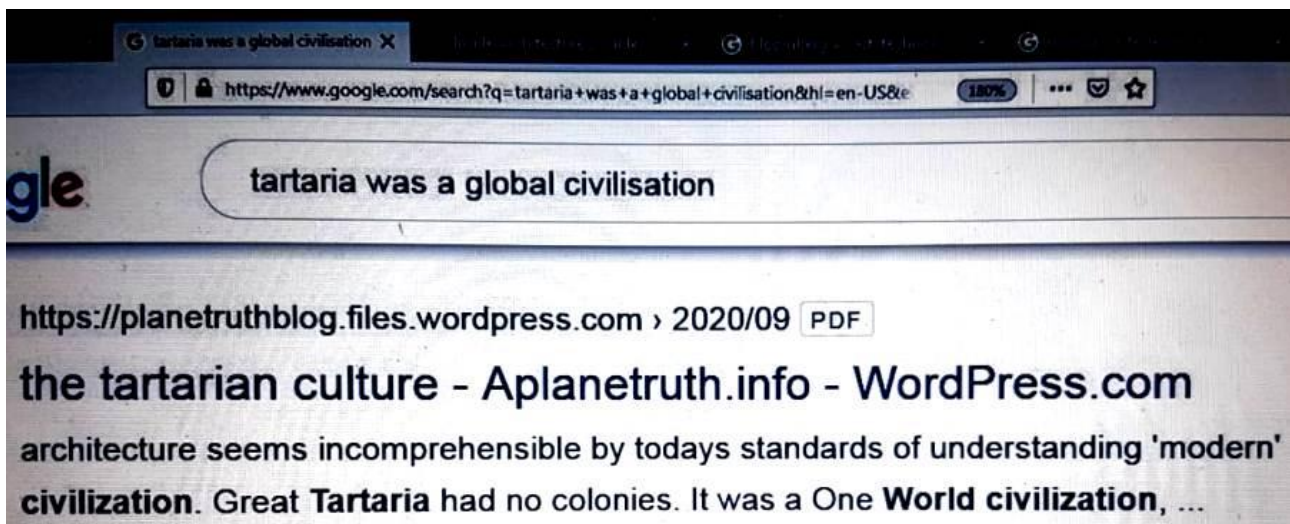

Historians want to deceive the world. They want people to believe that the Alpha and the Omega had pagan origins. They tried to change Allah to Elah. Many people around the world are already confused.

It was clear that in the west, historians were hiding a simple truth, - that the name of God used by Europeans in the past was: - Allah. And it was also clear that in the east, a false history was created to claim that the word Allah had pagan origins. It was all clearly a lie

The new world powers have successfully made millions of people around the world hate Islam, - and also hate the Arabic Koran. Anyone who looks at world history will find that the new world powers were clearly at war against “original Islam” and the followers of the Arabic Koran

Many people around the world came to the conclusion that Tartaria was a global civilisation. Researchers concluded that many mountains and volcanoes around the world were not natural and showed evidence of mining by a previous global civilisation. Who was this global civilisation? Who were the Tartarians?

Photo above - Banaue Rice Terraces, the Philippines

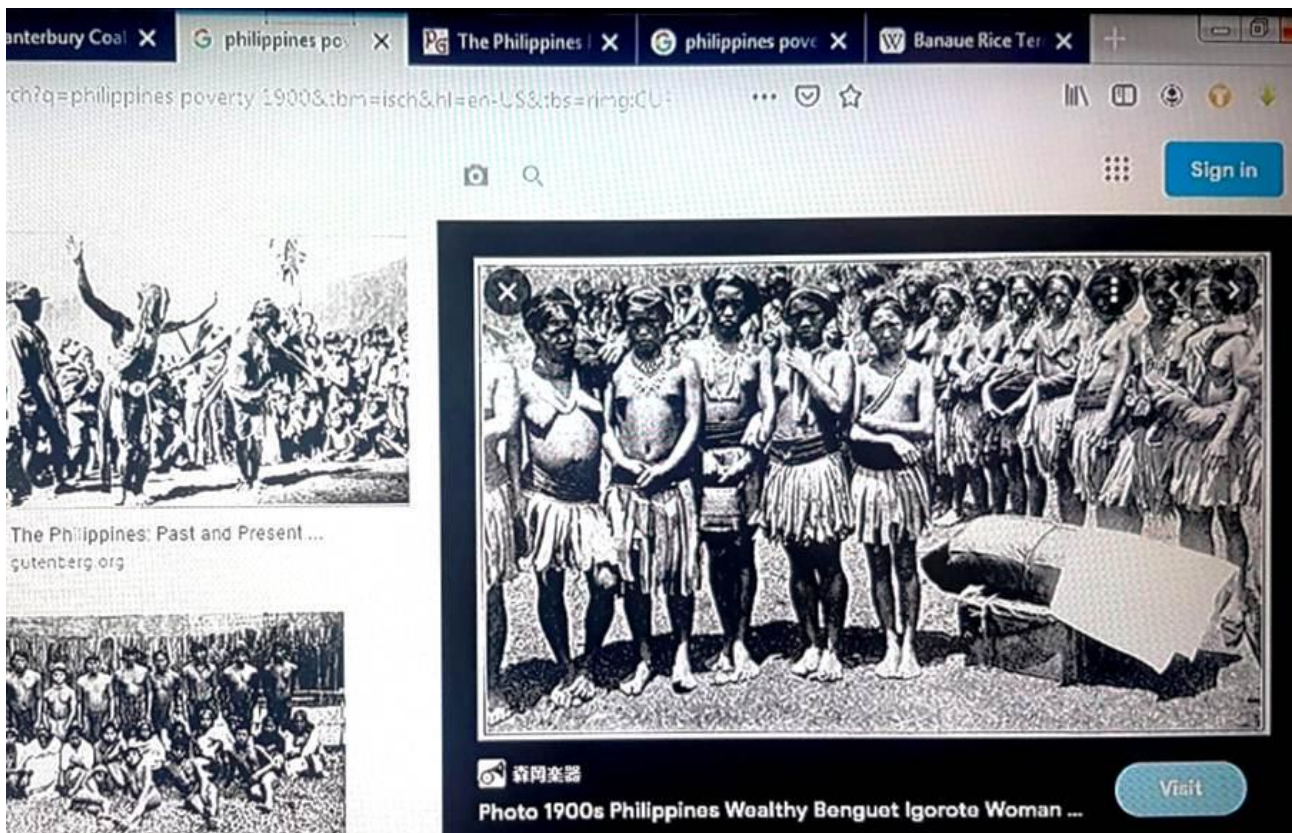

Historians say that the Banaeu Rice Terraces are ancient and could be over 2000 years old. Historians say that people created this place using their own hands, - without machinery, and they say that this place is a “wonder of the world”.

The photo above shows an example of what many mining sites look like. Many mining sites mysteriously look exactly the same like the Banaeu Rice Terraces in the Philippines

It was clear that historians were telling lies.

Many researchers concluded that historians were liars who worked for their masters according to an agenda

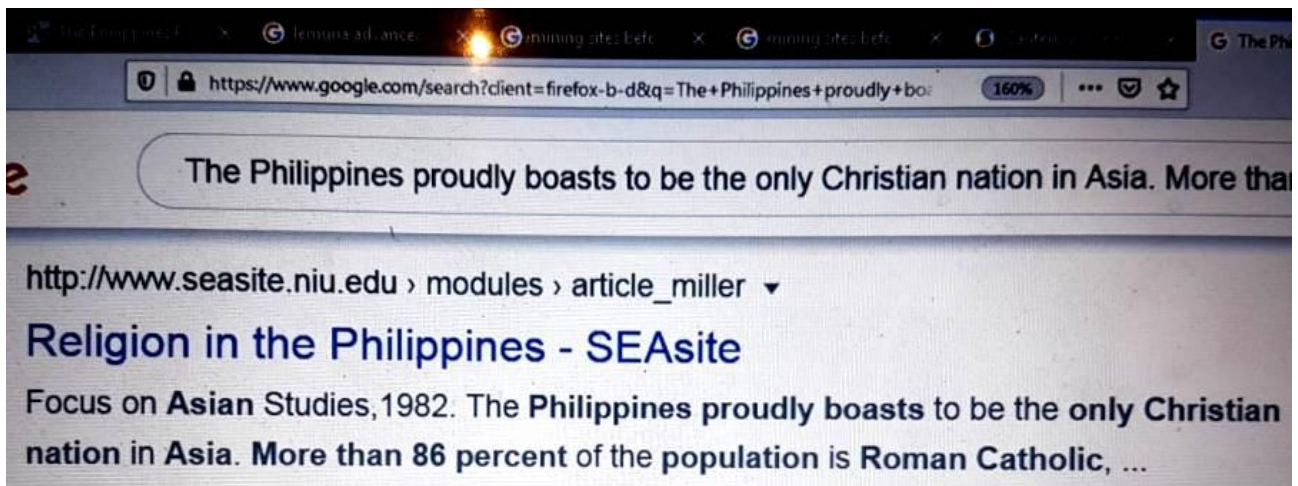

Here is an example of the people living in the Philippines before 1900. A large percentage of the population did not have clothes. Historians are telling the world that people in this condition created the Banaue Rice Terraces with their own hands without machinery. The history of the Philippines was very suspicious. It sounded like a big joke.

Today we are using big strong machines to cut mountains and hills, but naked people did the same thing centuries ago with their own hands. Researchers concluded that historians were nothing but liars

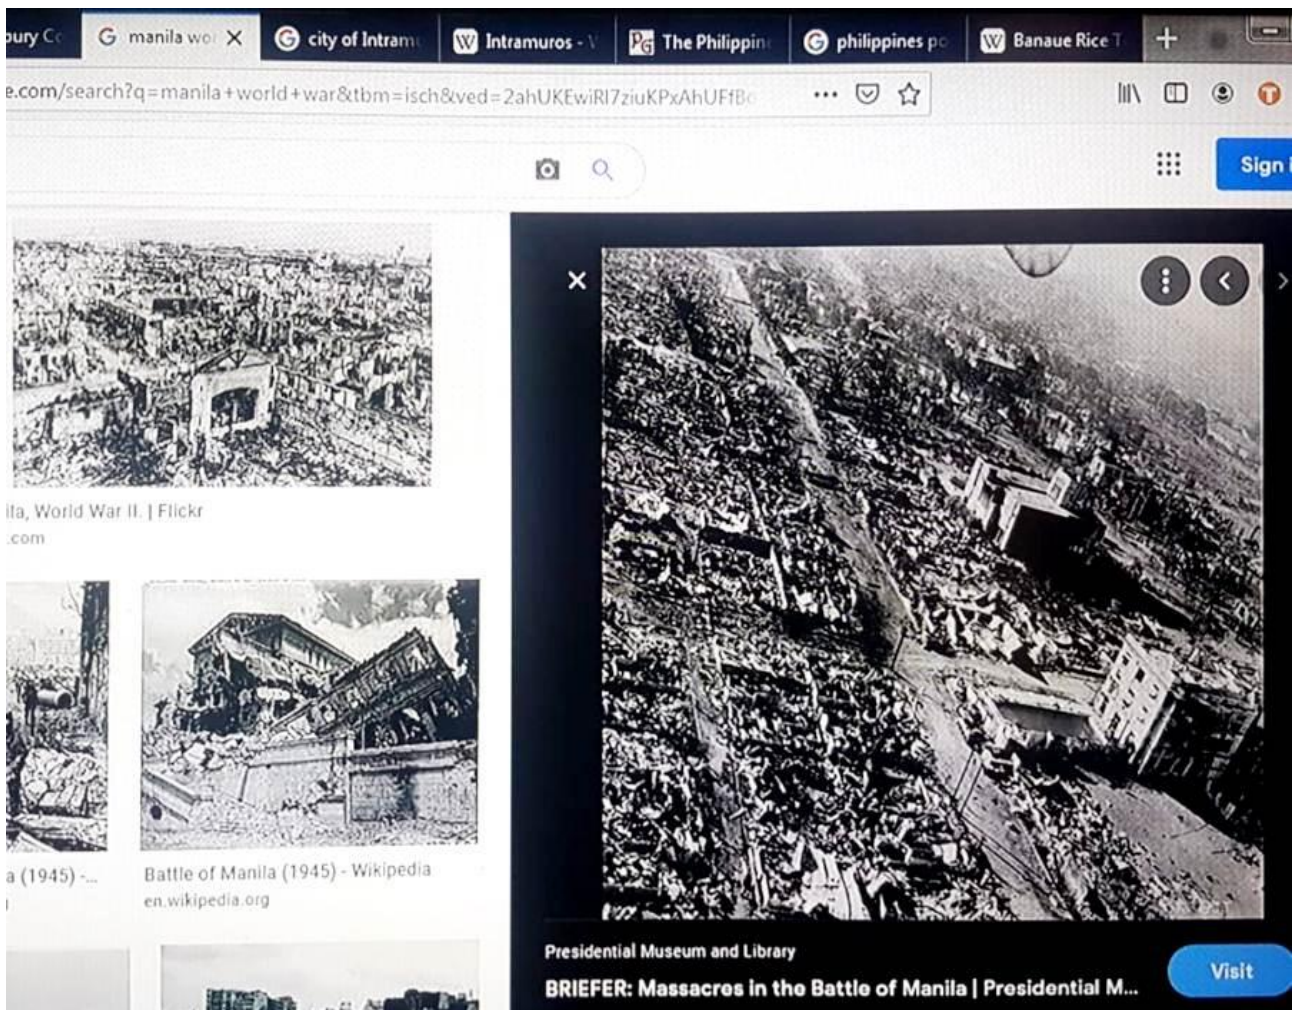

Banaeu Rice Terraces clearly looked like an old mining site that was being used today for farming

Were these people always naked? Or, did someone destroy their civilisation and force them to become like this?

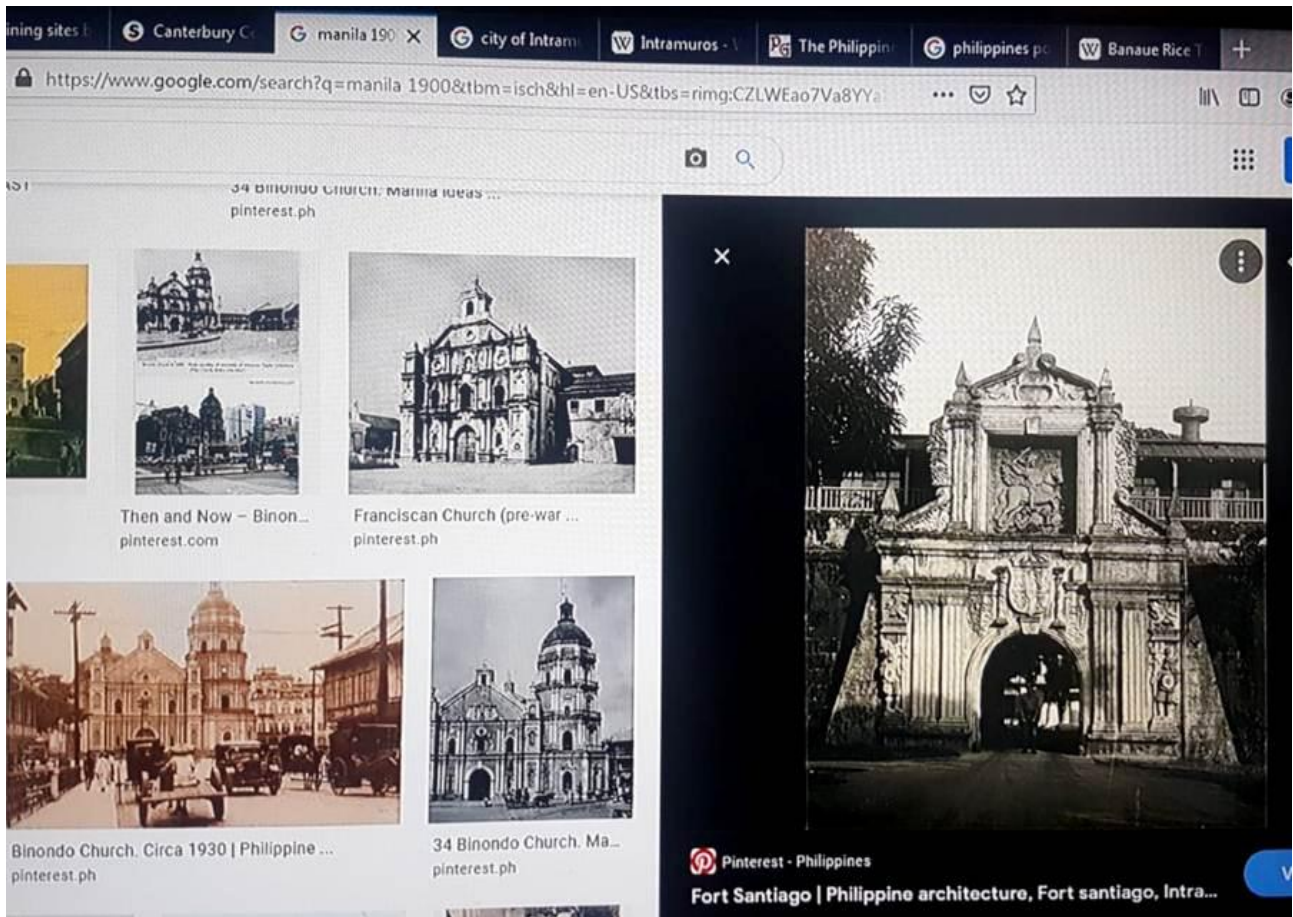

The Philippines is in South East Asia near Australia, and is classified as a Christian country today. An estimated 80 percent of the population is Roman Catholic. Researchers found that the Philippines was not originally Christian, but the country changed to become Christian after it was invaded by the Church and her colonial allies.

Invaded means: - entering a country by force and by killing and murdering people

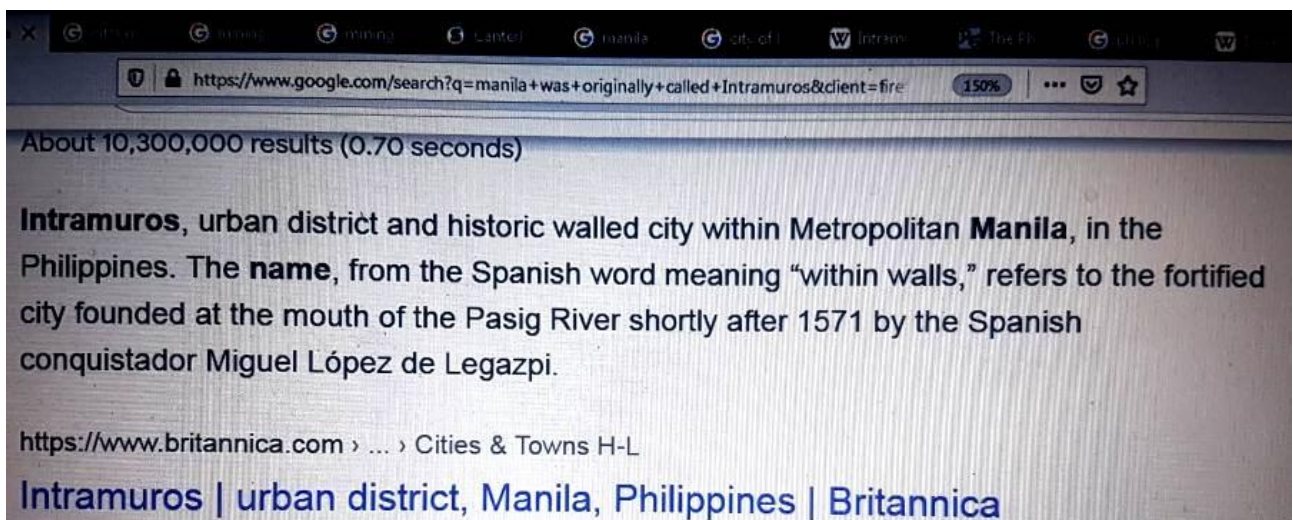

Manila city, the capital of the Philippines was heavily destroyed during the Second World War. Researchers found that history of the Second World War was full of lies, but that is another long story.

Looking at the photographs of the people in the Philippines and looking at the amazing buildings in Manila city, it was clear that the official history did not make sense. Who was really fighting against who, and why? Why was there so much destruction? Did they destroy this city on purpose in order to hide evidence of the previous civilisation?

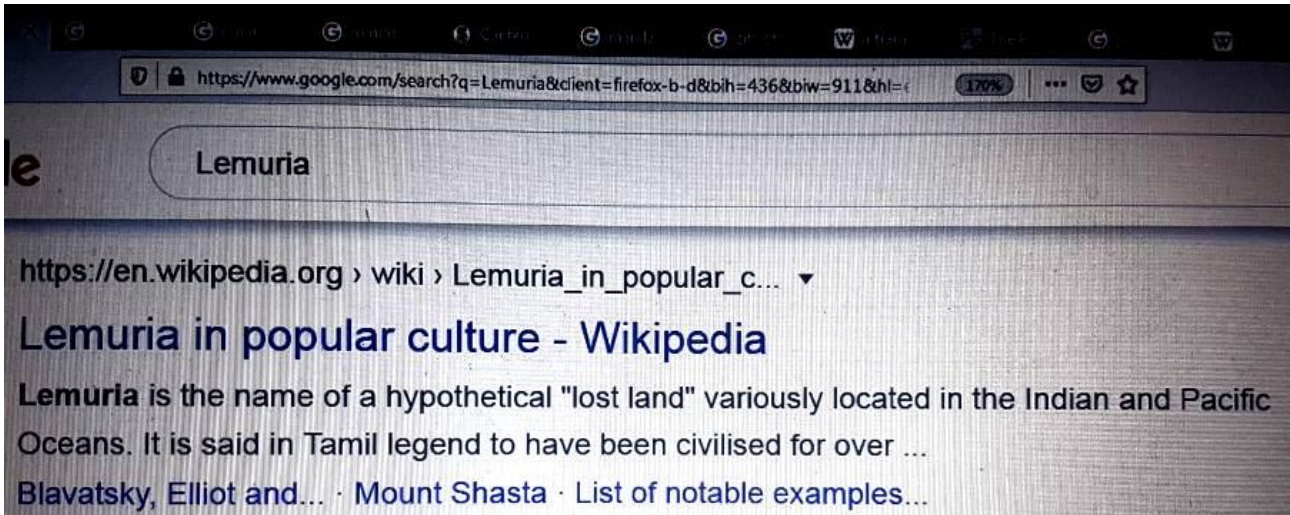

Many of the buildings that can be seen in Manila city are very similar to buildings found all around the world.

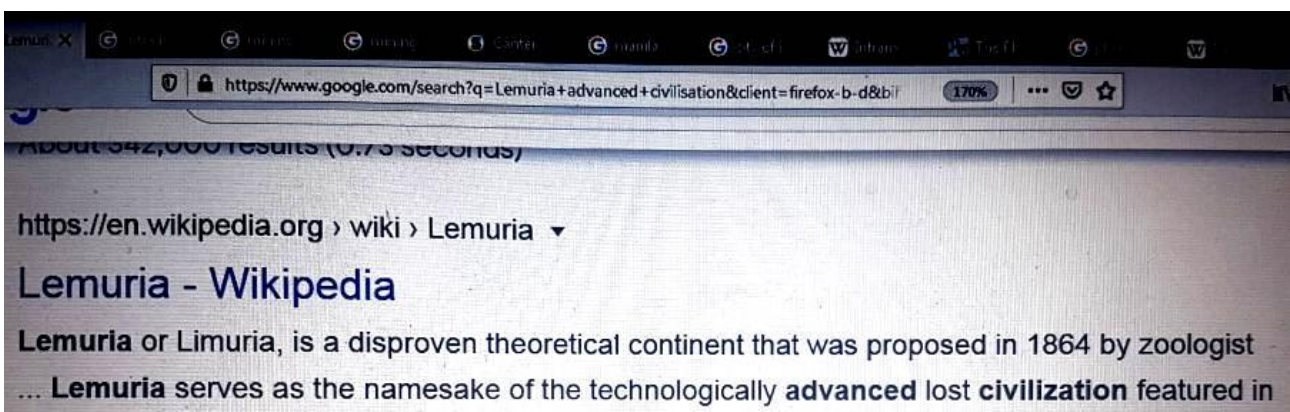

Manila city was historically known as Intramuros, or the city of Muros. Historians say that it means - "city" - within the walls. Researchers noticed that Intra - Muros sounded like the City of the Moors or Lemuria (Le Mooraa or La Muria, - however you wish to spell this word)

Lemuria is said to be the land between India and the Pacific Ocean. South East Asia and Australia are in this region

Many historians and their allies, between 1800 and 1950 wrote many theories about Lemuria. They published their theories, under the control of colonial and imperial authorities of the time. Most of them worked together with orientalists, who were working for the colonial empires. These historians and their allies created crazy theories themselves, and these crazy theories were then attacked by other historians who worked for the same colonial organisations. Did they do this on purpose to hide the true history of Australia and South East Asia? Did they create confusion on purpose?

Many historians say that Lemuria is a myth and does not exist

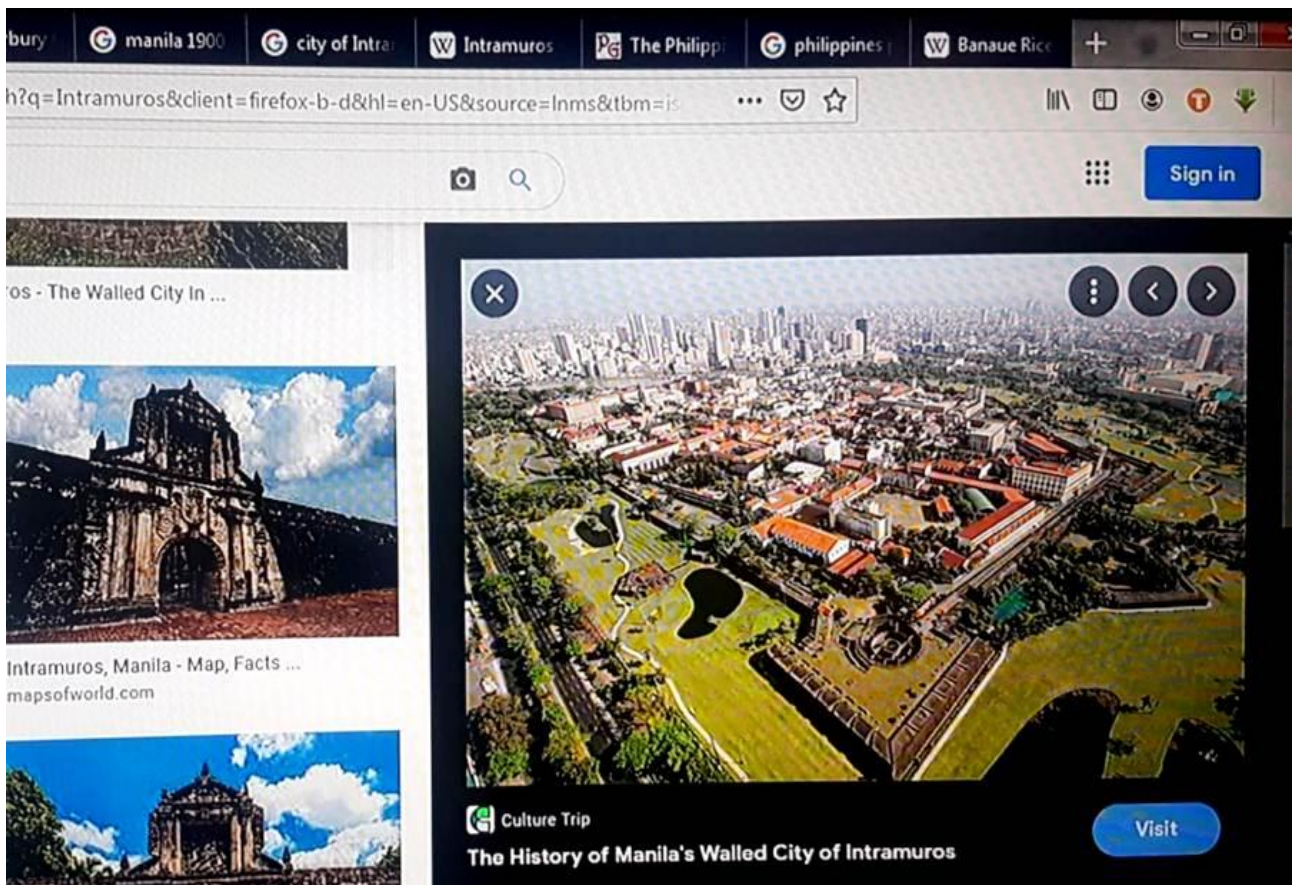

Madame Blavatsky, a famous writer of the 19th century was one of these people. She had theories about Lemuria and many other subjects, and they were challenged by historians of that time and even today. The true history regarding who she was and who she worked for is unclear and has suspicious data. The history of the 19th century has been falsified, but that story is too long to mention here

Even an idiot can look on the world map and find that the land between India and the Pacific Ocean shows South East Asia and Australia

Many researchers have found evidence which showed that modern maps of the world contained falsified data. What if there are other lands around that region, - that are hidden away from the people of the world?

Researchers concluded that together: - historians and their allies, had created a fake history for South East Asia and Australia, in order to hide the true history of Lemuria, whatever it really was

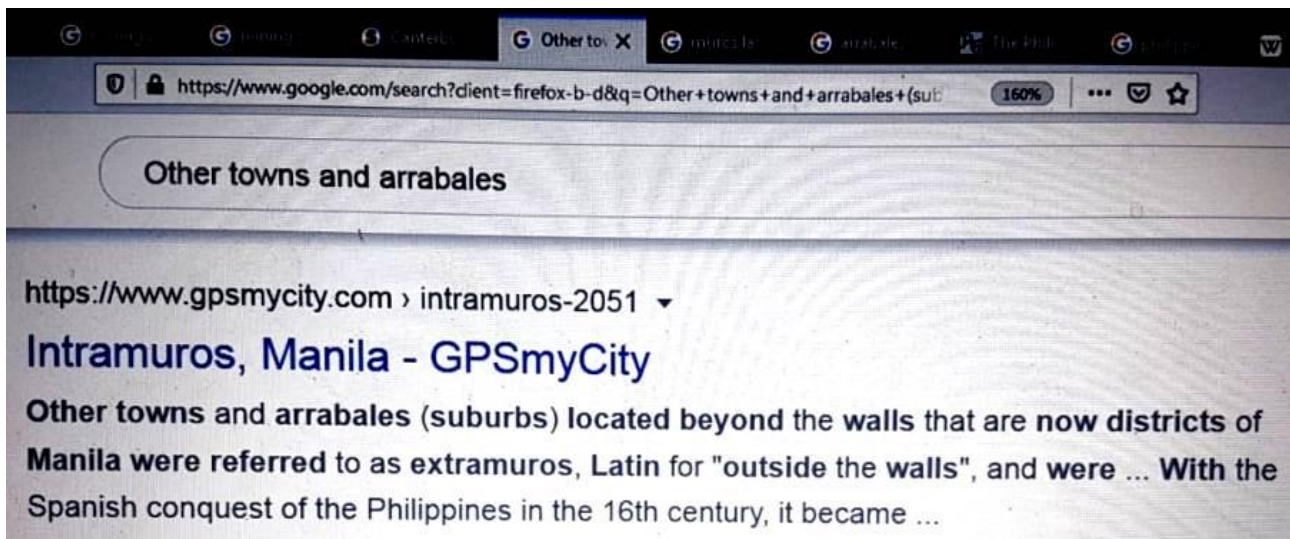

The city of Muros - Intramuros or the city of Moors, looks similar to many historical European cities. And parts of the old walled city looks like a star fort

Historians say that the city of Muros - Intramuros or the city of Moors, was constructed by the Spanish invaders after the 16th century. Many researchers found many lies and problems within this history

The area outside Intramuros was called Extramuros. The Spanish colonialists called these areas “Arrabales”

The Spanish colonialists called the common people and villagers - “Arrabales”.

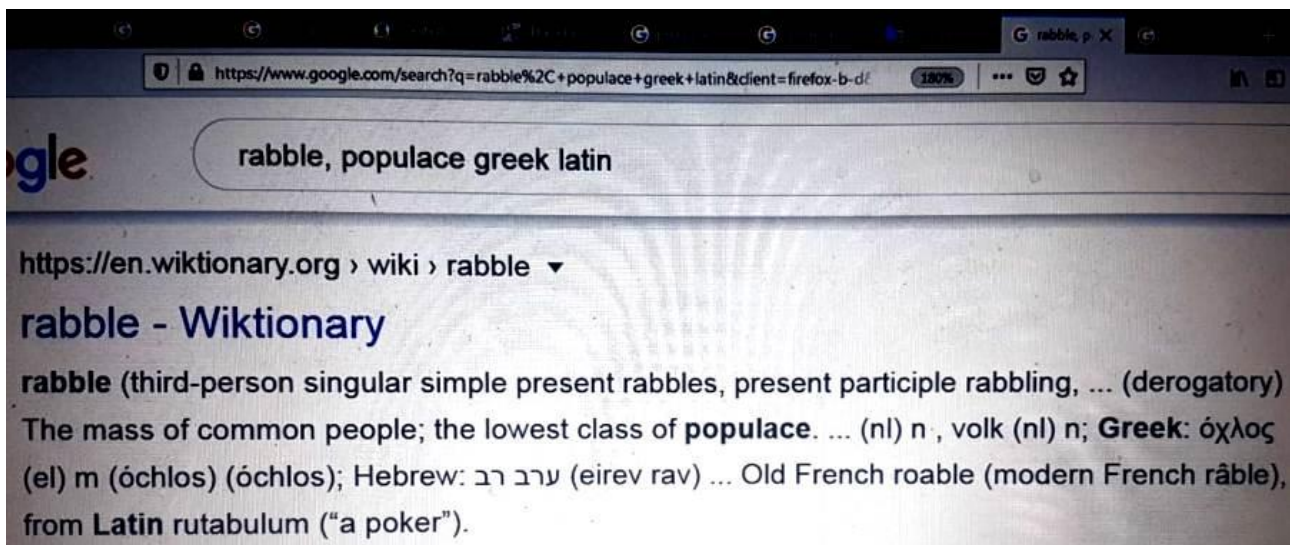

This word comes from an Arabic word, which means Arabian or European or common people or Arab language speaker. The common people in Spain for example and France and Italy, were commonly known as the Arrabales or Arabs, by the ruling powers who took over by force, during and after the Renaissance.

Why were the common people known as Arrabales or Arab speakers in Europe and in many other places? The common people in the villages represented 90 percent of the people at the time

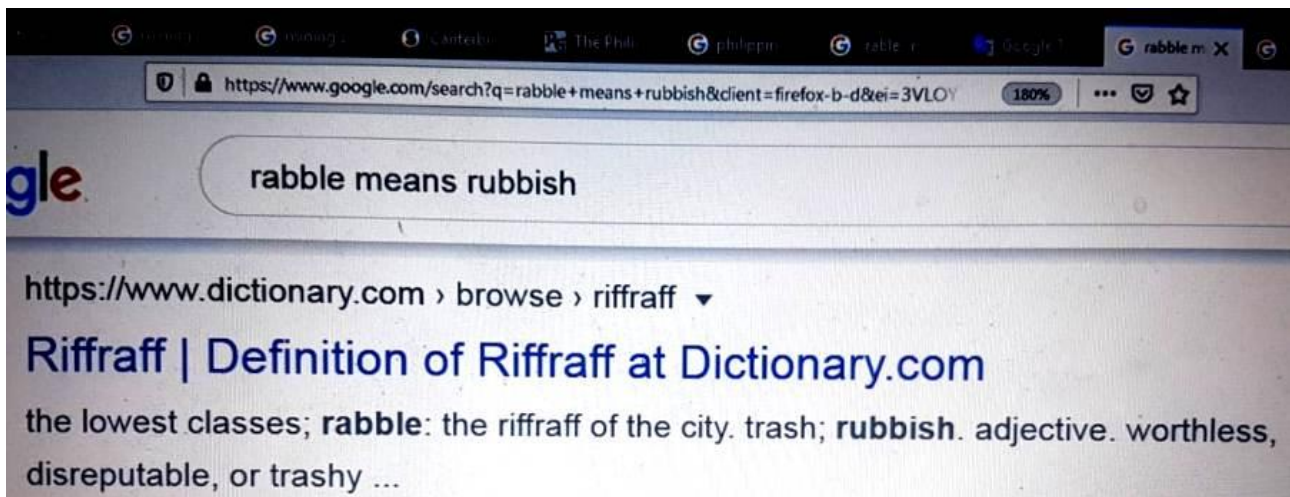

Wherever the Spanish colonialists went in the Philippines or around the world, Christian missionary organisations went with them for the next 300 years. Many of these people came from Spain and France and Germany and Portugal and Italy etc. The Church and its allies were at the centre of the Spanish invasions, everywhere they went

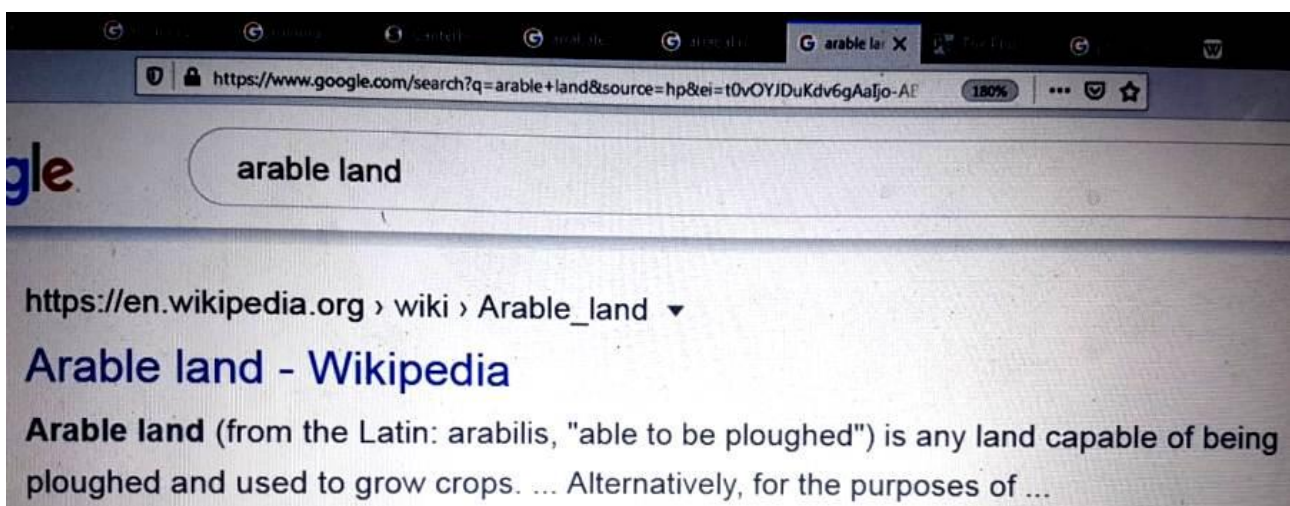

Today the word Arrabales refers to poor or common people in many countries around the world. The English word “rabble”, was the name of the mass or majority of the common people. The common people represented more than 90 percent of the people. The English word “rabble” came from the word: - Arrabales - Arab

Rabble - Rabbal - Arrabales - Arab

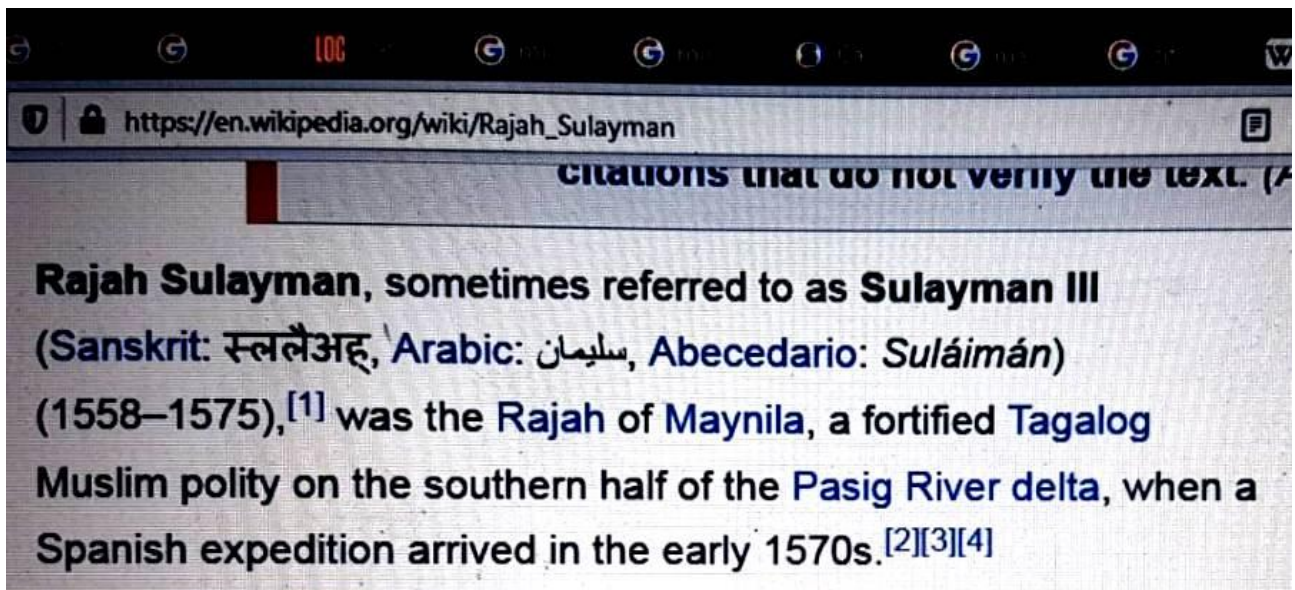

The word rabble is connected to the English word “rubbish”, which is also from connected the word “Arab”. The ruling powers that created and edited the English language, made these words have a negative meaning. It was clear that they hated the word Arab and hated the common ordinary people. It was also clear that the common people in Europe were known as Arrabales or Arabs or Arapean or Eropean or European

The common European word for farming land - is the Latin word “arabilis”. This is where the common people lived and also did farming. This is known as “arable” land or the land of the common people, the land of the Arrabales or Arab people

The region of Manila city, or the city of Muros was originally a Muslim city. The chief ruler was known as the Rajah Sulayman or Solomon. The full history of what exactly happened in the Philippines is not clear, and was written by the Church and her colonial allies

The Arabic Koran tells Muslims to wear clothes, and this is why it is strange that so many people in the Philippines were naked around the year 1900. Where these people originally naked? Or did someone destroy their civilisation and force them to become like this?

When the Church declared war against the Cathars in Europe during the Medieval and Renaissance times, evidence shows that they forced the people to become naked. The drawing above is from the Grandes Chroniques de France from around the 15th or 16th century.

Medieval and Renaissance writings and drawings were organised and controlled by the Church. Because the Church controlled such things, the dating and information regarding the Grandes Chroniques de France, could not be verified

Rajah Sulayman or Solomon and the Muslims were defeated. The Church and its allies destroyed the Muslims in the city of Muros, who were followers of the Arabic Koran. The Church and its allies then took control over Manila city, or the city of Muros. The people mysteriously then became naked

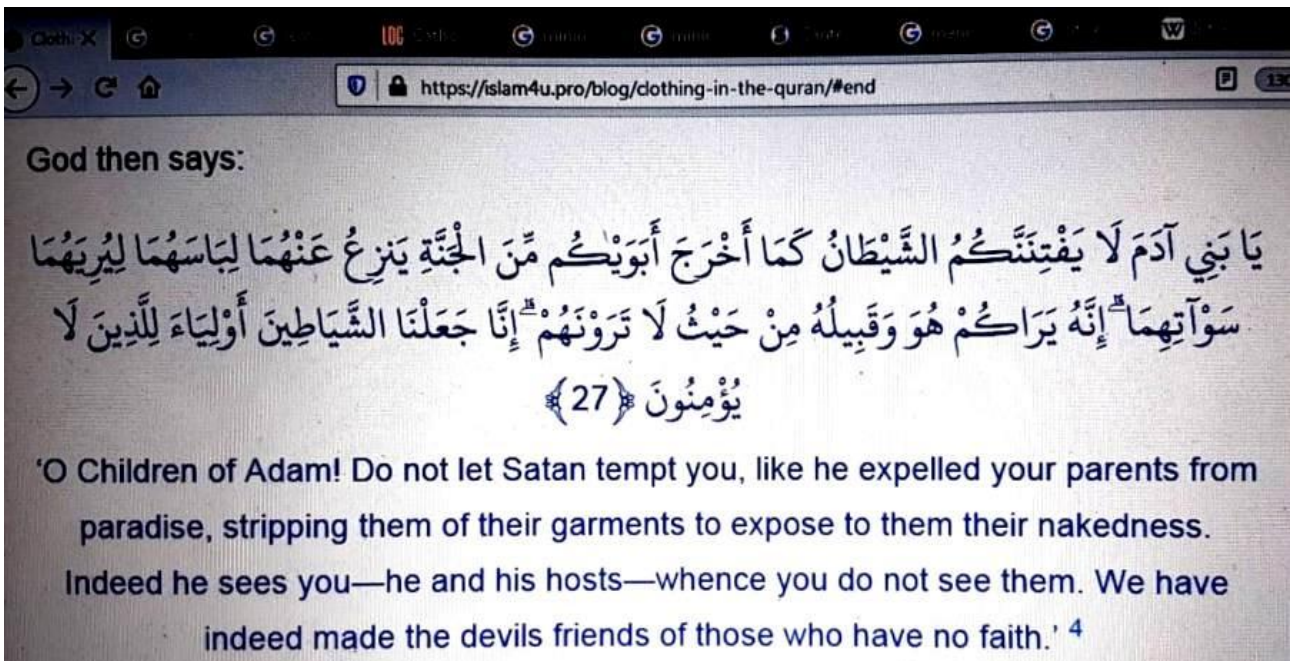

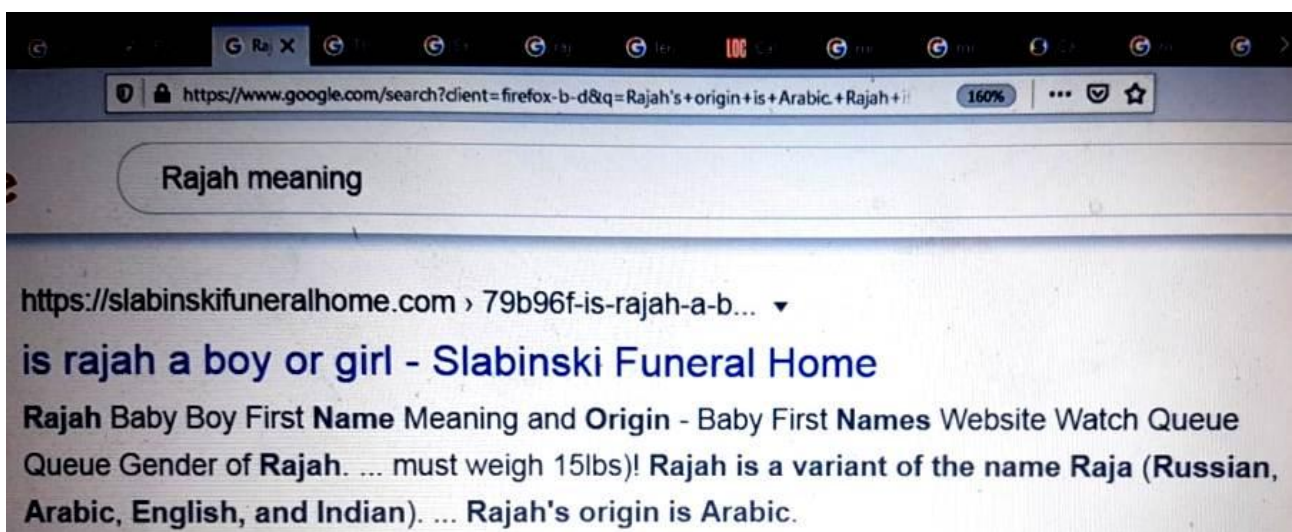

Photo above - Arabic Koran - Chapter 7 - Verse 27

The policy of making people naked is nothing new. The Arabic Koran says that Satan did the same thing to Adam and Eve.

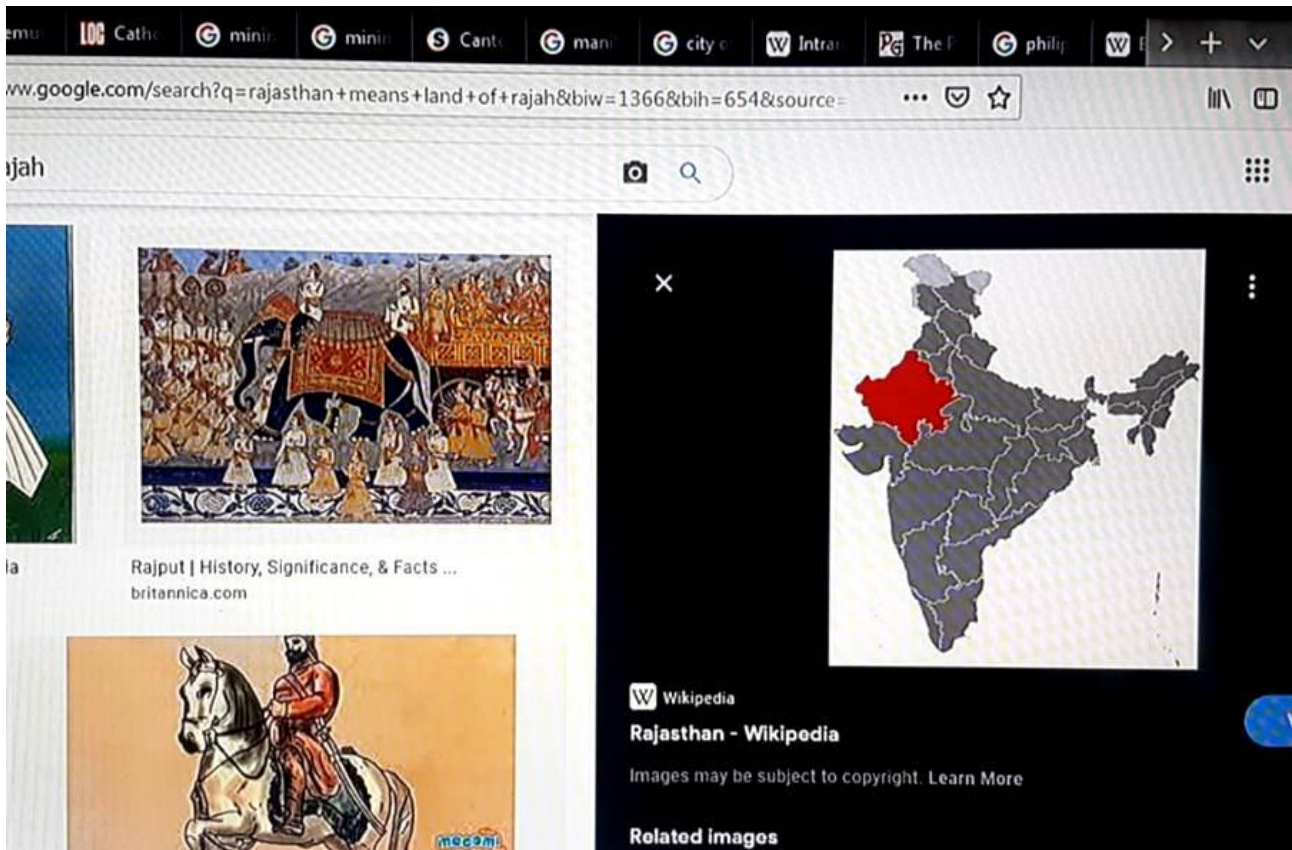

Manila city, - or the city of Muros was ruled by Rajah Sulayman or Solomon. Who was this Rajah? Who were the Spanish fighting against? What is a Rajah?

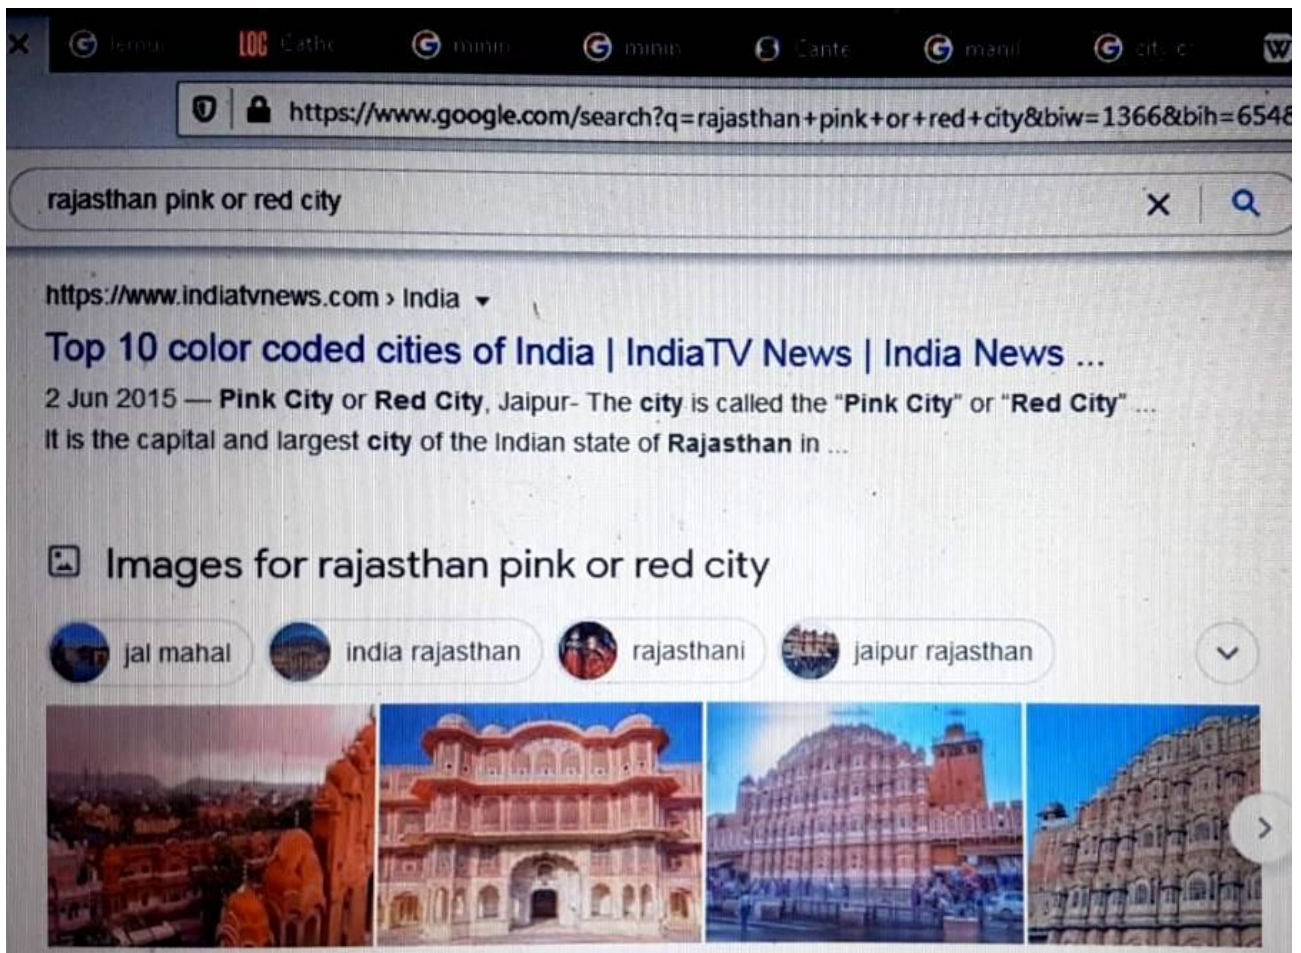

Raja or Rajah means king in many Asian languages. In Latin, the word is known as Rex. Raja is often pronounced Rasha. A great king is called Maharaja. Maha simply means mother in many languages

Rajah or Rex is a global word that is pronounced and written differently, - by different people today

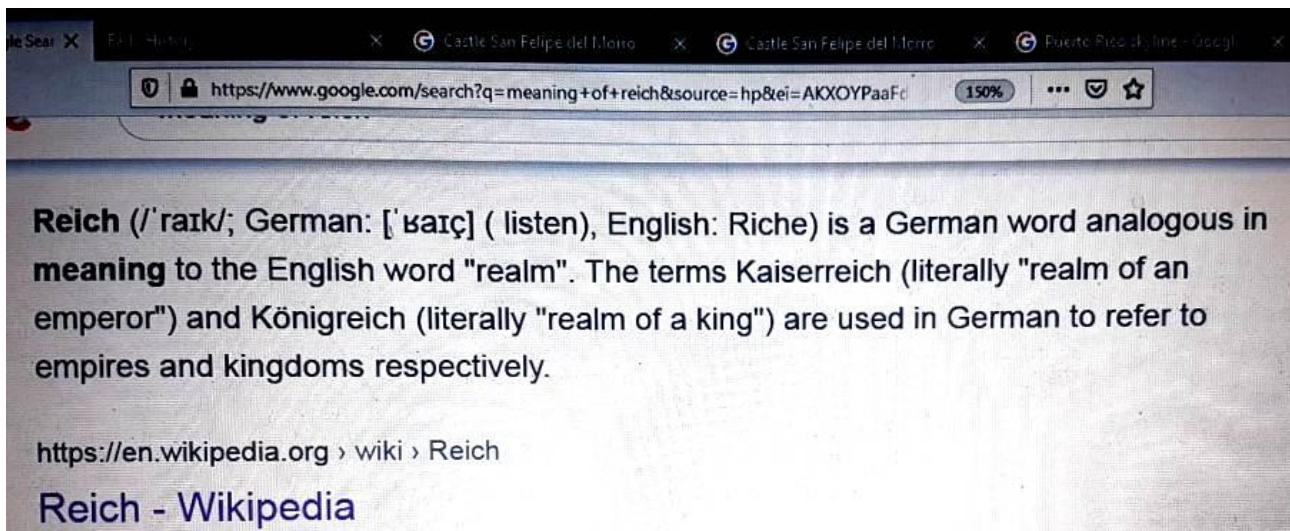

India is a union of many states. There is a land and state in Northern India called Rajasthan. The word “tan” or “dan” comes from the word “Eden”. Rajasthan basically means land of the Rajas. Rajas are today known as kings in India

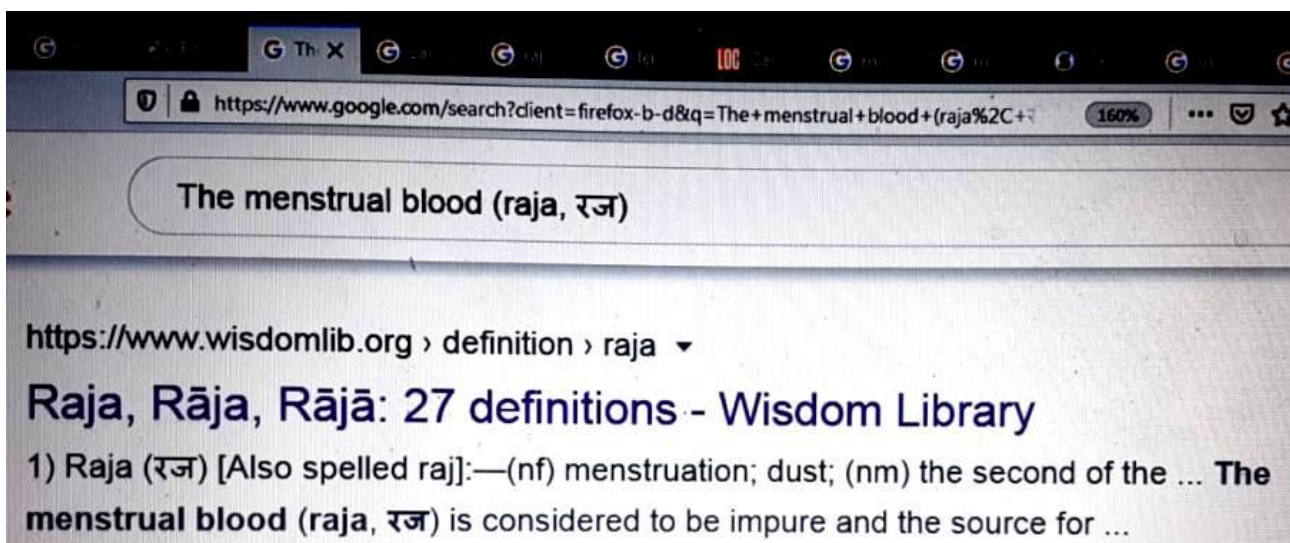

The capital city of Rajasthan is known as the Pink City or the Red City, because the buildings are in red or pink colour

Many historians will say the word is originally an Arabic word and some historians will say that it is from Sanskrit. Researchers found that the Sanskrit language was created after the 17th century by the Church and its colonial allies, but that story is too long to mention here

The German word “Reich” which means the realm of a king is another example of the word Rajah. The English word “rich” also originated from these words

The word Rajah is normally linked to the colour “red”. Many examples can be found in Asian and European languages which show this

The name Russo in Italy is from the word Russ and Raja. The English word Rose is from the word Russ and Raja. The Spanish word Rosa is from the word Russ and Raja. Roses are generally red in colour. The French word Rouge means red colour and is from the word Russ and Raja. The German name Roth is from the word Russ, and means red in colour. The word Red and Roth is from the word Russ and Raja. Russ is from the Arabic word Rassa or Rasha or Raja. Russ and Raja also means people with red hair or red colour

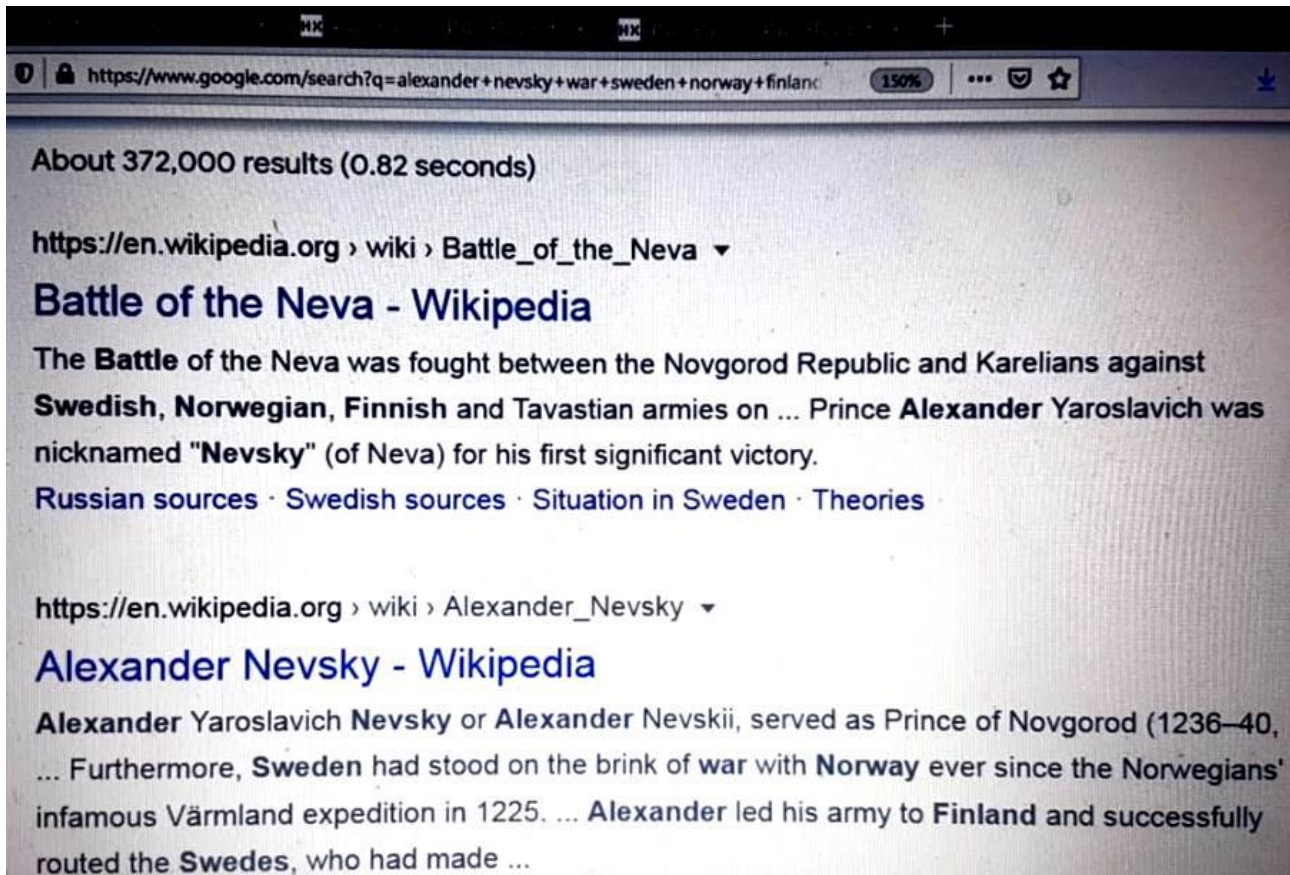

Rajah - Rex - Reich - Russia - Russ - Ruth - Roth - Red

maha - mother maha - raja
mother - Russia Russia?

The Spanish colonialists and the Church were fighting the Rajah of Manila in the Philippines, and his people were Muslims or followers of the Arabic Koran. Original Islam and the Arabic Koran seemed to be at the heart of history in the east and the west before the new world powers took over, and Russia had something to do with this Russia was the heart of Tartaria and was in Europe, far away from the Phillipines.

Anatoly Fomenko from Moscow State University has provided much information regarding the history of northern Europe

According to historians, northern Europe had a grand prince who was called Prince Alexander Nevsky. Alexander Nevsky was the Prince of Novgorod, Russia and the Grand Prince of Kiev, Ukraine and the Grand Prince of Vladimir. Alexander Nevsky had a war against the Swedish and Norwegian and Finnish armies in the 13th century and defeated them.

Alexander Nevsky is seen by millions of Slavic people around the world as a great hero and saint and warrior of God. He was very important in the past and many people still remember him today. Some people in Eastern Europe do not like him based on what they are told by politicians and historians

Photo above shows Alexander Nevsky Cathedral (Sobor) in Warsaw, Poland. This building was mysteriously demolished in the 1920's. The history of this building and the destruction of many buildings in Warsaw, - was very suspicious to many researchers

Photo above - Alexander Nevsky Cathedral (Sveti), Sofia, Bulgaria

Historians say that Alexander Nevsky was a great military leader and that he defeated the German Teutonic Knights from the Holy Roman Empire

Historians say that Alexander Nevsky was a great Christian warrior and that he defeated Norway and Sweden and Finland and the Holy Roman Empire, but mysteriously he could not fight the Mongols from Asia, but he paid them money. Researchers found this history very suspicious

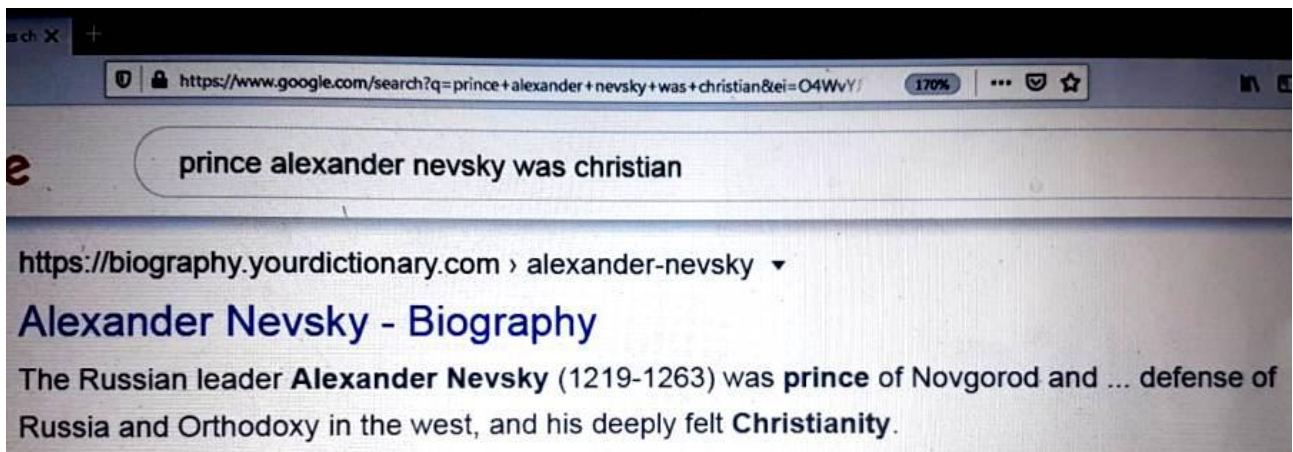

Anatoly Fomenko explains that historians had created a fake story called the Mongolian invasion of Europe by the descendants of Genghis Khan, to hide the true history of Europe. Historians say that these Mongols invaded Europe, Africa, the Middle East, Persia, India, China, South East Asia, and that these Mongols ruled many parts of the world

Researchers say that this history is a lie, and that this empire was not the empire of the Mongols, but the Empire of Tartaria. Evidence clearly shows that Tartaria actually was the dominant power that ruled most of the world before the Renaissance. Some people call this Empire, the Slavic Empire, others call it the Russian Horde, and others call it the Caliphate, or the Biblical Kingdom of Israel or the Kingdom of Jesus Christ. Different people call this empire with different names.

Anatoly Fomenko and other researchers have shown much evidence that Arabic was widely spoken in this empire that ruled most of the world at the time

Historians say that Alexander Nevsky was a great Christian prince

The first problem that researchers found regarding Alexander Nevsky was this: - was he a Christian prince the way that historians describe?

шаг Невский X Google Translate X Google Translate X Google Translate

os://translate.google.com/translate?sl=ru&tl=en&u=https://islam-today.ru/islam_v_mire/slem

To: English

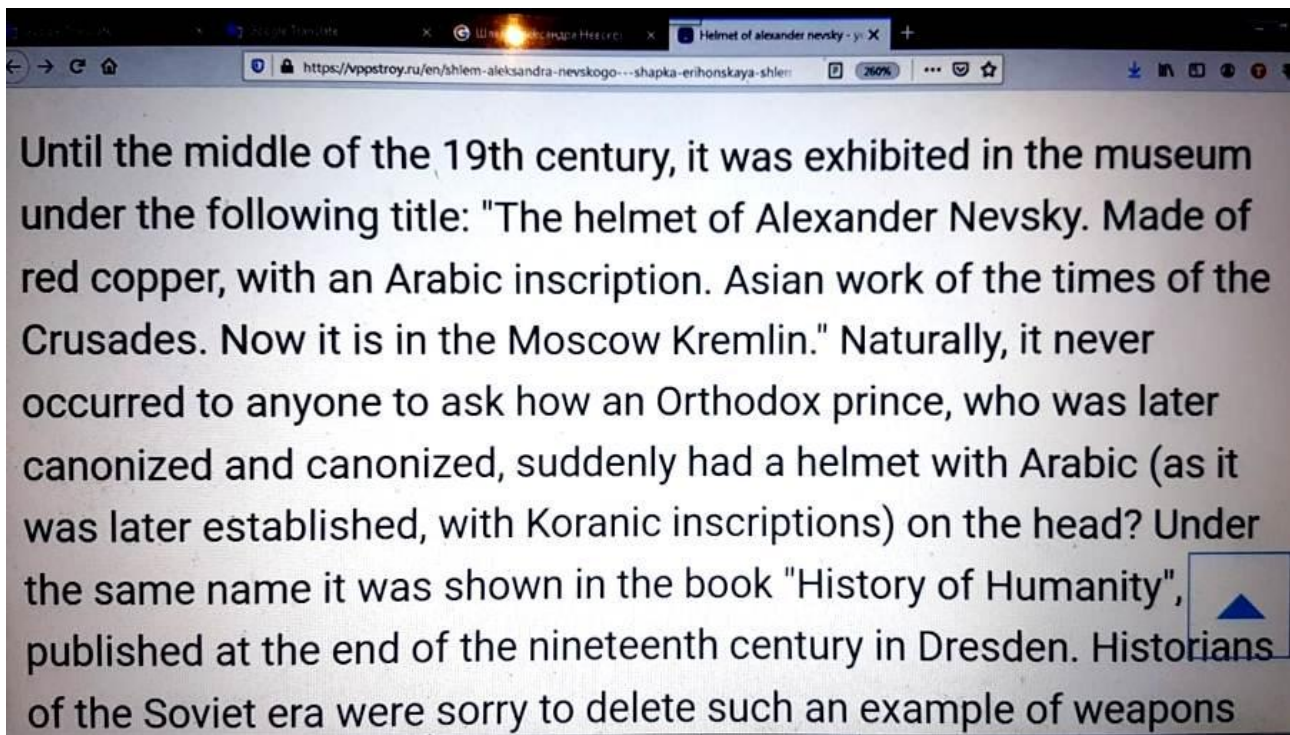

Historians have long been tormented by the question of where the Koranic inscriptions come from on the helmet of Alexander Nevsky. "Rejoice the faithful with the promise of help from Allah and quick victory," read the sacred lines engraved in gold.

The helmet that Alexander Nevsky had became a canon symbol and even adorned the coat of arms of the Russian Empire. It is forged in such a way that arrows cannot pierce it, but only slide over it - due to its oval shape.

After Alexander Nevsky it was worn by Tsar Mikhail Romanov . Also, Ivan the Terrible and Prince Fyodor Mstislavsky had helmets with Arabic script . An amateur reenactor

Helmets and armoury have been found in Eastern Europe which shows that Alexander Nevsky and Prince Fyodor Mstislavsky, the Chairman of the Zemsky Sobor, Tsar Mikhail Romanov and Tsar Ivan Grozny and others, wore helmets with Arabic writing. The writings were not ordinary writings, but had words from the Arabic Koran

The helmets of the Kings of Russia and their princes had Arabic writing?

Writing from the Arabic Koran?

Many researchers around the world asked these questions: - What is going on?

Was official history a lie?

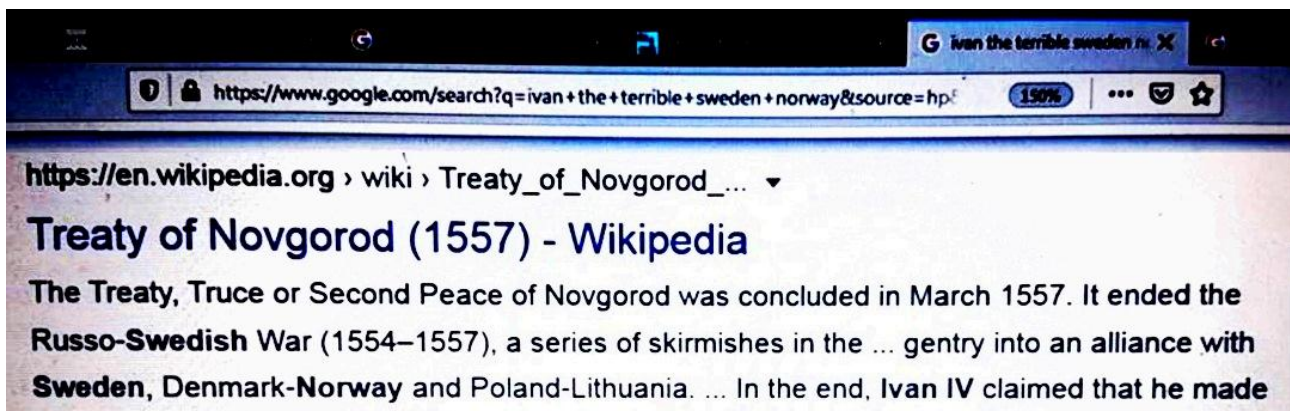

The evidence did not match what historians said

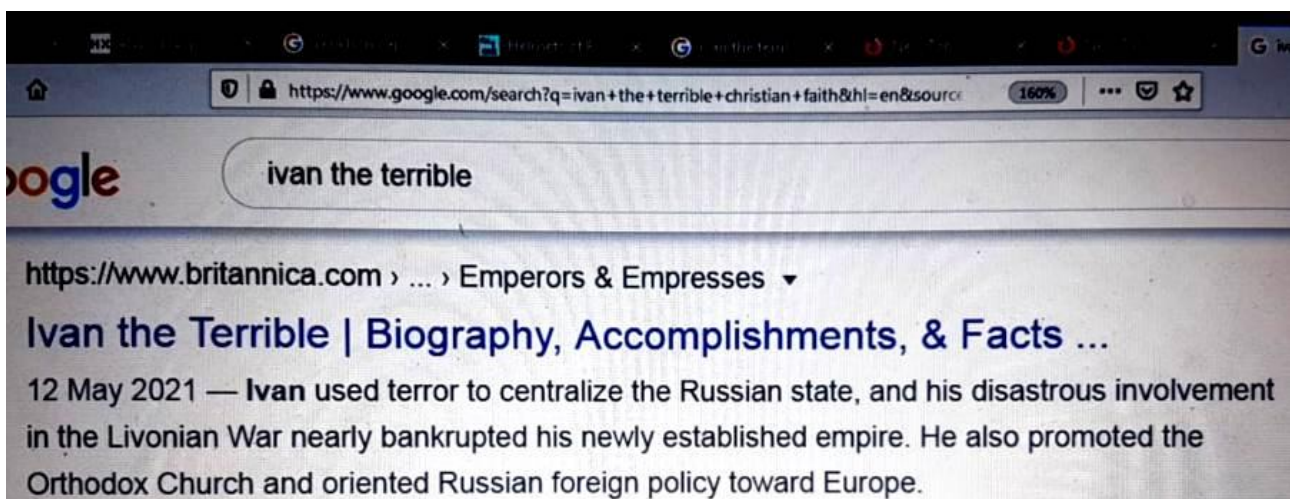

Photo above - a helmet from the Kremlin Armoury, related to Alexander Nevsky and Tsar Mikhail Romanov

Anatoly Fomenko pointed out that it has Arabic writing on it. The writing is from the Arabic Koran and says: -

And yet another (blessing) that you love - help from God and a victory near at hand - give good news to the believers

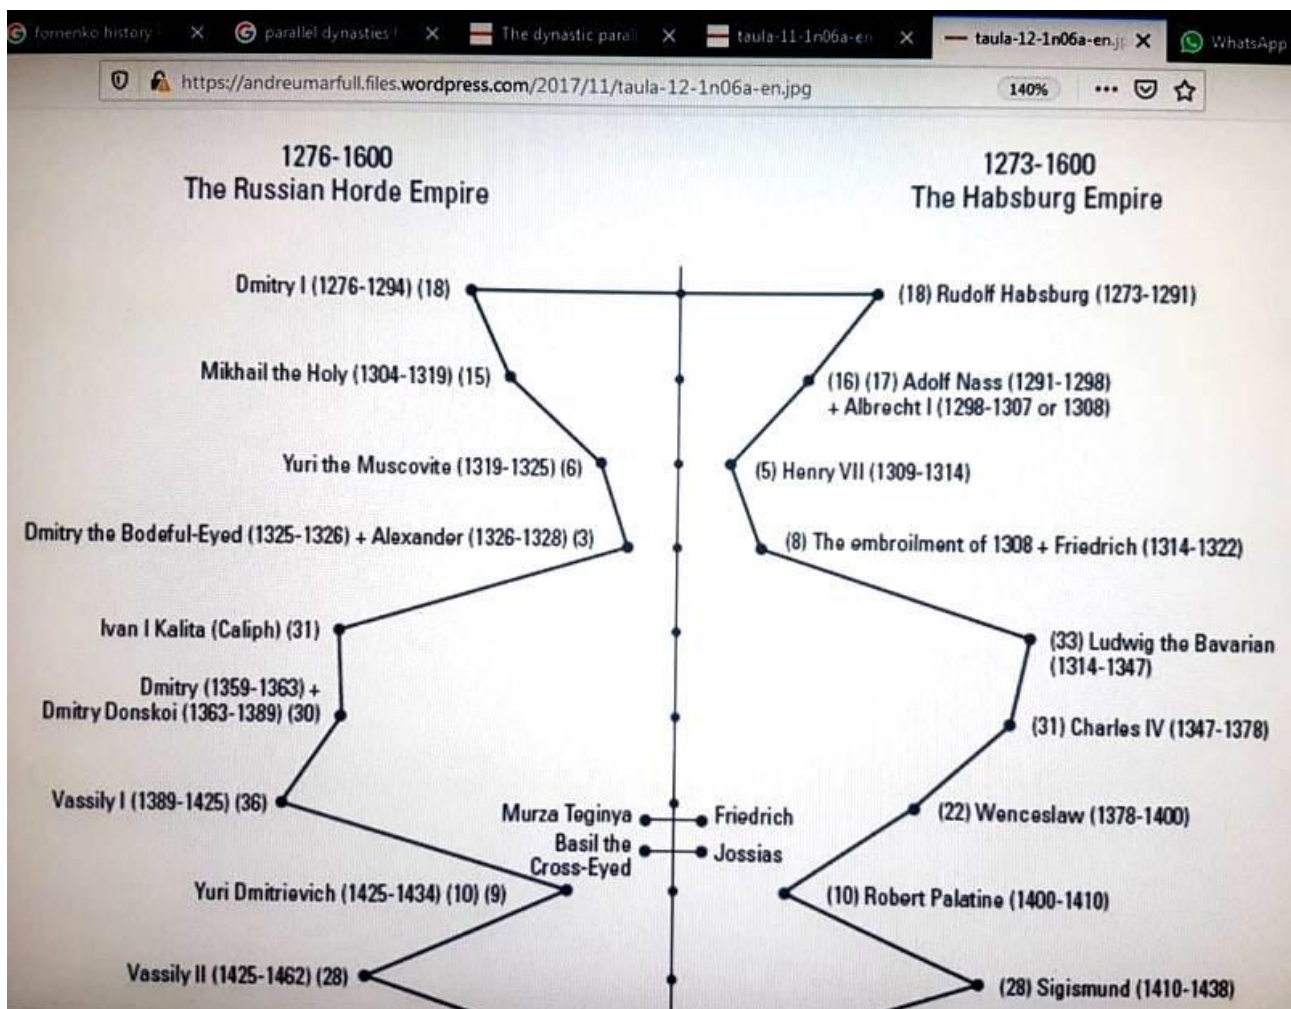

Historians say that Russia had another war in the 16th century with Sweden and conflicts with central European neighbours at the time

Historians say that Russia was ruled by a king called Ivan Grozny at the time known as Ivan the Terrible and they say that he was a Christian king

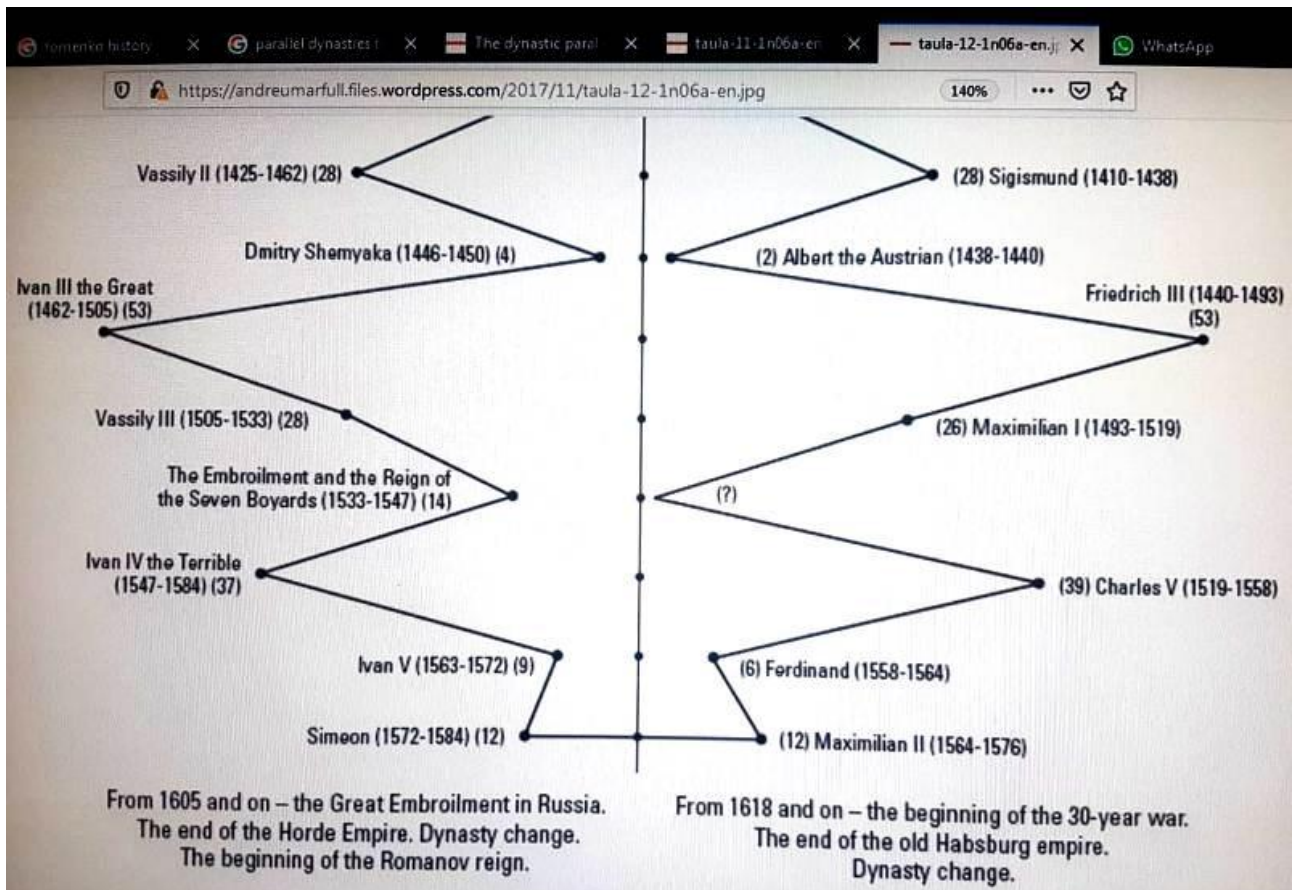

Researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko have presented evidence showing that the history of Europe was a lie

Below is a graph showing the similarity between the Kings of Russia and the Habsburg Kings of Germany and the number of years they supposedly ruled.

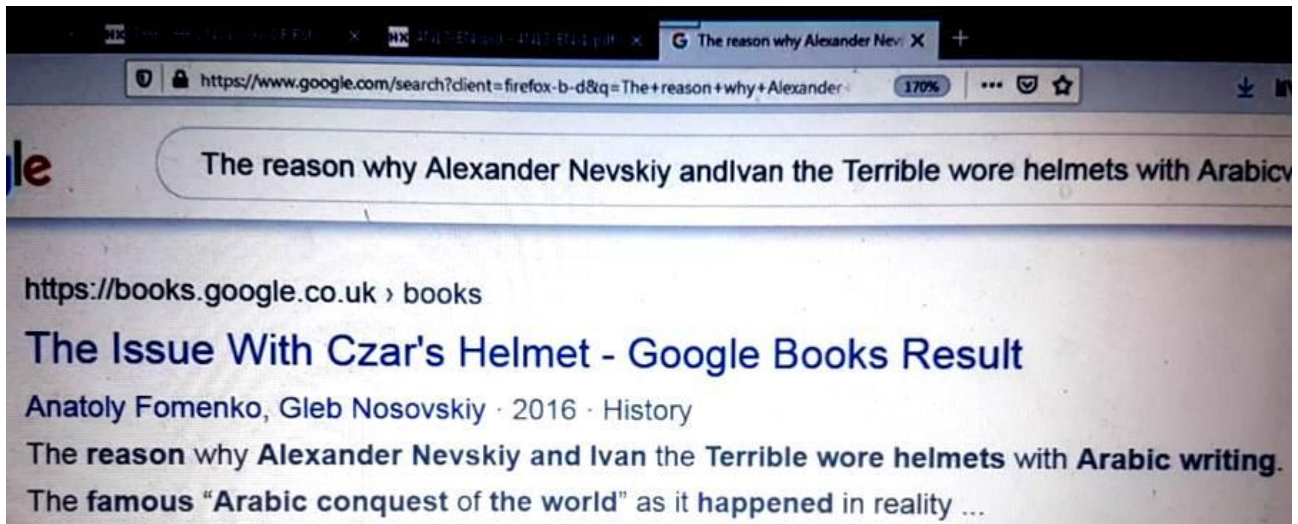

The lines show how many years a king ruled (the number of years are in brackets) - the lines are longer if the king ruled longer. You will notice that the timelines of the kings of the 2 different nations - are similar - that they are practically the same kings - except that their names were changed to create fake histories for different countries.

Researchers point out that it can be clearly seen that one nation copied another. Who copied who and why? And which was the original? And was the original one true - or was that falsely created also?

The entire history of Europe is linked to these Kings of Russia and the Habsburg Kings, and if the history has been falsified as the evidence shows, then the entire history of the world must have been falsified

Anatoly Fomenko made a serious investigation regarding Russian weapons from those times and pointed out that they have Arabic writing on them.

Anatoly Fomenko pointed out that there was no Mongol invasion of the world or an Arabic Islamic conquest of the world. This story was created to hide the true history of the world

Anatoly Fomenko also provided much evidence from museums. The evidence showed that Russian weapons at the time had Arabic writing decorations

Anatoly Fomenko made an investigation of Russian weapons in many places such as the Armoury of the Kremlin and the Museum of Alexandrovskaya

Why don't the museum workers exhibit mediaeval Russian helmets with Slavic inscriptions and nothing but? Could it be that there are very few such pieces to be found amidst the "Russo-Arabic" majority? What if the armaments in question had been typical for mediaeval Russia? The items we see must have been very common indeed, yet we find them covered in "Arabic" script (or another one considered "illegible"). This makes the plot thicken even more.

We see the same to be the case in the Moscow museum complex of Kolomenskoye. We have visited the halls of the Front Gate on 23 June 2001 and seen the two Old Russian helmets exhibited there (figs. 13.20a, 13.20b and 13.20c). The inscriptions we find on both of them are exclusively in Arabic; there isn't a single piece of armour with Slavic lettering in sight. Both

And here is what Anatoly Fomenko reported: - Arabic writing was found in the majority of Russian weapons - and many researchers now ask - where are the weapons with Slavic writing? Why Arabic and not Slavic?

Historians normally do not mention such things. Why?

That answer is not hard for anyone to figure out.

Historians did not want to show the history of the Arabic Koran and the true history of “Original Islam” in Europe

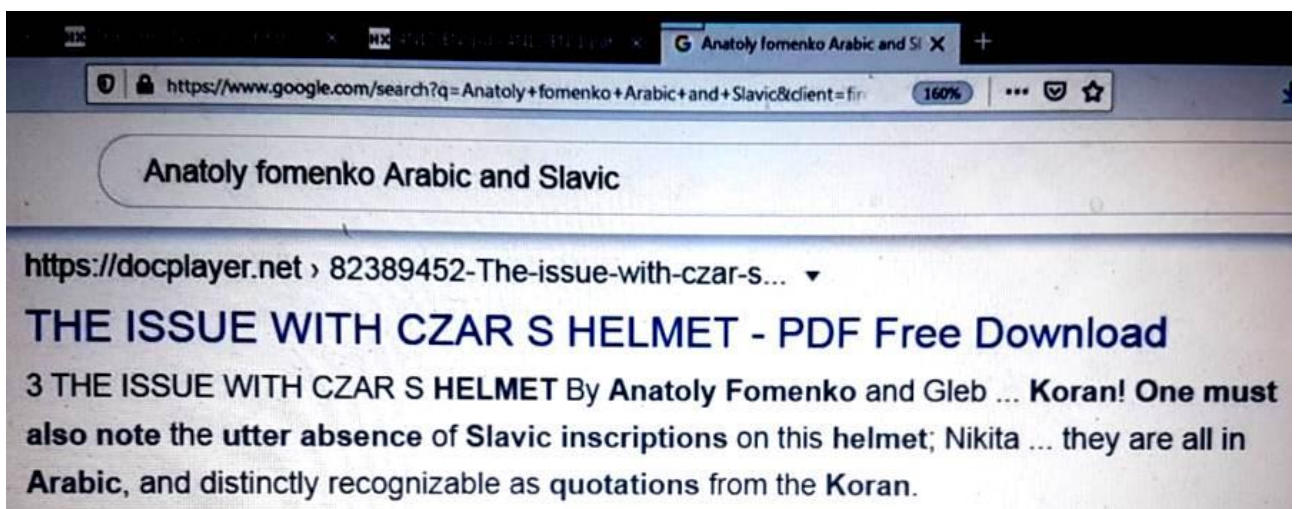

Millions of people know that the history of the world is a lie. Millions of people now talk about Tartaria and they speak about Anatoly Fomenko. Mysteriously, many of these people talk about the architecture of historical buildings and advanced technology in the past.

But there is a mysterious great silence about the evidence that Anatoly Fomenko has presented showing the history of the Arabic Koran and the true history of “Original Islam” in Europe. Why is there a great silence? Why?

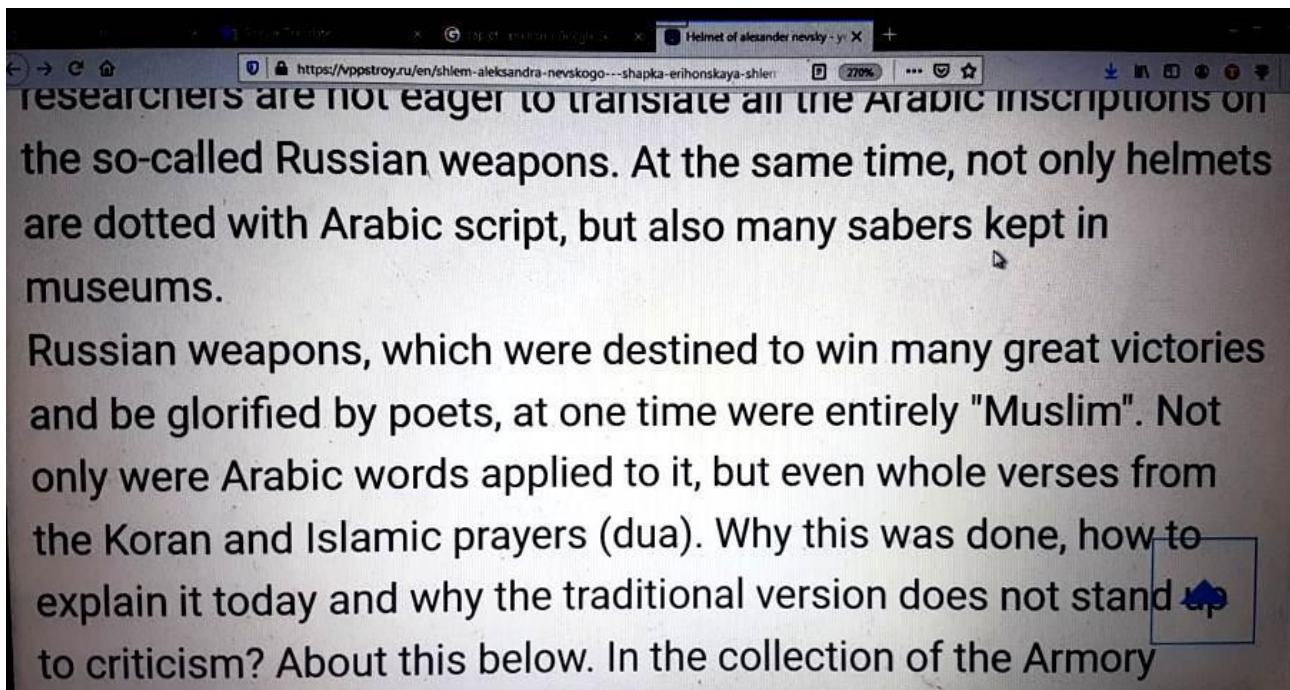

There was a clear answer. The people who had falsified world history, now were trying to destroy the work of researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko

Anatoly Fomenko pointed out that Orthodox Christians in Russian territory had the custom of decorating their weapons with Arabic writing before the 18th century. Something happened in Europe and Russia, which forced the people to stop using Arabic. This can be seen from the many wars and conflicts organised by the world powers in every corner of the world, which forced people to change languages and to change their history

Anatoly Fomenko showed that many of the Arabic writings were not ordinary words but words from the Arabic Koran

Many researchers that investigated weapons in Russia and Eastern Europe came to the conclusion that Russia or the Slavs must have been entirely Muslim people at one time. Many researchers question why people accept the history that they are told without checking. It seemed like the entire collection of Russian or Slavic weapons at the time in that region had Arabic writing and words from the Arabic Koran.

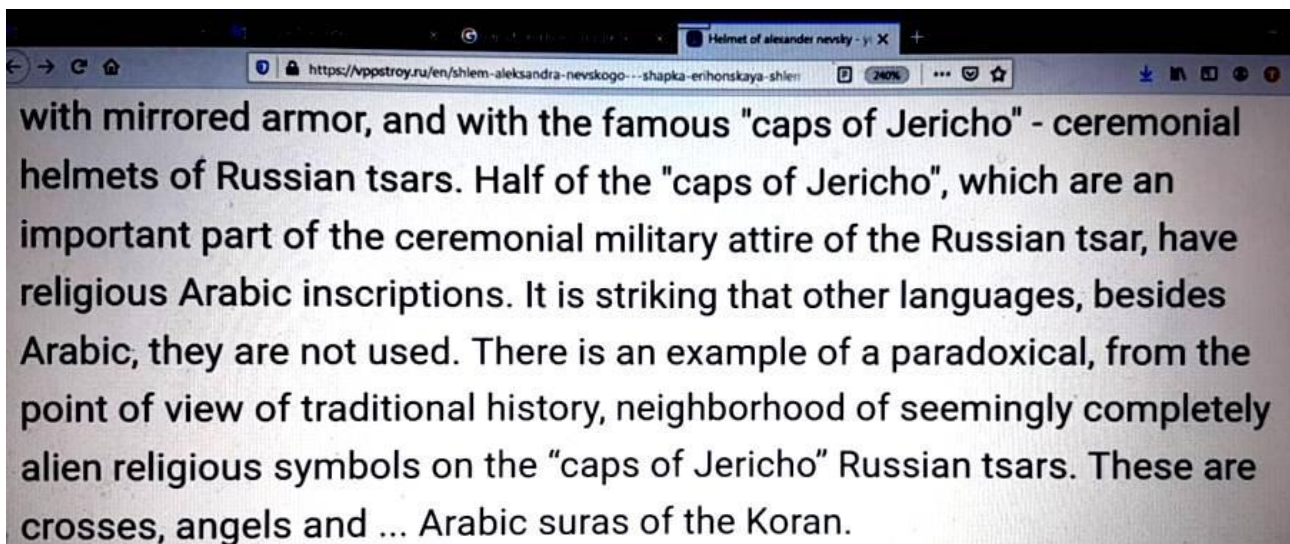

This totally changes the history of Europe that the world is told. Russia was involved in direct conflicts with central Europe for many centuries.

Historians have answers for this. The Russians and Slavs copied Arabic writing. Why will they do that? Did they not have their own writing? Why did they not write words from the Bible? Historians said the Russians and

Slavs hated Muslims and were killing Muslims and were burning the Arabic Koran. The story is clearly a lie

Historians say that Russian and Slavic sword makers did not know what they were writing. Oh, really? Mysteriously they happen to be writing verses of the Arabic Koran. This was clearly not an accident. It was clear that these people were followers of the Arabic Koran. They were Muslims. But of course, no one wishes to say this

Historians say things like: - they were gifts or presents or souvenirs. That does not make sense because items have been found with writings of the Arabic Koran on helmets and armoury that was used by the Princes and the Kings and the Tsars

The Crowns of Jericho or the Crowns of Yerikhon

These crowns were very important in Russia and they were worn at military ceremonies by the rulers of Russia. They are decorated with crosses and angels and verses of the Arabic Koran. The symbol of the cross and Star of David had a different meaning in those days. No other language apart from Arabic was used

Helmet of alexander nevsky - X
2. HELMET - "CAP OF ERICHON" OF TSAR ALEXEI MIKHAILOVICH

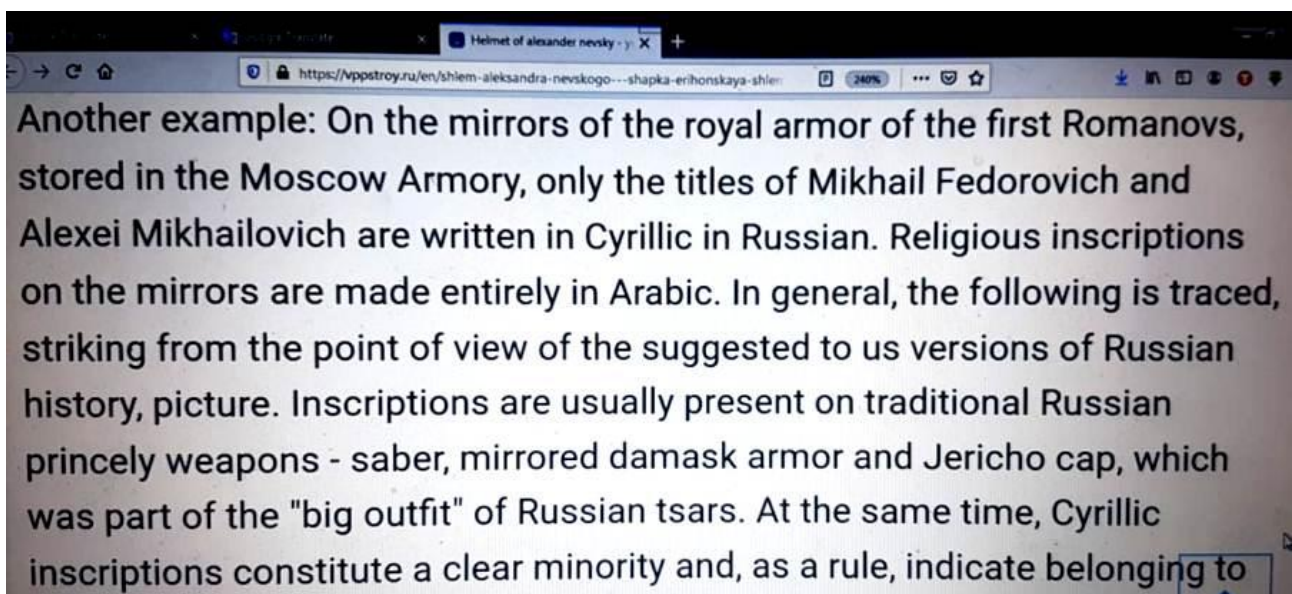

Photo above: - an example of writing from the Arabic Koran found in the armour of Russian rulers. In the photo above, the Arabic writing is known as the Verse of the "Throne of God" - Ayat al Kursi which is from the Arabic Koran

"Throne of God"

Which says: - God. There is no god except Him, the Alive and the Eternal. Neither tiredness nor sleep can overtake Him. To Him belongs everything in the heavens and everything on earth. Who is he that can intercede with Him except by His permission? He knows what is in front of them, and what is behind them, and they cannot take any of His knowledge, except as He wishes. His Throne extends over the heavens and the earth, and their preservation does not burden Him. He is the Most High, the Most Great

The royal armour of the Romanov Dynasty was in Arabic writing, except for the titles of 2 people which are written in Cyrillic in Russian. The religious writing on the mirrors, - are written entirely in Arabic. Many researchers found that Cyrillic writings in Russian, - was a clear minority.

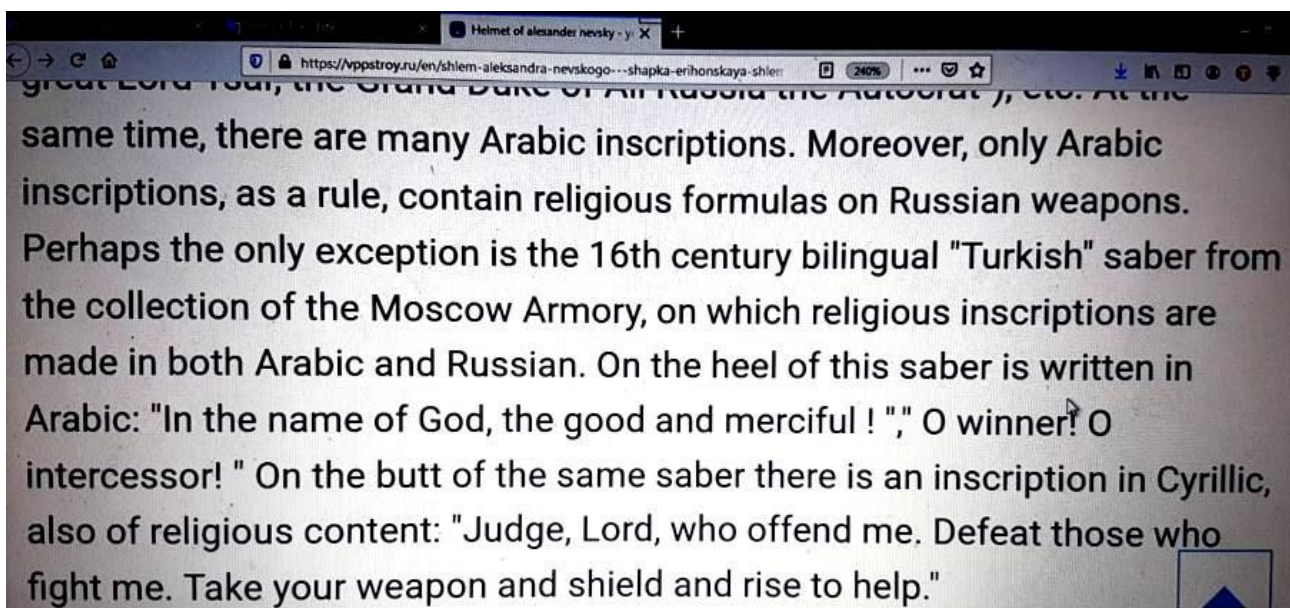

Evidence showed that Cyrillic writing was used later and replaced the Arabic language. Did that happen by accident? Or did it happen by force?

Many researchers noticed that Cyrillic and Russian and other writings in the region, started to come around the 17th century and took over by the 18th century

Researchers pointed out that the ceremonial military armour of Russian rulers and Tsars had Arabic writing and many words from the Arabic Koran. There was an almost complete absence of Slavic words. The Arabic words say things like: - There is no God except Allah and Mohamed is the Prophet of God

The evidence made it clear that the Russian army at the time was a Muslim army. This army was called by many different names such as: - the Slavs, the Tartars, the Russians, the Mongols, the Golden Horde, etc. Call it whatever you want, but one thing was clear, - it was a Muslim army

There are many Arabic writings found on Russian weapons. Researchers point out that only the Arabic language was used, as a rule, and mostly consisted of religious words on Russian weapons. These religious words were not from the Bible, but from the Arabic Koran.

There were only a few exceptions where Turkic or Cyrillic words were used. The Arabic writings said words such as: - In the Name of God, the Gracious and the Merciful

There was too much evidence to show that Arabic was probably the language of Russia and the Slavs, and the Arabic Koran was the religious book of Russia and the Slavs

It was clear to many researchers that world history was a joke and a big lie, researchers noticed that a big group of people did not accept world history according to what historians said. This group of people was called Muslims. Many people around the world do not like these people. So what...?

To find true history, everything had to be examined. We can accept the lies that historians have said or we can look for the truth everywhere possible. Many researchers did an investigation into the book known as the Arabic Koran and the book had much to say about world history

Researchers found evidence that the Prophet Moses and Jesus Christ may have been among the founding fathers of the civilisation that many people call Tartaria

Researchers such as Anatoly Fomenko found that the history of the Prophet Moses and Jesus Christ in the Arabic Koran was different compared to what historians said. Anatoly Fomenko showed evidence from the Arabic Koran which shows that the Virgin Mary, the mother of Jesus Christ, was the sister of Aaron and the Prophet Moses.

This totally changed the timeline of world history. Did the Prophet Moses live around the time of Jesus Christ? Did Jesus Christ really live 2000 years ago? Was the timeline of world history a lie? The Arabic Koran showed a different timeline of world history. The Arabic Koran did not agree with the timeline created by historians. No wonder historians and their masters were against the Arabic Koran. Researchers began to investigate the Arabic Koran

There was too much evidence all over the world which showed that “original Islam” and the Arabic Koran were at the heart of the previous civilisation known as Tartaria.

The Arabic Koran says that civilisations in the past were advanced and says that humans are not the great grandchildren of monkeys.

The Arabic Koran mentions advanced mining in the past, involving a type of electrical beings, - and many other things which historians do not accept.

Researchers are currently investigating advanced mining involving electrical power by civilisations in the past

Researchers concluded that humans were not monkeys in the past. The evidence showed that humans in the past were involved in advanced mining, which shows that advanced civilisations existed in the past

Good luck if you wish to know more about these subjects. Below are books about these topics

- 1 - Tartaria - Mud Flood
- 2 - Tartaria - History is a Lie
- 3 - Tartaria - Ancient Egypt

- 4 - Tartaria - Hitler
- 5 - Tartaria - Coronavirus
- 6 - Tartaria - Atlantis
- 7 - Tartaria - Transvestigation
- 8 - Tartaria - the Renaissance
- 9 - Tartaria - Flat Earth
- 10 - Tartaria - Tartar City
- 11 - Tartaria - Orphan Trains
- 12 - Tartaria - King Solomon
- 13 - Tartaria - Lemuria

© David Ewing Jr 2018